Concerning the recent death of the father of Mr. Bernard Walsh of this city, the Lindsay Post says:

Mr. Patrick Walsh of 30 St. Paul street, Lindsay, died on Wednesday night at the advanced age of 83 years. His wife predeceased him nearly five years ago. He leaves three sons and three daughters to mourn his loss; John and Armand, Lindsay, and Bernard, of Peterborough; also Lizzie, of Lindsay; Mrs. H. Gillespie, of Bobcaygeon, Mrs. John Maguire of Galway township. The deceased gentleman was a lifelong member of the Roman Catholic church. He never acquired much of this world's goods, although in fairly comfortable circumstances. He underwent the hard ships incident to the early settlers in Canada.

He was born in Ireland in the county of Tperary, and came to this country with his parents in the year 1825, an infant at the time. His mother settled in the township of Otonabee, when the present city of Peterborough was only a hamlet, his father dying shortly after landing in the vicinity of Cobourg, like many more Irishmen, with the terrible fever that was raging at the time He never reached his destination.

Patrick Walsh was brought up and lived in Cavan township until he married Ellen Quinn of Cavan township, Ont., in 1853. He lived in Otonabee for a while, then moved to Smith township, in a few years to Lindsay, where they lived for some years. Mr. Walsh then went to the township of Harvey to locate a new home and subsequently brought his family there. They all remained there on a farm for over 30 years when he returned to Lindsay last July, somewhat broken in health. Since that time he had gradually become weaker, his life passing out on Wednesday.

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nervine. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeons' knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

The May "Rod and Gun"

Exceedingly attractive is the May number of "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada", published by W. J. Taylor at Woodstock, Ont. Stories of hunting moose, mountain goat, bear, deer, and ducks surely offer enough variety to the hunter, while to the fisherman the papers on salmon in Ontario rivers by the Rev. Dr. Murdoch, and maskinonge fishing by W. Hickson, must call up memories and awaken thoughts such as only the fisherman can know. "Early Fossil Difficulties in Eastern Canada," is a contribution to the history of a past which is near enough to be full of the deepest interest to the present generation. The visit of the President of the Alpine Club of Canada is described and a touching account given of the fatal accident which occurred to the leader of the party attempting a record climb in the Swiss Alps. "The Majesty of the Mails", a story of the heroic efforts made by the letter carriers of the far north to deliver mails is told in graphic fashion and one understands as one reads this fine contribution how, it is that despite enormous difficulties and dangers the Hudson Bay Company have never lost a mail. What wonderful heroes these northern mail carriers are. Amongst the many other interesting pieces to be found within this number is a page of "Canoe Dont's"—most appropriate as the canoeing season of the year is just beginning, and an account of a one-legged trapper, who makes his own wooden legs. These are but samples of the many good things in this number which forms in itself a demonstration of the wide field of interesting experiences to be found within the Dominion.

There is a Pink Pain Tablet made by Dr. Shoop's, that will positively stop any pain, anywhere, in 20 minutes. Druggists everywhere sell them as Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets, but they stop other pains as easily as headache. Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets simply coax blood pressure away from pain centres—that is all. Pain comes from blood pressure—congestion. Stop that pressure with Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets and pain is instantly gone. 20 Tablets 25c. Sold by all dealers.

Local Expert for North Bay Work

Mr. Hugh Regan, who lives near Auburn, in this city, has just returned to Peterborough. Mr. Regan is manager for the Turner Lumber Co., and has had a large gang of men employed just to the west of North Bay. Mr. Regan reports that, owing to the unusually high spring freshets this year, the water broke away the upper one of a succession of fourteen dams. When this upper dam gave way, the thirteen below it were carried away by the sudden onslaught of water. This left some fifteen million feet of logs, board measure, stranded along the shores. Mr. Regan noted however that water had been conserved in a reservoir to the upend of the chain of lakes. Immediate steps will be taken to rebuild some of the washed out dams. In fact a local expert, whose modesty impelled him to ask the Times to omit his name, has accepted an offer at large salary to go out to the scene of trouble and superintendent the construction of the broken dams. As soon as these are replaced the water stored in the reservoir referred to above, will be let loose and will drive the stranded logs to their ultimate destination.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often shows up, the Kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, pep, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

HEAD OFFICE—MANNING CHAMBERS—TORONTO—ONTARIO

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares;—

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which has regular net-work of silver bearing veins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain has the goods in unlimited quantities sufficient to last for generations.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 today varying in width from 16 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock speculation), and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization, this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent. to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Dividends Paid by Cobalt Mining Companies

Foster Cobalt Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 45,000.00
McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd., have paid.. 45,000.00
The Conagas Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907 ... 200,000.00
The Cobalt Silver Queen, Cobalt, paid during 1907 ..... 120,000.00
Temiscamings & Hudson Bay Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 746,120.00

(These shares could have been had at 60 cents, and have sold as high as $190.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $60,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends. The Tredwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $20.00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would means a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Firemen will Not Join the Paid Fire Brigade

Last night a member of the Peterborough Fire Brigade informed a Times representative that at a meeting of the Brigade held in the fire hall, Wednesday night, all present decided unanimously to neither join the proposed brigade as regularly paid nor as call men. This fireman expressed his intention of having a heart to heart "argument" with a member of the Fire, Water and Light Committee of the council, "even if the result costs me $30." He said further that two or three members of the brigade would appear in person before the city council at their next meeting and address the "grave and revered seignors" who control Peterborough's destiny as far as the present year is concerned. This fireman, when spoken to by The Times, concerning the action of the Manufacturers' Committee who investigated the matter of the proposed paid brigade, burst forth in seemingly indignant tones and said, "The manufacturers that were present, who were they? I'll tell you who they were; all representing factories with fixed assessment, and who therefore don't care whether the taxes of Peterborough are raised five million dollars a year."

In view of this our informant happens to be among those whom it was all good will speak before the council a HOT time may be anticipated.

Only Five Thousand Soldiers will Go to Quebec

Ottawa, May 15.—After a consideration of the difficulties of transportation which are involved, the Minister of Militia has decided that it is unpracticable without seriously interfering with the trade and tourist and immigration interests of the country to carry out the plan proposed of concentrating 25,000 to 30,000 Canadian troops in Quebec for the tercentenary celebration next summer. Orders are accordingly being sent out to the rural corps of Eastern Canada that they are to go instead into their customary camps of instruction. A portion of the permanent corps will be taken to Quebec in connection with the ceremonial there, and in addition thereto, certain of the city troops, probably numbering in all about 5,000 of all ranks.

The latter will be selected by the Quebec Battlefields Commission, and it is possible that the number will be even less than 5,000. But that figure has been fixed by the Department of Militia as the number for which they will provide transport and supplies. The rest of the city corps of Eastern Canada will train as their custom is at local headquarters.

The number of permanent corps taken to Quebec will be comparatively small—just sufficient to provide escorts, mount guards of honor, etc., for the occasion. The matter of inviting the city corps will be left entirely to the Battlefields Commission, but the expense involved if 5,000 troops go to Quebec is estimated at $45,000 instead of $350,000, which it would have cost if the original proposal had been carried into effect of taking 25,000 or 30,000 men.

If 5,000 officers and men of the city corps are taken the review on the Plains of Abraham will be of about the same numerical strength as on the occasion of the Prince of Wales' former visit to Canada six years ago. No one has yet been appointed to command the military review under the new plan, but it is probable that Brigadier General Otter will be invited to do so by the Quebec Battlefields Commission.

The reason why the plan of a larger concentration of troops had to be abandoned was because of the serious inconvenience which it would involve to business interests, to the immigration service, and to the thousands of visitors who will be making their way to Quebec for the Tercentenary.

Will the Building Boom Come to a Halt in Peterboro?

"That as soon as the work on the two new public buildings, the Normal school and the Armories was completed, the present boom in the building trade that has been going on for the past four years would come to a decided halt."

Such was the opinion of a well-known building contractor, and a former resident of this city, when seen by The Times yesterday.

"A man in order to get employment as a laborer, now must work for $1.75 to $2.00 a day, where a year ago he would be paid the regular rate of $2.25 per day."

"Contractors, simply can't pay what they formerly did, because of the rapid slump of the building trade in the last six months, and they are up against it. Why they can't even sell a new house," said our informant.

Consequently unless the laborers take what work they can get at $1.75 per day, there will be hundreds forced to remain idle until the work on the extensions to the Trent Valley canal is commenced.

"It is the same all over the country. A city will have a successful boom in the building trade for perhaps four or five years, and thousands of workmen will make a rush for such a place where the highest possible wages will be paid. Finally after getting steady employment for a few years, a slump in the trade will take place, and work will be brought to an abrupt halt throwing the workmen out of employment."

"Oh well they say it will be alright after Christmas," said our visitor, as he said good bye. But strange to say he did not say which Christmas he meant.

Dr. Johnston Advocates Local Abbatoir

Dr Johnston, who was recently appointed by the Dominion Government as veterinary inspector for export and import stock, in speaking about the proposed local abbatoir, says he has had a long experience on this subject and particularly in inspecting cattle affected with tuberculosis. Dr. Johnston cannot understand why the city did not adopt the plan years ago. Most of the cities in the United States have public abbatoirs and every animal offered for sale is inspected by a competent veterinary surgeon. He states the animals of this section are as a general rule, free from disease, but that some are used that should be rejected.

Mrs. Gifford will Shoot to Kill

Mrs. Gifford of Albert street, is after boys who have damaged her property by using parts of her fence for firewood purposes. This lady has become so exasperated that she is alleged to have said she would get a revolver and use the same with deadly effect if the boys continue to destroy her property. She has even intimated to P. C. McGinty that she was not only going to get a gun but was going to practice with the weapon until she can draw a correct bead. Now the boys referred to may think that because a lady standing on the lake shore and throws a stone out to see a splash, but breaks a window in a house to her left, that they may safely defy the lady and her revolver, it is well to remember that boys bent on mischief generally go in couples, if not in larger numbers. The trouble is that if Smith is aimed at he might get shot whilst the ball aimed at Smith is likely to puncture Jones. It is thus advisable that these boys keep severely away from Mrs. Gifford's fence, apart from the fact that it is a contemptible trick to annoy a lady.

Angler Receives a Severe Bite Landing a Trout

A well known angler of the city, while at his favorite pastime of catching various members of the "finny" tribe in a stream near Maswera, the other afternoon, hooked a trout which weighed 2 1-2 lbs. and measured 20 inches in length.

Absent-minded, as fishermen generally are, the local angler left his landing net at home. Consequently he had to play the trout until he had it near the bank, when a companion reached down and tried to grab it, when he of the scaly back, bit him on the index finger, nearly to the bone.

Judge Anglin Refused to Take Fletcher Case from the Jury-- The Crown Evidence is All In

Mr. Robinette, addressing his Lordship Mr. Justice Anglin, said;

"I submit that there is no evidence from which the jury may draw any inferences. Where is there the slightest evidence that an instrument was used? Dr. Silverthorn and Dr. Cotton, who conducted the post-mortem, state that there was not the slightest evidence of such an operation.

SAUNDERS PROTECTING DOCTOR

When Mr. Blackstock remarked "I needn't state that I have no desire to proceed with this prosecution or any other if your lordship thinks the Crown has not produced sufficient evidence on which to proceed with the case.

"In the first place, however, it is perfectly obvious that Saunders is not willing to say anything that will incriminate the prisoner.

"It is most significant that Saunders states that as a result of his consultation with Dr. Fletcher on Thursday the doctor invited him to bring the girl to see him on Saturday.

"The girl's refusal to tell what the doctor had done was in itself conclusive that something was done which should not have been done, and that she had been probably cautioned not to tell.

"The attempt of the defence to infer that the girl's condition and ultimate death was the result of an internal disease is a proof that the defence is at a loss for a reasonable explanation of the circumstances."

MUST GO TO JURY.

Mr. Justice Anglin replied, "I think the case is one in which the responsibility should rest upon the jury.

"The statement by the young man that when he had conversation with Dr. Fletcher, and told him he had a girl in trouble, the doctor told him to bring her in on the following Saturday, and that, when he took the girl, the doctor said the trouble would be all right in a few days, is sufficient to justify the case going to the jury.

"In regard to the unlikelihood of death from blood-poisoning resulting so soon after the operation, it is not impossible, and is no proof that there was no illegal operation on Sunday.

"The case must go to the jury, and it is for them to draw inferences."

NO OPERATION INTENDED

During his examination yesterday afternoon, Harry Saunders declared that it was not his intention that his sweetheart, Jessie Gould, should be operated upon, and, if she had been, he was not aware of it. He also denied that he had ever mentioned the girl's name to Dr. Fletcher before he had brought Miss Gould to his office on Saturday, March 7th. He had made no arrangement as to the price of an operation.

CHIEF CORONER A WITNESS.

"It generally takes long," was Dr. Arthur Jukes Johnson's reply to Mr. Robinette's question as to the probability of the girl's death on Tuesday having resulted from blood-poisoning due to the operation said to have been performed on Sunday night.

The doctor said that, in his opinion, the girl did not have the infection before Sunday.

"You're a great master in the art of giving evidence, aren't you?" commented Mr. Holmested. "You have given a great deal of evidence for the Crown!"

"I have had that honor."

Toronto, May 14.—With a smile of confidence Dr. Ashton Fletcher faced the jury this morning in the Criminal Assizes on the second day of his trial charged with performing a criminal operation.

Mrs. Lillian Ward, the nurse who attended Jessie Gould during her illness, testified to being present on the day Dr. Fletcher treated the girl, but was positive nothing of a criminal operation was performed but that the treatment which she underwent while under the influence of an anesthetic was absolutely necessary in order to try and save the patient's life.

Mr. Blackstock strove hard to confuse the witness in his cross-examination, but the nurse stuck to her original story and left the box with a triumphant shake of her head.

Mr. William Hassard, proprietor of the Cadillac Hotel told of Miss Gould being in his employ as a dining room girl for about three weeks. She left about the first part of March, because she wasn't well. Mrs. Hassard had to let her go.

WAS UNABLE TO WORK

"She was unable to do her work. A couple of days before she left my place, she had to lie down most of the time," said Mr. Hassard.

Mrs. Saunders, mother of Harry, who was employed as cook at the Cadillac, told of her knowing Jessie Gould since July, 1907.

"Did Jessie ever complain while she was at her work at the hotel?"

"Yes, about a week before she left, and said she was suffering from cramps in her stomach and had repeated attacks of nausea.

"I asked her what was the matter, and she told me her condition," continued the witness. "I asked her what she was doing and she told me she was doing everything."

On another occasion the witness swore the girl informed her she was taking hot baths in quick succession as well as using other strenuous methods.

"Did Jessie blame your son?" asked Mr. Robinette.

"She told me it wasn't my Harry's fault, that she could have been married long ago."

Mr. Blackstock asked the witness if she knew her son was engaged to marry Miss Gould while she was working at the hotel to which she replied in the affirmative.

"Do you mean to tell us you were satisfied that your son should marry this girl, knowing her condition?"

"I didn't know about that until after."

"Until after what?"

"Until after she told me it wasn't Harry's fault that she could have been married long ago ago," snapped Mrs. Saunders.

Hippopotamus in Runaway Created Much Terror

Cleveland, O., May 14.—Eight horses attached to a big circus wagon containing a hippopotamus became frightened during a parade and ran away, dashing down Scranton Hill at terrific speed.

The driver tried in vain to check them. The hippopotamus snorted loudly in fright, adding to the confusion. There were many narrow escapes from death, the wheels of the gilded chariot just missing several persons in its path.

Finally the two leaders broke loose from the wagon. The whiffletree snapped and the wheelers were entangled in the harness. Both fell, and the great wheels rolled over them, killing them instantly. The back wheels caught on the bodies of the horses, however, and the chariot came to a stop.

Child's Severe Burns

Healed by Zam Buk

The little girl of Mrs. Lewis Best of Carlisle P.O., recently fell against the stove and burned her forehead very badly. Mrs. Best says:—"The burn was about the size of a fifty-cent piece and was near the bone. It made my little girl's eye swell till it almost shut, and then she got cold in it. It began to run matter very badly, and I could not stop it, although I bathed it good every night and morning. At last I sent some Zam-Buk which soon stopped the matteration and very quickly healed the wound. I have never seen a burn heal so quickly, and I am sure Zam-Buk has no equal for curing cuts, or burns, and I shall always keep a box on hand in case of emergency."

Every home needs Zam-Buk! All diseases of the skin quickly yields to it. It is also an excellent remedy for piles (blind or bleeding), rheumatism, etc. All druggists and stores 50 cents a box, or post paid from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Over 1,200,000 Men Idle in the U. S.--New York in the Lead

New York, May 15.—In a canvass of the country to ascertain the number of unemployed men, despatches have been received from many industrial centres, with reports of conditions, and from these it is estimated that more than one million men are minus jobs. The reports indicate more than 600,000 unemployed in the chief cities and nearly 600,000 in the states outside the cities.

Following are estimates:—

In the cities,—

Birmingham	14,000
Little Rock	1,200
San Francisco	27,000
Denver	10,000
Bridgeport	6,500
Wilmington	900
Chicago	90,000
Indianapolis	7,700
Des Moines	600
Lewiston	1,300
Boston	40,000
Detroit	18,000
St. Louis	30,000
Butte	4,650
Omaha	4,000
Goldfield	200
Concord	1,500
Newark	6,000
Trenton	6,000
New York	250,000
Philadelphia	100,000
Providence	3,877
Knoxville	4,500
Montpelier	6,000
Wheeling	6,000
Total	631,227

No definite figures could be obtained from some states, but from the best information the number of idle in the states outside the big cities are:—

Alabama	30,000
California	74,000
Colorado	12,000
Connecticut	30,000
Delaware	11,000
Illinois	200,000
Iowa	2,000
Kansas	10,000
Maine	12,000
Massachusetts	25,000
Missouri	45,000
Montana	8,500
Nebraska	9,000
New Hampshire	2,500
Rhode Island	18,292
Tennessee	25,000
Texas	8,000
Utah	10,500
Vermont	5,500
Virginia	7,500
W. Virginia	60,000
Total	566,792

That there are more unemployed men and women in New York city to-day than at any previous time in many years past is the belief of union leaders, charity workers and students of social conditions. Estimates of the number out of work vary from 140,000 to 600,000. It is probable that half of the latter number, or 250,000, is about correct.

Carpenters	10,000
Tailors	8,000
Rock men and excavators	8,000
Bricklayers	7,000
Laborers	24,000
Housesmiths	9,000
Asphalt workers	2,000
Painters	7,000
Rock drillers	2,000
Engineers	2,000
Pavers	2,000
Plasterers	2,000
Steamfitters	500
Sheet Metal Workers	500
Compositors	2,000
Pressmen	1,000
Miscellaneous trades	40,000
Unorganized labor	145,000
Total	264,000

Secretary Donnelly of the general arbitration board of the New York building trades spoke with pride when commenting upon the almost entire absence of destitution among the union men despite the fact that at least half of them are out of work at present.

Have Erected a Track for Douro Pedestrians

Yesterday Mr. Jack Hardill, traveller for Messrs. T. Kinnear & Co., the Toronto and Peterborough wholesale grocers, returned from a business trip to the store in Douro. Mr. Hardill told a Times representative that the sporting element in that part of this fair township have constructed a regularly laid out and equipped walking track, about the same size as the track recently walked over at Brock street rink. Here he saw a number of the residents of that part, with coats off, walking round, with professional stride and elbows swinging as though at least a gold medal or a handsome purse were to be awarded the winner.

Lakefield Wedding of Local Interest

A wedding of local interest was solemnized Wednesday night in Lakefield at the residence of Mr. Jack Hunter, when his eldest daughter, Miss Ethel Hunter, was united in marriage to Mr. Theodore Crawford, only son of Mr. Chas. Crawford of the same village. The ceremony was performed by Rev John Bedford, pastor of the Methodist church, Miss Cora Hunter, younger sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Mr. James Kidd of Smith, acted as groomsman. About a hundred invitations were issued. The Lakefield Citizens' Band gave several selections.

The bride's travelling suit was Copenhagen blue with hat to match. The happy couple departed for Peterborough en route to Montreal and points east.

Quebec Gunners Entertained Here

On Wednesday night Sergt. Pouette, and other members of the 24th Field Battery of the East Side had as their guest, Capt. Clarke, of the United States Army, at the dismantling of the guns. Q.M.S. Morton of Quebec and assistant, Private Agnew, royally entertained the captain. After the work of dismantling was finished the American Captain turned the guns on the boys and marched them to the Hotel National where they were they were entertained by the captain until late hour at night.

A Local Walk for a Wager

Yesterday a number of local gentlemen in conversation about the recent walking match got into argument over time made and time possible to be made in specified distances. As a sure result when sports disagree that sure sign of assurance of individual opinion was to the front. It seems that in the crowd was a well-known cheesebuyer of Garden Hill. This gentleman had just brought one of those six or seven feet long handled shovels. He made a bet of considerable proportion that he could walk from the corner of Aylmer and Charlotte streets round the block bounded by Charlotte, George, Simcoe and Aylmer streets in twelve minutes. His bluff was called, but the better stipulated that the cheese expert must carry the long handled spade. Mr. Cheese Expert had the sand to accept this challenge. Watches were produced, including a stop-watch. As Mr. Cheese maker stepped the starting line watches were produced, and as the word "go" was uttered this aspirant for pedestrian honors stepped out and the stop-watch clicked. A large crowd gathered awaiting his return. The walker whilst coming down George street met an old friend of his, Ald. Elliott. Mr. Elliott naturally stopped the walker to speak with him. However, the amateur pedestrian waved him aside saying "Excuse me George, but I'm on a job, and have no time to spare." The walker completed the prescribed circuit in exactly 9 minutes and 11-3 seconds and won the bet.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

POLICE

At yesterday's Police Court Jos. Stevens was charged with letting his cow run at large. Stevens pleaded not guilty. Mr. Barnard said he knew Mr. Stevens' cows as they are in better condition than those belonging to others and are a credit to him. Mr. Stevens explained he pays $40 a year for pasturage and the wind blew down the fence one day and let the cows out. The case was dismissed.

Arthur Lesuer was charged with a similar offence. Mr. Lesuer explained that his cows were tethered by a rope. Mrs. Levasseur said that the cows got loose and got into her yard. Last summer the cows destroyed her garden. A $2 fine was imposed.

Will Appear Before Magistrate Edmison

Mrs. John Dixon and two small children have been received at the Shelter and this afternoon, John Dixon, the husband and father, will appear before Magistrate Edmison, charged with non-support. Mr Geo. Cochrane went out to the Dixon home five miles west of Buckhorn, and returned with the mother and infant children.

Three children were taken from the London home near the C.P.R. Bridge over the canal and are now in the Shelter. It seems that the father has neglected his wife and babes most shamefully.

Indian Method of Preserving Body

Vancouver, May 15.—Evidence in the Indian River murder trial proceedings at the assizes revealed the method of preserving the body of the dead Indian.

When the provincial constable and doctor visited the dead house in the Indian village of Smith's Sound to examine the body of the old man alleged to have been done to death by, his son Glathia, they found the corpse wrapped in twenty-five blankets and placed inside a cedar box above the ground.

The result had been a drying up rather than a marked putrefaction.

Address to Rev Canon Davidson

The members of St. John's Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew at their last meeting after the usual business was transacted adjourned to the schoolroom, where refreshments were served by Messrs. Coleman Brothers. Mr. S. Jay, director, in a few well-chosen words, presented to Rev. Canon Davidson a farewell address on the occasion of his departure to England. Mr. Davidson fittingly responded. Addresses were delivered by Messrs. Cooway, Linton, Bell, Hooper, Davey, Williams, Pretty, Lumley and others. The address is on exhibition in Coleman Bros. windows.

—Mr. Bert H. Hopkins and Mr. Wm. E. V. Shaw left last evening on their long trip of 10105 miles to Australia. They intend to go by rail to Owen Sound, take the steamer to Fort William and again take the train over to Vancouver. A wait of a couple of days will be necessary there after which an ocean greyhound will convey the travellers on to Sydney, Australia, after calling at different islands on the way across.—Lindsay Post.

Bones Found In Excavating Causes Much Excitment

Considerable excitement was caused yesterday, when the workmen doing the excavation work for the new "Times" building on Hunter street, dug up what was at first thought to be the bones of a human being.

The men unearthed two shin bones and several ribs and a doctor was called to inspect the find. After a careful examination the medical man pronounced the bones to be those of an animal.

feel the need of a stimulating tonic.
In a short time it makes you feel fit and fine, creates a feeling of youth and strength that's surprising.
Ferrozone revives and braces the sickly because it nourishes and builds up the organs that are weak. As a spring tonic appetizer and blood strengthener it is unequalled.
A well known resident of Utopia, Ont., Mr. H. H. Postle, writes: "From long experience I am convinced that everyone requires medicine in the spring. As a rule the blood is thin and impure and the whole system is congested with poisons that should be carried off. I use Ferrozone because it clears up the system, gives you an appetite and makes you feel well. One winter I had serious palpitation of the heart, nervous headaches, and an extreme tired feeling. Sleep was not restful and by spring I was in bad shape. I took six boxes of Ferrozone and was made the picture of health."
Ferrozone makes permanent cures. Absolutely safe because it is purely vegetable and contains no alcohol. Concentrated cure in tablet form. —that's Ferrozone, 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all dealers.

BRITISH GRAIN YIELDS

The average yield of wheat in Great Britain during the ten years ending with 1906 was 31 1-6 bushels per acre. This is more than ten bushels in excess of the average for fall wheat in Ontario in the twenty-four-year period ending with 1906. The British average is more than four bushels above the best yield obtained in any one year in this Province between 1886 and 1907.
The average yield of barley in Great Britain in 1907 was over 33 1-10 bushels. This is nearly six bushels above the average in Ontario for twenty-four years, and only in two years in the last ten has the British ten-year average been exceeded in this Province.
The soil in Great Britain is naturally no better than that of Ontario. The climate is, on the whole, not so favorable. Why, then, so much better showing in point of yield? Is not the explanation found in the better system of farming practised in the one case than is followed in the other?

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often shows up, the Kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, vim, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

GRAND TRUNK AT THE FRANCO-BRITISH EXHIBITION LONDON, ENG.,

It is a well-known fact that at all the World's Fairs and International Exhibitions, held in the past decade, the Grand Trunk has been most prominently represented with attractive displays, and in each case gold medals and diplomas have been their award. At the Franco-British Exhibition, which is to be held at Shepherd's Bush, London, May to October, this year, the Grand Trunk are not behind in their progressiveness and have erected a beautiful pavilion covering about 3000 square feet of space in a picturesque spot known as the French Court.
This structure follows in design the Renaissance style of architecture with an artistic pillared entrance. Over the entrance rises a group of statuary representing the Grand Trunk Railway System as "speed" with an electric star surmounting the head of the central figure emblematic of the "Star of Empire", and on each side of this figure is represented in smaller figures the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, the central figure joining their hands, representing the spanning of the continent by the new National Transcontinental Railway. This allegorical group is a very imposing one and the idea is appropriate.
The interior of the building is arranged in a combination of color harmony of olive green and red. The scenic views of the Grand Trunk Railway, as well as views of the summer tourists districts and fishing and hunting resorts in Canada are beautifully portrayed by a series of bromide enlargements finished in a sepia tint and framed in a dull quartered oak. The photographic work has been executed by Mr. J. W. Swan, the well known Landscape photographer, who has excelled himself, if possible, in this collection. These pictures cover the walls to a distance of two feet from the ceiling, and the entire interior has been set off by a beautiful frieze made up of grains and grasses from Ontario, Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and the West. In this frieze are embodied specimens of Canadian fish and game mounted in an attractive way, the whole forming a unique and pleasing effect.
In the centre of the room a pyramid has been erected, on which is shown samples of the cereals of the Province of Ontario, as well as natural samples of fruit from the "Garden of Canada."
Animated moving picture machines projecting fishing, hunting and railroad scenes, are other features on the floor space. Interesting and instructive literature has been specially prepared for distribution, and it is estimated that from fifteen to twenty million people will visit this exhibition during its lifetime. Canada and the Grand Trunk Railway System will secure a tremendous amount of publicity through this medium.
Among the special features on display in this building will be two exceptionally fine moose heads, one the record head taken from the Province of Ontario, and the other a freak head that will attract a great deal of attention.
Mr. S. W. Cummings, who until recently was General Passenger Agent of the Central Vermont Railway, has been appointed to the position of Director of this exhibit.

A SHORT HISTORY

These Larder Lake properties were staked out by the Foster brothers, who are old, experienced miners, who have been prospecting up in that country since 1906. They are practical miners.
When the wealth of the Larder Lake District first leaked out, these men made tracks for this district, and after days of hardship in paddling up rivers and carrying their outfit over portages, they finally found the wonderful gold bearing rock, and after a number of weeks' patient work in following gold indications they staked out 640 acres of what some believe will prove the richest gold bearing rock in the district.
After these men had registered these claims and proved there were no other prior claims to them, they brought samples and proofs to Toronto and succeeded in interesting a number of city merchants by convincing them that not one but many possible fortunes are tied up in these valuable 640 acres. On no reasonable consideration would they sell outright, so a small cash sum was paid to them and so many shares in a company to be formed agreed to be given them.
Had they not believed stock in the company would become valuable it is right to infer that they would not have made such a bargain and tied up their properties.
We believe they will be justified in their decision to retain an interest in the properties as shareholders in our Company.
As we, the members of this Company, were convinced by facts, we wish to convince you by facts, also.
The Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company has no figureheads or salaried men on its board. Each member of the board is a stockholder, by putting in his money and paying for his shares, and each member stands to lose a good pile if it is not properly handled. It is the intention of the company to run things on a strictly business basis, and all dealings must be above board. We want to make money and we want to make money fairly and honestly—on the miner's risk for the miner's reward.
The city merchants took the properties from the owners and prospectors, had transfers duly executed, organized this company, defraying all expenses to date, and have agreed to accept stock in payment. They must pay the original owners out of their holdings. The treasury stock goes for development.
The property consists of 14 claims, 40 acres each, or about 560 acres, west of Larder Lake and bordering on Grassy Lake. Blair & Smith, Government surveyors, of New Liskeard, were surveyors for the Company.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each on and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

HYMAN MAY CONTEST LONDON AGAIN

London, May 14.—The understanding here is that Hon. Charles S. Hyman will again contest London in the federal elections. His opponent will be William Gray. Mr. Hyman's recent visit to Ottawa lend color to the rumor.

Mr. Gray's strength in the past makes him the logical candidate. The story that Mr. Gray would enter the Provincial field is denied.

THE KAISER WANTS RAISE IN SALARY

Berlin, May 14.—If it be true that an attempt is to be made to increase the stipend of Kaiser William, we may look for active opposition in the Reichstag.

At present he receives $850,000 as German Emperor and $3,452,770 as King of Prussia. The latter sum, though larger than that which he enjoyed when he came to the throne, is $1,750,000 less than the old kings of Prussia annually received.

The indisposition of the nation to augment His Imperial Majesty's civil list was demonstrated a few years ago, when he proposed to spend $5,000,000 on extending and altering the palace at Berlin.

"Not a penny for these mad constructions, not an inch of the city property," they said.

Part of the Kaiser's responsibilities consist in the maintenance of the royal theatres at Berlin, Hanover and Cassel, and he has also to foot the bills for the royal concerts. He proposed, when the extension of the royal home was contemplated, to cut down his expenditures upon these theatres and concerts. Those connected with the threatened subsidies were furious; to not a penny of reduction would they consent, so the whole scheme was dropped.

An income of over $4,500,000 is not a despicable sum, even for William II.; but it is not excessive, considering that there are no allowances to other members of the royal family and that very little comes now to him from the royal domains.

A very large portion of the Kaiser's personal funds must go in clothes. It is said that he possesses uniforms enough to dress the mannies of a first-class battleship.

He has the uniforms proper to the 300-and-odd Prussian regiments, horse, foot and artillery, besides the regiments of the lesser states, and those of which he holds honorary rank in foreign countries. Every appointment is perfect from the shoulder knots, which cost more than the uniform itself, to jewelled accoutrements fit for an oriental autocrat.

When he travels, as very often he does, it is with a retinue big enough for a small army. Hence his official revenue does not suffice to keep him in funds. The depth of his privy purse no man knows. He owns castles and palaces, farms and forests innumerable, and the number is constantly growing.

Six years ago Herr Wilhelm Hildebrand left him an estate worth $375,000 and $750,000 in hard cash, a gift matched by that from a West Prussian land owner who gave him a 6,000-acre estate as an earnest of greater possessions to come at the donor's death. Then there was the $500,000 bestowed upon him by Baroness Oppenheim-Cohn, and the $2,500,000 placed at his disposal by Herr Henckel von Donnersmarck in 1905.

Ostensibly, the Czar of Russia is the wealthiest sovereign in Europe. But it is difficult to define the point at which state revenue ends and the imperial begins.

He draws the revenues from more than a million square miles of cultivated lands and forests, besides gold and other mines in Siberia, and his income may be anything from $7,500,000 to $10,000,000. The royal palaces, their personnel, even whole regiments of guards, are maintained at his cost.

The most curious civil list is that of the King of Greece. The act which settled him on the throne awarded him $200,000 a year, but France, Russia and England agreed to supplement that by $20,000 each, so that he draws $260,000 a year, and rules admirably for the money.

THE "BLACK HAND" AFTER HETTY GREEN

New York, May 14.—Although efforts have been made to keep the matter secret, it became known to-day that Mrs. Henry Green, who is living at the Plaza Hotel, received last Friday a letter signed "The Black Hand", threatening her with death unless she gave $5,000 to the writer.

Since receipt of the letter Mrs. Green leaving the hotel for her office in the Chemical National Bank, has been taken to a Madison Avenue car by one of the hotel detectives.

INRUSH OF ALIENS.

NINE-YEAR-OLD CHAUFFEUR.

A lad named Tyler, aged nine, has been fined 10s. at Worcester for driving a motor car without a license. He was stopped by a constable on Good Friday in the main street, the boy being with him a little girl about three years older than himself. The defendant's father told the Bench that his son was quite competent to drive, and had done so for two years.

NEWS FOR DRUCE SUBSCRIBER.

The laborers and domestic servants who subscribed for 6s. shares in the New Druce-Portland Company, Limited, will be interested in a decision given by Mr. Justice Swinfen Eady yesterday. The £4,300 subscribed had been paid into court. His Lordship held that as the company never became entitled to commence business, its contract with the London Trading Bank, Limited, was merely provisional and not binding. Consequently the bank had no claim on the funds, and its application was dismissed with costs.

Board of Health Met Yesterday

A meeting of the Board of Health was held yesterday morning. Those present were Dr. Burnham, chairman; Dr. McNulty, Messrs. J. Edgar and J. Murty.

Ald. Turner called attention to the odor in the north side of Hunter St., near the bridge over the river. On motion, the Medical Health Officer and Sanitary Inspector were instructed to remedy the trouble.

Mr. J. J. McBain spoke in regard to the instruction of the Board of Health to have the house at 460 George street connected with the sewer. Mr. McBain said the owner of the property, Mr. Acton of Toronto, intended erecting a new building and had authorized him to have a closet put in the yard in the meantime.

It was decided to notify Mr. J. J. McBain that if No. 460 George street is used as a dwelling connection with the sewer must be made at once presentation

LUMBERING OPERATIONS TIED UP?

Ottawa, May 13.—If the Ottawa River rises another foot, and there is prospect of its doing so, lumbering operations all along its banks will be completely tied up and several of the big mills will be forced to close down. Already there is so much water around many of the lumber piles that it is impossible to get to them with waggons.

The mill of the Edwards Co. at Rockliffe, and that of R. and T. Ritchie, of Aylmer, are already seriously handicapped by the high water. At the foot of the locks where lists are made tests it was found that the water had risen 5 inches since yesterday morning and has now reached the highest mark since the 12th of June, 1904, when it measures 23 feet 4 inches. To-day it is 22 feet, 9 inches and if it keeps on at this gradual but steady rate, the next day or two will see the record for 1904 broken and that was the highest for over 30 years.

At Quyon, where the Upper Ottawa Improvement Co. make their tests the rise is also very great. There is every prospect that the water will rise still higher and anxiety is felt by lumbermen all along the river.

At Queen's Wharf the water is only a foot from the top of the docks. There is no damage done to the wharves as yet but there is no telling what a day or two may bring forth, judging from the way the river is rising just now.

RAILWAY ARBITRATION.

Montreal, May 13.—The board of arbitration appointed to look into and report upon the labor difficulties existing between the Canadian Pacific Railway and their mechanics will sit for the first time on the twenty-first of this month. Mr. James Somerville, who will represent the men, is at present in Winnipeg and ready with his side of the story. Mr. A. M. Nanton, who will represent the company, is at present in England and is expected to return to Canada this week. The third member of the commission will be selected by these two at their first meeting, if an agreement can be reached. If not the Government will make the appointment.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys surely point to weak Kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is foolish. As is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Brights or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative and these Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommended and sell

A TERRIBLE REWARD.

Cromwell's Payment For the Capture of Pembroke Castle.

During the struggle between King Charles and the parliament Pembroke castle was so well fortified that Cromwell, with all his cannon, could not take it.

After many failures he gave up his intention and began to march on for Tenby. But before he had proceeded far a country shoemaker came up to Cromwell and asked him whether he would reward him if he would tell him how to get the castle into his possession.

Cromwell, very glad of this offer, consented. Then this old shoemaker, glad to get some money, as no doubt he was rather poor, told him that there was a pipe through which they got their water and that if he were to cut the pipe the castle would surrender.

Cromwell said, "I thank you for the information you have given me, but as you have turned traitor to your countrymen the only reward I will give you is that you shall be hanged on the very next tree that I come to."

Cromwell had the shoemaker hanged and cut the pipe he had told him of, leading to the castle, which then surrendered.—London Telegraph.

Weary, Worn-out, Tired

If You Feel Poorly This Spring this Article is worth Considering

Nothing in life keeps people from advancement like poor health. If the nerves are weak, if the stomach, liver, bowels or kidneys, fail to work properly, health surely suffers. Spring is the hardest time on health—the season when the system calls for active cleansing medicine.

The best plan is to entrust your condition to a physician of reputable edition to a physician of reputation like Dr. Hamilton, who has had years of experience in compounding tonics. For the ills and tired feeling of spring Dr. Hamilton says nothing is better than Mandrake and Butternut Pills, and this is well proved in the case of James Burton, of Lewistown. "I had grip and it left me very weak. The disease settled in my back and side, which ached day and night. I had a nagging cough. My appetite was all gone. My nerves unstrung. I could not sleep well. I struggled against growing pale, thin and weak—but it was not good. Spring brought depression, overpowering weakness and bad headaches. But my life as regbad headaches. But my life was spared, simply because I learned of the wonderful merit in Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. The result was marvelous. I gained rapidly, became strong, ruddy, vigorous, perfectly well. I urge every man and woman to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly.

You'll brighten up, have cleaner blood stronger nerves, better appetite after using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c at all dealers. Guaranteed safe, sure, helpful for old and young.

Water Delays T.V.C. Construction

Messrs. Sangster & Larkins, the contractors for section No 1, T.V.C., have nearly everything in readiness to begin work and are now waiting for the water to subside. They have a long steam shovel, travelling crane, derricks, drills, etc., and when the advance work begins they will be rapidly advanced. On section No 2 conditions are about the same.

Gets Job Quick

On Wednesday Mr. A. W. Davis a recently arrived English immigrant who sailed on the SS Kensington, called on the local immigration agent, Mr. Geo Howson, who procured him a job with Mr. W. J. Stillman of Smith. Mr. Davis last place in England had been on the Isle of Wight. Mr. Davis spent ten years as a "groom's outfitter," but decided that there were not sufficient opportunities to make good in that line there.

Milk Drops to Price Today

Today a general reduction in the price of milk will be made by local vendors. The commodity so essential to the health and life of infants and children has for months sold at seven cents per quart but today the price to the general public will be reduced to six cents and for hotels and institutions five cents per quart. For private houses tickets are generally bought in lots of seventeen, the milkman receiving $1.02 for the lot. So long as a divorce without alimony is observed between the milk and the vendors' pumps, the change will be welcomed.

Home from Arctic Regions

Mr. William Scott, formerly of Apsley, but who has been in the far Arctic regions of the Yukon district, is in the city on a visit. Mr. Scott came via Vancouver to see his parents after two years' absence. He noted that flour in the Yukon district often sells at fifty cents and sometimes as high as one dollar per pound, as one goes toward the far north and consequently from the base of supply. Mr. Scott is well known in Peterborough and formerly attended the business college of this city.

The Monarch Bank

The order for the winding up of the Monarch Bank has been fyled in Toronto, and the institution will now become extinct. The bank was organized by Mr. M. T. Ostrom, formerly a citizen of Peterborough. The bank was incorporated in 1886 with an authorized capital of two million dollars, but the Ontario Bank disaster, followed by that of the Sovereign Bank, made investors chary. It was found impossible to obtain subscriptions up to the minimum required by statute before commencing operations. There are 176 subscribers, who have paid up $68,000. Of this amount $38,000 has been expended in salaries, commissions and travelling expenses incured in attempts to get the necessary capital. About $30,000 remains in the treasury.

East Ward Boys Break Windows

Mr. E. J. Fredenburg of the East Ward, an employe of the Calcutt Brewing Co., yesterday stopped a Times representative and noted that the boys of the East Ward school damaged his property. Mr Fredenburg said that whilst he does not want any police court business that he can't afford to lose his windows. His story was that the boys of the East Ward school, to which he resides as adjacent, play ball in the school grounds and that they had within the past few days broken a number of his windows by their run hits. He threatens to prosecute if any more windows are broken.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry-bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherry-bark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, hang-on chronic coughs, bronchial and hemorrhagic troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores or ulcers.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

"Yes, I am in charge of the lying-in-ward."

The witness corroborated what Saunders had said with regard to regard to conversation in his sleigh on Gould street in February.

"I told him, in answer to his question, as to what doctors charge for such cases as that charged against Minnie Turner that that class of work cost about $20. He then told me that was a young woman whom he thought was in trouble, but was not sure. If she were in trouble he thought he might have been the cause of her trouble, and if so he wanted to marry her. I told him that was the right thing to do, but to make sure she was in trouble.

"Did you see the young lady then?" asked Mr. Robinette.

"No. I heard nothing more of the matter until March.

"On the Saturday before the death of Miss Gould," continued the witness, "I was called by Saunders, and went to the Mutual street house, but could not find the girl and I then went on about my business. I could not make a visit on that trip.

FIRST SAW THE GIRL.

"I got another call from Saunders a few hours later, and then I went down and found the girl in bed."

The witness narrated the details of his visit and that he was unable to decide exactly the cause of the pains and cramps.

"After prescribing powders to allay the pain I left her, telling her if she felt well enough, to come and see me at my office.

"On the following day—Sunday—the girl came as I had asked her. She came upstairs to my surgery on the second floor, and I made a private examination and located her trouble."

"Did you use any instrument?" asked Mr. Robinette.

"No, sir, I did not."

"Where was Saunders at this time?"

"He came to my house with the girl, but remained downstairs while I was making the examination.

"When I came downstairs I told Saunders his suspicions were right—that the girl was in trouble."

OTHERS WERE PRESENT.

"All the time I was in the room with the girl on Tuesday the nurse and two other women were with me," continued Dr. Fletcher, "and they heard me advise Saunders that she should be removed to the hospital.

During the entire morning session Mrs. Fletcher, the aged mother of the prisoner, was an interested spectator and by her side sat the physician's wife.

Buy Casey Mountain Shares in the

Casey Mountain Cobalt Mining and Developing Co. Ltd.

SECRETARY-TREASURER, Dr. H. A. Wood, Peterborough. SUPERINTENDENT, D. Williamson, Haileybury, Ont.
D. A. Reid, Brandon, Manitoba.

HEAD OFFICE—MANNING CHAMBERS—TORONTO ONTARIO

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares;—

Casey Mountain shares are fully paid-up and non-assessable.

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which is a regular network of silver bearing veins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain has the woods in unlimited quantities sufficient to last for generations.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 that are varying in width from 16 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock speculation) and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 500 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent. to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Dividends Paid by Cobalt Mining Companies

McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd., have paid	45,000.00	Temiscamingue & Hudson Bay Mining Co., Ltd., have paid	746,120.00

(These shares could have been had at 60 cents, and have sold as high as $190.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $60,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends. The Tiedwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $20.00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would mean a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value, $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

School Board Rejects Request of Sisters of Charity

Kingston, May 15.—The request of the House of Providence Sisters of Charity for permission for two of their number to attend a kindergarten class in the public schools, either as teachers in training or visitors, was again before the Board of Education at its meeting last evening.

It was refused and as a result, Dr. Wm Gibson, a Catholic member of the Board, representing the City Council, resigned his seat and left the board room refusing to sit longer with a body which, he declared, treated the Sisters' request with discourtesy.

The Sisters wished two of their number to qualify as teachers and thought that the Board of Education might grant them the privilege of attending the Public school classes.

There was a lively debate.

F. R Anglin opposed the grant that would be given, but Prof. MacGillivray said the children would be no more alarmed at it than they would be by merry widow autor hats.

Life Sentence in the Penitentiary Handed Out to George Slack

Toronto, May 15.—"I am innocent, so help me God!" exclaimed George Slack, who was convicted of robbing with violence Mrs. Elizabeth Davis on March 20th of this year, when brought before Judge Anglin for sentence this afternoon.

After this he burst out that the prisoner completely broke down and wept bitterly.

"It is pretty hard," he cried, in jerky tones, "to send me to prison."

PLEADED FOR LENIENCY.

Mr. T. Walter Curry, K.C., was on hand to plead for leniency. He spoke of the prisoner's tenderness towards his mother. "The young man," said counsel "has kept away from liquor since he came out of prison in December last, and in spite of the jury's verdict I still think that an alibi was proven."

THE SENTENCE

Mr. Justice Anglin listened without interruption to Mr. Curry, and then in calm, even tones, and in a clear vibrant voice, pronounced sentence:

"George Slack, I have given to your case the most anxious thought. A jury of your countrymen, after a deliberation of seven or eight hours, found you guilty of robbing with violence, nor do I wish to disagree with their verdict.

"The offence was committed upon a woman of advanced age and was a most brutal assault.

"You were sentenced to twelve years in the Penitentiary for a serious crime committed upon a street in this city. Your term was commuted and you were admitted to liberty on a ticket-of-leave in December last.

INCORRIGIBLE OFFENDER.

"I would fail in my duty if I did not regard you as an incorrigible offender. May this sentence be a warning to others that such horrible crimes will be punished to the full extent of the law.

"George Slack, I sentence you to the penitentiary at Kingston for the rest of your natural life."

Upon hearing this sentence pronounced upon him, the prisoner dropped his head upon his arms. Then pulling himself together, he started to his feet and followed the constables out of the court and down to the cells with a set rigid face, and neither looking to the right side nor the left.

The crime for which Slack was sentenced was committed on the evening of March 19, about nine o'clock. Mrs Eliza Davis was in her store, at the corners of Yonge and Gloucester streets, when Slack came in, saying he wanted to see her son. Being told he was not in, he went out, and returned in about ten minutes. He then requested permission to use the phone, and when Mrs. Davies enquired what was keeping him so long, he passed behind her, hitting her with his fist, and knocking her down. He then grabbed $20 from the till, and escaped.

When arrested he was working on the elevator at the Board of Trade building.

Matteawan Expert Says Thaw is a Dangerous Man

Poughkeepsie, N.Y., May 15. —The testimony of expert alienists, by which District Attorney Jerome endeavors to prevent the release of Harry K. Thaw from the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Matteawan, is expected to occupy the attention of the court which is hearing the Thaw habeas corpus proceedings today. Dr. Austin Flint, one of Mr Jerome's alienists, was on the witness stand when the court adjourned last night, and Dr. Carlos F. MacDonald and Dr. Amos T. Baker, acting superintendent of the asylum, have qualified as experts, and are likely to be called today.

It is expected that Dr. Baker will be questioned as to the truth of stories which are in circulation here that in February last, while Thaw was in the asylum, he insisted upon sending to New York for 400 chocolate eclaires and distributing them among the occupants of the asylum, and that the asylum authorities permitted him to do so.

TUNING THE PIANO

Another point on which the doctor may be questioned is that Thaw wanted to take charge of the asylum piano, and insisted upon having it tuned by a man of his own election after that work had been done by a man called in by the asylum authorities.

Dr. Baker may be asked also whether Thaw wanted to decorate his ward in the asylum with Easter lillies.

DANGEROUS TO PUBLIC

Dr. Amos T. Baker, acting superintendent of the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Matteawan, testified that in his opinion Thaw is insane.

Dr. Baker said that in his opinion it would be dangerous to public safety to have Thaw go at large.

Buys Carload of Oranges and Lemons

Mr. T Muscolo, the Hunter street fruit dealer, who has just returned from Montreal where he attended the spring sale of wholesale fruit. The sale this year was not attended as largely as usual, and Mr. Muscolo succeeded in getting a carload of oranges and lemons. He was lucky in consequence of the limited competition in bidders in getting his carload from 15 to 20 per cent. cheaper than last spring. On Wednesday of this week 43,500 boxes of oranges and lemons were sold and on Monday, 10,000 boxes. About 35,000 boxes will be sold on May 26th or 27th.

Rev. Canon Davidson Given a Farewell

Some two hundred of St. John's congregation were at the C.P.R. station yesterday at noon to say good by to their rector, Rev. Canon Davidson, who left for Montreal, from which place he will sail this morning at daybreak for the Old Country. Canon Davidson will attend the Pan-Anglican Congress in London. As the rector boarded the train three hearty cheers and a "tiger" were given by his friends assembled on the platform. He carries with him the best wishes of a host of friends for a safe and pleasant voyage.

Yesterday afternoon, John Dixon of Harvey, was charged in the County Council Chambers, before his Worship County Magistrate Edmison, with not properly providing for his wife and two infant children.

Mrs Dixon was assisted by Mr. Goodwill, for the Children's Aid Society, and she lived beyond Burkhom. She had been married three years. Her husband is "a cattle rancher." He owns 200 acres of "rocky land," which is mortgaged. He only paid $250 and there is a mortgage of $275. They only farm two acres. There are two children, the oldest being two years old. Their live stock consists of a calf she raised, and an old mare, whilst their farming implements consist of one plow. They have pastured 25 cattle on their place at $2 per head, per season. On the two cleared acres they raise vegetables but no grain. They would have to buy their garden seeds for this year. There is no money in the family to carry. Her husband now and again goes out working and earns a dollar and then lays round the house for two or three days. He was offered a steady job at $20 a month but "would not stir off the place." She was ill all last winter and her husband refused to get a doctor. Her husband did not ill use the children. Her husband is too lazy to work. He had accused her of infidelity which she tearfully denied. She had left her husband some twelve times and he came after her, promising reformation. She did not think there was any use in her going back again. She is able to look after herself, and her children, but has nothing definite in view. She is a Barnardo Home immigrant.

Dixon the defendant, went into the box and said during last winter he took out two thousand feet of timber and two cords of wood making $44 for his workers work. He never gave any of this to his wife, as she did not ask to say. The interest on the $275 mortgage, at 5 per cent. was paid out of the pasturage money. He denied the evidence of his wife regarding what she said concerning the infidelity charges. Mr Gordon here asked Dixon if he would be willing to pay his wife $3 a week. This he demurred over and wanted a reconsideration.

His worship thought the woman should be placed in the House of Refuge for a time until her health returns. It was decided that arrangements would be made to get the woman into the House of Refuge until she is able to go to work, she to take the baby with her. The elder child will be kept in the shelter in the meantime. The magistrate ruled that Dixon must pay $3 a week towards the keep of the child. Constable Geo. Cochrane noted that if Dixon got $10 ahead it would be garnished for debt. He thought Harvey just suited such a man as the defendant.

It was here shown that Dixon owed a grocer bill of $120, mainly for tobacco, which costs him seventy-five cents a week.

The magistrate ruled that Dixon must pay $3 a week towards the support of the family; said money to be paid to the county treasurer. The woman in this case is a poor little sick creature, alleged to be suffering with a complication of [illegible] while the man Dixon is what is known as a Harvey Brier-jumper.

Dr. Fletcher Acquitted on Charge of Performing Illegal Operation

Upon Miss Jessie Gould of This City--Is Now a Free Man

Other Charge Dropped

Toronto, May 15.—Dr J. Ashton Fletcher stepped out of the prisoner's dock at the Assizes today—after three days' trial—a free man! The audience repeated this verdict.

Seated next to the doctor, and at his left hand, when the jury came in, were his wife and two sisters. All three smiled gratefully when the verdict was returned.

In an anteroom of the court the doctor's aged mother anxiously awaited the tidings. She said she was too nervous to remain in the court room proper when the jurymen came in. She took the matter quietly when she was informed that her son was at liberty.

THE DOCTOR GRATEFUL.

Dr. Fletcher himself smiled quietly as he listened to the foreman of the jury pronounce the two words which made him a free man. Leaning over the dock, he shook hands warmly with Mr. Robinette before he stepped out of the enclosure.

"Mr. Drayton has something for your lordship," said Mr. Robinette, smiling, and turning to the bench.

MURDER CHARGE DROPPED.

Crown Attorney Drayton came on a pleasant errand. Since the jury had acquitted the prisoner on the one charge, the other, and more serious indictment, that of murder, would be withdrawn by the Crown, as they had now no basis to proceed on.

"Very well," acquiesced Justice Anglin, and he bowed to Dr. Fletcher. "You are now," said he, "a free man absolutely."

Many of the doctor's friends and relatives crowded about him as he left the court room, pressing his hand and congratulating him upon his acquittal.

THE CHARGE AGAINST HIM.

The charge against Dr. J. Ashton Fletcher was that he performed an illegal operation upon Miss Jessie Gould on the 8th of March, 1908. The second charge, based upon the first, resulted from the allegation that the girl came to her death on the 10th of March as a result of the alleged criminal operation.

Mr. Robinette showed that the blood poisoning which the Crown claimed resulted from the operation might have resulted from other causes.

Possibility of Government's Applying to the Governor-General for Dissolution Keenly Discussed in Commons' Lobbies

Ottawa, May 16.—The deadlock between the parties in Parliament which has engrossed the attention of the members and of the habitutes of the Parliament buildings to the exclusion of all other matters during the week is beginning to interest even people who do not usually take much interest in politics. And if, of course, the deadlock operates to prevent the payment to any great amount of civil service salaries, the interruption of the normal monthly circulation of money will be keely felt in the Capital.

Last night the most widely circulated rumor was that the chances of compromise between the parties was so small that the Government being unable either to advance its business or to get supply would appeal to the Governor-General for dissolution. Members of Parliament canvassed this rumor very thoroughly wherever they met. It was apparent that the Opposition members or most of them, would welcome the dissolution of Parliament at this juncture, their impression being that at the present moment the Opposition is actually better prepared than the Government in the way of preliminary organization, which is probably the case in Ontario, Manitoba, British Columbia and New Brunswick at any rate.

The cause of the deadlock is the provision in the proposed Election Act amendment for the assumption of control by the Dominion of the preparation of the voters' lists for Dominion elections in Manitoba and British Columbia and the unorganized districts in Ontario and Quebec. The original proposal as set out in the bill was that the Dominion Government should actually prepare these lists itself instead of accepting the lists prepared by the provinces in question as under the existing law it accepts the lists prepared by all the provinces.

As a basis of compromise the Opposition suggested that the provincial lists be accepted by the Dominion and that the allocation of the names in polling sub-divisions bisected by boundaries of Dominion constituencies be confided to the county court judges.

In apparent response to this, Sir Wilfrid Laurier offered to accept the principle of the revision of the lists by the judges, but his speech was so involved that not one outside the Government seemed to know whether he meant lists prepared by the provinces or lists prepared by the Dominion.

Mr. Borden therefore, declared the policy of the Opposition to be that the Government must abandon its proposal in its entirety.

It is understood that there have been personal conferences between the Prime Minister and the Opposition leader and that up to last night they had proved fruitless. Meantime the House is to take a rest from the Election Act debate in order that the forces of compromise may have a chance to work more effectively. To-day uncontentious Government measures will be taken up and to-morrow the Government will attempt to obtain supply.

The Opposition had a caucus this morning, when it was decided that as Mr. Borden had stated in the House, Sir Wilfrid Laurier's offer would not be accepted and resistance to the bill would be maintained. It is understood this apparently was the gist of a memo by the Prime Minister to Mr. Borden, but the Opposition continued to find his intention obscure, and it was suggested that a key to the memo should be asked. Meantime the Opposition insists that the Government's proposal is that new lists in the provinces and districts in question shall be prepared by Dominion officers for Dominion elections, but that the whole process of registration and revision shall be in the hands of the judges. On the other hand that the lists as prepared by the provinces shall be accepted as at present.

It seems also that the Opposition will persist in its refusal to vote supply.

FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET OF RETAIL MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION

Held Last Night in the Oriental Hotel was a Most Enjoyable Affair---A Representative Gathering--Able Addresses Delivered

The first annual banquet of the Retail Merchants' Association held last night in the Oriental Hotel, was a most enjoyable and representative affair. About 85 of Peterborough's most prominent business men sat about the festive board, and listened to addresses delivered by A. Green of Belleville, on "The Power of Organization," and E. M. Trowern of Toronto, on "The Importance of Watching Legislature for Retail Merchants."

The banquet lacks more than an ordinary affair such as frequently occurs in social life, but it was a gathering of Peterborough's most brainy men who met in a dual mature to sympathize in one another's worries, pleasures and successes, incumbent on every business man of of the city, and that they might go forth into the fight with increased good feeling and further the interests of themselves and the organizations.

Mr. Geo. N. Graham proved himself a most efficient host, the menu provided being an excellent one. The tables were artistically decorated with flowers, while the banquet hall was profusely decorated with flags and bunting which presented a most pleasing effect.

After full justice had been done to "Ye Goode Things," Secretary James R. Bell read letters of regret from Mr. Henry Waters of Ottawa, and H. C. Ellis, president of the R. M.A. of Ontario, who were unable to attend.

THE TOAST LIST.

Mayor Rush acted as toastmaster, and proposed the toast to "The King," which was responded to in the usual way.

THE CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS.

Gentlemen;—I am delighted that I am able to be with you this evening as I feel that I am among old friends and associates. This is no ordinary gathering such as frequently occurs in our social life. It stands for something more than social pleasures. I have myself had over 25 years' experience as a retail merchant and I feel that I can sympathize with you in your business worries, pleasures and successes. But in my day we had no such benefits as should result from a Retail Merchants' Association such as you enjoy today. I can recall however, how often an organization of this kind would have helped in removing such evils as you now abolish, for instance, unnecessary price-cutting, the unfair advantage of transient trading, regulating the hours of closing, and many other advantages.

I trust that this splendid banquet, which you have done me the honor to be present at, may be productive of increasing the good feeling among our local merchants. Admist the thoughts that come up in review, I select one as the key note of all, that is, UNION, because in union there is strength.

At the conclusion of his address the Mayor called upon Mr. W. Mallroy for a song, the vocalist favoring the assembly with "Top o' the Morning Bridget McCue." Mr. Mallroy made such a hit with this Irish ditty, that he was encored back and rendered the "Stein Song."

The toast to "Our Guests," proposed by Mayor Rush, was responded to by Rev. A. L. Green of Belleville, who in his reply said;—

Mr. Chairman and Fellow Retailers, I assure you I felt highly honored in being asked to attend this, your first annual banquet, and it gives me much pleasure in being with you tonight. The large and enthusiastic gathering that I see here tonight, speaks well for the retailers of Ontario and even the whole Dominion of Canada, and never before have I seen such a lot of fine looking men as are gathered about me. I have been asked to speak on "The Power of Organization," but I am not going to go into the details of it, as I know that Mr. Trowern knows more about this work than I do. Organization is a great thing. You see it here, there and everywhere.

A few years ago the churches wanted to be split up, but now their cry is "union." They now begin to see the weakness of division, and now they wish to get together as they find that they can do little without unity. Would Canada have been what it is today if it had not been for union. Look at the nation across the border. Over there they have state after state united together and look at the progress they are making in the industrial world.

Canada is now known all over the world, and the British flag floats everywhere. I don't know whether Peterborough was infested with that curse of a few years ago, the trading stamp. It seemed to me that when a person wanted a trading stamp with a purchase, that they were getting something for nothing. Down in Bellville we fought this thing to a standstill, and succeeded in getting a bylaw passed that stamped this curse out.

What we want, gentlemen, is men that will carry on their business in a straight, forward way. The Retail Merchants' Association is yet only in its infancy, but is already doing good work, by teaching people what they ought to do.

In his closing remarks the speaker said he hoped to see a continued advancement of the retail success in Peterborough.

Mr. C. M. Bennett was called upon for a vocal selection which was rendered to the entire satisfaction of all present.

E. M. TROWERN.

Mr. E. M. Trowern, of Toronto, gave an lengthy address on "The Importance of Watching Legislation for Retail Merchants." During the course of his remarks he said:—

Mr. Mayor, Fellow Officers, and Fellow Retailers, I see you have a number of the bankers of your city with you tonight. I am greatly pleased to know that they are here, for in the past the financial men of Canada have not taken much interest in our work. But I know it is not their fault, for they have never been asked to do so.

Organization, gentlemen, is the keynote of business success. Look at the farmers, they are organized, and are getting everything. Why last year the Dominion Government even undertook to give them seeds. The manufacturers are organized, they having a strong body of representa-

A Cheap Vaudeville Theatre to be Opened in Peterboro

Whilst in Toronto this week, Mr. M. Pappas, the George street cigar dealer, made arrangements with Mr. Griffin, who conducts a large number of five-cent shows in that city to come to Peterborough and supervise the primary arrangements of the 10-cent theater that Mr. Pappas will operate in the premises now occupied by The Times offices. As is generally known, The Times has now started operations on their fine new premises on Hunter street. As soon as the paper and its extensive plant and staff moves, Mr. Pappas will operate a ten-cent show with good artists in the temperance and vocal arts as well as a good up-to-date assortment of moving pictures.

A Canadian Girl in Tragedy In New York --Two Men Killed

New York, May 15.—The crowd in the South Brooklyn Hotel at Oceanic Walk and the Bowery, Coney Island, which opened yesterday, heard three pistol shots, followed by the screams of a woman, about 8.30 o'clock last night, and an instant later two men staggered into the barroom bleeding from bullet wounds in the head and toppled over dead.

Outside a crowd gathered, and through it dashed a woman and a man holding a revolver in his hand. They disappeared around the corner into the Bowery. The woman fell unconscious in the doorway of a little Italian restaurant. She was shot through the left shoulder.

Louis Poggi, known as "Louis the Lump Along" on the Bowery of Manhattan, a waiter and the Bowery of Coney Island in the summer, was the man who did the shooting, and it was because his girl had thrown him down to take supper with the two men. Every policeman in the Greater City was looking for him within an hour.

The leader in the affair is Carroll Terry, a 23-year-old girl, who was singing in the chorus at a music hall. She left her home in St. Catharines, Ont., three years ago, she told the police, and has been working in the concert halls of Manhattan, Coney Island, and other places ever since. She left home under the impression, she said, that she had a great voice and could not fail, with hard work, to make a hit in opera. She soon ran out of money here, however, took to singing in a Broadway chorus, and finally landed in a Bowery music hall in New York.

There she met Poggi, who was one of the male ornaments of the street, and took to living with him.

Last winter, Carrol Terry got a job singing in a hall in Rochester, and left Poggi, promising to return to him when she got back to New York. She arrived here a week ago, with the opening of Coney Island resorts, and got a job in the Imperial. Poggi, hearing of her return, came around and asked her to take up with him again. She refused.

At the end of the afternoon session at the music hall yesterday, Carroll Terry saw a couple of well-dressed men enter the place and sit down at a table near the stage. When they sent up an invitation to her to come down and have a drink she didn't hesitate long. They got along rapidly, and in response to their invitation, Carroll Terry got a friend named Mabel Leon, and the four went out to supper at a little Italian cafe.

After the supper the four started out, when Poggi suddenly appeared. Without saying a word, he drew a revolver and fired two shots into the heads of the men accompanying the girls. He also fired a shot at the Terry girl, which struck her in the shoulder. The two men who were shot died before the ambulance could reach them. Poggi and the Leon girl fled during the excitement.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary black spots or sparks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or faint, full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdomen or pelvic region, easily startled or irritable, irregular or painful periods, whites, or bearing-out pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements peculiar to her sex, and should have early attention. Not all of these symptoms are likely to be present in each case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and run down cases often run into maladies which call for many the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a record for actual cures of these ailments as has Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a [illegible] professional endorsement. No other medicine, put up for sale through druggists, has so many of its ingredients—works [illegible] number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best [illegible] known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enters into its composition. No alcohol, [illegible] habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is sure to do only good—never harm. Its tendency always is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these organs are deranged in function or afflicted with disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically disturbed, the nerves are weakened, and a host of distressing, bed, unpleasant symptoms follow. Relief must not be expected of "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors by some magic will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser [illegible] is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

LOW SPRING FEVER

Doctors Report Many Cases.

Same thing happens every year. As winter's close the body is weak and run down. Damp spring weather brings out rheumatic tendencies, exhausts vitality, and simply demands everyone to use a bracing, strengthening tonic.

Time wont help; matters grow worse instead of better if your system isn't rid of its poisonous burden.

Your blood is not only thin, but is contaminated with a whole winter's accumulation of wastes.

A stimulating blood tonic is required. What's it going to be?

Not bitters or alcoholic dope, but concentrated cure in the form of "Ferrozone" which is known as the best of all spring rejuvenators.

It creates keen appetite.
Produces prodigious digestion.
Converts food into nourishment.
Gives richness and vitality to the blood.
Makes strong nerves and hardy muscles.

Ferrozone possesses power that can't be doubted. It will do for you what it did for Walter Wood, of Beaufort, Car. Co., N. B., who writes: "I can say that Ferrozone has given me a new lease of life. A year ago I suffered much from nervous weakness. I was really scarcely able to drag myself around. My appetite was gone, I had no color or ambition and felt generally used up. The first box of Ferrozone started me back to health. I took a number of boxes, but it was worth while as my health was completely restored.

Get back to health with Ferrozone, six boxes for $2.50, or 50c per box at all druggists.

NEWSPAPER PUBLICITY

The rapture of Private Moir — the soldier who shot an officer three weeks ago and has been wandering across Ontario ever since — was due to the newspaper publicity given the affair. Moir had found employment as a hired man with an Elora farmer who never suspected his identity. But a stage driver, who had been reading the papers, saw him and had his suspicions aroused; and then his employer got hold of a paper with a picture and description of the murderer in it, and was struck with the resemblance to his recent acquisition. These two men notified the constables and the arrest was made. This incident may be put down as an offset to the cases in which we are told that newspaper publicity suggests crime to people who otherwise would never do anything worse than sing in a choir.

THE QUEBEC DISPLAY

Regret will be general that the original intention to assemble some 25,000 Canadian troops to receive the hair to the throne at the Tercentenary celebration at Quebec, is not likely to be carried into effect. Questions of transportation, commissariat and outlay appear to forbid its being done. But the Battlefields Commission has power to select such representative troops as it may consider desirable, and if the number on the field is not to be as large as expected, we may probably count on there being sufficient for the purpose of display to provide a fitting welcome to the Prince of Wales and to do credit to the defensive forces of Canada.

An interesting article in the May Craftsman, on the North American Indian, brings out some surprising experiences in connection with industrial pursuits. It is reported by officials of the United States in the Western States that they have been unable to find workmen more efficient in any work to which they have been trained than the native Indians. They are paid white men's wages, and no white men ever give a better return for the money.

The Winnipeg Telegram has been giving attention to the packing and condition of apples consigned to points in the west by Ontario shippers. It finds that there has been considerable faulty packing and repeated violations of the Fruit Marks Act. In one instance nearly the whole of a consignment to Winnipeg had to be destroyed. Arrangements should be made before the next fruit season is upon us, that will ensure a great deal more being done than appears to have been done last winter to ensure the act being faithfully observed.

Weak Women should read my "Book No. 4 For Women". It was written expressly for women who are not well. The Book No. 4 tells of Dr. Shoop's "Night Cure" and just how these soothing, healing, antiseptic suppositories can be successfully applied. The book, and strictly confidential medical advice is entirely free. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Night Cure is sold by all dealers.

Bicycles

HAYDN'S UNHAPPY WIFE.

The Composer Married Her Merely to Oblige Her Father.

Haydn married not the girl he was in love with, but her sister. "Haydn, you should take my oldest daughter," said Father Keller, the barber, and as Keller had done a good deal for Haydn the composer felt that he must sacrifice his affection on the altar of duty and oblige the old man. At the time of the marriage, in 1760, Haydn was twenty-nine, while his Anna Maria was thirty-two. There does not appear to have been much love on either side to start with, but Haydn declared that he had really begun to "like" his wife and would have come to entertain a stronger feeling for her if she had behaved in a reasonable way. Unfortunately Anna Maria had neither rhyme nor reason in her composition. The entertaining Marville says that the majority of ladies married to men of genius are so vain of the abilities of their husbands that they are frequently insufferable. But Frau Haydn was not a lady of that kind. The world had emphatically proclaimed her husband a genius, but to Maria it was quite immaterial whether he were a cobbler or an artist. Nay, she even committed the incredible crime of using the composer's manuscript scores for curling paper, as underlays for pastry and similar things! She was gay enough with it all too.

When Haydn went from home, she would send him the most cheerful little notes. "Should you die today or tomorrow," ran one of these missives, "there is not enough money left in the house to bury you." At another time when Haydn was in London he received a letter in which Maria wrote that she had just seen a neat little house which she liked very much and that he might do himself the pleasure to send her 2,000 gulden with which to buy it so as to have in future a "widow's home." Pleasant reading this for the genial composer! In the first case he wrote without a trace of anger: "Should this be so take my manuscripts to the music publisher. I guarantee you that they will be worth money enough to defray my funeral expenses." In the matter of the "widow's home" he thought it would be best to arrange things himself. Ultimately he bought the house, and in spite of Maria's frequent suggestions of his coming dissolution he lived in it for nine years after she had been dead.

Frau Haydn saw out her seventy years, but some time before that the pair had agreed to live apart as the best way of ending a union which had proved utterly unbearable to the composer.

The Penalty of Curiosity.

Among the packets received at the Birmingham (England) postoffice one day was one containing a pair of handcuffs, which were being sent from Derby to a manufacturer in Birmingham to be fitted with a key. The paper covering of the parcel had been torn during the transit, so that the handcuffs were exposed to view. They were an object of curiosity to the clerks, and presently one of the young men jocularly clasped one of the cuffs around his left wrist. It was then that he discovered that there was no key to unfasten it. The handcuff was on his wrist "to stay."

The young man went to the police station, and an officer found a key that he thought would fit, but in turning it round he broke it off in the cuff. Now, the broken key would have to be drilled out or the handcuff filed through before the clerk could get it off. The day was Sunday, and all the shops, including the manufacturer's place, were closed. The clerk returned to the postoffice and explained his plight to the superintendent. This official ordered him to take the first train for Derby the next morning, explain the whole circumstance to the owner of the handcuffs, apologize to him and then return to Birmingham and go to the manufacturer's and have the handcuff filed off.

A Holiday With Joy.

"Life isn't so full o' trouble but that we kin sometimes steal away an' spend a holiday with Joy," said the old philosopher. "But the minute Joy shakes hands with us we go to celebratin', an' the next thing we know the town marshal runs us in fer gittin' too happy on the highway, an' we git $10 or thirty days more'n we bargained fer! I once knowed a ole brother who wus one o' the best fellers in the country when he wuz in low grounds, but h'ist him to the hilltop an' he thought that the sun wuz a silver mine an' he owned it, an' the moon wus a thirty dollar gold piece, an' the stars wus small change an' all made fer him! Satan hisse'f would 'a' been flyin' roun' in glory to this day but fer the fact that he couldn't stand to be prosperous. Still, it's a good idee to risk a day with Joy whenever possible. Even ef we git into more trouble by it our consolation will be that we had a high ole time gittin' thar! Human natur' continues to be the most curious contraption on the top side o' the yearth!"

Making It Useful.

The many blunders in statuary inscriptions recall a story of one which a worthy citizen of Glasgow was ready to perpetrate upon the city's statue to Nelson. Nothing florid was wanted, but something the merit of which should consist in its brevity and sincerity.

"Glasgow to Nelson!" was the advice given by a distinguished visitor when appealed to by the local fathers.

"Aye, a very guid suggestion," said one of the councilors. "And, as the toon o' Nelson's close at hand, micht we so' juist say, Glasgow to Nelson, six miles,' that so it micht serve for a monument and milestone too?"—Dundee Advertiser.

Water Delays T.V.C. Construction

Messrs. Sangster & Larkins, the contractors for section No. 1, T.V.C., have nearly everything in readiness to begin work and are now waiting for the water to subside. They have a huge steam shovel, travelling crane, derricks, drills, etc., and when the activities are begun they will be rapidly advanced. On section No. 2 conditions are about the same.

Mr. Monte Wilson, the Garden Hill cheesemaker, brought 160 bags by G. T. R. to the city yesterday.

ALCOHOL IN SICKNESS.

At one of the London public hospitals a special point is made of giving alcohol to the patients as rarely and sparely as possible; and each time that one of the physicians does so he submits a special entry of the reasons that actuated him. In the thirty-two years of the existence of the hospital alcohol has only been given seventy-one times. The cases received are exactly like those received by all the other hospitals. For 1904 they numbered 1337 in-patients only. The death-rate among these was 7.3 per cent. For the same year the average death-rate among the other London public hospitals was 9.1 per cent. Therefore the use of alcohol in sickness is not to be regarded as a necessity. Although most physicians prescribe alcohol in solution with drugs for their patients—there was one physician of national reputation who did not believe in using alcohol. Many years ago when Dr. R. V. Pierce decided to put up his valuable "Prescription" for the diseases of women in a "ready to use" form—he used as a solvent and preservative chemically pure glycerine of proper strength, which is a better solvent and preservative of the active medicinal principles residing in most of our indigenous or native plants than is alcohol. Dr. Pierce found that the glycerine, besides being entirely harmless, possesses intrinsic medicinal properties, of great value.

No woman who is suffering from inflammation, from the pains and drains incident to womanhood can afford to be without Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. An honest medicine which has the largest number of cures to its credit and a deserved popularity for two score years all over the United States. Dr. Pierce tells you just what is contained in his "Favorite Prescription."

ITS INGREDIENTS ARE:

Among the prominent medical men of the country who recommend the above ingredients as superior remedies for nervous conditions depending upon disorders of the womanly system and for the cure of those catarrhal conditions in the affected parts are: Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica, at Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of the American Dispensatory, Woman and her Diseases; Professor John M. Scudder, Doctors Hale, Ives, Wood, Bartholow and others. Address a postal card to Dr. Pierce for a complete treatise on the subject—sent to you without cost.

DR. PIERCE'S PLEASANT PELLETS

cure billousness, sick and billous headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation of the bowels, loss of appetite, coated tongue, sour stomach, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

Persons who are subject to any of these troubles should never be without a vial of the "Pleasant Pellets" at hand. In proof of their superior excellence it can truthfully be said that they are always adopted as a household remedy after the first trial.

One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are cathartic. They regulate, invigorate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day. To relieve the distress arising from over-eating, nothing equals one of these little "Pellets." They're tiny, sugar-coated, anti-billous granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

How to live in health and happiness is the general theme of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great work on medicine and hygiene, containing over 1000 pages and more than 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 50 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 31 stamps for the book in paper covers.

News in Brief

Prince Albert, Sask., May 14.—Word reached here that the bush fires raging across the river had reached the timber limits of Prince Lumber Company at Stump Lake, seventy miles from here. Three camps were burned and the fire is raging in the standing timber. A party left Prince Albert to fight the fire. Quite a number of homesteads were burned out.

Hamilton, May 14.—A lively extradition fight is on in connection with the case of Nelson Cannon, wanted in Columbus, Ohio, on charges of bribery in connection with paving contracts. Cannon's wealthy relatives including Ex-Senator Sullivan, are fighting extradition.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., May 12.—Norman White, a lad of 15 years, had seen his mother abused by his drunken father ever since he could remember. On Saturday he spent his savings for a revolver. When the elder White returned home and began abusing his wife, Norman slipped upstairs to his bedroom and got the firearm. When he returned to the kitchen, where his father and mother were quarreling, Norman told his father he would kill him if he did not let his mother alone.

"Shoot me if you dare," the man challenged, as he threatened to strike his wife.

The lad emptied the five chambers of the revolver. Four went wide and the last penetrated the man's right lung. He will not live.

Mrs. White told the police she had intended to shoot White the next time he attacked her if her son had no done so.

Lakewood, N.J., May 13.—Because of the strict secrecy maintained about the bedroom of Grover Cleveland the rumor has spread among local physicians here that the mind of the former President is not as unclouded as it once was. The suffering which he has gone through and the condition of his system, it is said, have caused this temporary mental condition, and physicians are confident that with such continued improvement as the patient has shown in the last week he will be as bright and cheerful as he ever was. On the other hand, it is feared he may sink away at any time, or may linger for several months.

Friends of both the former President and his wife have been concerned by the strict guard kept over the bedroom in the Lakewood Hotel. They fear organic troubles may have afflicted him to such an extent as to cause melancholy and slightly clouded his mind.

Movements of Government Boats

Yesterday morning the Government tug Bob Hall, went from Bobcaygeon to Lindsay to place some light houses in the river there, and today Kirkfield will be reached where she will secure a scow load of cedar for fence posts along this division. The dredge "Emmerson" is still engaged in Lindsay waters where it has been used for dredging purposes for the past month. The steamer Empress was yesterday brought from Bobcaygeon to Young's Point by the Stoney Lake Navigation Company.

HEAD OFFICE MANNING CHAMBERS TORONTO-ONTARIO

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares:—

Casey Mountain shares are fully paid-up and non-assessable.

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which has a regular net-work of silver bearing veins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 todate varying in width from 16 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock speculation), and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent. to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Dividends Paid by Cobalt Mining Companies

Foster Cobalt Mining Co., Ltd., have paid.....45,000 00
McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd., have paid.....45,000 00
The Conagas Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907.....200,000.00
The Cobalt Silver Queen, Cobalt, paid during 1907.....120,000.00
Temiscaminga & Hudson Bay Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 716,120.00

(These shares could have been had at 80 cents, and have sold as high as $190.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $60,000,000 00 has been paid in dividends. The Tradwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $20.00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would means a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

The Wasp Waist.

Professor Mosso has made discoveries in Crete showing the extreme antiquity of civilization in that island. Four thousand years ago the "wasp" waist, usually regarded as a modern fashion, was known to the women of Crete. They compressed their waists and wore stiffly spreading skirts. The women are shown to have turned up noses and an audacious expression.

The Long Parliament.

The long parliament lasted thirteen years. It was dissolved by Oliver Cromwell on April 20, 1653.

The Word "Dad."

It is probably not generally known that the word "dad," used by many children in place of "father," is the purest Welsh. The opening words of the Lord's prayer in Welsh are "Tin Dad."

Cough Syrup.

This cough syrup is easily made and very good: Take a small handful of dried hops and a small handful of dried horehound and put into a cup of cold water. Let this steep until the strength of the herbs is drawn out, then strain through a cloth. Add to this one cupful of honey and two cupfuls of sugar. Let this mixture boil until thick. Pour into a wide mouthed bottle or small jar, and it is ready for use. One teaspoonful every half hour until the cough is relieved.

TWENTY SHOT DOWN IN RUSSIAN JAIL

Yeka terinoslav, May 14.—The attempt made yesterday by prisoners to break out of the Government jail here after making a breach in the wall of the guard room with a bomb was a complete failure, but it brought about a horrible scene of slaughter in and around the jail building. Twenty-eight of the prisoners were shot to death by the guard, and another of them has since died of his wounds. Thirty others were wounded, and it is expected that several of these will succumb.

As soon as the bomb was thrown one of the detachments of the prisoners charged the guards in the court room and attempted to climb the wall. Twelve of these men were killed instantly, while others were wounded. At the same time a second body of prisoners rushed to the kitchen, and seizing knives and other weapons attempted to cut their way to liberty. They were surrounded and killed to a man by the soldiers who were summoned by the prison authorities.

The explosion threw the whole prison into a state of panic. The inmates who took no part in the plot gathered in the windows overlooking the courtyard. They were ordered to draw back, but refused, whereupon the guards fired volleys into the open windows. The prisoners were shot down while attempting to escape over the roof of the building. So far as is known, not one succeeded in getting away. The chief warden of the prison is among the wounded.

NEW WAY TO SAVE THE DROWNING

Hartford, Conn., May 15.—It is believed by Dr. D. F. Sullivan, who, while operating on Nuncio C. Chiai at St. Francis's Hospital on Sunday, as told in The Tribune, twice saved his patient from death by gently grasping the heart and squeezing it in time with its normal pulsations until it beat again of its own accord, that many lives might be saved by this method of artificial respiration. To all appearances the man was dead twice, and yet he lived again when the heart was squeezed, sending the blood coursing through the arteries.

Dr. Sullivan thinks that if a person could be operated upon immediately after being taken from the water in many drowning cases, life might be conserved. He advocates opening the body and removing the ribs until the heart is visible and is accessible, in order that the fingers may be inserted to handle it. In many accidents life still lingers long after the person seems to have ceased to breathe.

News in Brief

London, May 14.—An extraordinary tale was told in connection with a sale brought at Dublin by a firm of auctioneers for payment for services rendered in making an inventory of the property left by Miss Elizabeth Magan, an eccentric lady who resided in Co. Meath. Money had been found in the most unlikely places, and the record of the auctioneers read like the inventory of a robbers' cave. Money had been found among the rubbish on the floor and in bandboxes, and two bank-notes for £1 were actually discovered glued to the floor.

Ottawa, May 11.—News has reached the city that Lake Serpent, on the Joseph River, thirty miles above Maniwaki, has broken the dams there and is sweeping down the Gatineau, of which it is a tributary, causing considerable damage. This is the information which two Indians brought to Maniwaki, and they stated that when they left the mills known as "Fathers Mills" were in danger of being swept away. Already the Gatineau at Maniwaki has risen several feet, and a large piece of land slid into the river. It is expected that in two or three days the surplus water will reach Gatineau Point, probably causing floods.

Ottawa, May 13. — The Department of Trade and Commerce was advised on Saturday of the conclusion of an agreement with the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand for a continuance of the existing steamship service between Canada and Australia. The negotiations in this matter were left entirely in the hands of the Commonwealth Government, the Canadian ministers having stated that they would bear their proportionate share in whatever arrangement was made. The new contract involves no addition to the old rates of subsidy, but the steamship company has already added one new boat to the service and will otherwise improve the same, so as to better accommodate the trade which is now being done.

Ottawa, May 13.—It is expected that the Franco-Canadian treaty of commerce, which has already passed the Dominion Parliament, will be taken up in the French Senate on the 19th inst. The agreement passed the French Chamber of Deputies some weeks ago and is looked upon as certain to receive the sanction of the Upper House. All that will then remain before the treaty comes into force will be the formal exchange of ratifications. The proposed contract with the Allan Steamship Company for an improved service to French ports is all ready to receive the signatures of the contracting parties, but will not be closed until the Treaty of Commerce between the two countries has become law.

Woodstock, May 16. — At Innerkip yesterday afternoon the company which is boring for oil and gas in the village made a strike of gas at 420 feet in the Clinton strata. In the evening they piped the gas in an inch pipe fifty feet away from the well and lighted it. It burned with a very brilliant flame, mounting fifteen or twenty feet. The gas is declared to be of a first-class quality and the only question now is whether it will be obtained in sufficient quantities to supply Woodstock and other places. The village is getting ready for a boom.

Edmonton, Alberta, May 15. A contract for 700 miles of long-distance telephone material has been awarded by the Public Works Department to the Northern Electric Company of Montreal and Winnipeg. The Public Works Department has purchased two lots in Strathcona for the erection of a local telephone exchange building, to be built at a cost of $10,000. The property was secured for $3,500.

The new Asylum for Alberta will be built at Ponoka at an estimated cost of $300,000.

Glace Bay, N. S., May 13.—What looks like the first step towards open hostilities between the Provincial Workingmen's Association and the United Mine Workers of America, will, it is said, be taken tomorrow, when it is expected that the grand officers of the former organization will revoke the charter of Ironside Lodge, Aberdeen, the most prominent supporter of the affiliation movement.

An organizer of the Mine Workers' organization is now on the ground, and should the Provincial Workingmen's Association take the above-mentioned step, the Ironside Lodge will, it is stated, at once re-organize and join the American union. A lively fight is in prospect.

STILL INSISTS HE CAN MAKE DIAMONDS

Paris, May 15. — M. Lemoine, the diamond-maker, has been granting interviews since his release from prison; but the most extraordinary one has just appeared in Le Journal. When he is a humor to give out his mind, he can become tremendously eloquent, and once fairly started on the subject of diamonds, he develops into a poet, as well as an orator. In three months the diamond trade will receive a shock from which it will never recover. Now diamonds have a fixed value, like banknotes. There will be a sudden drop when his next demonstrations have been made.

The men who are in the secrets of the trade are well aware of it. They he allege, brought about his arrest, because they feared the consequences of his discovery. He fought them inch by inch in prison and before the magistrate, and brought one of the experts to his knees with the confession that he had given his evidence only in the interests of the trade. Can one make diamonds? Why not? asks Lemoine. No philosopher's stone, no charm is needed. If, he says, his opponents knew his secret, they would be astonished at its simplicity.

How did he find it out? By long study in South Africa, where nature had produced diamonds in her own laboratory. He is accused of no being a chemist, nor even an engineer. This is all false. His diplomas are from the Technical Institute of Milan.

OBSERVING NATURE'S METHODS.

M. Lemoine speaks with supreme contempt of the greater part of laboratory scientists. What most of these savants want is experience and observation in nature's school. By observing her he discovered the process by which diamonds had been formed, and all he had to do was to imitate it. His method is entirely different from that of Moissan, the only point of comparison being that in his process as well as that of M. Moissan, great heat is required.

The main thing was to discover an expeditious way of dissolving carbon. This was all the secret. He has found the dissolvant, and it is not such a terribly difficult thing. Lemoine astonished his interviewer by stating that for two years he had been making diamonds without noticing it. No lapidary took the trouble of examining them, and it was not until he had experimented himself with the powder by polishing other stones that he became convinced.

Ten years ago he first showed them to Sir Julius Wernher, who told him that he ought to produce large crystals. He did so, and eleven different persons saw him make them and were convinced. But why, it was asked, did he not make them on a large scale, so as to have the means to establish a factory? His answer was that in the beginning the expense of making diamonds exceeded their commercial value.

IN EXPERIENCED STAGE.

The process was still in its experimental stage, and frequently failed. This was the case when one day an expert whom Sir Julius Wernher brought with him secretly placed a real diamond in the crucible. The diamond afterward was found intact, because on that very occasion the operation had not succeeded. Nothing was therefore proved for or against the method. In two or three months' time all doubt will have vanished. He will prove to the satisfaction of the authorities, of experts and of the world at large that he can make diamonds, and as to its effect on the trade he will be perfectly indifferent. He would have helped to save its vested interests if he had not been prosecuted, but now he no longer cares what may happen. So M. Lemoine declares.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for rheumatism! Not a remedy that will strike at the vital limbs of chronic cripples, but one that will bring back to flesh again. That is what I can now surely tell the pains and aches of a deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was a perfected, dependable prescription. With that last ingredient, I successfully treated many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it is formly cures all curable cases of this horrible much dreaded disease. Those mid-like was so found in Rheumatic Blood secretions and pass away under the action of this remedy as does sugar when added to porridge. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous acids freely pass from the system, and the rheumatism is gone forever. There is no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer with Rheumatism. We mail, and in confidence prove it.

Great.

The quicker we learn that life is made up of little things, not great heroic deeds, the quicker we will adjust ourselves to living it happily.

As we grow older this lesson is gradually forced upon us, but we could begin the adjusting much more quickly and have a longer period of happiness if as girls we would cease to dream of being heroines and consent to be ordinary, everyday mortals.

Most people go through life with never a chance for spectacular heroism. What, then, must that life be which is spent in day dreams of how one will act in some great crisis which may never arise!

Do you know what will probably be the result of those pleasing visions—provided they have not been backed up by doing as one goes along—an ignominious fall down.

It is little use to plan great sacrifices and neglect the small ones that can be made each day if we but allow ourselves to see them.

The young girl who dreams of the time when she can open her veins to give her lifeblood to save mother's life will probably fume over having to leave an interesting novel to save mother a wearisome trip to the store.

It is the little things—smiles, small kindnesses, every day disagreeable drudgery cheerfully done—that make those around us far happier than if we plan to do heroic deeds or even do them, let us say, and spend the interim with our eyes tight shut to the little opportunities for quiet heroism all around us.

THE ORIGIN OF WOMAN.

An Advance Upon the Old Time Rib Theory.

The Hindoos say that Twashtri, the Vulcan of Hindoo mythology, created the world, but that when he had made all other things and had come to the creation of what was to be his chef d'ouvre he found to his annoyance that he had run out of materials. He had not a single chunk of solid material left. With a mental execration upon his carelessness he fell into a profound meditation, the result of which was the following formula, the recipe for the creating of the sweet confection known as woman:

He took, according to the legend, "the roundness of the moon, the undulating curves of the serpent, the graceful twist of the creeping plant, the light shivering of the grass blade and the slenderness of the willow, the velvety softness of the flowers, the lightness of the feather, the gentle gaze of the doe, the frolicsomeness of the sunbeam, the tears of the cloud, the inconstancy of the wind, the timidity of the hare, the vanity of the peacock, the hardness of the diamond, the cruelty of the tiger, the heat of the fire, the chill of the snow, the cackling of the parrot and the cooing of the turtle-dove."

He mixed these together in equal proportions and the result was woman. Isn't that about as good a guess as any? After all, isn't this an advance upon the rib theory?

NEEDLEWORK NOTES.

Cross stitch is growing in popularity and very beautiful floral pieces are now being made for cushions and table covers.

It is always better to make a stem in sewing on a button, as if it is sewed tightly it will more easily tear out the material. Take loose stitches and then wind them on the right side with the thread four or five times.

For wear tucked into the top of the corset steels are dainty little heart shaped sachets of scented wadding, covered with soft silks or scraps of ribbon. The latter is sewed end to end and intwined basket fashion. A frill of lace completes it.

It is a good idea to line all collars to frocks with white, as it does not discolor with perspiration nor rub off on the neck. Besides it shows when it is dirty, which is a hint to the careful woman that it needs changing. A thin silk that does not cut easily is the best for this purpose.

One of the stunningest new sofa pillows is made of coarse crash. In constructing it use two pieces eighteen inches square, the front and the back. The former can be decorated with three large conventional tulips placed side by side and running to the top of the cushion. These are cut from leather, painted in natural shades and then glued to the cover. The deep reds and soft greens are more effective on the neutral background of crash.

A pretty gift for a baby is a little down pillow covered with a dainty white cover, one end of which is embroidered in white poppies and the words, "Early to Bed." The pillow should be made of soft blue ticking filled with down instead of feathers and made very light and fluffy. Two dainty covers should be made to go with the gift. Use no colors in the embroidery effect. Just a trace of blue will reflect through the white cover.

Doubtless the Reason.

Professor Searchem was engrossed in the study of all things that crawled. To him a pin had but one purpose—to impale insects; tin cans but one use—to house worms.

"Professor," complained his young wife one evening, "how the prices of vegetables are soaring! Just think of it, $2 for this bushel of apples, and half have worms in them."

"Perhaps, darling," commented the professor as he strove to part the few remaining hairs on his shining head, "they are of a very rare species."—Harper's Weekly.

NEED DOCTORS OUT WEST.

Settlers Often Hundreds of Miles From Any Healing Hand.

'Not the least of the terrors of life in a vast, thinly populated region is the absence of doctors and hospitals. It is bad enough to live on an Ontario farm, ten or twelve miles from the nearest physician; but when, in the great, scarce-habited west, the settler finds himself completely isolated—hundreds of miles from any healing hand—he has his health and life in precarious keeping. Mr. Elihu Stewart, superintendent of forestry, in making a report to the Dominion Government on a trip down the Mackenzie and up the Yukon rivers in 1906, states that the people living in the vast region through which he traveled are much in need of medical aid. He says:

"At very many of the points visited we were implored for advice and for medicine by the sick. Many having chronic diseases which simple surgical treatment would cure, are compelled to live out a shortened existence, for no physician except by merest chance ever visits them. The Department of Indian Affairs has physicians who attend to the medical wants of those Indians that are under treaty, but throughout the whole valley of the Mackenzie river, from Great Slave lake to the sea, nearly a thousand miles, being outside of treaty limits, there is no physician to be had. Surely the people of this country would endorse any action that the Government might take to induce a few medical men to reside in those far outlying districts and afford medical relief where it is so much required."

Some steps are being taken to start a fund for a hospital at Fort Simpson. The officials of the Department of the Interior are alive to the necessity of such an institution and are seeking to arouse interest in the matter. A large number of people will be going into the north country in the near future, and every public-spirited citizen in that part of Canada ought to use his influence in the direction of having a hospital established at Fort Simpson and at other points where they would do the most good. A great field is opening, too, in the far north of Canada for young men who are anxious to enter upon humanitarian work. Many zealous young fellows have in the past gone from the Dominion seeking in distant lands—in Africa, South America and elsewhere—work as medical missionaries. From this time there is need in our own fertile northland—"the last of the lands and the best"—for all the medical missionaries we can produce, and more.

ONCE BEGGED; NOW PICKS.

Is Position of Canada In Relation to Immigration.

Writing on the subject of British immigration into Canada, and replying to statements said to have been made by the agent-general of Victoria, Australia, to the effect that Canada was making "a mess of things," Mr. D. H. Ross, the Canadian Government agent at Melbourne, utterly repudiates that this country is laboring under bad labor and trade conditions. Mr. Ross, who is a son of Senator William Ross of Halifax, is quoted in The Melbourne Argus as follows:

"There is nothing unusual in the trade or immigration conditions throughout Canada. It is true that a number of discharged workmen have come across the border from the United States; but there is nothing to cause the slightest anxiety regarding the general trade of the Dominion or in the demand for farm or unskilled labor in the spring. Some trouble has arisen through the action of interested steamship companies, in their eagerness for business attempting to start the flood tide of emigration to Canada earlier every year. The consequence has been that many emigrants have found themselves at their destination weeks before the weather conditions are favorable, and this has undoubtedly led to disappointment. The flood tide of Canadian immigration has compelled the authorities to exact a higher degree of fitness, both physically and morally. A few years ago we were beggars in the field of emigration, but to-day we are choosers. Every year a more vigorous discrimination is being made, for Canada has no use for the social derelict, the soaker or trifler."

The Family Cook In Canada.

That you may be rubbing shoulders with members of distinguished families in Canada is illustrated by an incident related from Toronto. A young Englishman was enjoying himself one evening at the boarding-house piano when he was rather startled by a peremptory request to "Stop those silly tunes." Turning round, he recognized the once irreproachable cook, then looking far more terrible than any queen of an English kitchen. "I'll show you who can play if you'll give me the chair," intimated the portly lady. The boarder, though not a coward, deemed it prudent to accede to her request.

Taking her seat at the instrument, the cook played one of Chopin's beautiful Nocturnes with a degree of brilliancy which even her involuntary listener had to admit. Eventually she left the piano with a wild, triumphant laugh for the underground compartment she had solely occupied for the previous three days. Sad to relate, "Maggie," as she was called, was in the throes of her occasional swervings from the paths of temperance. Her mistress sent her away the morning after her musical performance, but three days later she received back and forgave this now repentant, sad-voiced woman, whose cutlets and cranberry tarts were the pride of the house. Maggie was a heroine of mystery, in that it was whispered that she was the daughter of an English baronet, and sent over to Canada at an early age for reasons that never transpired.—London Daily News.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE MAXIM GUN.

Curious Origin of This Terrible Engine of Destruction.

The origin of the Maxim gun was somewhat curious. Mr. Maxim (Sir Hiram) after the close of the great civil war in America was visiting one of the southern battlefields. He picked up a Springfield rifle and began firing at a target. He soon discovered, to his amazement, that his shoulder was all black and blue with the recoil. This set him thinking, and he soon conceived the idea of utilizing this force in a gun which would fire automatically.

He went to London full of his idea, but no one would listen to him. In Birmingham the chief man in a factory refused to make a bolt gun.

In despair Mr. Maxim packed up his trunks and went to Paris. In two weeks the work was done. This gun Mr. Maxim exhibited in London in 1885. He spoke of it then as the gun of the future. It is now the gun of the present. It is a wonderful gun and a deadly one. By adjusting the indicator it will fire bullets at any rate from one per minute to 600.

This terrible weapon is started by the firing of the first shot. After that it works itself and will keep going as long as cartridges can be fed into the machine. When one belt of 333 is exhausted, all that is necessary is to hook on another.

When the British government gave an order for the gun they stipulated that it should not weigh more than a hundred pounds and should be capable of firing a thousand rounds in four minutes. Mr. Maxim produced a gun which weighed thirty-five pounds and fired 2,000 rounds in three minutes.

AN IRREGULAR VERB.

One That Made a Frenchman Despair of Learning English.

"What does 'Beat it!' mean?" asked the man of an inquiring frame of mind of his well informed friend.

"Why," was the reply, "that means to go, depart, be off, take your leave, and don't be slow about it. I don't know what it came from unless it is a bit of policeman's slang for 'Get off my beat!' or 'Clear out unless you want me to beat you!'

"I am reminded of a line in one of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes' amusing poems, scattered through the pages of his delightful 'Autocrat of the Breakfast Table.' It runs:

"Depart! Be off! Exceed!
Evade! Evampe!

But it takes a Latin scholar to discover the derivations of all his verbs of motion.

"There is a story of a Frenchman who on his way to England was made the victim of a practical joke in regard to the verb 'go,' whose 'went,' 'going,' 'gone,' are irregular enough, goodness knows. He was found to be struggling with this variation: 'I go; thou departest; he clears out; we cut stick; you make tracks; they abequatulate,' and as he read it he exclaimed: 'Mercy! What irregular verbs you have in your English language!'"

MODERN REALISM.

Historic Inn Deliberately Fired to Provide Cinematograph Pictures.

Ye Olde Red Lion at Hampton-on-Thames, England, was recently burnt to furnish a fireman's holiday. Despite a history going back to Cardinal Wolsey and a guest-list including Pope, Dryden, Swift, Colley, Cibber, Peg Woffington, and Kitty Clive, the place had been doomed to make way for a modern hotel.

Its internal fittings had been removed, and to Capt. Graham, the captain of the local fire brigade, came the idea of making the shell serve a useful purpose—to give good practice to his men and to help the orphan fund of the National Fire Brigade Union by affording to cinematographers and photographers the opportunity of taking realistic pictures and contributing to the fund from their profits.

The window frames, accordingly, were wreathed with cotton wool soaked in paraffin, and oil and inflammable materials were scattered about the interior.

When the cinematograph was in position the fire broke out in the lower part of the house and spread rapidly.

The alarm was given, and the Hampton Fire Brigade and the brigade of the Metropolitan Water Board from the neighboring reservoirs rushed to the inn with three steamers and several fire escapes. The place by then was enveloped in flames, and floods of water were soon playing upon it.

A number of people were able to make their escape from the taproom by the front entrance, but presently several persons, including two women whose escape appeared to be cut off, were seen at the upper windows calling for help. They were brought safely through the flames and smoke to the ground by means of the escape. A man seen crawling along the roof, and another man at an upper window, were also rescued in the same way, and the last to leave the burning building was a man who escaped by jumping from the top of the porch over the main entrance. Two horses were also rescued from the stable.

The firemen continued to pour water on the house for fifteen minutes, when the conflagration was extinguished. The old house was considerably charred after the experiment, and swamped by the water from the engines.

HELPFUL HINTS.

If the covers of the kitchen range get red and will not blacken easily, try rubbing on lemon juice first, then blacken the usual way.

Wall paper which has been marked with grease may be cleansed by means of a hot iron and a blotter or several sheets of tissue paper.

A small brush, borax and hot water will give a beautiful polish to cut glass. When drained rub with a clean cloth or a soft dry brush.

Hang a child's blackboard in the kitchen, with a piece of chalk attached. It is more convenient than pencil and paper and not so easily lost.

It will be economy to finish your sheets with the same width hem at each end. By so doing they can be used either side up and gain much wear.

Whoever has tried to fasten a nail or screw in a plastered wall will welcome a solution to the puzzle. Burrow a hole slightly larger than the screw, fill with plaster of paris and insert the screw in the moist substance. It will be firm in a very short time.

A HAND AT WHIST.

The Story of the Result Put Bridge Yarns in the Fish Class.

At an uptown bridge whist party a man member told this story while the company was taking a bite between rubbers: "I had heard of a man holding a complete suit, but I never saw it until last week. I was invited to play at Dr. Blank's home, and it was my deal at the start of the second rubber. I looked at my cards and could hardly believe my eyes. There were thirteen cards all of the same suit. 'Gentlemen,' said I, 'this is embarrassing. I hate to make the trump.'

"'Why?' was asked.

"'Well,' said I, 'if I were playing with people who knew me less well I would dislike to show my hand.'

"'Now, after all this fuss, what do you make it?'

"'Hearts,' said I.

"Quick as a flash the man at my left said, 'I double,' and then I realized that in my excitement I miscalled my hand—I had all diamonds. They made a grand slam and said a few things to me also."

The day after he had told the story the man received a postal card on which this was written:

"The old rule that an affidavit should go with every fish story and a pepsin tablet with every piece of amateur mince pie has been changed to include bridge whist stories in the fish class."

SPANISH THRONE ROOM.

The ancient throne stands in the apartment known as the room of ambassadors. The decorations of this apartment include vast crystal chandeliers, huge tables inlaid with precious marbles, vast plate glass mirrors, gildings, rich hangings and above all the painted ceiling representing the long line of Spanish kings in the various picturesque costumes of the provinces. Here Spanish kings receive on state occasions, and here, too, their bodies lie in state after death. The throne is of rich velvet, embroidered. A dais of it are grouped four great silver lions with their heads turned away as if guarding the occupant. Four broad steps lead up to the throne room from the polished floor of the room, and the crimson covered footstool is in itself a work of art.

In this room have been gathered for ages curios and gems from Spanish possessions the world over at a time when Spain was mistress of the world. And here in front of the throne hang chandeliers of rock crystal which have for generations been the envy of other European rulers.

Witchcraft in India.

The belief in witchcraft is widespread in India, especially among the tribes low in the scale of civilization. The ojha, or exorcist, is an important member of the community. His mummeries and incantations impress not only the lower classes, but even orthodox Rajputs and Kayasths. He is paid to denounce witches, and, with the cunning of his class, he usually chooses harmless old women whose existence is rather a burden upon the village. Some of these women, however, have as implicit belief in their powers for evil as the villagers themselves. Murder frequently follows the denunciation.

A SHORT HISTORY

These Larder Lake properties were staked out by the Foster brothers, who are old, experienced miners, who have been prospecting up in that country since 1905. They are practical miners.

When the wealth of the Larder Lake District first leaked out, these men made tracks for this district, and after days of hardship in paddling up rivers and carrying their outfit over portages, they finally found the wonderful gold bearing rock, and after a number of weeks' patient work in following gold indications they staked out 640 acres of what some believe will prove the richest gold bearing rock in the district.

After these men had registered these claims and proved there were no other prior claims to them, they brought samples and proofs to Toronto and succeeded in interesting a number of city merchants by convincing them that not one but many possible fortunes are tied up in these valuable 640 acres. On no reasonable consideration would they sell outright, so a small cash sum was paid to them and so many shares in a company to be formed agreed to be given them.

Had they not believed stock in the company would become valuable it is right to infer that they would not have made such a bargain and tied up their properties.

We believe they will be justified in their decision to retain an interest in the properties as shareholders in our Company.

As we, the members of this Company, were convinced by facts, we wish to convince you by facts also.

The Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company has no figureheads or salaried men on its board. Each member of the board is a stockholder, by putting in his money and paying for his shares, and each member stands to lose a good pile if it is not properly handled. It is the intention of the company to run things on a strictly business basis, and all dealings must be above board. We want to make money and we want to make money fairly and honestly—on the miner's risk for the miner's reward.

The city merchants took the properties from the owners and prospectors, had transfers duly executed, organized this company, defraying all expenses to date, and have agreed to accept stock in payment. They must pay the original owners out of their holdings. The treasury stock goes for development.

The property consists of 16 claims, 40 acres each, or about 640 acres, west of Larder Lake and bordering on Grassy Lake. Blair & Smith, Government surveyors, of New Liskeard, were surveyors for the Company.

Lot Numbers as registered with the Government are: 3433, 3425, 3436, 3437, 3720, 3721, 3427, 3438, 3723, 3434, 3439, 3724, 3426, 3435.

The Ball Season Opens To-day--The Games

The following ball games will be played to-day;

Intermediate League, on Nicholls Oval—Strathcona v. Lakeviews at 2.30, T.A.S. v. Kariosta at 4 p.m.

Manager Johnston's aggregation of ball tossers, will make their bow to the fans this afternoon, when they will meet the fast Alerts of Toronto, in an exhibition game on the Riverside Park diamond.

This game will act as a preparatory workout for the locals before the opening game in the Midland League on May 25th, when they hook up with Fort Hope.

The team has been hard at it practising on every available occasion, and will go on the field today in the pink of condition and will make the visitors hustle to hold them down. Clements and Edmunds will be the Petes battery and they should prove a hard pair to beat.

The fans are assured of a good game and lots of fun as Murphy and O'Brien the outfielders are the best pair on the coachers' line in Canada, and it is safe to say they will keep things lively.

Edmunds, c.
Edmunds, c.
Clements, p.
Clements, p.
Thorn, 1b.
Thorn, 1b.
O'Hearne, 2b.
Maddock, ss.
Cheatham, 3b.
Murphy, cf.
O'Brien, lf.
Burns, rf.

The game which will start at 3.30 should be a cracker-jack as both teams have been practicising hardall spring and are now in good shape.

The Petes will line up as follows;

The Secret of a Beautiful Complexion

When the delicate skin of the face is exposed to the wind and outside atmosphere, it becomes roughened. At first the roughness is too minute to be detected by the naked eye; but under a microscope can be plainly seen. This roughening, increased by repeated exposure, finally results in a complete change in the appearance of the skin—a change for the worse. In time, the velvety softness of the skin disappears and the fresh bloom of the complexion is gone.

If you would regain the fresh, delicate bloom of your complexion, obtain the following from any drug store and apply it daily to your face:

Rose Water, 3 ounces; Cologne Spirits, 1 ounce; Eppotone (skin food), 4 ounces. Put the Eppotone in a pint of hot water (not boiling) and after dissolved, strain and let cool. Then add the Rose Water and Cologne Spirits. It is best to make the preparation at home and follow the directions carefully.

—The Y.M.C.A. Baseball Club held a practice last night on Boswell's field.

The Midland League Will Open to-day

The championship season of the Midland Football League will open this afternoon with the following games:—

Oshawa at Bowmanville.
Norwood at Keene.
Campbellford at Hastings.

Havelock at Wardworth.

The local representatives in the league, viz., the Quakers, do not play their first game until May 25th, when they will journey to Norwood to play the "soccer" enthusiasts of that "burg".

Divorce Mart in the Dump

Sioux Falls, S.D., May 15.— The money flurry of last fall not only upset the diamond industry of the country and put $4,000,000 worth of private yachts on the market at New York for bargain prices, but it has made fearful inroads into the divorce business of South Dakota.

The sixty-eight lawyers, forty doctors, twenty-four boarding house keepers, dozens of milliners and scores of retailers in clothing are mourning the day that divorces are a luxury and that their number falls off in hard times just as does the sale of diamonds and Oriental rugs. And the Sioux Falls lawyers ought to know.

"Why I have had only two divorce clients since call money went up to 125 in New York," wailed a well-known attorney of Sioux Falls a day or two ago. "If this keeps on a bunch of Sioux Falls attorneys will be looking for work in the harvest fields this summer."

Last year there were 220 dovorces granted to non-residents in the State of South Dakota, and most of these were handled by Sioux Falls lawyers.

The divorce business is not worth less than $50,000 a year to the Sioux Falls bar, in a year of average connubial explosions. And if it were not for the $50,000, needless to say, Sioux Falls would not have so many attorneys.

"In the piping years of plenty from about 1900 to 1906 the Sioux Falls divorce business was worth while," reminisced another lawyer. "We know from experience that when a husband is ganched for cash he is not likely to take a chance by throwing up his business for six months to be released from his wife. Neither will an unhappy wife be so anxious to make new ventures in the matrimonial business. It seems, too, that prosperity simply breeds trouble between married folks. They frolic away their nights and are more likely to neglect their duties to each other than if a money squeeze makes them think before engaging in riotous entertainment. There is nothing like misfortune to make a husband acquainted with his wife.

"The divorce business seems to be about over," lamented one of the proprietors of the handsome Cataract Hotel. "This proposed new law, together with the hard times, seems to have frightened them away. We cannot look for much more of such business."

Divorce-seekers are expected by all tradespeople and professional men to be liberal spenders and special circulation is made of their patronage in the yearly estimates. An average divorcee should be worth in her six months' residence, $300 to a grocer, $100 to some physician, $800 to the dry goods dealers, $30 to some dentist, $300 to the owner of her house, and $25 to some florist.

Mrs. Jarvis Hunt of Chicago, recently stayed in Sioux Falls ten days and it cost her $3,500. She was visited by Attorney Jay Gonsop of Pierre when her husband's ganchlad for cash had been arrested by his wife. Mrs. Hunt was granted a divorce by Judge Aikens, and Mr. Hunt was released from jail.

The Girl-in-the-Pie Looms Up Again

Bada Johnson, the famous "Girl-in-the-Pie," who figured conspicuously in the Thaw murder trial, is alive and living in New York. It was brought out in evidence in the Thaw trial that Stanford White had been present at a notorious dinner given in Mr. James Breese's studio in New York.

The climax of this orgy was reached when half a dozen sturdy waiters brought an enormous pie into the room and carefully placed it on the table. A moment later the pie was opened and out stepped a very beautiful young girl clad in filmy gauze, while a dozen mocking birds and doves fluttered forth from the pie.

When the dinner was over the "girl-in-the pie" was carried into captivity by Stanford White. Her name was Sadie Johnson. It was developed at the Thaw trial that Harry Thaw had told the story of Stanford White and Sadie Johnson to Evelyn Thaw, and an effort was made to find the famous "girl-in-the-pie." Mr. Thaw was informed and told Evelyn that Miss Johnson had died in poverty and neglect and was buried in Potter's Field.

This was the testimony of Evelyn in regard to what Stanford White and Harry Thaw had told her about about Sadie Johnson, the "pie-girl."

Question by Lawyer Delmas—Was there anything said by Mr. Thaw to you upon the subject of any other young woman in connection with Stanford White?

Answer by Evelyn Thaw—Yes.

Answer by Evelyn Thaw—Yes.

Mr. Delmas handed the codicil of her husband's will to the witness and she looked at the names mentioned therein. Mr. Delmas then continued his examination.

"In that connection, was there any statement made by Mr. Thaw to you, and by him, in connection with a young girl, which in the conversations between you was spoken of as the 'pie-girl?'"

"Yes," inqured Mrs. Thaw.

Q. And is spoke of her as the 'pie-girl' too? A. I don't remember his mentioning her name.

Q. Tell us what you told Mr. Thaw that Mr. White had told you. A. I don't remember his mentioning her name.

Q. Tell us what you told Mr. Thaw that Mr. White had told you. A. I told Mr. Thaw what Mr. White had said.

Q. Well, what was it? A. He said there had been a large stag dinner or supper—I forget which—and that this girl, a very young girl, I think he said she was fifteen years old and she had a very beautiful figure—she was an artists model, and that it was the best stunt he had done at the supper; he seemed very proud of it.

And he said that he had a large pie, a great, big pie; and he took and had this girl put in the pie in some way, and also had some birds put in the pie with her, and that this pie was brought in and set upon the table.

And that somebody had cut the pie open, and that when the pie opened this little girl stood up in the middle of the table; and she just had a little gauze dress on—nothing else. And all the birds flew out—and he said it was a great hit, and it was the best thing he had ever done of the kind.

That was what I told Mr. Thaw that I knew. Then I said I asked Mrs. White what the trouble was after, and then he said they had a terrible time over this girl—that the whole thing got into the newspapers."

Q. Did the subject of this girl that was then called the "pie-girl" come up at other times, and was her subsequent story told you by Mr. Thaw or told by others in Mr. Thaw's presence and yourself? A. Yes.

Q. Now we will take up the last or third conversation you have mentioned? A. The third was in Pittsburg, after we had married. Mr. Thaw told me he had found out more about the "Girl-in-the-Pie," and he said that she had died in want, and that she had been married, that she had married some man, and that after the marriage this man had found out this story about this girl, and had left her or turned her away. I don't remember exactly, but she had trouble with her husband, and he said she had died in want, and that Stanford White had never bothered to do anything for her after that, and she was buried in Potter's Field."

"Yes, I am Sadie Johnson, the 'pie-girl,'" said Miss Johnson at her home in New York last Tuesday. "I read in the papers the testimony of Evelyn Thaw that I was dead and buried. I did not make any denial, because I had no desire to be brought in as a witness in the murder trial.

"I do not care to speak about my experience with Stanford White after the famous pie dinner. I have been married and have lately been on the stage, because my husband lost his money and I was compelled to support myself. The last season I have been with Gus Hill's 'Happy Hooligan' Company. This company has now closed for the season, and I am busy preparing a dancing act under the direction of Constantine. I expect to be ready in a few weeks and shall probably make engagements for some of the summer resorts this summer.

"I was in Lexington, Ky., playing with a theatrical company when I read of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's testimony about myself. Nobody in the company happened to know me as the 'pie girl,' and as I have been playing in the West, everybody believed I was dead and buried in an unnamed grave in Potter's Field.

"Last week when I came to New York I began to have many surprising experiences with friends and acquaintances who had known me in years past. Even my solemn assurances that I am still alive in the flesh seemed, at first, to stagger them; but I am glad to be able to say that I am very grateful that I am still very much alive, and very grateful that I am not in a grave in Potter's Field.

"I have never met Harry Thaw and I do not know how he got it into his crazy head that I was dead and buried. Of course, my part in the pie dinner was well known to many, and it was known, too, that Stanford White stole me and carried me off that night. It was, I think, printed in the papers when the 'Pie girl' got married. But the rest of the story Thaw told his wife was one of his crazy dreams.

Answer.—Mr. Thaw told me he had found out more about the "Girl-in-the-Pie," and he said that she had died in want, and that Stanford White had never bothered to do anything for her, and she was buried in Potter's Field—From Evelyn Thaw's Testimony at the Thaw trial.

The Colonies Will be Consulted on Treaties

Washington, May 16.— Departing very materially from its previous policy towards its dependencies, Great Britain has ratified a treaty in which it is provided that those colonies which are self-governing shall concur in treaties and special agreements. A forecast of this contemplated step on the part of Great Britain was given by Secretary of State Root at a recent gathering under the auspices of the International Law Society, and it relates to Canada. Announcement of the new policy comes in arbitration treaty just ratified with the United States in, article 3 of which occurs the following: "His Majesty's Government reserving the right before concluding a special agreement in any matters affecting the interests of self-governing dominions of the British Empire to obtain the concurrence therein of the government of that dominion." This is strictly new concession on the part of Great Britain to the self-governed countries over which she exercises control.

TURF.

The Turf Club's matinee to be held here on the 25th of May should be the most successful event of its character ever pulled off in this city. Dr. Johnston, the president of the Peterborough Turf Club and Mr. C. R. Nixon the secretary, have both worked hard for the welfare of the matinee and a big and fast field of horses in the different events is anticipated. The bills of the matinee have been issued and preparations and arrangements have been made.

Any persons wishing to enter their horses are requested to send their entries to Secretary Nixon as soon as possible.

THE CLASSES.

The classes are as follows.

Named race ..... $ 50.00
2.30 class 50.00
2.18 class 100.00

The entrance fee is 5 per cent. and 5 per cent. additional from winners. Five are to enter and four to start. The money will be divided in the following percentages, 50, 25, 15 and 10. Track Association rules are to govern.

BIG FIELD.

Fat Folks Favor.

Charles Nixon has decided not to start his fast green racer, Black-Cloud in the named race at the Turf Club matinee on May 25th, as the horse could not be got ready in time. Black Cloud will not likely face the starter until some time in July.

That Young Muldoon's challenge to Art Edmunds, his conqueror in Saturday night's match, was in earnest was evidenced by the fact that he posted a $50 forfeit to meet Edmunds again any place Edmunds named, either public or private. Edmunds covered the money this morning, and after some negotiations the new Crescent A.C. secured the bout for the Labor Temple Saturday night. This match is at catch weights. Edmunds returned Muldoon's weight forfeit, which was turned over to him before Saturday night's bout, because Muldoon was over 158 pounds.

One week from to-day the 43rd annual race for His Majesty's guineas will be run at the Woodbine race track, Toronto.

Last year when Kelvin won the plate, there were sixteen horses faced the starter, and about the same numbers will likely go to the post for this year's race.

Since the reported breakdown of the Dyment Colt Courtoure II., the Seagram stable have been made favorites for the race at 2 to 5 in the future books.

The Valley Farm stable is quoted at 4 to 5 for second money, while the field are held at 6 to 1.

The yellow and black colors of the Waterloo M. P. will be in all probability represented by the four horses, "Dog of War", "Seismic", "Half-a-Crown" and "Mill on the Floss", and the possibility of the guineas going to the "Brewery" town look exceptionally bright.

The Valley Farm stable will likely have two starters in Archie White and Shimonese, the latter being a well bred fillie by Marthmas the Futurity winner of '01, out of Lyddite the place winner of 1902. With breeding like this, the chances of Shimonese in the long race look rosy as she is a perfect specimen of horse flesh and can go a distance.

Unless Courtown II should get ill before Plate day, Mr. Dyment will not likely be represented in the race as he does not think much of the chance his other entry, Excise might have of getting the money.

T. Ambrose Woods, who won the guineas last year with Kelvin, will start the five year old gelding, Wicklight, in the race this year. Wicklight has ran twice already for the prize, last year being just nosed out of third money by Bilberry, but was never in better condition than at present. On Tuesday he galloped a mile in 1.43 and the Toronto papers stated he would be declared out of the race as he had pulled up lame after the trial. But don't let that trouble you. This big son of Wickham and Lady Lightfoot will be there when the flag falls, and with a good boy up on him too.

Charlie Boyle's Woodstock stable will likely have two starters in Supper Dance and Hillhurst. Supper Dance is a Seagram cast-off he having started in the plate race last year, but although she was sold at a weeding out sale that does not go to show that she is a "no account", for great things are expected of her by Trainer Boyle.

The Power Bros. will start two in the race, Newgulfe and Stone King, but the wise ones do not concede them a ghost of a show.

Robert Davies will start the Chestnut gelding Capstan, but little is though of him by the railbirds as he is a sprinter.

Taking it altogether the race this year is a very open one as there is little to choose between these untried thoroughbreds.

The probable starters and jockeys will likely be as follows:—

Dog of War, Watts, 106.
Seismic, Fairbrother, 106.
Half-a-Crown, Stilling, 122.
Mill on the Floss, Olandt, 101
Shimonese, Mulcahey, 101.
Archie White, McCarthy, 106.
Wicklight, Foley, 122.
Hillhurst, Egan, 123.
Alart Lloyd, 101.
Newgulfe, Powers, 106.
Stone King, Murphy, 106.
Capstan, Nicol, 119.
Loretto, ... 122.
Gold Bottom, ... 106.

Senator G. A. Cox's Beautiful Grounds

Yesterday morning a Times representative, passing Senator G. A. Cox's beautiful private grounds, happening to see Mr. W. James the caretaker on the law, stepped in and took a look round the place. This place of this former local resident is too well known to require a description of its location. The grounds this year however, are worthy of remark. The beautifully trimmed hedges surrounding the wide-spread lawns and dividing the various parts of the grounds, and the beautifully kept lawns make a fouts ensemble that is an honor to the town and a beautiful and restful sight for passers-by. In conversation with Mr. James regarding the lawns, that gentleman retold the story of an American millionaire who having asked the caretaker of an old English estate, how he got the grass into such fine condition, replied, "Well Sir, we rolls it, and we rolls it for two or three hundred years and then we still keep a-rolling of it." The hyacinth and tulip beds are spots of varied colored aggregations of scientifically blended color, the fragrance of which can be smelled at a distance. In the spacious green houses and forcing houses are plants for both ornamental and useful purposes; the plants for the flower beds and house as well as others for the vegetable gardeum. The whole place is in possibly more perfect shape than ever before.

Child's Severe Burns

Healed by Zam Buk

The little girl of Mrs. Lewis Best of Carlisle P. O., recently fell against the stove and burned her forehead very badly. Mrs. Best says:—"The burn was about the size of a fifty-cent piece and was near the bone. It made my little girl's eye swell till it almost shut, and then she got cold in it. It began to run matter very badly, and I could not stop it, although I bathed it good every night and morning. At last I sent some Zam-Buk which soon stopped the maleration and very quickly healed the wound. I have never seen a burn heal so quickly, and I am sure Zam-Buk has no equal for curing cuts, or burns, and I shall always keep a box on hand in case of emergency."

Every home needs Zam-Buk! All diseases of the skin quickly yields to it. It is also an excellent remedy for piles (blind or bleeding), rheumatism, etc. All druggists and stores 50 cents a box, or post paid from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Grafton, Va., May 2.—A farmer living near Rowelsberg, on the Cheat River, whose veracity has never been challenged heretofore, is authority for the statement that the fish in the river have been milking his cows dry.

For the past week, he says, his cows returned from the pasture "dry". He suspected a neighbor of milking them in the pasture and hid himself behind some bushes on the bank of the river. About 8 o'clock when the sun was hottest, the cows wandered into the stream to drink, standing with their udders just touching the water. The farmer says he was astonished to discover that large fish were handing to the udders of almost every cow, and when he drove the animals out they had been milked dry.

The farmer is now perfecting plans to attach fishhooks to the udders of the cows and go into the fish business as a side line.

News in Brief

London, May 14.—An extraordinary tale was told in connection with a tale brought at Dublin by a firm of auctioneers for payment for services rendered in making an inventory of the property left by Miss Elizabeth Magan, an eccentric lady who resided in Co. Meath. Money had been found in the most unlikely places, and the record of the auctioneers read like the inventory of a robbers' cave. Money had been found among the rubbish on the floor and in handbooks, and two bank-notes for £1 were actually discovered glued to the floor.

Ottawa, May 11.—News has reached the city that Lake Serpent, on the Joseph River, thirty miles above Manitwaki, has broken the dams there and is sweeping down the Gatineau, of which it is a tributary, causing considerable damage. This is the information which two Indians brought to Manitwaki, and they stated that when they left, the mills known as "Fathers Mills" were in danger of being swept away. Already the Gatineau at Manitwaki has risen several feet, and a large piece of land slid into the river. It is expected that in two or three days the surplus water will reach Gatineau Point, probably causing floods.

The first boat load of any hardwood has come from the back lakes for this season per steamer Apex. The wood came from Burleigh Falls for Mr. J. E. Fitzgerald, coal and wood dealer. Owing to the great height of water in the canal the steamer could only come as far as Lak field. The wood had to be brought to the city by train.

Former Local Man in Large Business

The Times was yesterday in receipt of a copy of the Omaha Daily News which contains a portrait of a former Peterborough resident, Mr. James A. Ellis. Many of Mr. Ellis' friends remember when "Jim" was connected with the C. P. R. in this city. Since leaving Peterborough some years ago Mr. Ellis has carved his way to a prominent position, being one of the chief officials of the Omaha Wool house Co., which as the Daily News of that city says, in display type "Will make Omaha a wool market. Mr. Ellis in addition to the prominent part he is taking in furthering the wool industry in Omaha, is general agent at that city for the Great Western Railway. His many friends here will be pleased to learn of his business success. The company Mr. Ellis is associated with are erecting a huge warehouse, in which many western capitalists and wool growers are interested.

Suit for Damages Against City

Messrs. Donnatown, Peck & Kerr will represent Miss Brown in an action against the city for damages for injuries sustained in a fall at the post office corner. The writ has issued a writ against the corporation for unstated damages. It is claimed that their client's fall was the result of the defective condition of the walk at the place specified. The Legal Committee has considered the matter and on the advice of the city solicitor, decided to fight the action. It was stated at the committee meeting that the walk at the post office corner was one of the best kept in the city and that the corporation was not responsible in any way for Miss Brown's injuries.

How to Tell

If the Kidneys and Liver are Not Acting Well.

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could have been saved if they only knew.

Your back may ache, you think it's tiredness or physical weakness.

You grow irritable and nervous—it's put down to loss of sleep.

Can't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills" writes C. C. Ferrier, a well known merchant in Plainsville. In Spring-Time Many People Nee[illegible] a Good Tonic.

Mrs. R. Boyer Writes From 1421 Sherman Ave., Evanston, Ill., Concerning Pe-ru-na. Read Her Letter Below:

A. Landgrabe, Box 25, Coalburg, Ohio, Gives His With Peruna. Read His Letter Below:

From the bracing rigors of winter to the balmy warmth of spring-time is a clim[illegible] that affects every one more or less. A great multitude of people, however, are so affe[illegible] change as to require medical assistance.

If such people neglect to take a good tonic that will safely tide [illegible] over the trying [illegible] early spring, the system is weakened, the blood over loaded with [illegible] materials of the winter [illegible] and the victim is rendered an easy prey to acute ailments.

It has been the universal experience of mankind that a spring tonic of some sort is necessary. All kinds of remedies, herbal and mineral, have been used. There is usually great uncertainty as to the operation of the average spring tonic.

Peruna, on the other hand, has been in use for so many years and in such a variety of climates and by such a multitude of people that its beneficial operation for spring ailments has become a practical certainty. Peruna can be relied upon as a spring tonic. It cleanses the blood by correcting the digestion, which is the source of good blood.

"If any one has reason to praise Peruna, it is surely myself.

"Last spring I became run down from the serious effects of lingering cold and several complications united in pulling me down.

"I could neither eat nor sleep well, and lost flesh and spirit.

"In two weeks I was like another person and in a month I felt better than I ever had before.

"I thank Peruna for new life and strength."

"I had been a slight sufferer for a number of years, but paid little attention to it until the spring of this year when my suffering became very severe.

"I had pain in the head, back, liver, chest and other parts of my body, besides indigestion which caused me much trouble.

"I tried medical aid, but to no purpose. I wrote to Dr. Hartman for advice, telling him of my various ailments and he informed me that I had systemic catarrh.

"After using the first bottle of Peruna, I felt relief. I continued to use it until I had taken four bottles, when I felt entirely cured. I recommend Peruna to others."

Aids Digestion, Promotes Sleep.

Mr. E. Arnold, Westerly, R. I., writes: "I wish to say a good word for your valuable remedy, Peruna. I have taken many kinds of medicine during my life, but find that Peruna stands ahead of all. It aids digestion, promotes sleep, quiets the nervous system, strengthens the throat and vocal organs. I have used it for catarrh and to break up sudden colds which is the best of all. "I contracted a severe cold once which ended in pleurisy and left me weak, and every change of weather would bring a return of old pains. Peruna now vanishes all pain. I cannot praise it enough. I tell all my friends that it is the best medicine used for the ills of life. If any word of mine will lead others to try it, you are at liberty to use my testimonial in any form."

Gave New Life and Force.

Mr. B. F. Sellers, 3334 Olive street, St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"Any man in my profession often has to spend the whole night with a tremendous strain on his respiratory organs. I have time and again gone home so worn out that I could neither eat nor sleep, and a number of my colleagues have been in the same condition.

"But Peruna has changed this. I found that after using a bottle or two my system was greatly invigorated with new life and force, and I can now fortify my system to endure a greater strain than was ever possible before. Peruna certainly is very necessary to me, and keeps me in splendid health."

Mr. L. D. Townsend, suite 2, 3 and 4, Century Bl'k, St. Joseph, Mich., writes: "I am grateful for what Peruna has done for my family.

"Six months ago my wife's health was very much run down, lacking vigor and suffering with pains in her head and back.

"A friend advised her to try Peruna, which she did with most satisfactory results. In a few weeks she was completely restored to her usual vigor, and is now happy, well and strong, thanks to Peruna.

"I have tried Peruna myself when tired and overworked and in every instance I have felt better within a day or two."

Headache and Backache.

Mrs. Nannie Hall, 13 Herbert street, Atlanta, Ga., writes:

"I write to tell you how much good your Peruna has done for me. I was so sick and nervous that I was almost dead. I could not eat nor sleep nor work any at all, but was in bed nearly all the time, and was almost a skeleton I was so poor. Now I can eat anything I want and it doesn't hurt me, and I can sleep all night long and get up and work all day. I don't have any nervousness now, but am happy all the day long. I sing the praises of Peruna wherever I go, and I believe it saved my life. I could not have lived through the summer in the condition I was in.

"I had tried many doctors, but they did me no good. Peruna certainly cured me. I had headache and backache and was very nervous. I could not eat nor sleep, and was almost in my grave. I tried your Peruna, and I felt better from the start. I took about five bottles of Peruna and the awful headache and nervousness was gone. I could eat anything, and my nerves are all right, and I have no more backache. I am well, and Peruna cured me."

Catarrh of the Head.

Mr. C. Hallock, Antwerp, O., writes: "My daughter Allie, after taking three bottles of your Peruna is entirely cured of catarrh of the head of two years' standing. We have used Peruna as a general tonic, as well as for catarrh, and are well pleased with it and recommend it to anybody who has catarrh. Anybody wishing any information can write to me."

Mrs. Elin Malmgren, 77 Cleveland street, West Manchester, N. H., writes: "Every spring and fall, for eleven years, I have been troubled with catarrh in my throat and nose and hoarseness.

"I am pleased to state that at last I found a medicine, Peruna, from which I received great benefit, and I will hereafter use and recommend it.

"I always keep it in my house in case of sickness.

"I recommend your medicine to all my friends and every sufferer as an excellent medicine."

Doctors Called it Consumption.

Miss Ella L. Matthews, Box 111, Hill City, Tenn., writes:

"I find much pleasure in writing you to let you know that I have been taking your wonderful tonic, Peruna. From experience I have decided that there could be no greater medicine in the world than Peruna.

"Several physicians had pronounced my disease as consumption. I had been a sufferer for several years, and was growing weaker all the while, until I could hardly walk across my room.

"I was so fortunate as to get a Peruna book, and after reading it carefully I decided Peruna was the remedy for me, so I began taking it. To-day my health is better than it has been since I had the measles ten years ago. I cannot express half the praise which is due to Dr. Hartman for his great and wonderful remedy and his advice regarding health. I do not think I would be living this day had it not been for Peruna."

Extensive Repairs to George St. Church

Extensive repairs on the George St. church have been commenced and it is expected that by the first of September the building will be thoroughly renovated. The chimneys are being repaired this week. They will be followed by the reshingling of the roof and the installation of electric light throughout the building. Messrs. Alexander and Miller have the contract for the lighting. The interior of the church will be redecorated in July or August.

No Firecrackers in Lindsay

It seems that Peterborough is not the only town where the small boys' ambition to make noise and incidentally burn himself and his neighbor's property as Lindsay Post says:—

"Chief of Police Vincent of Lindsay has handed the following to the press for publication: The merchants are after the boys' money, and the tempting fire-cracker, rocket, or other fire-work is making the money "burn" in the boys' pockets. But boys, you want to be careful where you set off these same fire-works because if you are not you are liable to be fined. There is a by-law which prohibits the setting off of squibs, fireballs, fire-crackers, or other fire explosives upon the public streets, or in public places within the town of Lindsay."

tives known as the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. Next to the farmer, the laboring man is the most strongly organized. They elect year after year leading their representatives to sit in the houses of parliament.

The first person to settle on a place after the laboring man is the retail merchant, and he is what is wanted. If you took out the retail merchants of Peterborough, I would not give you 25 cents for what would be left.

Some years ago a law was placed on the statute [illegible] prohibiting the retailers from getting together and discussing their affairs. Why if we were to hold such a meeting we would be rushed into jail. What we want is to have that law abolished. Why shouldn't the retailers get some of the good things. They don't and simply because they have not asked for them.

Last year, gentlemen, the retailers paid into the Dominion treasury $30,000,000 in custom house receipts, and we have not had anything for it.

The backers of our country have a thorough organization. They get together and agree upon what rate of interest they will pay on our money and nobody ever interferes with them. It seems to me that the retail merchants are the softest class of men on earth." (Laughter.)

What I want you to do is to authorize me to see your legislator, Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., at Ottawa, and get him to help me to get this law wiped out. And if you say the word I know he will do it.

We also want an amendment of the Division Court Act, that will place the division court fee for collecting accounts within a reasonable price.

It would be impossible to do without the retail merchants. The cry of one big store for all the people is all "Tommy Rot."

If the retail merchants will stick with us, we can clip the wings of these great big gluttons who think they own the earth.

The greatest blessing Canada has is the small cities and towns. Where do all the crime rate? Not in the small towns but in the larger cities.

Keep your money in circulation in your own town and look after your own business, but stick with the Retail Merchants' Association as I believe we are now on the right line to accomplish what we are after.

At the conclusion of Mr. Trowern's address, Mr. R. J. Sodon gave a very amusing reading from the late Dr. Drummond's "Habitant," which was well received.

Owing to the lateness of the hour, the remainder of the toast list was dispensed with and Mr. Robert Fair moved a vote of thanks to the guests of the evening who had so greatly added to the success of the banquet. Dr. Morrison, representing the Board of Trade, seconded Mr. Fair's motion.

The evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

AFTER TREATMENT

He was surprised at how the sores healed. "I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been inflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, baldness of the hair, swellings of the glands, pains of the hands, scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish." W. 31 "Lifers" at Kingston One is Over Ninety

The sentence of life imprisonment imposed on George Slack for assault by Judge Anglin at Toronto last Friday, calls attention to the infrequency of the imposition of this maximum penalty.

There are thirty-one convicts in the penitentiary who are serving life sentences.

Twenty-three years is the longest time any of them has served so far. One of the "lifers" is a man who is over ninety years of age.

There are twelve women under the care of the matron, several of whom are under life sentences.

Horse Fell Into a Well and Broke Its Neck

It has been a common occurrence lately to read of some mentally deranged person committing suicide, but the latest victim of self-destruction is an equine who for some time past, has drawn a wagon belonging to Mr. Isaac Noble, the carter. This steed took its own life early yesterday afternoon by falling down the well over on the hill behind the Bell Telephone offices on Hunter street, and in his downward flight, the steed broke its neck and one leg. The body of the horse was removed from the well about six o'clock and given a ride to the happy hunting grounds.

Sacred Concert and Organ Recital

Tomorrow evening a splendid program will be given in St. Paul's church. The program arranged for the occasion, which is in connection with the anniversary services, will be a unique and varied one. The choir will give Gounod's beautiful model, "Gallia," a work of rare beauty, Bruch's "Jubilate Amen," for soprano solo and chorus, Cornelius, "The Christmas Song," for baritone solo and chorus, together with other numbers.

Mr. Ernest Sanders, F.R.C.O., late of Truro, England, will be the solo organist and his program numbers are of distinct excellence. The beautiful new organ at St. Paul's will doubtless be heard to its best advantage on Tuesday night.

Miss Davies, the popular soloist of the church, will contribute to a considerable portion of the program.

Three in One Family were Brutally Murdered by Burglars

Babe in Cradle Unharmed

Matawan, N.J., May 16.—John Sheppard, his wife and a servant girl were shot to death last night by burglars.

Mr. Sheppard, the murdered man, was a dairyman in squabs and has place which is four miles from the village of Matawan, was called the Royal Squab Farm. Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard were 35 years old and are said to have come to Matawan from New York State. Jennie Dandy, the servant, was a native of Matawan.

The murders were discovered by a Polish farm hand employed by Mr. Sheppard. The Pole carried the news of the murders to William Wall, a farmer near by, and as soon as the authorities were notified the farm hand was kept under surveillance.

There is a report circulating here that Mr. Sheppard told several of his friends a few days ago that the farm hand had predicted that within two weeks two men would come to his farm and murder all the members of the household. The Pole is said to assert that he possesses some psychic power which enables him to foretell future events.

Sheriff Charles A. Francis and Prosecutor Henry M. Nevius at once took up the work of tracing the murderers. Two blood hounds were secured from Atlantic Highlands and will be set at work in an effort to trace the criminals.

The shooting was evidently done with a shotgun. The body of Mrs. Sheppard was found at the foot of the stairs, in the front hallway, where she had evidently gone in her night clothes for milk for the baby which lay beside her. She had been shot in the right hip and one side of her head was terribly torn by shot. Mr. Sheppard's body lay across that of his wife, with wounds in the side and neck. He was probably shot while coming downstairs. Jennie Dandy's body lay on the kitchen, where she had been shot in the breast. Muriel, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard, was found lying in her crib, unharmed.

There was evidence on all sides that the house had been ransacked from top to bottom by the murderer or murderers. Bureau drawers had been pulled out and the contents scattered about the floor. Trunks had also been emptied of articles in the search for money or valuables. The officers believe that the motive for the triple murder was robbery and possibly revenge.

The police are searching for a farm hand who worked for Sheppard and who disappeared about two days ago, after a violent quarrel with his employer. A man answering his description was seen at six o'clock this morning coming from the Sheppard place. He was crossing the field at a lively walk, and when last seen was going in the direction of Marlboro.

FARM HAND DIDN'T HEAR.

Frank Zastera, the Pole who discovered the murders, slept in a small out-building not far from the house. He declared that he had not heard the sounds of the shots, but the authorities were unable to understand how this could be. The Pole said; "I told Mr. Sheppard two weeks ago that two men would come to the house and kill the whole family, but he would not pay any attention to me. I heard some men about the house early this morning, but I didn't look to see who they were, because I didn't think there was anything wrong."

St. Paul's Church

Anniversary Services at St. Paul's Church

Yesterday was the 74th anniversary of St. Paul's church, and special services were held both morning and evening. The interior of the church was decorated with flowers, and the occasion was marked with special music by the choir.

St. Paul's church was organized in 1854 by the followers of the late J. M. Brown, M.A., who was the first pastor, and continued in that capacity until his death in 1876. The next pastor was the Rev. Dr Torrance who preached in the church for thirty-one years, when he resigned last July. Dr. Torrance was succeeded by the present pastor, Rev. R Pogue.

Back of this there is a little history of the church and its founders.

The late Rev. Mr. Rogers was pastor of St. Andrew's at its inception, and was instrumental in the founding of the "Old Stone Kirk," in 1835. He continued as pastor of St. Andrew's until the disruption of the Church of Scotland in 1843. Rev. Mr. Rogers sympathized with the the movement and together with a party of his followers organized what was known as the Free Church of Scotland. But a number of people, among a strong minority decided to stand by the established church. In the process of a few years the decision as to the property was given, and everything has run smoothly since.

Last night's service in the church was conducted by the pastor Rev. R. Pogue, who took for the subject of his sermon, "The God of Our Fathers, from Acts 5:30. Mr. Pogue said in opening that certain deductions could be taken from his subject. In olden times our fathers were religious men, but did not confine their religion to extraordinary occasions. They saw God in everything. They also sought to perpetuate their religion. They taught it to their children, and they believed in the family altar. They set a godly example for us to follow.

It do's not follow, said Mr. Pogue that your father's religion will do for you. Religion is not hereditory, but it must be a matter of personal choice. What do you think of your father's choice, was it a wise one? Your fathers were men of intellect. They read, they reasoned, they came to conclusions, they formed their own convictions.

You cannot dispose of the religion of your fathers by a wave of your hand. Can you afford to do without your fathers' God, and set aside their faith? said Mr. Pogue in conclusion. They could not live and die without God. Can you?

National Hotel Changed Hands on Saturday

It is understood that a change in the proprietorship of the National Hotel was effected on Saturday whereby Mr. Dennison a former hotel keeper of Colbwater, will take over the goodwill and business of this well-known house. Mr. Dennison comes to Peterborough well recommended and as an experienced hotelman will command a fair share of patronage both of the local and transient trade.

BIG THREE DAYS' CAMPAIGN IN INTEREST OF Y.M.C.A.

Mr. E. M. Thomasson will Remain in the City to Assist in Raising $2,500 by Subscription Annually for Three Years

Three of Canada's most successful business men will speak at the "Business Men's Banquet at the Y.M.C.A. tonight at 6.30, in connection with the "Three Day Campaign.

Mr. Frank Sanderson, an old Peterborough boy, will be the first of those who will speak. Mr. Sanderson is the joint general manager of the Canada Life Assurance Company, and has a bright future ahead of him.

Mr. Elmer Davis will be the second speaker, and although no orater is a good speaker. He is manager of A. Davis & Son, the Kingston tannery firm.

Mr. E. M. Thomasson of Toronto, will also speak on the association work and good derived by it.

A good program of music, and a first-class supper is promised, and a large attendance of business men is requested.

Sunday was Rally Day at the Local Y.M.C.A.

Sunday was rally day in the Y.M.C.A. and special services were conducted in the churches and the Association building in preparation for the "Three Day Campaign," to raise $2500 a year for a period of three years by subscription to help defray the running expenses of the local branch of the association.

The assembly hall of the Y.M.C.A. was well filled to hear Mr. A. Cullen of London, speak to men.

Mr. Cullen took for his subject, "Find me a man," and gave his opinion of the kind of a man that was wanted, both in business and in social life.

"A man may say that he would like to have a million dollars of his own, he may even go so far as to resolve to get it, but he will nine times out of ten let his resolution slip away from him before his end is accomplished," said Mr. Cullen. "Is that the kind of a man that is wanted? No. It is the man with a purpose, one who strives to obtain what he has set his heart on getting, and he will succeed every time if he goes about it in a straightforward way. That is the kind of a man that is wanted, one with a purpose.

"'A man may have a purpose, but perhaps he is not honest," went on Mr. Cullen. The man that is not honest will never succeed in life, though he may be sound in body and mind, for the old stain will still be seen.

Passing on, Mr. Cullen asked those present if they were christians.

"Give your heart to God today, gentlemen and become a christian But if you do come to God, go and tell your neighbor of the beauties of religion. Send along the message. A man may be honest and have a purpose but he also must be sound in body," continued the speaker.

I know a man in the Old Country who was of powerful stature and as nice a fellow as one would wish to meet, but he took to drink and liquor ruined that man's body, the one God gave him to go through life with. The man that is wanted said Mr. Cullen in conclusion, is the one with a purpose, a clear mind, strong body and greatest of all a christian.

Miss Hicks Davies sang, and the devotional services were conducted by Mr. E. M. Thomasson of Toronto.

Peterborough citizens have had the opportunity several times of witnessing a boxing bout on the inside of a building, but they are seldom treated to a fistic encounter in the open air, such as was seen outside the Crystal on Saturday evening.

The combatants were two well-known young men of the city, and on being inspired by the work of an overdose of dizziness in liquid form, took offence, and proceeded to disfigure one another's countenances. But before much damage could be done by either party, some of the spectators, including a prominent young lady of the city, interfered, and on the arrival of the police the would-be pugilists were handed over to the "blue coats." The young men will appear in the police court this morning.

St. Andrew's, Presbyterian—Mr. E. M. Thomasson.

Knox, Presbyterian—Mr. A. Cullens.

At the morning service at George street, Mr. Thomasson spoke of the relation of the Y.M.C.A. Association with the different organizations connected with the church, especially that of the Sunday school, and went on to show, how between the ages of 12 to 17 when the boys and girls too, naturally feel too big to attend Sunday school, the Y.M.C.A. endeavors and is bringing them into the fold of the association by extending a welcome and leading them into the boys and adults' Bible class. The speaker referred to the large number of these classes and the great good that is being done by them in North America.

He touched on the work of the athletic department of the association, where night after night every available room in the building is utilized by different athletic organizations to transact their business, when otherwise they might be meeting in hotels or other places of unhealthy environments.

In Mr. Thomasson's closing remarks he referred to the "Business Men's Banquet," to take place tonight at 6.30. He urged every man whether a business man, carpenter or mason to be present and hear the addresses and aid in the big three-days' campaign.

AT ST. ANDREW'S.

Yesterday's services in St. Andrew's church were well attended both morning and evening.

The Rev. Mr. Potter, pastor of the church, preached at the morning service and Mrs. McGregor sang.

Mr. E. M. Thomasson of Toronto, who spoke in connection with the "Three Day Campaign," being carried on the first three days of this week by the Y.M.C.A. Mr. Freeland rendered a solo during the offering.

The late Mr. Smith was greatly respected by all who knew him and his lamented death leaves a place hard to fill. The deceased is survived by his wife and three children. The children are William and Marwood and a daughter, Laidie. Mr. Smith was born in Liskard, Cornwall, England, forty-three years ago.

The funeral which is private will be held from the family residence at 3.30 this afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery for interment. Rev. Mr. Major, rector of All Saints' church, will conduct the funeral services.

Will Appear on Assault Charge

Michael Casey of Deuro, will appear before County Magistrate Edmison this morning at 10 o'clock. "Mike's" sister-in-law, Elizabeth Blaney, of Deuro, has laid a charge of assault aga nst him. It appears that the former called to see her mother, Mrs Casey, when a son of her step father assaulted her as the result of some altercation.

The case will come up before County Magistrate Edmison on this morning at 10 o'clock.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Manager Johnston's Nine Looks Like the Goods for a Winning Team--Defeated Alerts 7 to 1

The baseball season opened Saturday under very favorable circumstances. Early in the afternoon old Sol was smiling his best although at intervals it looked as if the weather man was going to hand out a little juice. Despite this fact there was a fairly good crowd in attendance for the opening exhibition game. Quite a number of the fair sex being in evidence. Of course the diamond was a trifle soft, the outfield being decidedly soggy and was considerably of a handicap to the players.

The local fans have not as yet had time to entirely waken from their lethargy, possibly because of the weather being far from the liking of a baseball enthusiast. Although Saturday's attendance was the largest that ever attended an opening game in Peterborough, many of the wise boys being at the park to get a line on Manager Johnston's nine.

The visiting team was the Alerts of Toronto, who are considered a pretty fair bunch of ball tossers. They were seen in action in several games here last season with the locals and broke about even in the series. That Manager Johnston has been wise in his selection of a winning team is evident by the class of ball they served up to the fans Saturday on their first appearance this season on the diamond. They outplayed the visitors at every point, in fact were so much superior that the spectators toward the close began to lose interest in the game.

The "Petes" are bid for the fastest amateur company that can be stacked up against them, and everything points to a banner season for baseball in Peterborough.

The fans on Saturday witnessed more inside baseball than has ever been served up on a Peterborough diamond before. The sacrifice hits were all made at the right time and to advantage, squeeze plays and the hit and run game were all worked on the visitors. It is seldom that a team steps onto the diamond, especially the first game of the season, and plays errorless ball, but that was the game put up by the "Petes" on Saturday.

Clements and Edmunds were the battery for the "Petes," and worked like a clock. The visitors were practically unable to locate Clements' curves, only getting three hits, and he had eight strike-outs. Up until the seventh it looked like a shut out as not a man had reached first until Spence sent one to the willows for a homer, the one lone run secured by the visitors.

Lawson, MacDermott and Cheetham holding down the sacks for the Petes are clever ball players. MacDermott on the second cushion is a very pretty fielder, and is a great sticker. Cheetham was not up to his usual form of last season with the gad. Maddock at short plays his position well and looks like a find, while the "Italian" outfield with such Irishmen as "Mickie-Michael's" Murphy, Corsie (Tommy) Burns and "Fris" O'Brien is the best in the game. Corsy Burns needs no comment, he gained a reputation playing with the locals last season, while Murphy also figured in a couple of games here. He is a good one with the willow and hit everytime up on Saturday, giving the Spalding a ride to the brewery in the 2nd innings. O'Brien hits well and is always in the game. A feature of the team this season is the number of orators for the coaching line and had Saturday's game been a hard battle the fans would have heard something novel in the coaching line. Murphy and O'Brien have a brand of talkfest on hand at all times that would kill a goat.

Harding and Dalzel were the battery for the visitors. Harding was touched up freely the locals getting 12 hits off him.

The Alerts were first up and went went down one, two and three, this was practically repeated up until the seventh when Spence connected with one, and landed it in the creek for a homer, tallying the visitors only run.

Peterborough tallied three in the first, one in the second, two in the third, and one in the fifth, making a total of seven runs.

BASE HITS

O'Brien and Murphy worked the hit and run game to perfection in the first innings.

The fans now more inside baseball Saturday than ever before.—sacrifice hitting, squeeze plays and the hit and run game were the features.

Murphy's home-run was was a beautiful line drive over the willows.

The Petes have a grand bunch of base-runners. They took every chance—and they generally made it.

Jerry Edmunds looks the real thing behind the bat. Jerry knows the game thoroughly.

(An errorless game is an unusual occurrence for the first game of the season, but such was the feat accomplished by Manager Johnston's aggregation on Saturday.

The Italian outfield were there with the willow each getting 2 hits.

Athletics Trimmed Y.M.C.A. 14 to 2

The Athletics had a fine work-out on Saturday against the Y.M.C.A. Intermediate League team at the Driving Park, and took them into camp to the tune of 14 to 2 in an 8-inning game.

Quinlan was on the slab for the Midland Leaguers, and although he never got down to real work, he had no difficulty in keeping the few hits that the "Y." team got well scattered.

"Dubby" O'Shea was on the receiving end of the battery, and showed he had not gone back any from last year, but on the other hand there was a marked improvement in his work behind the willow.

Flaherty, who covered the initial corner needs no introduction to the Peterborough ball fans, as his playing abilities are too well known to need any comment.

Jack Connors was at his old position at second, and his work with the stick was the feature of the game. He also fielded well and has a beautiful throwing arm and a true eye.

Cahill at short, although only a young player, showed good form and should improve each time out.

Landry, who covers the third bag, looks to be the find of the season. He fielded his position to perfection, and his hitting and base running were good. Taken altogether the Athletic infield looks pretty strong.

The pick of the outfield is Callihan, who was at center. He is not a very brilliant fielder, but his stick work was fine. He scored once, was left on base three times and was put out once.

The Y.M.C.A. aggregation will or should make the other spheroid swatters who are after an intermediate league honors, hustle to beat them.

Mcdonald and Westbrook who divided the catching honors are both fairly good behind the willow, but Westbrook is the better hitter of the two, he getting both the "Y" tallies.

"Lem" Patterson was in the box, and his work on Saturday, show'd he had greatly improved over his form of last year.

The balance of the team look pretty good, with the exception of Gillespie who showed poor style both at the bat and in fielding.

Little can be said of the game itself as it was too one sided to be interesting, the Athletics showing the city leaguers under.

Men's Banquet at Y.M.C.A. at 6.30 Tonight--All Men Invited

Spring TirednessCured By Harmless Remed

Many are Using it and receiving benefit from its strength giving power.

All winter long you worked hard Then took lots of nerve force. It lasted so far, but now it's all gone, and you feel half dead.

Somehow you must get new vitality and more nerve force. The water in your blood must be turned into strength and building material. Your fretful appetite must be braced up. Some new power must be imparted to your weak body.

Ferrozone not only creates keen appetite, it goes further, improves digestion and assimilation, so that every particle of food is converted into nerve and muscle force.

By building up new nerve force and making each organ do the work that nature expects of it, Ferrozone quickly increases your weight and instils a reserve of vigor into the system that defies weariness, exhaustion, spring debility or sickness of any kind.

To prove the enormous strengthening power of Ferrozone we quote the following letter from Mrs. Cecil P. Gourmally, well known in Middleville: "Last March I was very run down and thin. I had no appetite and scarcely felt like eating at all. My face was pallid and haggard and I had dark circles under my eyes. My weight was seven pounds under normal, and day by day that awful spring weariness dragged me down. The change Ferrozone wrought was surprising. It must certainly contain wonderful building and strengthening properties, because I gained strength, flesh and appetite from the day I started it. I speedily came back to vigorous buoyant health with Ferrozone, and recommend it as the best medicine any person in weak health can take."

Ferrozone strengthens the weak, restores the anaemia, soothes the nervous, assists men, women and children to better health. Try it. 50c. per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

THE U. S. PRESIDENCY

The fact that some of Secretary Taft's delegates are being instructed for Roosevelt "as first choice", is regarded as significant in some quarters. A few votes for Roosevelt in the Convention will indicate a rallying point for a stampede if a deadlock should occur. The Taft managers say that the danger of a deadlock is now over, but their opponents do not grant the claim. One thing is probably certain; and that is that every time Mr. Bryan hears of the selection of another Taft delegate, he smiles an expansive smile. Undoubtedly his best chance this autumn lies in the nomination of Taft. With Taft as their standard-bearer, the Republicans cannot attack the policies of Bryan with any vigor; for their man will be pledged to practically the same programme. But their man will have no such hold upon the public imagination as Bryan of Nebraska. Next to Roosevelt, Bryan is the best advertised politician in the Republic; and that is a feature which tells when the people go to the polls.

LOCOMOTIVE AND STEAMSHIP

The numerous rumors in transportation circles leads one to consider the present Canadian situation, says the Monetary Times, under the above heading. Three big railroads, with the Grand Trunk Pacific in course of construction; the Canadian Pacific, the Dominion and the Allan Companies giving an Athletic service — there it is. Communication between the Far East and the Dominion's Pacific Coast is not neglected; and as a sort of rope-in in the proposed All-Red route.

Less than forty years ago the mileage of operating railroads in Canada was not over three thousand; this year it amounts to well over twenty million dollars; now they are not far from the one hundred and fifty million mark. The rate of progress in the future naturally cannot be as rapid as in the past, although the Statistical Department at Ottawa fifty years hence will have to write many more figures than appear in their returns at present. Without population the railroad is of little avail; with it, the hub of the universe. A nation follows the tracks, and it does not stay long behind the construction gang. All these thoughts arise from the rumor that the Canadian Pacific will build another transcontinental road. Who doubts tracking of their main life from the Atlantic to the Pacific is but a matter of time; but the hour for a second Grand Trunk Pacific does not seem to have come yet.

The past few decades in Canada have afforded some surprise in the matter of national growth, but to predict what will run in the Canadian Pacific directorial mind half a century hence is beyond him who loves not the honor of the prophet.

Upon the Atlantic Ocean highway, the last word in Canadian transportation has not been uttered. The announcement that the White Star and Dominion companies will run a joint service to Canadian ports is not wonderful. Who knows but that in days to come the St. Lawrence route will require the serious consideration of men who now imagine New York is the be-all and end-all of Atlantic transportation.

The various railroad and steamship rumors whispered from one to another prove that talk of the All-Red route has done at least one thing. The directors of various companies are piqued to discussion. They feel that if someone does not do something somebody else will.

HEAD OFFICE---404 McKINNON BUILDING, TORONTO, ONTARIO, CANADA

Read Official Statements as to Gold Discoveries in Larder Lake District in the 16th Annual Report of the Bureau of Mines, 1907.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

President—Stan. Walker, Toronto, Manufacturing Furrier; Vice-President—H. E. Smallpiece, Toronto, Journalist; Treasurer—S. E. McCartney, Toronto, Capitalist; Secretary—H. Murby, Toronto, Cattle Dealer; Managing Director—C. C. Richardson, Toronto, Manufacturing Jeweler; M. Tromer, Toronto, Retail Furrier; David A. Foster, Haileybury, Miner; Solicitor—John A. Ferguson, Temple Building, Toronto; Bankers—Bank of Toronto, Head Office, Toronto.

A SHORT HISTORY

These Larder Lake properties were staked out by the Foster brothers, who are old, experienced miners, who have been prospecting up in that country since 1905. They are practical miners.

When the wealth of the Larder Lake District first leaked out, these men made tracks for this district, and after days of hardship in paddling up rivers and carrying their outfit over portages, they finally found the wonderful gold bearing rock, and after a number of weeks' patient work in following gold indications they staked out 640 acres of what some believe will prove the richest gold bearing rock in the district.

After these men had registered these claims and proved there were no other prior claims to them, they brought samples and proofs to Toronto and succeeded in interesting a number of city merchants by convincing them that not one but many possible fortunes are tied up in these valuable 640 acres. On no reasonable consideration would they sell outright, so a small cash sum was paid to them and so many shares in a company to be formed agreed to be given them.

Had they not believed stock in the company would become valuable it is right to infer that they would not have made such a bargain and tied up their properties.

We believe they will be justified in their decision to retain an interest in the properties as shareholders in our Company.

As we, the members of this Company, were convinced by facts, we wish to convince you by facts also.

The Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company has no figureheads or salaried men on its board. Each member of the board is a stockholder, by putting in his money and paying for his shares, and each member stands to lose a good pile if it is not properly handled. It is the intention of the company to run things on a strictly business basis, and all dealings must be above board. We want to make money and we want to make money fairly and honestly—on the miner's risk for the miner's reward.

The city merchants took the properties from the owners and prospectors, had transfers duly executed, organized this company, defraying all expenses to date, and have agreed to accept stock in payment. They must pay the original owners out of their holdings. The treasury stock goes for development.

The property consists of 14 claims, 40 acres each, or about 560 acres, west of Larder Lake and bordering on Grassy Lake. Blair & Smith, Government surveyors, of New Liskeard, were surveyors for the Company.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. (2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

News in Brief

Montreal, May 15.—When the steamship Ottawa of the Dominion Line, steamed into this port last night it was learned that one of the crew was fatally injured, and four others badly hurt on the collision with the coal boat Troild, in the Gulf, last Sunday night.

A large crowd awaited the arrival of the vessel, which steamed into port with a gash in her bow fully thirty feet in length, and reaching almost to the waterline. The steel plates had also been ripped off, admitting daylight to both the upper and lower holds.

Five men sleeping in the lower hold in the vessel's bow when the collision took place were buried in steel plates. John Taylor, the second baker on the vessel, was frightfully hurt, and died without regaining consciousness. It took some time to release the other men from the twisted pieces of steel which enveloped them, and they were all badly injured.

A panic on board was only prevented by the presence of mind of the ship's officers.

London, May 15.—Charles W. Bowerman who represents the meat market district in the House of Commons, has notified Winston Churchill, president of the Board of Trade, of his intention to question him in the House, May 18, regarding what steps, legislative or otherwise, he proposes to take to prevent the Armours, of Chicago, from establishing in this country retail stores for the purpose of supplying meat direct to the consumer.

This query is based on the statement that the Armours are calling up £5,000,000 of new capital for the purpose of dotting London and the provinces with their own retail stores, the idea being to avoid the tolls and charges levied at the Smithfield market.

Mr. Bowerman claims that the putting into effect of this scheme will destroy the business of the English butchers and meat salesmen, who will not be able to compete if the American packers are permitted to trade on such terms

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This observe nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first points to the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds Nerve-strength: it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong action, strengthen these Nerves—Restorative them as needed, with Boots Away Up.

Again the pendulum of taste has swung, and the opposite extreme has been reached.

The craze for oxfords seems no less, but the desire for high tops seems to be more. The so called Napoleon top on women's boots, the result of the tendency toward shorter skirts for out of door wear, is being made very attractive for walking and general outdoor wear as well as for the artistic appearance of the foot and the comfort and support of the ankle. The increased length of the leg of these boots gives a narrower and more slender effect to the feet and at the same time offers increased opportunities for elaborate decorative effects. Fancy toppings of leather and cloth are being used in these boots, and both buttons and laces are in use as fastenings.

A new notion in footwear is a boot with a pocket in the top. The Napoleon topped boot worn by women affords an opportunity to engraft a little purse or pocket on the top of the right boot which is large enough to hold a sum of money securely and more conveniently than the time honored stocking receptacle.

NEED DOCTORS OUT WEST.

Not the least of the terrors of life in a vast, thinly populated region is the absence of doctors and hospitals. It is bad enough to live on an Ontario farm, ten or twelve miles from the nearest physician; but when, in the great, scarce-habited west, the settler finds himself completely isolated—hundreds of miles from any healing hand—he has his health and life in precarious keeping. Mr. Elihu Stewart, superintendent of forestry, in making a report to the Dominion Government on a trip down the Mackenzie and up the Yukon rivers in 1906, states that the people living in the vast region through which he travelled are much in need of medical aid. He says:

"At very many of the points visited we were implored for advice and for medicine by the sick. Many having chronic diseases which simple surgical treatment would cure, are compelled to live out a shortened existence, for no physician except by merest chance ever visits them. The Department of Indian Affairs has physicians who attend to the medical wants of those Indians that are under treaty, but throughout the whole valley of the Mackenzie river, from Great Slave lake to the sea, nearly a thousand miles, being outside of treaty limits, there is no physician to be had. Surely the people of this country would endorse any action that the Government might take to induce a few medical men to reside in those far outlying districts and afford medical relief where it is so much required."

Some steps are being taken to start a fund for a hospital at Fort Simpson. The officials of the Department of the Interior are alive to the necessity of such an institution and are seeking to arouse interest in the matter. A large number of people will be going into the north country in the near future, and every public-spirited citizen in that part of Canada ought to use his influence in the direction of having a hospital established at Fort Simpson and at other points where they would do the most good. A great field is opening, too, in the far north of Canada for young men who are anxious to enter upon humanitarian work. Many zealous young fellows have in the past gone from the Dominion seeking in distant lands—in Africa, South America and elsewhere—work as medical missionaries. From this time there is need in our own fertile northland—"the last of the lands and the best"—for all the medical missionaries we can produce, and more.

In Position of Canada in Relation to Immigration.

Writing on the subject of British immigration into Canada, and replying to statements said to have been made by the agent-general of Victoria, Australia, to the effect that Canada was making "a mess of things," Mr. D. H. Ross, the Canadian Government agent at Melbourne, utterly repudiates that this country is laboring under bad labor and trade conditions. Mr. Ross, who is a son of Senator William Ross of Halifax, is quoted in The Melbourne Argus as follows:

"There is nothing unusual in the trade or immigration conditions throughout Canada. It is true that a number of discharged workmen have come across the border from the United States; but there is nothing to cause the slightest anxiety regarding the general trade of the Dominion or in the demand for farm or unskilled labor in the spring. Some trouble has arisen through the action of interested steamship companies, in their eagerness for business attempting to start the flood tide of emigration to Canada earlier every year. The consequence has been that many emigrants have found themselves at their destination weeks before the weather conditions are favorable, and this has undoubtedly led to disappointment. The flood tide of Canadian immigration has compelled the authorities to exact a higher degree of fitness, both physically and morally. A few years ago we were beggars in the field of emigration, but to-day we are choosers. Every year a more vigorous discrimination is being made, for Canada has no use for the social derelict, the soaker or trifler."

The Family Cook in Canada.

That you may be rubbing shoulders with members of distinguished families in Canada is illustrated by an incident related from Toronto. A young Englishman was enjoying himself one evening at the boarding-house piano when he was rather startled by a peremptory request to "Stop those silly tunes." Turning round, he recognised the once irreproachable cook, then looking far more terrible than any queen of an English kitchen. "I'll show you who can play if you'll give me the chair," intimated the portly lady. The boarder, though not a coward, deemed it prudent to accede to her request.

Taking her seat at the instrument, the cook played one of Chopin's beautiful Nocturnes with a degree of brilliancy which even her involuntary listener had to admit. Eventually she left the piano with a wild, triumphant laugh for the underground compartment she had solely occupied for the previous three days. Sad to relate, "Maggie," as she was called, was in the throes of her occasional swervings from the paths of temperance. Her mistress sent her away the morning after her musical performance, but three days later she received back and forgave this now repentant, sad-voiced woman, whose entrées and cranberry tarts were the pride of the house. Maggie was a heroine of mystery, in that it was whispered that she was the daughter of an English baronet, and sent over to Canada at an early age for reasons that never transpired. A Strong Moral Well Exemplified in Mrs. Wilson's Case.

Like thousands of other people at this season of the year, Mrs. E. P. Wilson was tired and worn out—winter sorely tried her health and vigor. But now she is robust and well, eats well, sleeps well, feels invigorated and braced. "For some years," writes Mrs. Wilson of Watmere, P.O., "I suffered from systematic weakness, biliousness and depressing headaches. I could take little nourishment and grew thin and pale. If I ate a hearty meal the result was dreadful. Pains started at my chest, and spread all through my body going across my stomach, back and right side. I was discouraged till a friend insisted on me taking Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They made a new woman of me, and for the past eight months my health has been perfect. For a good cleansing, rejuvenating medicine I urge every one to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

There is extraordinary and magic power in Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they bring vigor, tone, health, and spirits—are compounded from the most wonderful and healing juices and essence in vegetable life—are safe for young and old, and guaranteed to bodie renewed activity and strength. Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a change in feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often shows up, the Kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

Fit the Grocer

Wife Made the Suggestion

A grocer has excellent opportunity to know the effects of special foods on his customers. A Cleveland grocer has a long list of customers that have been helped in health by leaving off coffee and using Postum Food Coffee.

He says, regarding his own experience: "Two years ago I had been drinking coffee and must say that I was almost wrecked in my nerves.

"Particularly in the morning I was so irritable and upset that I could hardly wait until the coffee was served, and then I had no appetite for breakfast and did not feel like attending to my store duties.

"One day my wife suggested that inasmuch as I was selling so much Postum there must be some merit in it and suggested that we try it. I took home a package and she prepared it according to directions. The result was a very happy one. My nervousness gradually disappeared and to-day I am all right. I would advise everyone affected in any way with nervousness or stomach troubles, to leave off coffee and use Postum Food Coffee." "There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formulæ, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great, blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that) yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hacking coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

There are now three daily papers in Lindsay and all of them are strengthening their staffs to meet the stiff competition.

SECRETARY-TREASURER, Dr. H. A. Wood, Peterborough. SUPERINTENDENT, D. Williamson, Haileybury, Ont.
D. A. Reid, Brandon, Manitoba.

HEAD OFFICE—MANNING CHAMBERS—TORONTO—ONTARIO

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares;—

Casey Mountain shares are full-ly paid-up and non-assessable.

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which has a regular net-work of silver bearing veins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 to date varying in width from 16 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock speculation), and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent. to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Dividends Paid by Cobalt Mining Companies

Foster Cobalt Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 45,000.00
McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd., have paid... 45,000.00
The Conagas Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907 ..... 200,000.00
Temiscamings & Hudson Bay Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 746,120.00

(These shares could have been had at 40 cents, and have sold as high as $190.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $60,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends.

The Tradwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $20.00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would means a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Additional information can be had from the Secretary-Treasurer Dr. H. A. Wood, 408 1-2 George street, Peterborough.

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1/2 CENT A SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,500 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Lawless Acts at Cleveland, Men Driven From Cars

Cleveland, O., May 18.—Many acts of lawlessness were committed in connection with the street car strike between midnight and dawn today. Trolley wires were cut, crews were driven from their cars, and in some instances non-union men were attacked by strike sympathizers. Trolley wires in Lakewood, a western suburb, were cut in several places, with the result that the Municipal Traction Company announced this morning that no further attempt would be made to operate cars in that section until the Lakewood authorities guaranteed protection for its men and cars.

Because of alleged discrimination in fares against Lakewood by the Municipal Traction Company, it is claimed that the authorities of the town are making no effort to suppress lawless acts committed by strike sympathizers.

After a conference, continued almost throughout the night, between union officials, headed by President Mahon, of the street car men, and members Bishop and Owen, of the State Arbitration Board, it was stated unofficially that a formal proposition of arbitration would probably be made to President Dupont, of the Traction Company, by the Arbitration Board on behalf of the men.

There was a marked increase in the number of cars operated by the company today, the five-minute ach dul being observed on some of the lines. Each car carried a policeman in the motorman's vestibule.

Only Fools Could be Disloyal in Australia, Resents Reflection

London, May 18.—Cardinal Moran, the Roman Catholic Primate for Australia, referring to the alleged statement of Cardinal Logue that Australia was inclining towards "Absolute rebellion," said only fools could be disloyal in Australia, which had the most perfect freedom citizens could desire. If Australia were disassociated from the Empire it is quite possible they would have not a friendly visit from the American fleet, but a visit of another kind from others.

Cardinal Logue having been reported as having said that New Zealand was indifferent to the Empire, Premier Ward indignantly and emphatically protests against such a statement, declaring New Zealand to be loyal to the core. All classes felt their attachment to the Crown, while applying their independent judgment to domestic and Imperial matters.

Makes Statement Regarding the Huntsville Tragedy

Referring to the tragedy which resulted in the death of her daughter and son-in-law, Mrs. James Goldie, of Huntsville, had given out a statement for publication, in which she says that "the history of this case would show conclusively that it was not so much jealousy as a brutal and vicious temper that led Nelson Smith to perpetrate the awful crime that has brought such sorrow upon us."

"On June of last year," she says, "the furniture was still unpaid for in full, and Smith sold the furniture, paid the balance due, and gave Martha a ticket to Huntsville, and with the balance of the proceeds went West, evidently intending to leave Martha at our home permanently. A month later, however, he returned to Huntsville, but would not call at our home openly, but on several occasions was seen in the locality of our house. On one occasion he met Martha on the railroad bridge and required that she go to the hotel and talk the situation over. This she refused to do, saying that he could come over to our home and discuss it there. He would not do so, and shortly after this left the vicinity.

"There are many details too horrible and revolting to publish, but I wish to state that for the past four years Smith persistently maltreated Martha, beating her, dragging her about the floor, and on two or three occasions threatening to kill her. On more than one occasion he lifted the children by the ears to tantalize the mother."

Robbers Tried to Effect Entrance to J.R. Bell's Store

Early this morning an attempt was made to burglarize the grocery store on the south side of Hunter street, owned by J. R. Bell.

The burglars had succeeded in getting over the high brick wall which surrounds the building, and were making an effort to force in the rear door of the store, when a well-known resident of Hunter street, happened by and frightened them off.

The men had carefully laid their plans for a quick retreat, if they should be discovered in their act, and had placed two or three large packing cases against the high wall, one on top of the other which materially aided them in their escape.

The Hunter street man, immediately went in pursuit of the burglars, but by the time he got into the lane in the rear of the Hall store, the men had made good their escape by jumping from the top of the wall down to the lot below.

Members on both Sides are Daring Dissolution--Caucus This Morning May Decide

Some of Them are Working Hard for an Appeal to Country

No Spirit of Compromise

Ottawa, May 18.—Both Liberal and Conservative members of Parliament are doing their level best to bring about a dissolution of parliament, and an appeal to the country on the subject of the Government's election bill.

Messrs. Roblin and Rogers of the Manitoba Government are down here to urge this view upon Mr. Borden, and there are undoubtedly some at least of Mr. Borden's following who would like to see this done. If the dissolution were granted, the Opposition would make the election bills its chief issue in Manitoba, but in other provinces the battle would probably be fought on altogether different lines, the immigration question, the charge of extravagance in expenditures, and the allegations of graft and wrong-doing in the administration of the public departments.

Fat Folks Favor

Too much fat is both uncomfortable and dangerous, but usually flabby people prefer to put up with its inconvenience rather than punish themselves with the tiresome exercising usually prescribed, or endanger their health by taking the so-called "cures" and patent fat "reducers."

This self-sacrifice of comfort and health to overabundant fat is entirely unnecessary however, as Mrs Luella Bigger tells us there is a home receipt that is far superior in every way to anything money will buy for reducing superfluous flesh. It is said this simple mixture will take the fat off man or woman at the rate of at least a couple of pounds a week without even causing wrinkles. Moreover it does not disturb the stomach, but is a good thing for the system, clearing away impurities, and best of all, it does not interfere with the diet. You can use it and at the same time eat whatever you like. This receipt is as follows; 1-2 ounce Marmoin; 3-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 4 3-4 ounces of Syrup Simplex. Get these ingredients at any drug store, mix them together at home and take one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Mrs. Bigger, as is well known, is a famous beauty expert, and whatever she recommends is sure to be found eminently satisfactory.

WRESTLING

Boston, May 16. (special).— strenuous wrestling match was pulled off in the big Columbia theater here last night between August Faust, the 245-lb. German wrestler and Yanke Rogers, who will wrestle Eugene Hurtubise the Canadian champion at Peterborough, Ont., on May 22nd.

Rogers was in great shape for the match and had the big German in difficulties from the start. A quick change from the bar-hold to a toe-lock proved past the German's skill and Rogers took the first fall in 12 minutes.

Faust came on the mat for the second bout looking very angry, and at once rushed Yankee into the wings. But it was only for a second for Rogers picked up his man and slammed him down on the mat, and it was all over in three minutes.

Rogers was challenged by the late German champion Fritz Mohle, a powerful man, after the match, and Rogers accepted the challenge.

Parties Half Baked Need to be Turned Over and Over

Brantford, May 18.—Speaking at Colborne Street Methodist church last night, Rev. W. H. Caswell, who is leaving Brantford next year to become pastor of Dunn avenue church, Parkdale, paid his respects to the political parties in Ontario on questions of temperance and moral reform. He said no reliance could be placed on the parties of the day, inasmuch because the parties in turn could not depend upon Christians to support them regardless of party affiliations in taking an advanced stand on these issues. He denounced the Conservatives for the iniquitous three fifths clause, which discounted the dissent element of the community ten per cent., as compared with the saloon class. The Liberals, notwithstanding their holy professions and declarations of repeal in connection with this measure, were just as bad, he held, for when in power and able to give temperance a measure of reform, as they had promised to do, they deserted the cause. Both the parties were only half baked, and the only course for Christian people was to turn them over and over again. At this the congregation smiled, whereat the preacher told them he was in earnest, and would prefer to see them weep.

City Board of Works In Business Session Last Night

The City Board of Works met last night when there were present, Mayor Henry Rush, Chairman Ald. Phelan and Aldermen McIntyre, Tovey, Bradburn, Buller, Morgan and Elliott.

The engineer presented plans as to raising the railing on the Otonabee bridge, and on motion of Ald. McIntyre, seconded by Ald. Tovey, these plans were approved, and the railing will be raised accordingly.

A request from Mr. P. J. Fuller, asking permission to build a boat house at the eastern end of Dalhousie street, was granted subject to the usual conditions.

A sewer on William street, between King and Bolivar street, was ordered upon, a properly signed petition for the same being to hand.

Another sewer on Rubidge street, between Dublin and Edinburgh streets was arranged for, an accordance with a properly signed petition.

A petition for a sewer on George street, between Argyle and Hilliard streets was not granted, water service not being available.

CONCRETE WALKS.

Concrete walks were decided upon on the following streets; South on King, between Stewart and Rubidge, outside the trees; Margaret avenue between Charlotte and King streets, Reid street, east side, between Dalhousie and Wolfe streets, Wolfe St. from Rubidge to Reid street, north side. One on each side of William street, between King and Bolivar street.

GREEN GETS CONTRACT

G. Walter Green was awarded the contract for sidewalk gratings, sewer fixtures, etc.

SIDING PROTEST.

The city solicitor will be instructed to go to Ottawa on June 2nd, and oppose the proposed G.T.R. siding from below and crossing Rink and Townsend streets, and George St. at the present siding, into the George Matthews Co's packing house.

NEW POLES

The Otonabee Power Co., asked the privilege of erecting poles on certain streets.

The Board decided that as this company have not power to meet the present demand upon them for light, this matter be left in abeyance.

The Board will grade Edinburgh street west of Rubidge.

Ald. Buller moved, seconded by Ald. Morgan,—That a concrete walk be built on Rubidge street, between London and Edinburgh streets.

Ald. Bradburn moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Tovey, —That this walk be not built.

Several beautiful shade trees are in the way of this walk, and the engineer thought they would have to be cut down in order to build this walk. Hence the amendment of Ald. Bradburn.

It was urged, however that the walk could be built around the trees and the motion carried.

The position of this walk and the method adopted to preserve the trees was left in the hands of the city engineer and the chairman of the Board of Works.

OVERFLOW PIPES

The engineer reported as follows; I have examined the three places which it was suggested to place 15-inch overflow pipes to the river from the trunk sewer, viz., King, Lake Dalhousie streets. That at Lake street, is not practicable, the width of it is not practicable, the invert of the sewer being 3 1-2 feet below high water level in the river would necessitate placing the overflow too high in the manhole to be of any use for the purpose and may therefore be left out of consideration.

With regard to draining stagnant water lying on the north side of Lake street, between George and Crescent streets, by deepening the ditch at east end and laying an eight-inch pipe across Crescent street, it can be kept dry. This would cost $45.

This report will be acted upon

WHERE CARS SHALL STOP

In regard to Ald. Morgan's suggestion that the street cars stop on the near side of intersecting streets, the company objected on the grounds that as the act provides that passengers must not enter cars by the front entrance, which would necessitate passengers entering or leaving cars through the mud in order to gain access to cars via rear door, should they stop on near side of crossings.

Ald. Buller said he had noticed that in Toronto or Hamilton the cars keep a lively look-out for rigs and pedestrians, whereas in this city rigs and pedestrians have to keep on the quiv'e for the cars, otherwise they get knocked out of the way.

Ald. Morgan heartily concurred in this view of the situation, and both agreed that the Rural Railway Co., are running this town.

It was decided that Mr. Larmouth be invited to meet the Board with a view to reaching a more acceptable precaution in the interest of public safety.

DRINKING FOUNTAINS.

Ald. Buller moved, seconded by Ald. Tovey.—That the engineer get the several city drinking fountains connected at once.—Carried.

On motion of Ald. Morgan, seconded by Ald. Tovey, Albert street will be examined by the engineer with a view to keeping it clear of surface water.

Ald. Morgan moved, seconded by Ald. Buller,—That a section of plank sidewalk be laid on Hazlett street north.—Carried.

This wiped the slate clear of a large amount of business with the despatch which is a feature of this year's Board of Works.

500 PLANTS GUTTED AND TWO EMPLOYEES BURNED

Bodies were Not Found

Sault Ste. Marie, May 18.—A fire which started at 4.15 this morning in the dynamo room of pulp mill number two of the Lake Superior Consolidated Co. completely gutted building and damaged the electric power installation plant. The loss will be heavy, but covered by insurance.

The damaged plant supplied power for the street railway and the electric lighting of the town.

Arrangements are being completed to get a supply of power from the Steel plant to run the cars and an auxiliary plant will be installed to illuminate the streets.

BODIES NOT FOUND

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 18.—Fire which supposedly started from a spark from the dynamo in the power house of the Lake Superior power house here at 4 a.m., destroyed the Tagona Water and Light power house, the Lake Superior Company's power plant and the Soo Pulp and Paper Mill storeroom.

The estimated loss is about $300,000, fully covered by insurance.

Two men, A. E. Walsh, dynamo tender, and E. Gray, his assistant, lost their lives in the fire. Neither body has been found.

The water, lighting, and street car system are affected, but it is expected power will be furnished from the Steel Plant auxiliary to operate the street railway.

It is given out that all departments will be rebuilt at once.

Gray, the assistant, jumped from the second storey, into the tail race, while his clothes were on fire. The watchman caught him by the coat endeavoring to stop him, but Gray's coat would not support his weight and he fell into the water below.

Had a Narrow Escape from Death

Word comes from Smith, that Mrs. Richard Hurd of the seventh concession, had a narrow escape from death on Friday night. Mrs Hurd had just returned from the yard where she had been milking the cows, when the accident occurred. It had been raining and Mrs. Hurd wore a heavy coat. On the wall in the kitchen are two hooks on which hung a double barrel shot gun. Both barrels were loaded.

When Mrs. Hurd took off her coat she put it on one of the hooks, with the result that it broke and the gun fell to the floor. In falling the charge exploded and put an immense hole in the wall, the building being a frame one.

It was only by the merest chance that Mrs. Hurd escaped serious injury.

Y.M.C.A. Campaign Begins Today--Young Men Organize

This morning at nine o'clock marks the beginning of the Y.M.C.A. 3-day campaign for $2500 per year for three years. This will probably be the most strenuous campaign ever undertaken in Peterborough.

The Young Men's Christian Association has made exceptional gain during the past six months. Enrollment in Bible study has doubled, the membership has increased, attendance at the building is much larger than formerly.

Optimistic as to Raising the $2,500 for the the Y.M.C.A.

The Business Men's Banquet in the Y.M.C.A. Building last evening was attended by a representative gathering of Peterborough's prominent business men, acting as chairman Mr. Shook, president of the Y.M.C.A., after an appropriate opening address, introduced Mr. Frank Sanderson, of Kingston, who dealt with the subject of "Opportunities and Responsibilities of Young Men. Mr. Elmer Davis, Toronto, General Manager Toronto Life Assurance Co., then spoke on the systematic and progressive management and directorship of the Y.M.C.A., under the present regime, which has been in operation since Feb. 1908.

Following Mr. Davis Mr. Thomasson of Toronto, spoke on the practical side of the $2500 campaign. Mr. Thomasson was decidedly optimistic as to the result of the campaign, quoting the city of Kingston as an example, where over $300 more than the required amount was raised in less than the three days. In verification of Mr. Thomasson's optimistic views, the president, Mr. Shook, stated that a prominent citizen of Peterborough, had already subscribed $100.

Numerous local speakers, including Ald Turner then addressed the meeting. The tables were nicely spread and presumably as much enjoyed as the interesting addresses.

Words of Praise

For the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, as given by leaders in all the several schools of medicine, should have far more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle-wrapper, in a full list of all its ingredients printed in plain English.

If you are an invalid woman and suffer from frequent headache, backache, gnawing distress in stomach, periodical pains, disagreeable, catarrhal, pelvic drain, dragging-down distress in lower abdomen or pelvis, perhaps dark spots or specks dancing before the eyes, faint spells and kindred symptoms caused by female weakness, or other derangement of the feminine organs, you can not do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The hospital, surgeon's knife and operating table may be avoided by the timely use of "Favorite Prescription" in such cases. Thereby the obnoxious examinations and local treatments of the family physician can be avoided and a thorough course of successful treatment carried out in the privacy of the home. "Favorite Prescription" is composed of the very best native medicinal roots known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, contains no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs.

Do not expect too much from "Favorite Prescription;" it will not perform miracles; it will not dissolve or cure tumors. No medicine will. It will do as much to establish vigorous health in most weaknesses and ailments peculiarly incident to women as any medicine can. It must be given a fair chance by perseverance in its use for a reasonable length of time.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative; two or three a cathartic. Easy to take as candy.

Splendid Concert at George St. Church

A large crowd attended the concert at George street Methodist church last night, and an enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

The program, which consisted of selections by the Sunday school orchestra, vocal and instrumental selections and six, ten-minute talks by men, proved a good one and was greatly appreciated by those present.

The ten-minute stories were the bit of the evening, some very funny experiences being related. Those who spoke were, Messrs. Ayers, Nugent, Godson, Powell, Dobbie and Rev. E. A. Pearson.

Mr. Dobbie acted as chairman throughout the evening.

Bicycles

Mr. A. Sawers has moved into the shop next to Carey's shoe store, George street, and will be pleased to see his old friends and customers. Now is the time to get your bicycles cleaned and fixed up for summer. All work guaranteed.

Many Get Consumption in Spring Months

The System is Generally Run Down and Lacks Power to Destroy the Germ.

Winter takes the vitality and snap out of us all. Instead of being rich and healthful, the blood is sure to be thin and watery in the spring. An overpowering tiredness comes upon us—this is followed by dead weakness, loss of sleep, poor appetite and depression.

Doctors all say the only hope lies in supplying lots of new blood which must be brimming with vitality and building material.

The quickest way to get the necessary supply of vitalized blood is by taking Ferrozone. It establishes a high standard of blood, increases nerve force, restores bodily vigor in a truly marvelous way.

You are amply protected from spring fever and debility diseases by using Ferrozone,—This is proved by Mrs. S. J. Richards, of Manotick, Ont., who tells in the following words how she gained in health and spirit from Ferrozone: "For about two years I was not well. I was thin and anaemic. Towards spring I fell into a condition of nervous exhaustion that made life scarcely worth living. A dead tiredness seemed to hang over me like a load of lead. I simply could not do housework of any kind. A bad cough developed that worried me greatly, for I thought it might be tubercular. When I first read about Ferrozone I was convinced it was good. I took it regularly for about eight weeks and the change in my health was wonderful. My cheeks filled out and became clear and rosy. I gained eight pounds in weight and am now as strong and vigorous as possible."

Ferrozone feeds and nourishes the organs that require assistance. It sends the thrill and vim of robust health from head to foot, makes you feel better at once. Won't you use Ferrozone? Sold everywhere; 50 chocolate-coated tablets in a box for 50 cents, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers.

THE COLORED VOTE

An element that is romping to the front in the United States presidential campaign in a manner altogether unprecedented is the colored vote. The unfortunate affair of the Twenty-fifty Regiment at Bowmanville, has borne bad fruit for the Republicans, and is uniting the colored voters in almost every State. An analysis of the last Congressional election returns shows that not fewer than sixty Republican representatives obtained their seats by majorities that were actually smaller than the colored vote in their respective electoral districts. Experienced politicians estimate that the colored citizens have only to stick together and vote solid to take and hold the balance of power in the United States.

POSSIBLE HEALTH IN PEAT BOG

Investigations and demonstrations which are now being carried through in Europe, may result, remarks The Weekly Sun, in giving value to the peat beds of Ontario, second only to that recently found to exist in our water powers.

Although experiments were made so far back as 1870 in the distillation of alcohol from peat, the proportion recovered was in the beginning so small as to make the cost of manufacture prohibitive. In later experiments, the amount has been very materially increased. During the last two years, according to a report sent to his Government by one of the United States consuls in Germany, such progress has indeed been made that it is now possible to produce 108 quarts of alcohol from a ton of dry peat, besides 66 pounds of sulphate of ammonia. A Copenhagen company which has established two experimental produced from this source at a cost of about 10 cents per gallon, or very much less than the expenses incurred by the large plants now in existence in Germany for the manufacture of alcohol from potatoes.

If the figures given are anywhere near reliable, peat alcohol can be put on the market at a price which will make it a most economical basis for power and light as well as a cheap fuel for cooking. Ontario stands to gain largely from any developments along this line, as we have, as the south end of Lake Simcoe, near Beaverton, and in various other localities, bogs of enormous extent. Utilization of these would create important local industries and if the material produced therefrom can be placed on the market at prices stated, cheap light and power will be made available in localities beyond the reach of the current from Niagara or other great waterfalls.

Obituary

"We deeply regret to have to record the death of Mr. Alexander Hamilton which occurred at 1:30 p. m. last Saturday (May 9th).

The deceased had been in failing health for about six weeks and on April 22nd he went to the Toronto General Hospital, where he remained until April 29th. On his return he seemed to be slightly better, but the improvement was only temporary, for serious symptoms began to appear on Sunday, May 3rd, and he was operated on by Dr. Bingham of Toronto, assisted by Drs. Cook and Baker. At first it seemed as if the operation would be entirely satisfactory and all the deceased's friends trusted soon to see him once more among them. However it was not to be, for on Wednesday a great loss of strength told on his iron constitution and in spite of the utmost care and attention given him by Drs. Cook and Baker and Dr. Fotheringham, of Toronto, who was summoned, he breathed his last on Saturday night. His death has caused a painful sensation amongst all those who were fortunate enough to rank him amongst their friends and we feel that his loss can never be replaced. Kindly, upright, conscientious and ever ready to assist a worthy object or to help those in trouble he had endeared himself to everyone, and it is hard to imagine that we shall never again see that kindly face or hear that voice which always seemed to breath an air of perfect peace and contentment. He was beloved by rich and poor alike and on his departure to Toronto it was touching to witness all, from the highest to the lowest, gathered to wish him God Speed.

The deceased was born in Enniskellen, Ireland, on March 1857. Coming to Canada in 1874 he engaged in the lumbering trade in the village of Nassau, Peterborough Co. During 1893 he moved to Cache Bay, where he operated Messrs. Davidson & Hay's mills, afterwards going to Warren where he engaged in lumbering, contracting and a general store business.

In 1905 he took over the Management of the Woods Department of the Imperial Paper Mills of Canada Co. of Sturgeon Falls and was in that position at his untimely death. He died, as we feel sure, he would have wished to die, in harness, for up to a very short time before his death he was from his bed giving direction to his foreman an doubers for the conducting of the operations in the woods and on the river.

A family service conducted by the Revd. Mr. Mann was held on Monday, May 11th, at 5.30 p. m., in the deceased's residence, a Masonic service following. The body was conveyed the same evening to Peterborough, where the funeral took place on Tuesday at 3 o'clock with full Masonic Honours.

The deceased leaves a widow and nine children, all living in Sturgeon Falls, except his eldest daughter, who is married to Mr. D. G. Campbell, of Calgary. The sympathy of all goes out to them in their sad bereavement and loss, they have lost a father and we have lost a friend.

Our family circle is broken,
A spirit has passed above;
Our hearts are full of sorrow,
O'er the loss of one we love.
For God in His love and wisdom,
Has taken our father away,
Has taken one of our number
To dwell in eternal day.

News in Brief

Montreal, May 16.—Mr. Chas. E. Jenkins of Boston has purchased a tract of land at Caledonia Springs for the purpose of manufacturing peat. He has a machine which will manufacture three hundred tons of peat per day, and has obtained an order from the G.T.R. for three thousand tons per day as soon as the plant is running.

Montreal, May 16.—A. Gignac, general president of the Federation of Textile Workers of Canada, has issued an appeal for a peaceful solution to cotton strike. In a circular letter to the workers he indicates that he is not in sympathy with the strike, and says that the general secretary defied orders in calling a strike, and is trying to make trouble. He agrees with the manufacturers that they are not getting sufficient tariff protection to enable them to pay the scale of wages in force before the ten per cent. reduction.

New York, May 18.—Andrew Carnegie, wife and daughter, sailed yesterday on the Baltic for Scotland.

Mr. Carnegie announced that he would return in time to cast his vote for the nominee of the Republican party for President.

"There will be a general up-lift to business," he said, "as soon as the election is over. When the question of administration is settled business will pick up rapidly and normal conditions return.

"In a general way it can be said that the industries of the country have held up well. They have help up in a way to show that the swing will be in the direction of complete prosperity when we reach that beneficial period which follows a Presidential contest."

Evansville, Ind., May 16.—The Union Coal Miners in and around this city, struck yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when all work in Indiana, except in the Black coal district, ceased. The walk out will affect 16,000 Indiana miners, and is in obedience to the action of the state convention of miners at Terre Haute.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., May 13.—Norman White, a lad of 15 years, had seen his mother abused by his drunken father ever since he could remember. On Saturday he spent his savings for a revolver. When the elder White returned home and began abusing his wife, Norman slipped upstairs to his bedroom and got the firearm. When he returned to the kitchen, where his father and mother were quarrelling, Norman told his father he would kill him if he did not let his mother alone.

"Shoot me if you dare," the man challenged, as he threatened to strike his wife.

The lad emptied the five chambers of the revolver. Four went wide and the last penetrated the man's right lung. He will not live.

Mrs White told the police she had intended to shoot White the next time he attacked her if her son had not done so.

Mr. Monte Wilson, the Garden Hill cheesemaker, brought 100 hogs by G. T. R. to the city yesterday.

Weak Kidneys surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and give life and strengthen them. Five Men Were Mangled as They Slept in Vessel

Montreal, May 15 — When the steamship Ottawa of the Dominion Line, steamed into this port last night it was learned that one of the crew was fatally injured, and four others badly hurt in the collision with the coal boat Trold, in the Gulf, last Sunday night.

A large crowd awaited the arrival of the vessel, which steamed into port with a gash in her bow fully thirty feet in length, and reaching almost to the waterline. The steel plates had also been ripped off, admitting daylight to both the upper and lower holds.

Five men sleeping in the lower hold as the vessel's bow when the collision took place were buried in steel plates. John Taylor, the second boiler on the vessel, was frightfully hurt, and died without regaining consciousness. It took some time to release the other men from the twisted pieces of steel which enveloped them, and they were all badly injured.

A panic on board was only prevented by the presence of mind of the ship's officers.

Foresters in Revolt Over Increased Rates

St. John, N. B., May 16.—New Brunswick High Court of Foresters to-day emphatically rejected Supreme Chief Ranger Stevenson's proposal for increased rates. The discussion was exceedingly hot, and scathing criticism of the highest officials was indulged in by members, Stevenson himself receiving a large share of the blame. The impression seemed to be that the proposed increase, applying especially to old members, is wholly unnecessary. Condemnation was expressed at the policy which took amounts of interest from the Mortuary Fund, and added the money to general expense account.

Certain amendments to the proposed increase were offered, but all modifications were rejected with warmth, and the New Brunswick High Court will insist on the proper fulfilment of all contracts now in existence.

SUPREME SECRETARY TALKS.

Toronto, May 16.—Mr. Robert Mathison, Supreme Secretary of the Independent Order of Foresters, states that the delegates to the meeting of the Supreme Court on June 15th, elected by the High Courts at their annual meetings, will be fully qualified to represent the views of the rank and file of the membership on the rate question.

"The High Courts are holding no special meetings in connection with the matter," said Mr. Mathison. "The New Brunswick and Nova Scotia High Courts held their regular sessions this week, when delegates to the Supreme Court were chosen. The delegates from Ontario were chosen in August last."

"Have many protests been entered with reference to the rates?" Mr. Mathison was asked.

"We have seen more protests in the papers than anywhere else," he replied. "When people understand the new rates there is no doubt but that they will consider them very fair. There are a great many people who expect to get something for nothing. Altogether the general feeling is much better than we expected. We know this is the case from the results of meetings which have been held at various centres, such as London, Sarnia, Detroit and Ottawa.

"We are freezing out no person, member may continue paying the rate he has paid all along, but the amount of the certificate will be reduced accordingly. It is better to take three-fourths than to lose everything. What we want is to put the Order on a fair, square, sound basis."

At the session of the High Court I. O. F of New Brunswick, in St. John yesterday, the new proposal was attacked.

Says This Medicine Has Mystic Powers

Will Assist Anyone in Work. Pale, Nervous, Condition to Robust, Hearty Health

It's in the spring that health gives out—that folks begin to feel draggy, weary, restless,—hate to eat, look pale, feel discouraged.

If you're troubled this state, read what J. W. Jewell, well known in Morristown has to say about the medicine that cured him: "Last winter I caught a heavy cold that settled in my back. My kidneys and liver were affected and my health failed. By spring I was in bad shape—couldn't sleep like I used to—if I tried in the morning—ate very little—was terribly depressed, felt mighty anxious looking. Two boxes of Chamberlain, frequent neuralgia attacks over the temples made matters worse. The doctor prescribed three times, but didn't help. Then I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills,—they possess mystic power surely, for I gained and improved day by day and now am in perfect health again. I will praise and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I die."

The ingredients in Dr. Hamilton's Pills are pure and wholesome,—come right from the storehouse of Nature in the form of vegetable juices and extracts.—consequently this gentle, invigorating laxative tonic and blood purifier is safe for old and young alike. We assure you of enormous benefit from Dr. Hamilton's Pills which revitalize delicate blands, search out the seat of hidden ills and flood the body with vigor and health that has caused thousands of broken down, despairing men and women to join in a mighty song of praise for the beneficient, old that comes from this king of all tonics. Had His Foot Badly Crushed

While returning from the lumber camps a stranger in trying to board a freight train, slipped and had his foot badly crushed yesterday at Hastings, by the wheels of a flat car passing over it.

The freight was in the yards and as it started away his pal climbed on the flat car and the other man threw a bundle he was carrying onto the car, and then tried to get on with his chum.

The result was that his foot was rather seriously crushed. He was taken to a doctor's office where his injuries were dressed. The man was brought to Peterborough on the evening train and afterwards to Cobourg on the 9 o'clock train. The county hospital is on the Lake side of town, where the stranger was taken, to be given further attention. He has been in Canada about three years. He was not greatly concerned about his injury, and in answer to a question as to the Grand Trunk R. station, remarked that he guessed it was hurt a little.

The Newhall-Johnston Case Heard Yesterday

P. C. Newhall appeared before Magistrate Edmonson in the county court yesterday morning, charged with assaulting Mr. Dave Johnston, fish inspector, North Monaghan.

The occurrence was alleged to have taken place on Tuesday, May 12, about 3 p.m. Mr. Johnston had made arrangements with the Peterborough Lumber Company to gather logs which had not been held by the boom. He landed on Mr. Holmes' property, where Mr. Newhall lives, to get several logs, and the result was that Mr. Johnston was ejected from the place. He was accompanied by Mr. Richard Thirnbeck, who [illegible] with the officer's assistance.

The evidence of both sides differed in the main in that the plaintiffs said there were the letters "S.B." on the end, and the defendants denied it, saying that the log had been on the shore for two years and had never been moved. There are two other logs farther up the river which are marked, but they were not in the question.

The case was adjourned at 1.30, and Mr. Cochrane was commissioned to go and see the log, taking both parties to settle the question.

Later—The end of the log this afternoon was found to have no marks on it. The magistrate, however, thought that about a year or six months ago a portion of the end had been cut off. He reserved judgment in the case.

The following letter has been sent out by Secretary James Keith of the South Victoria Agricultural Society to farmers of the surrounding country: "The South Victoria Agricultural Society offers a prize of $20 for the best 5 acres of barley in the field crop competition; 1st prize, $15; 2nd prize, $12; 3rd prize, $10; 4th prize, $8; 5th prize, $5. Members of the above society will be allowed to enter free. Entries must be made to the secretary before June next."

Government Boats are Kept Busy

The Government steamer "Bessie Butler," came down the canal yesterday to take a scowload of machinery and supplies to Lake Simcoe and vicinity. She will probably be in that district about two days. As part of her season's work the "Bessie Butler" has 3,000 barrels of cement to take from Lakefield to Buckhorn.

The other two Government boats will also have a busy season. The "Empire" will be engaged with the dredge on the Lindsay River most of the season, and the "Bob Hall" will spend some time on Rice Lake taking soundings. She will afterwards go to Omemee River where she will be engaged three months with the dredge there.

Former Local Man Erecting Big Building

The Vancouver World of May 2nd, a copy of which has been received by The Times, contains a lengthy article descriptive of a business block to be built by Mr. R. V. Winch, son of Mr. R. J. Winch of this city. It will be situated at the corner of Hastings and Howe streets and in size will be 100x120 feet and five storeys in height. The cost will be $380,000. The World says in part:

"Mr. R. V. Winch's idea has been all along to put up a building which will be better than anything erected for the office division, and will be used for nothing else; something that will be a landmark in Vancouver, the pride of its citizens, and built of materials which will last for many years, the envy of Seattle and San Francisco and a building in which only business men of the highest repute and standing will be able to locate."

The contract for the building has been let.

War on Unions by Many Employers

New York, May 19.—A determined warfare on all labor unions, which will have the support of the 3,000 members of the National Association of Manufacturers, representing an aggregate capital of fifteen billion dollars, will soon be commenced. This action was determined upon at today's session of the association, which is holding its annual convention at the Waldorf Astoria. Political methods will be used by the manufacturers in the fight, which will inject a new and vital issue into the presidential campaign.

According to President James W. Van Cleve, the membership of the association is practically unanimous in the matter of fighting the unions. It is alleged that of the 30,000,000 laborers in this country, less than 1,500,000 are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and that any determined stand against what is termed the "tyranny" of organized labor will receive the support of the great majority of these unorganized workmen.

It is stated that the association will not attempt to disrupt the unions, but will make its fight against some of their principles which the unions stand for and which are obnoxious to capital. Among these are the closed shop, the boycotte, sympathetic strikes, apprenticeship restrictions and compulsory use of the union label.

Spain Needs a New Naval System

London, May 19.—It seems that the estimates of the amount of shipbuilding that will be done in the United Kingdom, when Spain proceeds to reorganize her navy have been a little too sanguine. The appropriation of something like $75,000,000 has been approved at Madrid, and all that remains to be done is to negotiate the business with suitable contractors. Many well known concerns in this country have looked into the matter, and representatives of both Vickers, Sons and Maxim (Limited), and William Beardmore and Co., (Limited), have been in close touch with the Spanish naval authorities on the subject; it is hardly possible to think of any combination better able to undertake this work than Barrow and Dalmuir, for their capacity to handle it, and their combined resources, are probably unequalled in the whole world. But the difficulty is that Spain really has less need for a new navy than for a new naval system.

Death of Mr. Joseph Bennett

At the advanced age of 94 years, Mr. Joseph Bennett, one of the oldest residents of the district passed away Sunday night at his home in North Monaghan.

He was conscious up to the last and death came very peacefully. The late Mr. Bennett was a native of Ireland but came to Canada with his parents when two and a half years of age. The family first settled at Cobourg, then moved to Manvers and later to Otonabee. Mr. Bennett moved to North Monaghan about fifty years ago and has resided there ever since. He took an active interest in the welfare of the township and was highly respected by a large number of friends.

The late Mr. Bennett is survived by three sons, Samuel G., John J. and Captain G. W. Bennett, of North Monaghan, and one daughter, Mrs. Pope of Rebelieu, Quebec. His wife predeceased him fifteen years ago.

Mr. Bennett was well known to the summer population at Stony Lake, having spent a few weeks there each summer for many years.

The funeral will be private.

Received a Shock of 1,000 Volts

Lindsay, May 18.—Wilfrid Alger, employed by the Electric Light Company, here received a shock of 1,000 volts today. He fell 35 feet to the ground, but the prompt work of the foreman probably saved his life.

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1/2 CENT A SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an inviolate rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out, send for one.

Make reservation of stock. If you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now up on, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,600 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Provincial Elections, 1908

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining lands of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the benefical acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and youth of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

Cleared Away

Proper Food Put the Troubles Away

Our own troubles always seem more severe than any others. But when a man is unable to eat even a light breakfast, for years, without severe distress he has trouble enough.

It is small wonder he likes to tell of food which cleared away the troubles.

"I am glad of the opportunity to tell of the good Grape-Nuts has done for me," writes a N. H. man. "For many years I was unable to eat even a light breakfast without great suffering.

"After eating I would suddenly be seized with a terrible attack of colic and vomiting. This would be followed by headache and misery that would sometimes last a week or two, leaving me so weak I could hardly sit up or walk.

"Since I began to eat Grape-Nuts I have been free from the old troubles. I usually eat Grape-Nuts for one or more times a day, taking it at the beginning of the meal. Now I can eat almost anything I want without trouble.

"When I began to use Grape-Nuts I was way under my usual weight, now I weigh 20 pounds more than I ever weighed in my life, and I am glad to speak of the food that has worked the change."

Let Canada Have a Navy on the Pacific

London, May 19.—The Morning Post hints that negotiations are taking place between London and Ottawa respecting Esquimalt. It says that there is only one way, however, to redress the naval balance—that Pacific commonwealth, may some day make good a deficiency now so keenly felt.

The Standard announces that the Indomitable, Capt. Kinghall, will convey the Prince of Wales to Canada. Statements, however, that she will endeavor to make an Atlantic record are somewhat discounted by the fact that she is to be escorted by warships of ordinary speed.

IS NOT TREMBLING.

London, May 19. — Lord Crewe, speaking at Macclesfield, said he believed it was impossible to adhere to the old principle laisser faire, as applied to the trade of Britain. What the Government meant in the matter had been sufficiently shown by Mr. Lloyd-George. The recent bye-election had not made him tremble for free trade.

The Times' Berlin correspondent says Germany would welcome nothing more eagerly than a chance of renewing friendly relations with Canada.

Replying to Lord Winterton, who suggested that the secretary of the colonies should advise the charitable agencies to emigrate undesirables to some undeveloped country outside the empire, Mr. Seely pointed out that the Canadian Government had already taken steps.

Mayor Refused to Sign Application for Right to Develop Power

Belleville, May 19.—The first veto in years by a Mayor of this city was recorded at last night's council meeting. The Council had passed a resolution asking the Dominion Government to grant the city the right to develop electric power on Dams 3, 4 and 5 on the Trent Valley Canal, and the Mayor was authorized to sign the application. When the matter came up last night, Mayor McFee refused to sign the application, saying it would commit the city to an expenditure of $300,000. The City Solicitor said it would not, but his worship refused to sign, in spite of warm protests by some of the aldermen. There is considerable talk over the mayor's action.

Portrait of Jesus on View in London

Said to be the Only True Picture in Existence --Two Letters to Oriental King

Believed to Have Been Written by the Redeemer

London, May 20.—There is an interesting sequel to the archeological discovery made recently by the Abbe Gaffre, the eminent French Egyptologist. While exploring a village in upper Egypt the abbe came across an ancient parchment, which, he says, describes in detail the sending of the disciple Thaddeus to Agbar, king of Edessa, with a portrait of Christ, which learned authorities say is the only one in existence.

This portrait has hitherto been considered apocryphal, but it is obvious that, if the Abbe Gaffre's discovery should bear out all his expectations, it will throw a flood of light on a much-debated incident in early Christian history.

COPIED BY AN ARTIST.

Here is the sequel: Maurice Lyons, the well known collector, whose famous "Imperial Opal" was shown to the colonial premiers when they were here in 1902, has in his possession what he believes is the only copy of the portrait of Christ refered to, which Thaddeus took to King Agbar. The original reposes in the Church of St. Bartholomew, at Genoa, where it was taken from Constantinople in the fourteenth century. It is so carefully and jealously guarded that it is almost impossible to get a sight of it.

About forty years ago, however, Thomas Heaphy, an artist, who devoted many years to investigating the origins of the traditional likenesses of Christ, managed after a great deal of trouble, to see the portrait in St. Bartholomew's church. He was not allowed to copy it, but he made a sketch from memory, and this is now in the British museum. It represents Christ in full face, with beard and long hair; and there is attached to it a note by the artist to the effect that, according to legend, the original was executed at the time of Christ, who "sat for it for King Agbarrus". Agbar, or Agbag, is an abbreviation of Agbarrus, whose kingdom of Edessa is now Urfa in Mesopotamia.

Mr. Lyons had an opportunity of comparing his portrait with Heaphy's sketch, and he does not doubt that they deal with the same object. As apart from Heaphy's sketch, there is understood to be only one copy of the original in existence, Mr. Lyons, if that is so, must possess that copy.

According to this inscription the portrait above it is a "true likeness of the Saviour", sent to King Abag, or Agbar. At the foot of the inscription there is a sign which it is rather difficult to describe. It looks something like a Roman "N", but it might be an entirely different letter. It is of peculiar shape, and Mr. Lyons thinks it is of considerable importance, and may be either the initial of the artist, or a sign used by him, after the manner of Whistler's use of a butterfly. At any rate, it may afford a clue to the painter of this beautiful portrait.

Mr. Lyons intends to remove the picture to a place of safe-keeping, and to continue his investigations into its origin.

REMARKABLE LETTERS.

Having described Mr. Lyons' interesting treasure, it is desirable to refer to some detail to the Abbe Gaffre's discovery. In his manuscript there are included two settlers, which, if their authenticity can be established, are of profound importance.

The first is in the following terms: "Agbar, king of the Town of Edessa, of Jesus, Godman and doctor, who has appeared at Jerusalem. Hail! I have heard of Thee and of Thy healings, how Thou, without medicines or herbs, performest healings and givest the blind sight, enablest the cripples to walk and the deaf to hear, how Thou curest those who suffer from chronic torments, and bringest the dead to life. And having heard of these things I have conceived that Thou art God Himself, and, for this reason, do supplicate and pray that Thou will come to me and cure the malady which assails me, and that Thou will take measures that none of mine enemies may take or destroy my tower."

Then follows the reply attributed to Christ:

"Thou art blessed, O Agbar, and thy town which is called Edessa. Thou art blessed because thou believest in Me, although thou has not seen Me, and thy health will be restored to thee forever. As far as my visit to thee is concerned, it is necessary that I should accomplish the mission with I was sent here to perform, and after having accomplished it that I should return to My Father who sent me. Afterward I will send to thee one of My disciples, who will cure thy malady, and who will give to thee life eternal, and will take measures so that none of thine enemies shall take thy town till the end of the centuries. Amen! As for Me, I left heaven and descended to earth in order to save the human race, and I have abashed myself in order to elevate it."

Jesus afterward added the following words:—

"This letter, written by Me—wherever it may find thee, either on the highway, in a house, before a tribunal, in a moment of pain or grief, on the sea in danger, in the middle of a combat with thine enemies, or on any occasion of a like nature —will disperse dangers, because it is unimpeachable and certain to give healing and succor. Therefore, whoever may bear it, providing he is pure and irreproachable and abstains from all vice, shall possess in it a healing for the soul and for the body a talisman of a safety, because it is written by Mine Own hand, and I have sealed it with seven seals in the following order: Jesus Christ, the Son of God, possessing two virtues, Perfect God and Perfect Man."

According to the parchments discovered by the Abbe Gaffre, King Agbar sent another messenger to make a portrait of Jesus. Jesus learned his intentions, and having taken some water He washed his face and dried it on a cloth. The picture of His Divine face shone forth from the cloth, which He gave to the messenger, who took it to Edessa, where it remained until the middle of the tenth century. After numerous vicissitudes, the sacred picture, being enshrined in a golden frame, bearing arabesques and minute pictures, which completely covered the face, was carefully deposited in the Church of St. Bartholomew, at Genoa, where it is preserved under six locks in a sacred casket, of which the six principal families in Genoa keep the six keys. On Whit-Sunday and the two following days the tabernacle is opened and the picture is presented to the view of the faithful.

The Opposition are Determined to Bring on Dissolution

Ottawa, May 19.—A caucus of the Conservative senators and members this morning in regard to the Government's election bill was presided over by Mr. William Staples, one of the Manitoba members and was also attended by Hon. R. P. Roblin, the Manitoba Premier, Mr. R. L. Borden, their party leader, had been furnished with the compromise suggestion offered by the Premier in regard to the revision of the voters' lists of Manitoba, British Columbia, and the unorganized districts of Ontario and Quebec, providing that the work of revision shall be entrusted in its entirety to the local judges. The caucus decided, however, to continue its out-and-out opposition to the bill in either form and will also refuse to pass any supply which cannot but result if this course is acted upon in a dissolution of Parliament and a general election.

The Opposition will express its willingness to pass the remaining salary votes for the Civil Service, but if the Government attempts to take up any other of the estimates such as those for public buildings which were under consideration last week, the Opposition will revert to the Ames charges in regard to the disposition made of Western timber lands. The Conservative following is now said to be strongly in favor of an immediate dissolution of Parliament, and will use all the power at their command to bring this about.

"Merry Widows" Threaten Jobbers with Bankruptcy

St. Paul, Minn., May 19. — Fifty millinery jobbers in session here are decidedly dejected, and see no way out except to register a protest with the express companies. The new "Merry Widow" hat is at the bottom of the difficulty. Women's hats are increasing in size, and the present Chinese umbrella article, boxed for express shipment, means a rate which a year ago would have carried half a dozen of the powder puff creations then in vogue.

The jobbers spent all day yesterday worrying over the situation, and today decided to make an emphatic protest to the express companies, on the grounds that they cannot successfully combat woman's will, and cannot stay in business at a profit if they are compelled to express "Merry Widows" at the present rates. Freight rates, the jobbers say, are reasonable, but they don't see just how they can ship hats by freight, and then there's the danger that the railways will enforce the carting rule, and a "Merry Widow" in a crate, with three to the car, is about as convenient to handle as French porcelain.

Y.M.C.A. Campaign Started Well Young Men Enthusiastic--$500 Pledged--Much to do Yet

The first day of the Y.M.C.A. campaign started off in good shape. Nearly $500 was subscribed by noon, but there remains much to do. The difficulty lies in not being able to get a definite answer at the first call. It is scarcely fair to make it necessary for these busy business men to call more than once. This is everybodys' campaign.

It is only fair to state very clearly that all we are asking the community in general for is sufficient money to keep the Association free from debt. The young men have assumed to raise the $500 per year among themselves to provide for the bowling alleys.

This means considerable sacrifice on their part and means increased efficiency in the Association work. This is not a campaign to put a bowling alley in the building, but to enable the association to do an aggressive work and keep out of debt. We need at least $2000 in membership fees and $2000 in contributions each year and expect to need that much as long as we have the blessings of such a work in our city.

Surely Peterborough will not allow this potent factor for clean, pure manhood to be dwarfed for the lack of funds. Let us show what we can do by making it $3000 instead of $2500 per year.

Wires Cut, Bricks Thrown, and Infernal Machines Placed

Cleveland, O., May 19.—Shortly after one o'clock this morning a Detroit avenue car was dynamited at 100th street. The trucks were badly damaged, but the single passenger and the crew were not injured.

At 12:30 o'clock a small box that the police say contained deadly explosives was found on the tracks at Broadway and East 55th street. The box was discovered with a car less than 500 feet away.

Rioting began near the Woodmere barns on East Cleveland early this morning, when attempts to put six trolley cars in charge of linemen for the Municipal Traction Company turned out in force to repair the damage, but were driven back by a gang of 300 men.

A brick was thrown at a Woodland car while it was passing eastward at East 104th and Woodland avenue. David Benjamin and his wife, who were on the car, were both struck by the missile. Mrs. Benjamin's jaw was broken, while her husband's face was laid open by the brick.

A mob stoned a Woodland-Lorain car at 9:45 o'clock and severely injured the only passenger, Mrs. Elizabeth Meisar.

A Sober Dominiong--Only Saw One Drunken Man

London, May 19.—Allan Baker, M. P., speaking in support of the Licensing Bill, related that he and Right Hon. John Burns, were returning to Toronto after their trip across the continent, when the latter exclaimed: "Look, there's the first drunken man I have seen in Canada."

Baker replied: "Yes, and I believe he comes from Battersea." (Laughter.)

Local Pedestrian Won Walk in Buffalo

A local pedestrian "put it on the eye" of a few of the Buffalo sports recently. It seems that this walker of speed and growing prominence, was with a Buffalo pedestrian, who has walked here. A walking match was arranged in a Buffalo rink. The The Buffalo pedestrian took the Peterborough man to the rink and introduced him as Mr. Brown, a farmer. The so-called farmer entered a walking match with nine others and easily won both first place and a good bunch of Buffalo money.

Black-Faced Tramps are Not Numerous

As soon as Old Sol begins to show himself in real earnest each year, the band of work-haters, the tramps are seen in large numbers everywhere.

But although you have seen hundreds of white faces smeared with dirt in the "hobo" brigade, can you recall ever having seen a negro tramp. No, you cannot say as you have. Why? Simply because there is a scarcity of "black-face" globe trotters.

Whether Canada is too far away from the Southern melon fields, whether the negro is even too tired by nature to tramp, or wether, on the other hand he is too thrifty—whatever be the reasons, the negro is not often found at Canadian kitchens looking for a hand-out.

The scarcity of negro tramps is emphasized by the records kept of the hundreds who seek shelter at the police station. Men who have been on the police force for years state that so far as their recollection goes, they have had little to do with colored tramps.

To Form a Walking Circuit in Canada

To form a walking circuit in Canada, consisting of Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and other places, is the latest proposal of Mr. George Stevens. If such a circuit could be formed, where pedestrian races could be held regularly it would be a great thing for the walking game in Canada.

There will be twenty polling subdivisions in the city of Peterborough for the provincial elections on June 8th. This is a larger number than

Sacred Concert and Organ Recital at St. Paul's Church

The service of praise and organ recital in connection with the anniversary services of St. Paul's church last night, was very largely attended, the auditorium of the church being filled.

The program was an excellent one and was much appreciated by those present. The choir and the different soloists rendered their portion of the program in a very pleasing manner. Miss Davis who sings so delightfully was in splendid voice last night. Mr. Herbert Saunders, F.R.C.O., proved himself a master musician when he gave a recital on the new organ. Mr. Saunders rendered some of the most difficult numbers, with ease, and brought out the many fine points of the instrument.

The program was as follows;

1. National Hymn, "O Canada," Lavalee-Richardson.
2. Solo, "In Dreams I've Heard the Angels Sing," Faure—Miss Davies.
3. Overture to "Ruy Blas," Mendelssohn—Mr. Herbert Sanders.
4. Hymn, "Lead Kindly Light—The choir.
5. Soprano solo and chorus.
6. Aria, "Hear, Ye Israel," — Miss Davies.
7. Christmas Song, Mr. W. McIlree and the choir.
8. Variations on the Austrian hymn —Mr. Herbert Sanders.
9. Motet—By Gounod.
10. Slow movement by Reubke.

Hurtubise In Great Shape to Meet Yankee Rogers

Gene Hurtubise is fast getting into form for his handicap match with "Yankee" Rogers the Buffalo heavy weight at the Grand Opera house on Friday night. He has been working out every day, except Sunday since the match was arranged, and will step on the mat in the "pink."

Rogers too, has been taking no chances, and is training hard. He will arrive in the city this morning, along with his manager, W. H. Naylor and will finish his training here.

There is great difference in opinion as to what chance Hurtubise has against Rogers. Some think that Rogers cannot possibly throw the local lad three times in an hour. Others think he can, and there are some who are so optimistic as to think that "Gene" will secure a fall on his big opponent and thus win the match.

Probably the last mentioned view is a little too optimistic and seems just a question as to whether Hurtubise will be able to withstand his man for the hour without letting him obtain the three falls.

However both men are confident of winning, and although Hurtubise will concede eleven pounds in weight to Rogers, he is two inches and a half taller than the American. Here is the height and weight of the wrestlers; Hurtubise, weight 197, height 6ft. 3in.; Rogers 208 lbs., 6ft 1-2in. in heighth.

The referee for the bout has not yet been decided upon, but it is altogether likely that some outside man will get the job.

An effort is being made to have a large electric clock on the stage, so that the spectators will be able to watch the time for themselves.

A section of the balcony will be reserved for ladies, as a large patronage from them is anticipated by the management.

The program for the night will be as follows:—

1. George Clapp in the "Great Box Mystery."
2. Boxing—Corny Burns vs. "Buddy" Ryan, 3 rounds for a decision and purse.
3. Wrestling—A. C. Yokome v. Bobby Long, best 2 in 3 falls for the feather-weight championship of the city and gold medal.
4. Gene Hurtubise vs. "Yankee" Rogers for a purse of $200, winner take all. Rogers to throw Hurtubise three times in an hour.

In the Realm of Sport

T. J. McAughey won the Hamilton to Toronto road race for the P. J. Muldoon trophy, yesterday and covered the 45 miles in seven hours and 17 minutes, thus establishing a new record for the distance. Will Thomas beat Kid Mead out for second place by a mile.

Claude Pearce of the I.C.A.C. was the first man to run for the trophy, and covered the ground in seven hours and 28 minutes, although handicapped by the poor condition of the roads, and also was forced to run in a blinding snow storm.

Had Pearce have had the advantages as to weather conditions he would have undoubtedly equalled if not bettered the record made by McAughey yesterday of 7.28.

BASEBALL.

Games played in the big leagues yesterday resulted as follows:

Providence v. Toronto, wet grounds.
Jersey City 1, Montreal 6.
Newark 1, Rochester 0.
Baltimore v. Buffalo, rain.

The steamer Water Lily will make her first trip of the season to Stony Lake this morning, with a large cargo of freight, consisting of campers' outfits, etc. The boat was loaded yesterday and leaves at 9 a.m. this morning, returning to the city tomorrow. The steamer will call at points required, on her way up the river.

The Water Lily has already been over the lift lock this season, she going up the canal last Friday.

Feeding for Health

Directions for a Food Expert

A complete change in food makes a complete change in the body. Therefore if you are ailing in any way, the surest road back to health is to change your diet. Try the following breakfast for ten days and mark the result.

Two soft boiled eggs, (if you have a weak stomach, boil the eggs as follows; put two eggs into a pint tin cup of boiling water, cover and set off the stove. Take out in nine minutes; the whites will be the consistency of cream and partly digested. Don't change the directions in any particular.) some fruit, cooked or raw, cooked preferred, a slice of toast, a little butter, four heaping teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts with some cream, a cup of properly boiled Postum Food Coffee.

The Grape-Nuts breakfast food is fully and scientifically cooked at the factory, and both that and the Postum have the diastase (that which digests the starchy part) developed in the manufacture. Both the food and the coffee, therefore are predigested and assist, in a natural way, to digest the balance of the food Lunch at noon the same.

For dinner in the evening use meat and one or two vegetables. Leave out the fancy deserts. Never over-eat. Better a little less than too much.

If you can use health as a means to gain success in business or in a profession it is well worth the time and attention required to arrange your diet to accomplish the result. Read "The Road to Wellville" in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Open Cars will be Running When Weather is Favorable

"It all depends on the weather," said Manager Fairmont to The Times yesterday, when asked when the open trolleys would be put on. "The weather so far has not been warm enough to need them and it will probably not be for a couple of weeks yet before the open cars will be needed."

The hour car will not be put into commission until we have more favorable weather, which will not likely be for 10 days or a fortnight anyway, but as soon it comes there will be no delay in getting this popular car on the rails."

Medicine in the Spring Needed by Everyone

Winter shuts us in from air and only the most robust get even a little sunshine. As a consequence of this unnatural mode of life, the blood becomes pallid, thin, colorless. Then we grow tired, dull, easily tired, have headaches and find our work a burden.

Reduced to this condition we become an easy prey to disease and fill hospitals and churchyards.

To rapidly form rich blood, to expel the accumulated humors that winter has stored up in the system, to call back the energy, endurance and vim that will make life joyous, just take Ferrozone, a spring cleanser, unequalled in medicine.

Ferrozone purifies by rebuilding nerve tissue and vitalizing the blood. The entire system soon feels the beneficient action of new rich blood; slow organs are stimulated to normal activity, expel poisons and wastes from tiffly, harmonious working of the system. Weak folks are restored and health becomes as natural a consequence as growth from moisture and sunlight.

Men and women fortify your nerves with Ferrozone, renew the blood through its marvelous blood-forming power, regain vigorous and enduring strength by its action upon appetite and digestion. Use Ferrozone if you want to be strong.

"I increased my weight seven pounds in one month and regained health that had been lost for two years—did this by using Ferrozone," writes Mrs. C. B. Maybee, of Centertown. "Ferrozone brought me restful sleep and good digestion, enabled me to relish my meals and work hard all day. I consider it the finest tonic, the most nourishing medicine I ever used."

Try Ferrozone yourself, 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers.

AN INCIDENT AND A WARNING

The incident which occurred in Winnipeg on May Day, of hundreds of foreigners marching in procession behind a red flag and demanding employment, is one that should cause serious reflection by the authorities responsible for immigration into Canada. We are told that there was not a single English-speaking man in that crowd. Such incidents as that have not been uncommon in the United States, and we know that a foreign element of this character has been a source of no little trouble in many American cities and been responsible for more than its share of crime in proportion to the whole population. But such an occurrence as that in Winnipeg has hitherto been unknown in Canada, and there will be a very general feeling throughout the country that it behooves those in authority in the Dominion to consider seriously the evil that may be brought about by permitting indiscriminate immigration. It has been stated that the recent visit to Winnipeg of a notorious anarchistic agitator from the United States was the cause of this demonstration on Labor day last. But whatever may have been the incitement the incident is a warning which must not be disregarded. There is no doubt that we shall receive a large influx of people of our own race, and also from countries which enjoy the benefits of free and constitutional governments, and need not therefore seek for population from sources likely to bring undesirable elements into our country. Better grow more slowly than allow an influx that ultimately will cause trouble and lower the standard of our population

Tired & run with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often shows up, the Kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

Four Hour Walk at Lakefield

A walking tournament will be held in the skating rink, Lakefield, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, May 20, 21, and 22nd. Considerable interest is being taken in the event, and a large crowd will likely be present each evening. At the present time there are about fifteen entries, and a number from the surrounding district have expressed their intention of entering the race. The committee in charge are sparing no expense to make it a success.

THE MAXIM GUN.

The origin of the Maxim gun was somewhat curious. Mr. Maxim (Sir Hiram) after the close of the great civil war in America was busying out of the southern battlefields. He picked up a Springfield rifle and began firing at a target. He soon discovered to his amazement, that his shoulder was all black and blue with the recoil. This set him thinking, and he soon conceived the idea of utilizing this force in a gun which would fire automatically.

He went to London full of his idea, but no one would listen to him. In Birmingham the chief man in a factory refused to make a toolt gun.

In despair Mr. Maxim packed up his trunks and went to Paris. In two weeks the work was done. This gun Mr. Maxim exhibited in London in 1885. He spoke of it then as the gun of the future. It is now the gun of the present. It is a wonderful gun and a deadly one. By adjusting the indicator it will fire bullets at any rate from one per minute to 600.

This terrible weapon is started by the firing of the first shot. After that it works itself and will keep going as long as cartridges can be fed into the machine. When one belt of 333 is exhausted, all that is necessary is to hook on another.

When the British government gave an order for the gun they stipulated that it should not weigh more than a hundred pounds and should be capable of firing a thousand rounds in four minutes. Mr. Maxim produced a gun which weighed thirty-five pounds and fired 2,000 rounds in three minutes.

AN IRREGULAR VERB.

One That Made a Frenchman Despair of Learning English.

"What does 'Beat it?' mean?" asks the man of an inquiring frame of mind of his well informed friend

"Why," was the reply, "that means to go, depart, be off, take your leave and don't be slow about it. I don't know what it came from unless it is a bit of policeman's slang for 'Get off my beat!' or 'Clear out unless you want me to beat you!'"

"I am reminded of a line in one of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes' numerous poems, scattered through the pages of his delightful 'Autocrat of the Breakfast Table.' It runs:

"Depart! Be off! Exceed!
Evade! Evanpe!

But it takes a Latin scholar to discover the derivations of all his verbs of motion

"There is a story of a Frenchman who on his way to England was made the victim of a practical joke in regard to the verb 'go,' whose 'went, 'going,' 'gone,' are irregular enough goodness knows. He was found to be struggling with this variation: 'I go; thou departest; he clears out; we cut stick; you make tracks; they absquatulate,' and as he read it he exclaimed: "Mercy! What irregular verbs you have in your English language!"

MODERN REALISM.

Historic Inn Deliberately Fired to Provide Cinematograph Pictures.

Ye Olde Red Lion at Hampton-on-Thames, England, was recently burnt to furnish a fireman's holiday. Despite a history going back to Cardinal Wolsey and a guest-list including Pope, Dryden, Swift, Colley Cibber, Peg Woffington, and Kitty Clive, the place had been doomed to make way for a modern hotel.

Its internal fittings had been removed, and to Capt. Graham, the captain of the local fire brigade, came the idea of making the shell serve a useful purpose—to give good practice to his men and to help the orphan fund of the National Fire Brigade Union by affording to cinematographers and photographers the opportunity of taking realistic pictures and contributing to the fund from their profits.

The window frames, accordingly, were wreathed with cotton wool soaked in paraffin, and oil and inflammable materials were scattered about the interior.

When the cinematograph was in position the fire broke out in the lower part of the house and spread rapidly.

The alarm was given, and the Hampton Fire Brigade and the brigade of the Metropolitan Water Board from the neighboring reservoirs rushed to the inn with three steamers and several fire escapes. The place by then was enveloped in flames, and floods of water were soon playing upon it.

A number of people were able to make their escape from the taproom by the front entrance, but presently several persons, including two women whose escape appeared to be cut off, were seen at the upper windows calling for help. They were brought safely through the flames and smoke to the ground by means of the escape. A man seen crawling along the roof, and another man at an upper window, were also rescued in the same way, and the last to leave the burning building was a man who escaped by jumping from the top of the porch over the main entrance. Two horses were also rescued from the stable.

The firemen continued to pour water on the house for fifteen minutes, when the conflagration was extinguished. The old house was considerably charred after the experiment, and swamped by the water from the engines.

HELPFUL HINTS.

If the covers of the kitchen range get red and will not blacken easily, try rubbing on lemon juice first, then blacken the usual way.

Wall paper which has been marked with grease may be cleansed by means of a hot iron and a blotter or several sheets of tissue paper.

A small brush, borax and hot water will give a beautiful polish to cut glass. When drained rub with a clean cloth or a soft dry brush.

Hang a child's blackboard in the kitchen, with a piece of chalk attached. It is more convenient than pencil and paper and not so easily lost.

It will be economy to finish your sheets with the same width hem at each end. By so doing they can be used either side up and gain much wear.

CANADA'S EARLY DAYS

PRICES OF SIXTY YEARS AGO IN UPPER CANADA.

Former Clerk of Ontario Legislature Gives Interesting Reminiscences—Cherries at Twenty-Five Cents a Tree—Venison Four Cents a Pound—Farm Stock of 1844 Was Inferior—Simple Home Life.

Mr. Charles Clarke, late clerk of the Ontario Legislature, has issued a very readable historical work entitled "Sixty Years in Upper Canada." It was in June of 1844 that Mr. Clarke arrived at Port Robinson, on the Welland canal, and very interesting are his reminiscences of those pioneer days.

"Food," he says, "partook of a simplicity similar to that of dress. Salt meat, eggs and potatoes were the staple edibles after bread. Fresh meat, in country parts, was at some seasons a comparative luxury. Veal was obtainable in spring, mutton in summer, and beef or pork in the fall and winter months, while poultry was generally marketed as soon as possible after the fattening stubbles were exhausted.

Ten Dollar a Pound.

"Fancy groceries were actual luxuries. I have seen currants sold at three yorkers (37 1-2 cents) a pound, and raisins, of a poorer quality than we now see, often commanded a 'quarter.' Tea was dear, although duties were low, and frequently brought a dollar, and coffee, cheaper in proportion, was more freely used.

"Native fruits were cheap. Peaches were bought off the tree in the Niagara district for twenty-five cents per bushel; apples had little commercial value, and cherries could be had in the rural localities in the Niagara district at twenty-five cents 'a tree,' the purchaser picking off the fruit.

"Ale and beer were obtainable, of drinkable quality, in town, but little of either reached country parts. Cider was often used, the most desirable being 'frozen,' so that the watery element was largely eliminated and a very potent intoxicant produced. Whiskey, the common drink of the country, could be had at any of the numerous distilleries by the barrel, at sixteen or twenty cents the gallon, and there were few 'bees,' 'loggings,' or 'raisings' at which it was not more freely dispensed than water, and there was a prevalent opinion that it was much more wholesome.

"Venison, now a luxury, was a common article of food in many sections, and obtainable at three or four cents per pound. Maple sugar and molasses were as common an article for trading transactions in country stores as home-made straw hats, butter, tallow, dried apples, timothy seed, woolen socks, whittled butter ladles, bowls and axe-helves."

Many a Mongrel Breed.

Mr. Clarke discourses entertainingly of the farm stock of those days.

"If cows were 'mixed,' swine, the pork factors, were as ugly as that famous possessor of them who drove them pell-mell into the sea, and were manes as do the wild boars of the German forest. Sheep were of a degenerate Merino breed, small in size and of little value for mutton, and the selling price, minus the skin, was often as low as one dollar the carcase. Cattle were sometimes large when at four or five years of age, they reached maturity, but even then were bony, coarse and more of active than adipose tendencies."

This is some of Mr. Clarke's early history. He would probably say himself that it is of less value than the review of political events which follows. That may be so, for many a reminiscence of Legislative halls has been gathered within the pages of this book. But the records of the simple home life of bygone days should never lack for listeners, and this writer has spread them before the public very entertainingly.

MIXED PROVERBS.

A Game in Which Nimble Wits Shine Brightest.

This is an amusing game for the older boys and girls or for adults. The players seat themselves in a circle or around a table, and one of the players, who has been selected as leader, begins the game by repeating the first half of a well known proverb, and as he finishes he throws a handkerchief to some other player and then begins to count one, two, three, etc. Before he reaches ten the player to whom he has thrown the handkerchief must add the last half of another proverb.

The more incongruous the combination of the two parts the better the effect, of course, and this will give a chance for some very pretty play of wits. If the player does not give the last half of another proverb before the leader counts ten he has to pay a forfeit and surrender the handkerchief to some other player, but if he does respond properly it then becomes his right to throw the handkerchief, and so the game goes on until all have had a chance to respond. Here are some specimen combinations which may be used by those who wish to play the game: A rolling stone—knows his own father. A wise son—gathers no moss. A new broom sweeps—while the sun shines. Make hay while the sun—sweeps clean. All's well—that glitters. All isn't gold—that ends well. A whistling girl and a crowing hen—have no turn. It's a long lane—that always comes to some bad end. A stitch in time—try, try again. If at first you don't succeed—saves nine.

"Swap" National Relics.

A "swap" in national relics is suggested by Mr. W. W. Fox of Toronto, who recently visited New Jersey. Mr. Fox has discovered an old cannon, which was once the property of the British forces, and has had altogether an adventurous career before it found a resting place in Elisabeth, N.J. For years United States tourists visiting the Citadel at Quebec have cast envious eyes on an old cannon which is kept there as a relic, and which bears the inscription: "Captured by the British army at Bunker Hill, June 17, 1775." It seem to have been one of the four cannon which constituted the whole train of field artillery possessed by the colonies at the commencement of the war in 1775.

The gun at Elisabeth, N.J., was cast in Strasburg in 1756, and was sent by Louis XV., King of France, to Canada for the defence of Quebec. Upon the surrender of that place it

A SHORT HISTORY.

These Larder Lake properties were staked out by the Foster brothers, who are old, experienced miners, who have been prospecting up in that country since 1905. They are practical miners.

When the wealth of the Larder Lake District first leaked out, these men made tracks for this district, and after days of hardship in paddling up rivers and carrying their outfit over portages, they finally found the wonderful gold bearing rock, and after a number of weeks' patient work in following gold indications they staked out 640 acres of what some believe will prove the richest gold bearing rock in the district.

After these men had registered these claims and proved there were no other prior claims to them, they brought samples and proofs to Toronto and succeeded in interesting a number of city merchants by convincing them that not one but many possible fortunes are tied up in these valuable 640 acres. On no reasonable consideration would they sell outright, so a small cash sum was paid to them and so many shares in a company to be formed agreed to be given them.

Had they not believed stock in the company would become valuable it is right to infer that they would not have made such a bargain and tied up their properties.

We believe they will be justified in their decision to retain an interest in the properties as shareholders in our Company.

As we, the members of this Company, were convinced by facts, we wish to convince you by facts also.

The Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company has no figureheads or salaried men on its board. Each member of the board is a stockholder, by putting in his money and paying for his shares, and each member stands to lose a good pile if it is not properly handled. It is the intention of the company to run things on a strictly business basis, and all dealings must be above board. We want to make money and we want to make money fairly and honestly—on the miner's risk for the miner's reward.

The city merchants took the properties from the owners and prospectors, had transfers duly executed, organized this company, defraying all expenses to date, and have agreed to accept stock in payment. They must pay the original owners out of their holdings. The treasury stock goes for development.

The property consists of 14 claims, 40 acres each, or about 640 acres, west of Larder Lake and bordering on Grassy Lake. Blair & Smith, Government surveyors, of New Liskeard, were surveyors for the Company.

1/2 CENT A SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without letup, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,462.57 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,-600 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

News in Brief

London, May 19. — King Alfonso, of Spain, is already beginning to feel the influence of his English wife, who is acknowledged to be one of the most tender-hearted and merciful royalties in Europe. The young Spanish monarch, by granting a free pardon to not fewer than ten murderers, at the solicitation of the Queen, some of whom had committed their offences under the most revolting circumstances, has, to all intents and purposes, abolished the death penalty in Spain. In future, not even the most callous criminal will hesitate to apply for the royal clemency, on the strength of the precedent just alluded to, and it is safe to predict that, not only this, but also future Spanish monarchs, will, in every case, maintain the precedent of Alfonso the Merciful.

London, May 19.—This is "peace day" in England and on the continent, and the proverbial dove, with fluttering wings, is brooding over Europe, while speakers in hundreds of meetings are denouncing war as a relic of barbarism and demanding its instant and eternal abolition as a means of settling disputes among nations. Ever since the arbitration tribunal at The Hague was established nine years ago to-day this anniversary has been celebrated by the friends of peace throughout Europe, but to-day's observance is more general than ever before. Scores of meetings were held in London this afternoon and others are scheduled for this evening.

Baltimore, May 19.—William Jennings Bryan has accepted an invitation to deliver his well known lecture on "The Prince of Peace" before the Methodist quadrennial conference this evening.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for general Not a remedy that will straighten shortened limbs of chronic cripples, nor bring forths back to flesh again. That is impossible I can now surely kill the pains and make objectionable diseases in Germany—with a Chemist in the Dominion—I found the last ingredient which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was a perfected, dependable prescription. With that last ingredient, I successfully treated so many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last formely cures all curable cases of the bad watch dreaded disease. Those sand-like wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood poisons and pass away under the action of this remedy as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisons will freely pass from the system, and the cure of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer—to put Help. GREAT UNREST PREVAILS IN INDIA

Allahabad, India, May 19. —The so-called Central Committee of the Indian National Congress, is now assembled in convention at Allahabad to resuscitate the Congress, which broke up in a general row at Surat. Representatives from all the provinces are arriving with draft constitutions in their pockets. The extremists, it appears, have not been invited, and there is not likely to be a revival of the exciting Surat scenes. The extremists are not particularly pleased over their exclusion, and though they are not busy asserting that the Congress is dead, it is quite possible that in the immediate future they may start a corpse reviving experiment of their own. In that case next Christmas may see two Congresses and two presidents, both speaking for United India, one shouting for pure, unadulterated Swaraj and the expulsion of the Moderates along with the British, and the other calling down curses on the heads of the extremists, and asking for a Swaraj that they cannot clearly define.

A certain section of the Moderates no doubt find it convenient to set up a platform in the background, whence they can carry on an insidious campaign against the Government. There are, however, a number of men in the Moderates' ranks who are sincere enough in their desire for constitutional methods. The pity of it is that they have not sufficient strength of mind to cut themselves entirely adrift from the Congress moorings, and that they identify themselves, and are identified with the rabble of the fanatics.

Japanese Grab Land Crucify the Owners

London, May 19.—An American official, who has returned from Korea, has been talking to a correspondent for the Manchester Despatch about the brutal methods of the Japanese in governing that splendid spoil of the recent war. He expressed himself indignantly as to the gross cruelty and injustice with which he said the Japanese treat the Koreans.

"I know of cases", he said, "where Koreans have been tied to crosses and have been riddled with bullets merely for requesting payments for their confiscated land."

He insists that the Japanese are extremely hostile to all forms of foreign enterprise in those portions of the Asiatic mainland subject to their domination and are doing all they can to drive foreigners out of the country.

He says also that the Japanese are as hostile to Englishmen as to any other variety of European, looking upon the much-vaunted alliance as a confession of England's weakness.

"They are treading," he continued, "on everybody's toes. American concessionaries, however, get more support from Washington than the British do from their foreign office, where Japan is concerned. Consequently the English, for whom I was acting, have withdrawn from the field, while my American clients are still pegging away with a view of obtaining their rights in fact."

The American is of the opinion that as an alien nation dominating fellow Asiatics, Japan does not make a favorable impression on a European or American observer. He also holds strongly that English prestige in the far East has suffered through the withdrawal of Great Britain's more imposing war ships, since the Asiatics are influenced only by power which shows itself

Thaw will Not Pay Debts Until Released

New York, May 19.—Harry Thaw who is fighting for his freedom from the insane asylum, has unpaid bills against him amounting to approximately $200,000, and he refused to pay out a dollar to his creditors as long as he is officially insane. Creditors number about a hundred and forty and the amounts of their individual claims range all the way from $35,000 down to a comparatively few dollars. They include lawyers, doctors, alienists and a horde of tradespeople. In fact, nearly everybody who has rendered service or sold anything to Thaw since his first trial for the killing of Stanford White. Thaw's property is all tied up. District-Attorney Jerome, who is opposing Thaw's release from the asylum, rested his case before the close of yesterday afternoon's session and attorney Jas. G. Graham, of Thaw's counsel, called several witnesses in rebuttal, among them Rev. Luke P. Evers, and Rev. John A. Wade, chaplains at the Tombs prison, both of whom testified that they had talked with Thaw many times during his confinement there and had invariably found him rational. Dr. Geo. W. Jacoby and Dr. Graeme Hammond, experts, gave it as their opinion that Thaw was sane, at present. An interesting development of the day was the report of A. Russell Peabody, of Thaw's counsel, that Thaw would go on the witness stand.

Provincial Elections, 1908

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I beespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

Has your strength given out?
Do you feel languid and tired this spring?
Are you pale, somewhat nervous, finding it hard to do your housework?
Thousands feel just the same,—feel the enervating influence of spring, whether that brings our latent symptoms of disease and weakness. You should do like Mrs. Flanigan of Essex Junction — here is her experience. "I will never again suffer the tortures of deadening spring illness — never will I have headaches, such sleepless nights, such pale cheeks and lack of appetite. I lived through it all several times, but now I know the medicine that cures. I urge every person, young and old, to try the invigorating effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. When I was so played out, listless,—Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me appetite—I relished my meals and grew strong. Rosy color came to my cheeks, every day I felt brighter and better. All my old strength has been restored and the great tonic, blood purifying powers of Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."
Women who are continually pale, blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, aching muscles, bearing down pains, lack of sleep and loss of appetite—they are the poor women that sorely need Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, 25c at all dealers.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. Tried while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure triple-refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

Cheese Supply will be Short

The cheese output of the local factories this month is smaller than during any similar month for years. The high price of feed and consequent giving up of cattle keeping last winter is a large factor in the shortage. The backward spring and lack of grass for food has materially lowered the supply of milk, and cows are not in their usual condition of health. As a result the number of boxes offered on the local Cheese Board will probably be very small in comparison with previous years.

Piles are easily and quickly checked with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. To prove it I will mail a small trial box as a convincing test. Simply address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. I surely would not send it free unless I was certain that Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment would stand the test. Remember it is made expressly and alone for swollen, painful, bleeding or itching piles, either external or internal. Large jar 50c. Sold by all dealers.

The Late David Smyth

Resolution of Condolence by L.O.L. No. 46

The following letter was handed The Times for publication:—

Fraserville, May 18th, 1908.

We, the officers and members of L.O.L. No. 46 desire to convey to you their sincere and heartfelt sympathy in the bereavement which you have recently undergone in the loss of a loving son, a devoted husband and kind father.

Your loss is our loss, which we feel to be very great, because one has been removed from among us, that set forth the noble Christian principles of our association in his everyday life since his connection with the Order twenty-six years ago, and whose example was worthy of imitation by every member of our association.

We know that words fail at such a time to convey our true feelings, but we assure you that we all grieve with you in your sorrow and affliction, and our prayer is that God who saw fit to call our dear Brother to his eternal Home may give you grace sufficient to overcome your sorrow and say "Thy will be done".

We cannot always see the purpose of the affliction but God knows what is best for us and we humbly bow to His will. We therefore, point you in your great sorrow to the Great Comforter who doeth all things well. And may you all look forward to the bright day when you will meet your dear one where partings are no more.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge by appointment at its last regular meeting.

JOS. MADILL,
G. G. CLARKE.

Given Long Service Medal

Capt. R. T. Hounsell, of the 57th Regiment, has received his long service medal from the Department of Militia. The medal proper is about the size of a fifty cent piece and on one side it bears the King's head and on the other the words, "For long service in the Colonial Auxiliary Forces."

Captain Hounsell has been twenty years in the militia, joining the 57th Regiment as a private in 1888. At that time he was only fourteen years of age. He has worked himself up to the rank of captain and his many friends will be glad to hear that henceforth the long service medal design will adorn his uniform.

ZAM-BUK SAVED THIS MAN'S FINGER!

Mr. William C. Edwards, Peter Street, Toronto (late steward Elks' Club), sustained a severe cut on the middle finger of the left hand. Blood poisoning ensued and the finger caused him excruciating agony. He says: "My hand was so swollen and painful that I had to carry it in a sling for some months. I was under the care of a well-known doctor in Toronto for several weeks. The wound got no better, and one day he said my finger would have to be taken off. The pain from the wound was terrible and was extending right up the arm. I consulted another medical man and was treated by him for some weeks longer. He then suggested that the finger be opened and the bone scraped. At this stage a friend advised me to try some Zam-Buk which I did. I bathed the wound and applied Zam-Buk as directed. Next morning the wound began to bleed. It was a healthy sign so I continued with the treatment, and in a weeks time I was able to discard the bandage. A little more perseverance and Zam-Buk cured the wound completely."

Zam-Buk Cures cuts, burns, chafings, itch, eczema, running sores, ringworm, piles, boils, poisoned wounds and all skin diseases. All druggists and stores, or post paid from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

HEAD OFFICE—MANNING CHAMBERS—TORONTO—ONTARIO

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares;—

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which is a regular net-work of silver bearing veins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 to date varying in width from 6 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock speculation) and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent. to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Dividends Paid by Cobalt Mining Companies

Foster Cobalt Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 45,000 00
McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd., have paid... 45,000.00
The Conagas Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907 ... 200,000.00
The Cobalt Silver Queen, Cobalt, paid during 1907 ..... 120 000.00
Temiscamingue & Hudson Bay Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 746,120.00

(These shares could have been had at 50 cents, and have sold as high as $190.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4 90 per ton, and over $60,000,000 00 has been paid in dividends. The Tredwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2 00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $20 00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would means a daily output of $2000 00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Tillsonburg, May 20 — Wheatly's body was found in the dining-room. He had fallen from his bedroom, two storeys above, with the falling floor.

Tillsonburg, May 20 — The fire which swept through the Queen's Hotel, the best hostelry in town, at five o'clock this morning, resulted in the deaths of two persons, and probably three and five or six persons were badly injured. The hotel, which is situated in the heart of the town, had about forty-five rooms, and was crowded with guests. There were about sixty persons in the building. All have been accounted for, and the only casualty in doubt is the fate of Wheatley, the night clerk, who was evidently burned to death.

CAUSE IS UNKNOWN.

The cause of the fire is unknown. It broke out shortly after five o'clock, when the guests and most of the employes were still sleeping, and almost before one could say Jack Robinson the flames were bursting out at the windows. A domestic, who was dressing, was the first to discover it and she ran down the corridors screaming "Fire." The startled guests rush d to the doors and windows in their night robes only to find that escape was apparently cut off, as smoke and fire rushed up the staircase and filled the building, which is of frame and three stories in height. Only a few persons got out by the stair-case. Nearly all who escaped did so by the ladders. None of them was fully clothed.

INDESCRIBABLE EXCITEMENT.

The excitement that prevailed until everyone was out of the building is indescribable. People rushed about shrieking and imploring aid. Some tried to save their possessions, and others tried to ... serve their samples, women went back for their jewelry, others thought of their lives only.

A. Brassard, of Toronto traveller who was killed, was driven by the flames to the second balcony, from which he jumped, as did several others. He hung on long enough to be rescued until the flames scorched and burned him, then pain drove him to extremity and he jumped. His body was badly burned and broken. He lived only a few minutes.

SIXTY GUESTS IN HOTEL.

The hotel had about sixty inmates last night and the wonder is that more were not killed.

Miss Dunbar of Buffalo, is not expected to live. Her injuries are very serious.

BARTENDER PROBABLY DEAD.

Thos. Wheatly, the bartender, is still missing and slight hopes are held that he is alive. Most of the casualties occurred through people becoming confused and jumping to the ground.

The fire escape from the third storey was very useful to those who knew the house and its location. The house was roused about five o'clock by a woman's screams of warning. Those who got out first were able to escape by the stairway but soon the exit was by the windows or the fire-escape.

The firemen confined the blaze to the one building by zealous work.

An inquest will probably be held to fix the responsibility and cause of the disaster.

The building was full of Toronto travellers, many of whom had thrilling experiences. These included;

W. C. Holliday, representing H. W. Nelson, fancy goods. He lost his clothes but is thankful.

W. C. A. Proctor, of Austin and Co., representing jewelers, who lost everything of his own, including private jewelry, but saved his samples. He ran down stairs in his pajamas.

R. M. Overholt, representing A. Bradshaw & Son. This man had an exciting time. He tried to escape by a cover doorway at the back of the building, and found his way blocked. He rushed back, grouped his way upstairs, and got on the back roof of the next building, whence he slid down a water pipe to safety.

A blacksmith who passed the building at five o'clock, Hacksborough by name, says there was no sign of fire then. At 5.15 the alarm had been rung and the people were jumping from the upper balconies.

The origin of the fire is unknown. It may have started downstairs near the front stairway, as some say, and have worked its way through the building without having been noticed. Others declare it started in the kitchen.

The fire brigade did good work, checking the flames and rescuing many of the guests by the ladder route.

The loss on the hotel proper will be about $28,000, and insurance $15,000, but this by no means represents the entire monetary loss.

SMASHED TO DEATH

Miss Gray, the milliner, a daughter of John Gray of Stayner, and employed by W. B. Hogarth and Co., also stood on the third story balcony, while the flames howled about her and sang her hair. She, too, leaped from the balcony to the stone sidewalk below and was smashed to death.

Her example was followed by the proprietor's wife and daughter, Mrs. and Miss Mero, but these were more fortunate, for they escaped with their lives. Miss Mero, who is about 22 years old, suffered a broken leg and a sprained back, and was carried off to the hospital.

Mrs. Mero, who looked almost the same month as did her daughter, is also badly hurt.

Mr. Mero escaped without injury, but he took great chances, crawling down the main staircase on hands and knees.

Miss Dunbar, a Buffalo girl of wealthy parents, said to be interested in the hotel business, leaped from the second balcony with the Meros, with whom she was visiting. She had run for her diamonds, worth $2,000, and jumped with them to the ground. In the fall she dropped the gems, but they were afterwards recovered. She will probably die, as she sustained a fractured skull, a broken arm, and terrible cuts and bruises. It is said her parents are coming here on a special train.

The Campbell sisters, of Kincardine, jumped out of a window on the first floor. In so ... a way cut and bruised, and one of them is quite seriously hurt.

Ten Degrees of Frost in the Wheat Country

Winnipeg, May 20.—Today it is so cold as to be dangerously near the frost line. Indeed, frost is reported from a number of points last night, including Indian Head and Brandon. Ten degrees are recorded at some places, but it is unlikely that wheat would be damaged to any extent, although it will be disastrous to the wild fruit crops, which promised to be remarkably prolific. If the wheat is nipped the grain will stool out even better than otherwise, although it may be thrown back a few days. It has been growing splendidly, and is up from two to six inches all over Manitoba and Saskatchewan, while out on winter wheat areas some of it is two feet high. Never has the crop had such a favorable start, and never did it promise such an abundant harvest.

FAST TIME BEING MADE AT LAKEFIELD WALKING MATCH

Smaile and Dolge Going a Merry Pace, Covering 11 Miles and Three Laps in Two Hours

Lakefield, May 20.—A large and enthusiastic crowd attended the opening session of the big 3-day walk, now on program in the skating rink, and the evening's sport was the best ever seen here.

Eleven contestants faced the flag for the start, and promptly at eight o'clock they were sent away for the grind of two hours.

Throughout the evening the spectators were kept keyed to a high pitch of excitement by the sprinting of Smaile and Dodge, who were on even terms all the way, and at the end of the two hours, had each covered 11 miles, 3 laps. This distance for the time, is particularly fine walking, especially as the track is 17 laps to the mile.

Northey a boy of 13, was the surprise of the evening, he covering 10 miles 16 laps in the 2 hours, and is only 4 laps behind the leaders.

During the evening a first-class band enlivened the walkers with the latest popular music.

	Miles	Laps
Smaile	11	3
Dodge	11	3
Northey	10	16
Crawford	10	13
Carter	10	12
Condon	10	11
Short	10	11
Leggett	10	11
Quinsen	10	6
Grey	10	6
Middlemiss	10	2

Tomorrow night the walkers will start at eight o'clock and finish at 10 p.m. And Friday evening from 8 to 11.

There will be a good band in attendance.

57th Regiment were Inspected Last Night

Thousands of people witnessed the inspection of the 57th Regiment on Central Park last night. The boys turned presented a neat and smart appearance, and turned out in full strength.

The inspecting officers were; — General Lake of Ottawa, Col. Gordon, of the Eastern Command, Col. Young, D.O.C. of No. 3, and Col. Heward, A.D.C. to General Lake.

The men were first put through a company drill and the showing made by them was perfect.

The soldiers were next put through a thorough regimental drill and after a strenuous hour of marching wheeling and "etc." the work of inspection was brought to a close.

The 57th band also turned out, 37 strong and together with the bugle band furnished catchy march music while the regiment was parading before the visiting officers.

The visiting officers were favorably impressed by the fine showing the red coats made, and spoke highly of the royal way in which the officers and men of the 57th had received them.

"Petes" Defeat T.A.S. 12 to 1 in a Practice Game

Manager Johnston's "Petes" added another scalp to their belts yesterday afternoon when they stepped on the necks of the T.A.S. men in a practice game to the tune of 12 to 1, at Riverside Park.

Murphy, one of the "Dago" trio was on the rubber for the Petes, and he mowed them up on cannon ball ball style and completely bewildered the "Abstainers" willow workers, with his "Merry Widow" benders. Edmunds was again at work behind the stick and although suffering from a sore arm, his base throwing was immense.

"Josh" Craig, John Hogan's side partner covered the initial corner for the Petes, and although he fielded his position well, his base-running was of the same calibre as his walking stunts—very poor.

Johnston covered the second sack, and Maddock was at short. O'Brien was at third, and his work at this position shows that he is a first-class all-round man.

The Peterborough outfield was composed of Burns, Connors and Clements and they pulled off many pretty catches during the afternoon.

The T.A.S. team was strengthened somewhat by the help of Cahill and Callihan of the Athletics, and for the first three innings they managed to keep the Midland Leaguers from scoring. But after that the Petes scored when they pleased, and at the end of the sixth had piled up a lead of 12 runs.

The T.A.S. bunch got their first and only tally in the ninth, which just saved them from a shut-out.

There was a fair-sized crowd of fans, but the spectators were for the most part made up of Intermediate league players who were out to get a pass on the T.A.S. outfit.

The score by innings was as follows;

Peterborough ..... 00026400x—12
T. A. S. ..... 00000001— 1

Gasoline Tank Exploded Seven People Drowned

Little Rock, Ark., May 20.—A dispatch to the Gazette from Clarendon, Arkansas, says seven prominent young society people were drowned last night when the tank of a gasoline launch in which they were going for a moonlight excursion exploded, wrecking the boat. Other members of the party were rescued with difficulty. The drowned are Miss Lillian Winfield of Clarendon, Ark.; Miss Alma Pitt of St. Louis, Mo.; Matt. Counts of Claredon; Miss Bessie Palmer, of Kansas City; Miss Alice Burton, of Helena, Ark.; Joseph McManus, of Clarendon, Dr. A. L. Houston, of Clarendon.

One of those rescued, Miss Mary ... from here because of the prolonged absence of the party. None of the bodies have been recovered.

Cavett, of Clarendon, was severely burned. The boat left Clarendon early in the evening, bearing a merry party, who had planned to go several miles down the river. When about five miles below Clarendon, the tank of the launch exploded, wrecking the boat and hurling the occupants into the stream. Few could swim, and some were stunned by the force of the explosion, and went down before swimmers in the party could make an effort at rescue.

The survivors were found on the river bank by runners despatched

Wild Shooting at Cleveland--Street Cars were Burned

Cleveland, O., May 20.—Continuation of the unsettled conditions in the local street railway strike for at least 24 hours is the result of an all-night meeting of the members of the State Board of Arbitration and the officials of the Municipal Street Railway Company, together with the leaders of the union. The conference adjourned shortly after three o'clock this morning without hour for reassembling. No announcement was made on behalf of either side of the controversy. After a night marked by the most violent conditions since the strike was inaugurated five days ago, the police and county officers began preparations to protect the so-called non-union crews of cars, and the public that had the courage to ride.

EIGHTEEN WERE INJURED

Because of the riotous actions of last night wherein 18 persons were injured, some perhaps fatally— the cars early this morning were but ... patronized. Russes and other vehicles continued to ply on the various lines and were used liberally. Daylight brought with it, however, courage, and as the police force was strengthened the people began to use the cars.

DYNAMITE EVERYWHERE

A patrolman found fully a hundred big dynamite caps scattered along the car tracks between Bridge avenue and West 24th street at two o'clock this morning. The caps were placed so close together that they would have completely wrecked the first car that struck them. Fifteen minutes after he found a bottle of nitro glycerine lying in the gutter at Bridge avenue and 43rd street.

Leaders of the street railway men's strike opened their campaign of publicity last night with three open air meetings. These meetings are to be held for several nights in all parts of the city and the public is to be told the strikers' side of the controversy.

Mrs. A. Kent Found Dead in Bed

On going upstairs to call her out the piece of Mrs. Andrew Kent, found her lying cold in death early yesterday afternoon.

When the young lady called she found the door locked and there was no response to her knocking. She called some of the neighbors and one of the windows was raised and the entrance to the house gained. It did not take long to find why the knock had been no response to the knocking at the door. Mrs. Kent was lying cold in bed. She had apparently retired the previous night and passed away before morning. She was subject to epileptic fits and it is thought she died from one as a result of an attack of one of these.

Mrs. Kent was sixty years of age and had lived alone for some time. Her husband died several years ago and the family are all away from the city. She is survived by several sons and daughters, one sister, Mrs. Jason Elliott, and one brother, Mr. John McPherson, of this city. The deceased lady was highly respected and her death will be greatly regretted.

The case was reported to Coroner Dr. Gray by Dr. Carmichael, who was called in. After making an investigation Dr. Gray decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Piles are easily and quickly cured with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. To prove it I will mail a small trial box as a convincing test. Simply address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Government will Further Amend Elections Bill

Ottawa, May 20.—The current report on the Parliamentary lobbies this afternoon is to the effect that rather than submit to the total disorganization of the public service of the Dominion through the Opposition's refusal to vote supplies, the Government will amend the first clause of the elections bill in such a way as to overcome the Conservative party's objection to the measure.

Instead of the judges in Manitoba, British Columbia, and the unorganized districts of Ontario and Quebec having authority to add names to and remove names from the voters' lists, the duties of the judges will be limited to the allocation of voters to their proper polls where the lists as prepared for provincial purposes are not available in their present form for the federal election.

If this is done, and the present deadlock overcome, it would not be surprising if the remaining business of the session was rushed to a speedy conclusion so that prorogation might be reached if possible by the first of July.

Ten Entries For Boys' Six Hour Walking Race

Ten entries have been received for the big six-hour walk for the boys of the Y.M.C.A., which starts this afternoon at 4.30.

The "kid" pedestrians will walk for an hour today and tomorrow, they will "grind on" for another hour, while Saturday's session will be of four hours' duration.

The boys have been diligently training for this event for the past two weeks, and there should be some lively sport furnished.

Wanted by Police for Murdering His Brother

Yesterday morning Chief Hazel received a letter from the police commissioners of Champaign County, O., giving him a description of a man wanted by the Champaign police to answer a charge of murdering his brother at noon on the 16th of April. Charles Brannon is the man wanted and Chief Hazel has been asked to publish his description. Here it is,—

Brannon is 47 years of age, 5 feet 7 to 9 inches tall, weighs from 160 to 175 pounds wears a down-cast look, stoop-shouldered, and leans a little forward from the hips. He looks no one squarely in the face. His face is pitted and bears marks of years of syphilitic suffering, the marks strong resembling pock-marks.

The murder was committed on April 16th, just as the family was called to dinner. Charles went into the sitting room and taking a shot gun from the closet, emptied its contents into his brother William's neck who was about to greet his sister-in-law and nephew, who had just arrived from Buffalo. The quarrel originated from a dispute over $150. After the murder Brannon immediately fled and lost himself between Middletown and Rosewood. The gun was found some days later.

Brannon is a moulder by trade, but is usually found around race tracks. When last seen he wore a black moustache and black hair, a blue knit shirt, striped overalls, high laced boots and a slouched hat. He was seen in Detroit on May 4th.

The letter was signed by Glores Ireland, sheriff, and Wm. McGree, deputy sheriff.

Lakefield Produces the Real Walking "Boy Wonder"

Lakefield may be only a village but in the last few years many notable athletes have been turned out there. The latest to spring a surprise on us is Northey a 13-year-old youngster, who was one of the starters in the 3-day walking race, which commenced at Lakefield last night. Northey although only a boy of 13 years of age, covered 11 miles in two hours on a 17-lap track, and his performance marks him as the coming world's champion of the heel and toe game.

This is a record to be proud of, and Lakefield should be proud of this noted young athlete, who will undoubtedly help add to the fame that Bloomfield and Ridpath earned for their former home with the paddle.

Doctors All Advise Suitable Spring Tonic

In the spring time the vigor and restoring power of the body fall very low. Instead of being rich and nourishing, the blood is thin and watery. As a result the bodily forces become less active, sleep fails to bring rest. An ever-increasing tiredness develops into over-powering weakness.

People suffering from this spring sickness feel heavy and drowsy; they don't want to eat; they don't enjoy work—about half sick and half well. This is just the condition that favors pneumonia and typhoid, and you must build up as quickly as possible. You must increase your blood supply and make it rich and red.

The only way this can be done is by using Ferrozone, which is acknowledged to be the most efficient spring medicine.

The marvellous purifying and tonic properties of Ferrozone are quickly felt because the blood is at once supplied with the elements it needs to become rich and red. It is ironized vitalized and rapidly brought to its normal strength.

The very best ingredients for toning up the system are contained in Ferrozone, and if you use it you are sure to get back your old-time strength and spirits.

If you suffer from debility, insomnia, nervousness, loss of appetite, or any of the symptoms of disordered blood, nothing will so rapidly tone you up as this great food tonic, Ferrozone. Its record of successful cures, its recommendation by the public, by druggists and doctors commends it to every thinking person.

You need Ferrozone to make you well. Why not get to-day? Sold by all druggists; price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50.

A HUMAN BAROMETER

Professor Cox of the U. S. weather bureau not only furnishes the community with forecasts of the weather, but teaches people how to be forecasters themselves, on a very modest scale. When he was asked recently for an explanation of the familiar fact that rheumatic joints and other feeble portions of the body ached when rain was approaching he gave the philosophy of this experience and made out the human body a sort of barometer.

His theory is explained in part in Professor Garbett's book on meteorology which contains the following passage:—

As the normal pressure, or weight, of the atmosphere is about one ton to every square foot of surface at the level of the sea, and a change of one inch in the mercurial column of the barometer means a change in pressure of about seventy pounds to every square foot of surface, decided changes in pressure must exert a marked influence upon the body and its functions. A change in the barometer of one inch in twenty-four hours is not uncommon in many portions of the United States, and this change in the barometer causes a change of about one-half ton in the weight of the atmosphere that is sustained by the average human body. It is not difficult, therefore, to imagine that the physical organism of animals may be sensitive to these changes and that it has become an inherited instinct to associate the sensations experienced under different atmospheric pressure with the kind of weather they indicate. The organization of deceased and delicate human bodies and of many kinds of animals is extremely sensitive to atmospheric changes, and aches, pains and nervousness in human subjects or wise behaviour on the part of animals, birds and insects, may, in a measure, be attributed to low, rapidly decreasing atmospheric pressure that precedes and attends storm periods.

The blood and other fluids of the body, Professor Cox says, contain a considerable amount of air, and this air expands in proportion as the external atmospheric pressure on the body is reduced. In a time of low barometer this produces an internal pressure against the nerves, and wherever the nerves are already inflamed there is pain. This pain, therefore, is a sign of low barometer, but not always of rain, as precipitation is governed by many influences.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often shows up, the Kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

WALKING.

The big six day walking match at [illegible] is proving attracting many walkers from all over Canada.

The latest to enter is P. G. Towns, Peterboro, who has made a name for himself as a walker.

The youngest son of Mr. Mark Spencely is also likely to start.

PLANNED MANY ROBBERIES.

Joseph Hebburn is Living Counterpart of "Professor Moriarty."

"Professor Moriarty," depicted by Sir Conan Doyle in "Sherlock Holmes," who crouched in a web of crime, has a living counterpart in Joseph Hebburn, who was sentenced recently at the Newington (London) Sessions to three and a half years penal servitude. Like "Moriarty," Hebburn, referred to by the eight burglars (one a negro) he employed as "Manuel," simply "pulled the strings," subordinates carrying out the daring schemes he evolved.

Within five months he planned close upon twenty robberies in Southwest London. Recently his subordinates fell, one by one, into the net of the law, until he himself was obliged to take part in an ingenious ship robbery in Putney, when a smart detective, Sergt. Davies, who had been following, caught him in the act.

Only 25, "Manuel" was agile, well spoken and cunning to a degree. His "headquarters" were never known. He moved from point to point, sometimes taking rooms in lodging houses, at others in small hotels. Even when his men were working out his plans he professed a friendship for the police, approached the detectives trying to trace him, suggested lines of inquiry, and strove to lead them off the scent.

Flats and shops were his principal objective. He is said to have had a small army of spies and "intelligence men." Having found out by their help every detail of the movements of his victims and the precautions taken to safeguard till, safe or valuables he was to rifle; he called a meeting of two or more of his satellites and devised a plan of campaign. But when the burglary was committed he was usually far from the spot.

He is believed to have planned the following typical scheme: A woman in a suburban flat received a telegram purporting to come from her husband, asking her to meet him in the city. Half an hour after she had gone, leaving the flat unoccupied, a pantechnicon van, with two men in charge, drove up. Every stick of furniture and every article of value was moved out into the van. But for the suspicions of a neighbor, who, astonished at the sudden removal, informed the police and so led to the capture of one of the men the robbery would have been completely successful.

DEFIED THE LAW.

Dangerous Transvaal Gang Finally Broken Up.

Armed robbers "held up" the branch of the National Bank at Langlaagte, Transvaal, a few months ago and abstracted about £1,200 from the tills. Since then three men have been sentenced to ten years' hard labor for their share in the robbery.

The police have now discovered the man who planned the whole affair. His name is Walter Kirby, and he is also to be accommodated in gaol for a ten years' term. His sentence closes the history of one of the most famous gangs of criminals the Transvaal has known. The gang was formed originally by Percy John Collingwood, who may be described as the "Moriarty" of South Africa. Collingwood was a gentleman by birth, and received a thorough training as a engineer after he left school.

His master mind gathered around him on the Rand a gang of dangerous criminals, white and colored, who placed implicit trust in their "chief," and who for a time successfully carried out a series of crimes ably planned by him. Collingwood pitted his brains against those of the entire detective force, and for a time he more than held his own.

It was part of his method to keep in close touch with the police, and he was a frequent visitor at the police offices, whither he went on the most flimsy pretext. At last the acting-chief of the Criminal Investigation Department, Mr. Mavrogordato, discovered the identity of his clever opponent, and, after many attempts, brought home to him a serious crime, for which Collingwood was sentenced at Pretoria in January, 1907, to twelve years' imprisonment, with hard labor, for culpable homicide.

The crime was committed in the course of a robbery which he had planned when he found it necessary to get rid of a native "tool" who knew too much. After Collingwood's removal, Kirby appears to have assumed command of the operations of the gang, but evidently he did not succeed in getting the implicit trust of his followers.

Kirby's downfall, following the capture and sentence of these three, is the last act in the operations of a gang of criminals who have been a menace to the public safety for years.

Edward VII. as a Farmer.

The rich crop of prizes which the King's cattle and sheep have won at the Bingley Hall show, Birmingham, is the latest demonstration of His Majesty's success as a farmer, of which he is so deservedly proud. When the King began breeding nearly forty years ago, the Sandringham farm lands were in an almost hopeless condition, barren and barely capable of cultivation. To-day, according to Rider Haggard, "it is a wonderful farm, for nowhere is there so much high-bred stock to be seen on the same area."

But probably nowhere will you find such an array of plates and cups won at shows as that which Sandringham boasts. At a single exhibition his Majesty once won no fewer than fourteen first prizes. In 1903 he captured five first prizes and cups, in addition to numerous seconds and thirds; in 1904 his prizes numbered twenty; in 1905 he won a champion plate, a challenge cup and eighteen other prizes, including four firsts, while last year he took at the Smithfield show ten firsts, nine "breed" cups and plates, six other prizes and several highly commended," and every prize-winner he has bred himself.

A Dangerous Gift.

Why are you hurrying off so soon?"

"I have just given Miller a cigar, and he's lighting it now."

Benjamin Constant.

Benjamin Constant, having aided with Napoleon during the hundred days, felt the need of justifying himself when Louis XVIII. returned to power. He wrote the king a letter with that end in view and called upon Mme. Recamier to discuss the subject. She asked him quietly:

"Have you finished your letter?"

"Yes."

"Are you satisfied with it?"

"Entirely satisfied. I have almost persuaded myself."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

CANADA'S PULP WEALTH.

Something Should Be Done to Conserve Great National Asset.

"Is Canada to go on exporting, in ever-increasing quantities, a great natural asset in its practically natural state, or is she to take such action as will result in its manufacture within her own borders, and thus have the payrolls of many, many millions of dollars paid to Canadians, in place of United States, labor, as at present?"

This was the vital problem submitted to the Canadian Club at Toronto recently by E. H. Lewis, M. P. for West Huron, in an address on "Pulpwood and Paper."

Canada, said the speaker, had already arrived at that point at which Canadians could no longer speak of their inexhaustible forest supplies. Canada, however, still had the greatest areas of commercial timber in the world to-day, and in Ontario and wood. Pulpwood cut on the crown lands in Ontario had to be manufactured into pulp or paper in the province. Quebec had no such restrictions, and no steps were being taken to prevent United States corporations from adding to their already immense holdings of timber lands. This was true also of Nova Scotia. The Americans were acquiring vast areas that they might secure supplies for their mills south of the line and give employment to thousands there at the expense of Canada. According to The Wall Street Journal the International Paper Co. had secured 1,255,000 acres of timber land, and most of it in Canada.

"The Americans even go so far as to deny to Canadian vessels the privilege of carrying that pulpwood across the lake to the American mills," said Mr. Lewis. "Of fourteen vessels carrying pulpwood from Lower St. Lawrence, Quebec ports, to Wisconsin ports last season, twelve were United States and two Norwegian boats. Now, supposing this exported pulpwood was manufactured into pulp in Canada it would leave this country, and I give the lowest possible figures, for ground pulp $20 a cord in place of $6. If made into sulphite fibre, $30 to $32 per cord; made into paper, $40 to $45 and up. The best Massachusetts line runs as high as $348.02 per ton. Would it not be better to have the wood manufactured in Canada than to continue to export our raw material to the United States, where it is not only used to meet their own demands but also to undersell us in the British and other markets?

"Here is an object lesson: Japan imports 5,000,000 lbs. of British paper and 8,500,000 of American paper—Canada is not mentioned. England imports $28,369,075 worth of paper—principally from the United States. Where does she get her wood pulp? From Canada. Yet Canada is not mentioned.

"I believe, for obvious reasons, that the press of the United States would fight against any action by their Government which would have a tendency to keep out of their market paper made in Canada. We have control of the raw material necessary for the making of their newspaper."

Will Make Canada Warmer.

A startling theory as to the future of the Canadian climate has been put forward by Mr. M. B. Cotworth, of York, England, who was in Montreal recently on his way home after a sojourn in Alaska. He states that the North Pole is shifting and the climate is changing, making the northern territories of the American continent warmer and Siberia and Asia colder. He claims that he has gathered irrefutable evidence of this in Alaska, and that this evidence will be discussed at the next meeting of that famous body of scientists, the British Association.

His theory is that the immense accumulations of ice along the Canadian shore and in the Arctic ocean, and in particular in Baffin's Land and Greenland, is by the force of gravity slowly pushing the crust of the earth over towards Siberia, where there are no accumulations of glacial ice to counteract the movement. This means that the North Pole and the Arctic Circle generally is moving, and that an inevitable consequence will be a warmer climate for Canada.

As showing the incalculable weight of the ice in the north, he says Greenland is covered with a blanket about 10,000 feet thick, while the whole of the colossal icefield in the north would be sufficient to cover North America with a sheet 1,000 feet thick. This ice, he says, is accumulating faster than it disappears, and the movement of the earth's crust is becoming proportionately more rapid.

One curious effect of this change, it is said, may be a number of boundary difficulties between Canada and the United States. At present certain boundaries are fixed by latitude, and if the North Pole is really moving the latitudes are changing also, rendering it advisable that the boundary be speedily marked everywhere by permanent monuments where it has not been so marked already.

The Dominion's Revenue.

The statement of revenue and expenditure of the Dominion for the fiscal year ending March last, representing receipts and payments which have passed through the books of the Finance Department up to the last day of the month, show a total revenue of $94,708,983 and a total expenditure on consolidated fund account of $85,088,374. These figures, of course, do not represent the full return for the year, which will not be available for several weeks yet. When the final balance for the year is struck it is expected that the total revenue will be fully $96,500,000, and the total consolidated fund expenditure about $79,000,000, thus leaving a surplus of approximately $17,500,000, as estimated by Hon. Mr. Fielding in his budget speech. The total revenue for the preceding twelve months was $88,805,494. The increase for the past fiscal year was therefore about $9 700,000.

Touching.

"Well," responded the applicant, "just pretend that you have a grudge against me."

A SHORT HISTORY

These Larder Lake properties were staked out by the Foster brothers, who are old, experienced miners, who have been prospecting up in that country since 1906. They are practical miners.

When the wealth of the Larder Lake District first leaked out, these men made tracks for this district, and after days of hardship in paddling up rivers and carrying their outfit over portages, they finally found the wonderful gold bearing rock, and after a number of weeks' patient work in following gold indications they staked out 640 acres of what some believe will prove the richest gold bearing rock in the district.

After these men had registered these claims and proved there were no other prior claims to them, they brought samples and proofs to Toronto and succeeded in interesting a number of city merchants by convincing them that not one but many possible fortunes are tied up in these valuable 640 acres. On no reasonable consideration would they sell outright, so a small cash sum was paid to them and so many shares in a company to be formed agreed to be given them.

Had they not believed stock in the company would become valuable it is right to infer that they would not have made such a bargain and tied up their properties.

We believe they will be justified in their decision to retain an interest in the properties as shareholders in our Company.

As we, the members of this Company, were convinced by facts, we wish to convince you by facts also.

The Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company has no figureheads or salaried men on its board. Each member of the board is a stockholder, by putting in his money and paying for his shares, and each member stands to lose a good pile if it is not properly handled. It is the intention of the company to run things on a strictly business basis, and all dealings must be above board. We want to make money and we want to make money fairly and honestly—on the miner's risk for the miner's reward.

The city merchants took the properties from the owners and prospectors, had transfers duly executed, organized this company, defraying all expenses to date, and have agreed to accept stock in payment. They must pay the original owners out of their holdings. The treasury stock goes for development.

The property consists of 16 claims, 40 acres each, or about 640 acres, west of Larder Lake and bordering on Grassy Lake. Blair & Smith, Government surveyors, of New Liskeard, were surveyors for the Company.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an hanchad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out, send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,600 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

—Hubert Bell, M.D., C.M., M.R.C.S., son of our esteemed fellow townsman Mr. Frank Bell, Clerk of the First Division Court of this county, — House Surgeon of the Royal Eye Hospital of London, England. We have congratulate Dr. Bell on his continued success. The Royal Hospital is an immense institution devoted wholly to diseases of the eye. Last year the annual statement shows there was an attendance of 8,000 Out-patients which will give an idea of the opportunities for study and practice afforded there. Some of the best surgeons in the world are members of the staff. Dr. Bell has been on the staff for more than a year. When he has visited the continental hospitals he will probably return to Canada to practise as an oculist and aurist.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a jangled, tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This also are nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and not have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought to cure at all painful palpitating, efficient Heart disease. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—the popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it does real, genuine heart help.

No one would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strong kidneys, strong disposition, strong brains—no one would have these if nerves—re-established where so needed, with

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on a farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of one allowance crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with clause (2) while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district to that effect.

Six months notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

The Dairyman

Dairy farming is increasing in almost every section of the country, largely because it is recognized as one of the most economical forms of agriculture where preservation of soil fertility is considered. Opportunities for dairying are found everywhere in the United States. The different sections of the country have characteristic peculiarities, but all need milk and its products. Success awaits the dairyman who fits his work to the conditions of the place in which he lives. He should know the value of a good dairy cow and how to treat her. He should recognize the necessity of cleanliness from the time the milk leaves the udder until the finished product is in the hands of the consumer. He should know and meet the needs of his market.

Horses on the Dairy Farm.

On every dairy farm there are several horses kept to do the necessary farm work and hauling stuff to and from the city. During most of the year work is rather light on a dairy farm as compared with other kinds of work that the horse is called upon to do. There is some work to be done each day of the year, and this provides some exercise for the horse, which keeps him in good physical condition.

There is an unlimited market for high class draft horses, just the kind that a dairy farmer could raise if he would breed the right kind of animals. The people who use draft horses in the city are willing to pay long prices for them if they can only get the kind they want. The horse weighing 1,000 pounds, out of ordinary stock, sells at a comparatively low price, but a team well matched, sound and with good action and weighing from 3,200 to 4,000 pounds sells quickly and at an exceptionally high price.

It seems to us that most dairymen are so situated that they could raise at least one good team of drafters each year and would scarcely feel the time and money spent in producing them, says Hoard's Dairyman.

What is needed is a team or two of well bred mares, not necessarily pure bred, but animals of good size, strong bones and well matched. If they be grade Percherons, breed them to the best Percheron stallion within reach; if they are Clydes, use a Clyde sire. Do not crossbreed, for it is just as ruinous a practice in the breeding of good horses as it is in the breeding of good cows. Aim to get well matched teams, strong bones, sound and with good action, and a ready market will always be found at good prices for such kind of horses.

SPORTING NOTES.

Nahma, by Peter the Great, is touted as another Sonoma Girl of the grand circuit next season.

Millard Sanders is confident that Ruth Dillon, 2:15¼, will some day be holder of the world's record for trotters.

Mount Pleasant of the Indians catches kicks on the run and makes the ends who try to tackle him look ridiculous.

It is reported that a new race track is to be built at Venice, a suburb of Los Angeles, Cal. Tim Sullivan and many eastern men are interested.

Considering different ethical attitudes, England has a licensed trainer of race horses who is also a regularly ordained minister of the gospel, and he has not found it necessary to resign his church living and dispose of his old tools either.

It was announced recently that another motor boat race to Bermuda for the Bennett Challenge cup will be started from Gravesend bay, New York, on June 6 next. It is open to all seaworthy motor craft not more than seventy feet over all that comply with certain conditions for safety.

He Saw the Game.

The office boy had buried countless grandmothers, brothers, sisters, aunts and cousins, but he felt an enthusiasm for the baseball game that day which could not be downed.

Suddenly an idea struck him. Approaching the easy boss with an air of familiarity which had been nurtured by long usage he asked:

"May I leave at noon today, sir?"

"And why, my boy?"

"There is a fancy fair at our church and mother wants me to go this afternoon. She was so anxious that she bought me a ticket which cost a dollar, as she was sure you would allow me the few hours off. I have to assist at the refreshment stall, and it seems a pity to waste"—

"But surely you are above such things as that which take you away from your work. Why not give the ticket to one of your sisters?"

"Well, you see, sir, that wouldn't be fair, for I'm the only one of our family who can be depended upon to eat a dollar's worth, and"—

His supreme nerve won the day.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Made It Clear.

When Colonel Edmond Rice was in command of the Twenty-sixth infantry (mostly volunteers from New England) in the Philippines, he organized from his regiment a company of mounted scouts. To equip them for this service he made requisition on headquarters for the necessary outfit, including eighty nosebags. Some officious clerk in the quartermaster's office in Manila returned the requisition to Colonel Rice with these written remarks: "Your report shows but sixty men in your mounted company. Why do you require eighty nosebags?"

The colonel's explanation was short and characteristic. It was: "It is true I have but sixty men, but I have eighty horses. The nosebags are for the horses, not for the men."

Teaching Children to Save.

Most children are born spendthrifts, and it usually requires more than the gentle art of persuasion to influence them in cultivating the habit of saving. Many methods were tried with my young son, says Sada Ballard in Good Housekeeping, but the confectionery store proved more enticing than trick animals, banks, musical combinations and the general run of things held out to induce the small boy to hoard his pennies. At last I hit upon a happy expedient in a small glass jar with a top that screwed on. In this receptacle the pennies were discernible and get-at-able, so that in keeping track of how many he had the child learned to count. Then he took great delight in saving to see how many the bottle would hold. When it was full a larger bottle was provided, with the contents of the small bottle for a nest egg, and now the boy is proud of his large bottleful of pennies ready to be put in a real bank.

The Japanese Towel.

American women have liked the little Japanese towels ever since they were introduced in this country. This homely necessity is homely only in its usage, for the prints are pretty, resembling some splendid stencil effects. If a number are whipped together, they make the neatest kind of a couch cover; two serve for a roomy pillow cover; one folded makes a laundry bag; they are neat for the dresser, washstand or buffet. The towel is a yard in length and fifteen inches in width. The material looks like a good quality of cheesecloth, and the stencil effect is made in blue, green and red, and often a little black is seen. One can get them in the department stores, but they can always be purchased in any of the Japanese departments.

To Make Wrinkled Sleeves.

The amateur in making her own lingerie waist will have trouble with the sleeves. She will be uncertain upon the long wrinkled sleeve, and should she decide upon the long wrinkled sleeve she will scarcely know how to make the sleeve wrinkle as it should. There should be many tiny little folds laid side by side, evenly and with method, and extending down right to the knuckles, where there is a wired point.

A Practical Gift.

One of the most practical gifts received by a recent bride was a set of sachets just the size for closet shelves, trunks, cedar chests and bureau drawers. They were made of fine sheer flowered batiste, with wide hems all around. Each has one side left open for refilling. The filling was cotton batting rolled in sandalwood sawdust, one of the bete noires of the moth and a delight to the human nose.

To Protect Silk Stockings.

In these days of low shoes and thin stockings it is most discouraging for a woman to find that her taut hose supporters have ruined her only pair of silk stockings at the first wearing. When the stocking supporters are fastened to stockings, put a small twofold piece of tissue paper on both sides of the stockings and fasten the clasp upon this paper. It will not tear the holes that are the despair of a tidy woman.

For Finger Bowls.

A woman with a mild mania for things Japanese had little wicker baskets placed before each guest when finger bowls might have been expected. In each basket was a folded napkin of unmistakably Japanese material made moist, but not dripping, with perfumed water. Following the example of the host, each guest seized his napkin and used it, still folded, on lips and fingers.

A Good Curtain Hint.

Lace curtains when pinned on drying frames always stretch more at one end than at the other or in the middle. To avoid this and also to keep them always of their original length, before they are laundered the first time I baste a narrow strip of cloth on each side and across the top. By so doing they come from the wash even in size and absolutely true.

A little arrowroot inclosed in a muslin bag and placed in the water in which handkerchiefs are boiled will give the latter a faint and agreeable scent when ironed. If borax is added to the water in which they are finally rinsed, they will assume the right degree of stiffness without being hard, as if actually starched.

Japan is perhaps the only country in the world where the fashions in women's dress have not changed materially in 2,500 years.

Try Again for Health

The Dangerous Weakness That Follows Should be CuredNow

One of the oldest physicians, after closely studying spring tiredness, says it seems to seek out the same victims year after year, and if the disorder is one contracted, one is very prone to contract it again.

The symptoms in common — no appetite — turn against your food, aches in back and limbs, nervous, and often melancholy, dyspeptic and languid.

"I had all the symptoms," writes Mrs. Fen E. Clarkson, well known in Chester. "I was discouraged, tired, felt too poorly to bother with medicine. But I tried again for health and used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The very sight of food used to turn me sick; now I eat and digest like a growing child. I used to feel bloodless and starved, now I am well nourished and gaining in flesh. My face was haggard, full eyes, dark circles, now I am unmarked, have pink cheeks, bright clear eyes. A hard cough that used to rack my chest is gone. But best of all is the feeling of buoyancy and good spirits that displaces the awful tired, drowsy, melancholy fits that come on, and always with splitting headache, too." "I hope my letter will induce others to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—such a good honest, health-giving tonic should be in every home, both for children and parents' use."

You have a woman's work to do in life — you have only a woman's delicate organism to do it with. You'll be vastly assisted with Dr Hamilton's Pills, because they are good for women just as they are good for men and children, too; 25c. at all dealers.

Her nose was badly cut in addition to her arm being sprained. Dr. Boucher was called and attended the injured lady.

Disappearance of Mr. Samuel Long

Considerable excitement has been caused over the letter received by Mrs. Samuel Long of Driscoll Terrace, East Ward, from the proprietor of the Turner Lumber Co., of Latchford, where Mr. Long is supposed to be employed.

Mr. Long is employed as cook at the lumber camps. After the winter season, Mr. Long came home for a week or so, after which he returned to his duties. The camp in which he is employed is situated on Vermilion Lake, north of Sudbury. Last Friday Mrs. Long heard from him but a few days she received word from his employer, wanting Mr. Long to come to work at once. At this request Mrs. Long was very much surprised, as she thought he was back at Vermilion Lake working. She at once wired him but after waiting a couple of days she had got no answer. She again wired him yesterday, but as yet has received no communication from him.

When she heard from him Friday, he was at his camps, and thus she could not understand the company writing for him. She is at a loss to know where he is, and his mysterious disappearance has caused her considerable excitement.

Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good;" and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Provincial Elections, 1908

GENTLEMEN, it is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and school of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

Buy Casey Mountain Shares in the

Chartered by the Ontario Government. Authorized Capital $250,000.00

Par Value of Shares Fully Paid-Up and Non-Assessable $1.00

PRESIDENT, R. G. Williamson, Toronto, (formerly of Peterborough). VICE-PRESIDENT, James Thompson, Havelock, Ont.
SECRETARY-TREASURER, Dr. H. A. Wood, Peterborough. SUPERINTENDENT, D. Williamson, Haileybury, Ont.
D. A. Reid, Brandon, Manitoba.

HEAD OFFICE—MANNING CHAMBERS TORONTO—ONTARIO

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares;—

Casey Mountain shares are fully paid-up and non-assessable.

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which has regular net-work of silver bearing veins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain has the woods in unlimited quantities sufficient to last for generations.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a vein or lead running vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 to date varying in width from 16 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock speculation), and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $3,000,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent. to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Dividends Paid by Cobalt Mining Companies

Foster Cobalt Mining Co., Ltd, have paid 45,000.00
McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd, have paid 45,000.00
The Coniagas Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907 ..... 300,000.00
Temiscamingue & Hudson Bay Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 746,120.00

(These shares could have been had at 50 cents, and have sold as high as $180.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $40,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends. The Tradwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $20.00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would means a daily output of $2,000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

VOL. XXXVI. NO 120 — PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO FRIDAY, MAY 22 1908 — PRICE TWO CENTS

Mr. Wm. Anderson, M.P.P. Passed Away Yesterday

The late William Anderson was born August 26th, 1837, at Otonabee, of Scottish parentage, and was educated at Otonabee. He followed the calling of a farmer, and as councillor, deputy reeve, reeve and warden, was in all twenty-five years continuously in municipal positions. Mr. Anderson was first returned to the Legislature at the general election of 1902, and was re-elected in 1905. He was a Liberal in politics, and a Presbyterian in religion; he was married in 1874.

He was not a candidate for re-election to the Legislature.

Fifty-Killed and One Hundred Injured in Belgian Train Wreck

Express Jumped Track and Crashed Into Train on Siding

Awful Scenes of Carnage

LATE MR ANDERSON, M.P.P. Who passed away yesterday.

Antwerp, May 21.—The worst railroad catastrophe ever recorded in Belgium took place near Contich, six miles south-east of Antwerp, this morning, when, because of a misplaced switch, the Antwerp express, running at 50 miles an hour, crashed into a train loaded with pilgrims, on a siding.

Every car of the pilgrim train, excepting the foremost one, was telescoped. The cars were literally ground to pieces, and practically all the passengers were either killed or badly injured.

NOT ALL REMOVED

About 50 dead people already have been removed from the wreck, and succor is being extended to more than 100 injured.

Surgeons, doctors and nurses arrived early from Antwerp at the scene of the wreck. Shrieking and helpless wounded persons are still pinned under the debris, and the scene is one of horror that beggars description.

STATION NOW A MORGUE.

The station at Contich has been converted into a temporary morgue and hospital, and is rapidly filling up with the dead and wounded. The work of rescue is being admirably handled, and everything possible is being done to alleviate the sufferings of the injured.

All the clergy and physicians of Contich and the soldiers from the neighboring barracks are taking part in the work. In addition to the surgeons who have hurried down from Antwerp, an ambulance corps from Amiens also is on the scene.

GOING TO A SHRINE

It now appears that the locomotive of the express train jumped the track, plunged into and completely wrecked the last three passenger coaches of the train on the siding. This train was carrying an excursion of pilgrims to a local shrine.

The collision occurred at 9.05 a.m., just as the express from Antwerp to Brussels was entering the depot at Contich. The train loaded with pilgrims was bound for Turnhout.

Serious railroad accidents in Belgium have been rare, the most notable recent years being one at Ottignies, in 1895, when seventeen persons were killed, and another at Forest, near near Brussels, in 1899, when twenty-one persons were killed and over 100 injured.

Turn Out for Practice Tonight

All members of the Y.M.C.A. Lacrosse team are requested to turn out to practice tonight at 6.30 on Central Park. After the practice a meeting of the club will be held at the "Y," when the six men will be chosen to represent the Y.M.C.A. on the Peterborough team which goes to Millbrook on the holiday. The other six players will be chosen from the T.A.S. team, and a strong 12 will be selected to represent the city against the Millbrook dozen.

Y.M.C.A. Three-Days' Subscription Campaign Closed with $2,535 $35 over the Stated Amount

The three days' subscription campaign of the local Y.M.C.A., to raise the sum of $2,500, closed last night at ten o'clock with a guaranteed subscription of $2,535.00, being $35.00 over the amount required. This would seem to indicate that the people of Peterborough are anxious to keep this commendable institution on a firm financial basis, and although the outlook at noon yesterday, when there was still $1,014.00 to be subscribed, was somewhat dark, every effort was put forth in the afternoon and evening, and when the time had expired the total was found to be as above, $2,009.00 being due to the efforts of the Business Men's Committee and $526.00 from the young men's committee.

Much credit is due the above committees and Mr. Thomasson who has had charge of the campaign, and all interested in the work for the way in which this campaign has been carried through to such a successful conclusion, and it will be a pleasure to every good citizen to know that Peterborough may be entered on the list of towns where these campaigns have been successful.

Besides the financial assistance there were fifteen entirely new members enrolled at the usual fee of $6.

As a result of this effort the local "Y" will now be on a thoroughly sound business basis, and will be strengthened in every department, and the work will take on a new enthusiasm, and we look forward to much better results. Everything will be done to add to the attractiveness of the association and any young man who wishes to be among good companions and take part in healthy sport, and who is not already a member, should join at once.

Anyone so disposed who has not had an opportunity to participate in the campaign just closed, may still do so through the secretary Mr. Wright.

(Special to The Times.)

Lakefield, May 21.—A larger crowd than ever, turned out tonight to see the second night's session of the big three-day walking match now in progress at the skating rink.

Dodge and Smaile who were on even terms at the end of last night's walk, clung closely together through out the evening, and have each covered 22 miles 9 laps.

The 13-year-old lad Northey, who was in third place last night, dropped back to sixth place but has covered over 5 miles an hour for the four hours, he making 10 miles, 13 laps tonight.

Gray who was in tenth place at the end of the grind last night, did not come on the track, which leaves ten contestants in the running.

David Hartley of Peterborough, walked an exhibition half-mile and showed good style and sprinted all the way, pulling up with lots left.

During the evening the band discoursed lively music which greatly helped the "peds," and also helped to amuse the crowd.

Tonight will see the finish of the walk and as the contestants all have a royal chance for the prize money, a good night's sport is assured.

The start will be made at eight o'clock, and the men will be called off the track at 11 p.m. A good band will be in attendance. The score at the end of tonight's session, is as follows.

	Miles	Laps
Dodge	22	9
Smaille	22	9
Crawford	21	16
Condon	21	15
Short	21	13
Northey	21	12

What Will Advance

Mr. Harry Winch who was in Otonabee yesterday, was shown wheat measuring 2 feet 7 inches at "Coldblow," the residence of Mr. James H. Fife.

POLICE

In the police court yesterday morning, Wm. Graham appeared before City Clerk Armstrong on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. William pleaded guilty, but Chief Russel thought there ought to be some evidence heard in the case.

Mrs. May, Graham's sister, testified that William had been partaking of the "foolish water," and when he came home Saturday night, had threatened to thrash witness' husband.

Graham when questioned admitted having invited his brother-in-law out on the back yard, to take a licking. William, however, stated that Mr. May had denigrated him by several far from complimentary names. He further intimated that he had been keeping the family since February.

Graham was fined $2 and costs.

Two other drunks pleaded guilty to the charge and were assessed the usual $2.

Y.M.C.A. Baseball Team Choose Manager and Capt

At a meeting of the Y.M.C.A. intermediate league ball team held last night, Peter Kerr was elected manager, George McDonald captain, and the above men and Chris Graham were chosen as a team committee.

The "Y" team will have new suits, the color scheme, red and green. The suits will be of green and the letters Y.M.C.A. will be across the breast of the shirts in red. The stockings, belts and caps will also be red.

It was decided to take up the offer of the West Ends to play a practice game on Saturday on the Boswell field.

Steamer Returned from Stony Lake

The steamer Water Lily returned last night from Stoney Lake, where she had carried many passengers and a large cargo of freight.

The water in the river, is still very high but the trim little steamer, had no difficulty in reaching her destination. On her return voyage however, she was delayed by logs above Lakefield and some of the passengers were obliged to return to the city by train.

The matter was reported to Mr. J. H. McClelland the superintendent of the canal and energetic measures will at once be taken to have the channel kept open for navigation.

Opening Session of Teachers' Association

Owing to the unfavorable weather conditions, the attendance at the opening session of the County Teachers' Association convention held in the Y.M.C.A. yesterday morning, was not as large as expected.

The opening address was given by the president, after which the minutes of the last meeting of the association were read by the secretary, Miss M. Kirkpatrick of Norwood.

A committee composed of Misses Carter and Kirkpatrick and Mr. Hamblin, were appointed to take into consideration the advisability of forming a Branch Teachers' Alliance in Peterborough county.

A very interesting and instructive report of the Ontario Educational Association was read by Miss Myrtle Greenley of Hastings. The suggestions of the Advisory Council, such as the revision of text books and the raising of teachers' qualifications received due attention. Teachers should not answer advertisements containing the clause "state salary expected." The following from the address of Dr. Pakenham is worthy of note; "The formation of technical schools is as important as for any other branch of education."

The merits of the Batavia system were also advocated, as it encourages independent work and a love for reading. The establishment of rural night schools was spoken of. Teachers should aim at fitting the child for the duties of life, not for some special calling. We cannot educate a child to be a good citizen without power based on knowledge.

Dr. Falconer Delivers an Eloquent Address Last Night

A fair-sized audience was present at the Conservatory of Music Hall last night to hear the address given by Dr. Falconer, president of Toronto University on education.

Dr. Falconer on arising to speak, stated that while being driven about the city, he was greatly impressed with the beauty of Peterborough, and paid a high tribute to the public buildings of the city.

Dr. Falconer spoke for about an hour on the good to be derived from a university training.

When a man is undergoing a certain course in the university his mind is brought into play at all times. Who is the practical man? asked the lecturer. Not the man who has had no education. The practical man is the man who is so trained that he can work himself up to the problems of life.

The business men often thinks there is place for the university. Consider for a moment how the educational institutions of the Dominion compared with those of other places. Canada is one long university. There is a number of college in every province, besides hundreds of schools. Perhaps there are too many colleges in Canada for the general welfare of the people. The number of students attending Toronto University last year was 3,500, and the number is increasing annually said Dr. Falconer.

When the students first comes to the Toronto University, they are struck with the architecture of the building, which is the finest on the continent. The student when he enters the college is ready for new things, new thoughts and the life itself is new. What should a university training in arts mean for a man. The arts course has several branches. The first of these is the study of languages and in studying this the student is brought into touch, through the books he reads with the best authorities on the English language, both in the past and of the present day. A man must know what our language means before he can translate it to another. The study of languages brings about the discipline of accurate thought. I have discovered that the most of exaggeration comes from the lack of clear thinking. Men wouldn't misunderstand each other as they do, if they were clear thinkers.

Then when a student goes to college he studies mathematics, and from this study he loses problems from the abstract.

From mathematics he turns to natural sciences, and is able to see the world as it really is. He has to study facts, for science teaches you to face facts. Normal and mental sciences shown by the history of the hour bring forth how certain conceptions are developed. How much of what I look up to is really essential.

And political sciences shows how the great conceptions of humanity are developed. It is all a marvelous training and makes a man master of his own thought and he will go out into the world a stronger created intelligent being, than when he entered the university halls.

Of the 1400 students taking art studies, 750 of these are students of medicine, studying to put their applies knowledge into practice.

It is the whole environment and make up of a man that counts. A student puts in a large part of his life in college with his fellow students. But the man of brains, must use their education for producing strong ideas.

Dr Morrison on behalf of the citizens of Peterborough, moved a vote of thanks to Dr. Falconer for the splendid address he gave, and spoke in glowing words of the good work being carried on by the University of Toronto.

Mr. J. S. Hodson occupied the chair.

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—As you are aware, I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good, economical and efficient administration of affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province, generally.

The test of good representation either by a Government or member is good work, and, in this respect both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr. Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure, for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evidently feel that they have done so, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies, inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent., while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per cent.

Disregard of the rights of labor was shown by the Government reviving the contract system of prison labor, abolishing by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labor at 3 cents per hour to compete against free labor.

The introduction of the "spoils system," the failure to remove license administration from the sphere of political influence, the three-fifths handicap to Local Option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and discouragement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, the neglect of law reform, with a view of making our law courts available for a curing justice, within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters in which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests of the city in every direction, and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our working men and our manufacturing industries; and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying interests, which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen,

G. A. GILLESPIE

A Very Enjoyable Evening Spent

One of the most successful "at homes" ever held in the T.A.S. rooms took place on Wednesday evening, when the ladies of the Sodality of St. Peter's gave such an enjoyable evening.

Premier to Hear Views of Caucus Before Seeing Opposition Leader

Ottawa, May 21.—Another conference was to have been held today between the Prime Minister and the leader of the Opposition in regard to clause one of the Election bill, but, at the request of Sir Wilfrid, the meeting in question was put off in order that he might have an opportunity of talking matters over with some of the members of his own party. A caucus was accordingly held between Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, the Manitoba Liberal members, and a few representatives of the Government's following from Ontario, at which an opportunity was afforded to three members to fully express their grievs in regard to the Election bill and the course which the Government should pursue in relation thereto.

In the meantime it is premature to say that any proposition has been made by the Premier to the Conservative leader in regard to the elimination or amendments of the contentious clauses. No such proposition has been made, but the gossip is rather as to what will eventuate from the present conferences than what has actually resulted from them already.

The course pursued by the Opposition yesterday in regard to the passage of supply would indicate that the Conservative side has relented to some extent from the position which it assumed a fortnight ago, concerning the passage of supply. This is undoubtedly prompted by a belief in the Conservative camp that the Government will consent to the amendment of the Election bill. What the amendments will be, however, or whether there will be any at all, remains to be seen. What has passed so far have been more suggestions than anything else.

Manager Johnston of the "Petes" were a broad smile all day yesterday, and joy reigned supreme in the Peterborough wigwam, for the morning mail brought to them the signed contract of "Cuker" Thorne, the hard-hitting player of the Park Nine, Toronto. He will not be able to figure in Saturday's game with the Athletics, but will line up with the team on Monday when they hook up with the Port Hope team in two games. Thorne will play first base for the Petes, and while he is a good fielder, it is his batting that is most counted upon. Last year he led the Northwestern League, playing for Grandview, with a percentage of .408, and this year he is considered the best amateur in the amateur leagues in Toronto. Lawson will play first on Saturday on account of Thorne's inability to be here in time for the game.

9 Years Bad Leg Healed by Zam-Buk

Mr. C. Johnson, of Poplar Hill Creek, Athabasca Landing, Alta., says; "About nine years ago a running sore commenced on my right leg caused by a ruptured blood vessel. At time went on it got worse and my sufferings were intense. I had a very sore leg indeed, and had very small hopes of ever seeing it healed, in fact I was told by severall who had known such sores that I would suffer with it for life. When I was almost in despair I heard of Zam Buk and commenced using it. Other salves I had used caused me much suffering, but Zam-Buk soothed the pain, and although it appeared for some time to be doing me good yet I persevered and as soon as the wound became clean, it was only a matter of three or four days before it was healed."

Zam-Buk cures cuts, burns, pimples, ulcers, ringworm, itch, piles, running sores, blood poison, and all skin diseases. All stores and druggists, 50c. box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Doctors All Advise Suitable Spring Tonic

In the spring time the vigor and resisting power of the body fall very low. Instead of being rich and nourishing, the blood is thin and watery. As a result the bodily forces become inactive, sleep fails to bring rest. An ever-increasing tiredness develops into over-powering weakness.

People suffering from this spring sickness feel heavy and drowsy; they don't want to eat; they don't enjoy work—about half sick and half well. This is just the condition that favors pneumonia and typhoid, and you must build up as quickly as possible. You must increase your blood supply and make it rich and red.

The only way this can be done is by using Ferrozone, which is acknowledged to be the most efficient spring medicine.

The marvellous purifying and tonic properties of Ferrozone are quickly felt because the blood is at once supplied with the elements it needs to become rich and red. It is ironized vitality and rapidly brought to its normal strength.

The very best ingredients for toning up the system are contained in Ferrozone, and if you use it you are sure to get back your old-time strength and spirits.

If you suffer from debility, insomnia, nervousness, loss of appetite, or any of the symptoms of disordered blood, nothing will so rapidly tone you up as this great food tonic, Ferrozone. Its record of successful cures, its recommendation by the public, by druggists and doctors commends it to every thinking person.

You need Ferrozone to make you well. Why not get to-day? Sold by all druggists; price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50.

Regiment May go to Brookville

There is considerable curiosity manifested as to where the 57th Regiment will go on their annual trip if they do not attend the tercentenary celebration at Quebec in July. It is very uncertain whether the regiment will go to the Ancient Capital and if that trip does not materialize, another one will be taken as all probability. It is not unlikely that the regiment may go to Brockville at the Quebec trip is not taken. Brockville wanted the 57th last year and would no doubt welcome a visit from the Peterborough soldiers this summer. The inland city is an exceedingly pretty place in the summer and a trip there would make a delightful outing for the local soldiers. The matter will be given consideration at an early date.

Slaughter House Destroyed by Fire

Early yesterday morning, fire broke out in the slaughter house of Mr. Robt. Howden, the flames completely destroying the building, which means a loss of about $1000. The slaughter house is situated on the east side of the river, just below the locks on Hunter street. How the conflagration originated cannot be ascertained. It is a mystery and Mr. Howden is at a loss to know what could have started it. The blaze had gained considerable headway before anyone knew anything of it. The roof had fallen in when the first person arrived on the scene. Mr. Howden resides on Romaine street, a considerable distance from where the fire was. Several pigs were burned alive, also a lot of lumber, a pool hoist and a quantity of unbleached beef were destroyed. While Mr. Howden cannot state the exact amount of his loss, it is stated that it is in the neighborhood of $1,000, partly covered by insurance.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often shows up, the Kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

St. Petersburg, May 19. — Great rejoicing marked the celebration today of the 40th birthday of Emperor Nicholas. Celebrations were held throughout the empire. Te Deums were sung in all churches, which were thronged with worshippers offering prayers for the czar and Russia. Decorations of white, blue and red lined all the principal streets. An imperial salute of 121 guns was fired at noon. A brilliant court reception will be held at the palace this evening.

CROSSING THE OCEAN

Queer Things That Happen on Atlantic Liners.

THE LURE OF THE DEEP SEA.

Passengers Oftentimes Vanish During a Voyage to Find a Grave Beneath the Waves—A Bibulous Man's Lot surely Swim in Midocean.

"As you are probably aware, almost the commonest occurrence during a voyage is the mysterious and sudden disappearance of a passenger. Seven times has this happened while I have been following my profession, and in no single instance have we been able to satisfactorily account for the missing traveler. Most of them, of course we put down to suicide, but I feel bound to say that I think in some instances we have been wrong. Now here is a case in point. Six years ago we had on board a young Australian, a handsome, well-to-do fellow, who seemed to have more money than would satisfy his wants and who told me himself that he was going to the states to marry the prettiest and sweetest girl in all Pennsylvania.

"He was the brightest fellow on board, sang well, played well, was expert at all kinds of sport and a general favorite with every one. He had a cabin on the lower deck, a fine big room, where I smoked many a cigar with him. Well, on the fifth day out he didn't come on deck. People asked where he was, and the general impression seemed to be that he had been up rather late the night before and was doubtless taking a few extra minutes between the sheets. But about noon the bedroom steward came to me and stated that he couldn't get in No. 27, the stateroom occupied by the popular traveler. No one could get any response, so we sent for the carpenter. The door was smashed in, and the room was found to be empty. The portholes were wide open, and all we could assume was that he had crept out of one of these and met with a watery grave. Reason? We never discovered any, but my belief is that he acted in his sleep. He was too happy a man to take his own life.

"On another occasion two ladies, sisters, disappeared. Both were charming and pretty, though some of the passengers afterward remarked that they usually seemed somewhat sad and preoccupied. I had often conversed with them and regarded them as the most attractive women on board. The night before we docked was a beautiful one, though intensely dark, and it was evidently on this night that they left the ship. No one saw them after 10 o'clock. The look out reported nothing. No splash was heard, no cry. But in the morning they had vanished as silently and mysteriously as the darkness, leaving no word behind.

"A strange thing happened once when we were two days from New York harbor. There was an American on board who seemed to possess many friends and who apparently was extremely popular. He spent half his time in the smoking room, standing drinks to any one and every one and imbibing rather more than was good for himself. Well, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon he was with several other men on the promenade deck—the weather was glorious and the sea with scarcely a ripple—when, throwing off his coat, he exclaimed, 'Here goes for a swim!' and disappeared over the side.

"There was a yell which almost put the wireless out of business, and the captain, who had witnessed the affair, stopped the ship almost in her own length. Boats were lowered, and willing arms pulled to where the man was supposed to be fighting for his life. Instead of any struggle, however, he was taking long, easy strokes and evidently thoroughly enjoying himself. When pulled into one of the boats he ejaculated the single word, 'Grand!' and almost immediately fell into a kind of comatose state. He was put to bed in hot blankets and soon recovered. After an interview with the captain he was allowed his liberty, though a strict watch was kept on him during the rest of the voyage.

"A tragic occurrence took place about four years ago, the facts of which you will perhaps recall. It was during a voyage east, and we had among the second cabin passengers a widow and her three young children—two boys and a girl. The woman appeared to be much depressed, though the youngsters were as lively and merry as children generally are on board. The woman, it appears, spoke to none of the other passengers, and for her aloofness she was regarded with some suspicion. However, she was very quiet, and, as she appeared to be reading all day, not much notice was taken of her.

"One morning she was standing with her children, looking over the side of the vessel, when, with no warning, she suddenly tossed them, one after the other, into the sea and immediately followed them herself. It was all done so expeditiously and quietly that those who saw the tragedy were for a few minutes too dazed to give the alarm. The ship was stopped in record time and boats lowered, but the entire quartet had disappeared as though some invisible force had dragged them down. After two hours the search was given up and the boats returned to the ship. Another secret had been bequeathed to the ocean's mighty bosom."—London Tit-Bits.

Benjamin Constant.

Benjamin Constant, having sided with Napoleon during the hundred days, felt the need of justifying himself when Louis XVIII. returned to power. He wrote the king a letter with that end in view and called upon Mme. Recamier to discuss the subject. She asked him quietly:

"Have you finished your letter?"

"Yes."

"Are you satisfied with it?"

"Entirely satisfied. I have almost persuaded myself."

A HAND AT WHIST.

The Story of the Result Put Bridge Yarns in the Fish Class.

At an uptown bridge whist party a man member told this story while the company was taking a bite between rubbers: "I had heard of a man holding a complete suit, but I never saw it until last week. I was invited to play at Dr. Blank's home, and it was my deal at the start of the second rubber. I looked at my cards and could hardly believe my eyes. There were thirteen cards all of the same suit. 'Gentlemen,' said I, 'this is embarrassing. I hate to make the trump.'

"'Why?' was asked.

"'Well,' said I, 'if I were playing with people who knew me less well I would dislike to show my hand.'

"'Now, after all this fuss, what do you make it?'

"'Hearts,' said I.

"Quick as a flash the man at my left said, 'I double,' and then I realized that in my excitement I miscalled my hand—I had all diamonds. They made a grand slam and said a few things to me also."

The day after he had told the story the man received a postal card on which this was written:

"The old rule that an affidavit should go with every fish story and a pepsin tablet with every piece of amateur mince pie has been changed to include bridge whist stories in the fish class."

SPANISH THRONE ROOM.

The ancient throne stands in the apartment known as the room of ambassadors. The decorations of this apartment include vast crystal chandeliers, huge tables inlaid with precious marbles, vast plate glass mirrors, gildings, rich hangings and above all the painted ceiling representing the long line of Spanish kings in the various picturesque costumes of the provinces. Here Spanish kings receive on state occasions, and here, too, their bodies lie in state after death. The Urone is of rich velvet, embroidered. Around it are grouped four great silver lions with their heads turned away as if guarding the occupant. Four broad steps lead up to the throne room from the polished floor of the room, and the crimson covered footstool is in itself a work of art.

In this room have been gathered for ages curios and gems from Spanish possessions the world over at a time when Spain was mistress of the world. And here in front of the throne hang chandeliers of rock crystal which have for generations been the envy of other European rulers.

Witchcraft in India.

The belief in witchcraft is widespread in India, especially among the tribes low in the scale of civilization. The ojha, or exorcist, is an important member of the community. His mummeries and incantations impress not only the lower classes, but even orthodox Rajputs and Kayastha. He is paid to denounce witches, and, with the cunning of his class, he usually chooses harmless old women whose existence is rather a burden upon the village. Some of these women, however, have as implicit belief in their powers for evil as the villagers themselves. Murder frequently follows the denunciation.

Normal Schools Soon to Open.

The normal schools which are being built at North Bay, Hamilton, Peterboro and Strafford will shortly be opened. The contractors have practically completed their work. For entrance into these institutions, the obligatory subjects at the July examinations have been reduced from ten to seven. A higher standard, however, will be exacted.

The Minister of Education lays great stress on the personality of the teacher, and he hopes that the success of the scheme which he has inaugurated, will justify him in extending it still further in both high and public schools. Toronto University has also adopted new regulations along these lines.

Ye Maiden Mariner.

She's much afraid of waves, alack;
Yet though the night be dark above,
She's always ready in a smack
To launch upon the sea of love.

The Wasp Waist.

Professor Mosso has made discoveries in Crete showing the extreme antiquity of civilization in that island. Four thousand years ago the "wasp" waist, usually regarded as a modern fashion, was known to the women of Crete. They compressed their waists and wore stiffly spreading skirts. The women are shown to have turned up noses and an audacious expression.

The Long Parliament.

The long parliament lasted thirteen years. It was dissolved by Oliver Cromwell on April 20, 1653.

The Word "Dad."

It is probably not generally known that the word "dad," used by many children in place of "father," is the purest Welsh. The opening words of the Lord's prayer in Welsh are "Ein Dad."

Cough Syrup.

This cough syrup is easily made and very good: Take a small handful of dried hops and a small handful of dried horehound and put into a cup of cold water. Let this steep until the strength of the herbs is drawn out, then strain through a cloth. Add to this one cupful of honey and two cupfuls of sugar. Let this mixture boil until thick. Pour into a wide mouthed bottle or small jar, and it is ready for use. One teaspoonful every half hour until the cough is relieved.

Touching.

"Well," responded the applicant, "just pretend that you have a grudge against me."

A SHORT HISTORY

These Larder Lake properties were staked out by the Foster brothers, who are old, experienced miners, who have been prospecting up in that country since 1906. They are practical miners.

When the wealth of the Larder Lake District first leaked out, these men made tracks for this district, and after days of hardship in paddling up rivers and carrying their outfit over portages, they finally found the wonderful gold bearing rock, and after a number of weeks' patient work in following gold indications they staked out 640 acres of what some believe will prove the richest gold bearing rock in the district.

After these men had registered these claims and proved there were no other prior claims to them, they brought samples and proofs to Toronto and succeeded in interesting a number of city merchants by convincing them that not one but many possible fortunes are tied up in these valuable 640 acres. On no reasonable consideration would they sell outright, so a small cash sum was paid to them and so many shares in a company to be formed agreed to be given them.

Had they not believed stock in the company would become valuable it is right to infer that they would not have made such a bargain and tied up their properties.

We believe they will be justified in their decision to retain an interest in the properties as shareholders in our Company.

As we, the members of this Company, were convinced by facts, we wish to convince you by facts also.

The Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company has no figureheads or salaried men on its board. Each member of the board is a stockholder, by putting in his money and paying for his shares, and each member stands to lose a good pile if it is not properly handled. It is the intention of the company to run things on a strictly business basis, and all dealings must be above board. We want to make money and we want to make money fairly and honestly—on the miner's risk for the miner's reward.

The city merchants took the properties from the owners and prospectors, had transfers duly executed, organized this company, defraying all expenses to date, and have agreed to accept stock in payment. They must pay the original owners out of their holdings. The treasury stock goes for development.

The property consists of 16 claims, 40 acres each, or about 640 acres, west of Larder Lake and bordering on Grassy Lake. Blair & Smith, Government surveyors, of New Liskeard, were surveyors for the Company.

1/2 CENT A SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without letup, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,600 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each one and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above, while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a sudden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the Stomach and Kidneys also have those same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen those Nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

DEATH OF "BIRKENHEAD" HERO

Man Who Steered Ill-Fated Troopship When Wrecked.

Memories of the tragic wreck of the troopship Birkenhead, with its deeds of splendid heroism probably unsurpassed in military or naval annals, are recalled by the death at Bristol (Eng.) of one of the survivors, at the age of 85.

He was Thomas Coffin, who, on the occasion of the disaster to the troopship was the "man at the wheel," and with seven others succeeded in pulling safely to shore in a gig.

Joining the Birkenhead about 1850, when he was 23 years of age, Coffin made three voyages in the vessel with troops.

A fourth voyage to the Cape was the fateful one in which the Birkenhead was wrecked, and the troops went down to a man, drawn up, as if on parade, on her decks.

Coffin has told his own story in quiet, plain phrases that perhaps give a clearer idea of the grim tragedy than a number of lurid phrases.

"I was at the wheel, and well remember the sentry calling out to the officer of the watch, 'Four bells, sir.' The officer replied, 'Strike them, sentry,' which he did not do, for at that very moment she struck the rock and the sentry went rolling to the deck. At the time most of the soldiers were below asleep, but were awoke by the crash (which appeared to me to be enough to wake the dead almost) and came on deck; but on being called to order, fell in and remained so, thus enabling the seamen to get out what boats were left.

"My instructions from the captain were to man my boat and pull off and await orders, which never came. I heard after that he was struck by a falling spar and killed. My boat's crew and myself picked up thirty-two in all, and we pulled till daylight, when we came across the second cutter and gig, and we sighted a sail in the offing. The ship's doctor, who was one of the saved, called for seamen to man the gig and pull toward her. Eight of us volunteered, and we pulled out, but could not attract her attention, so we decided not to venture any further.

"Fish Bay was our landing place, and fortunately for us the postmaster's daughters of Caledon had just finished bathing and were about to return home. They were very kind and provided us with some coffee and bread, which was very acceptable. After we had tramped to Caledon we were sent to Simon's Town, and then to Algoa Bay, our naval station. We were brought back to England on the Amazon."

Thomas Coffin was indeed a son of the sea, for he was actually born on a battleship, H.M.S. Pitt, of which his father was shipkeeper. In the natural course of events he entered the navy, saw active service on the coast of Syria, was with the Naval Brigade in the Crimea, and fought in the China war of 1860. In 1871, as a quartermaster he left the service of his country.

LINES TO LOUISA.

[The same being our forty-seventh maid who has gone to smash elsewhere.]

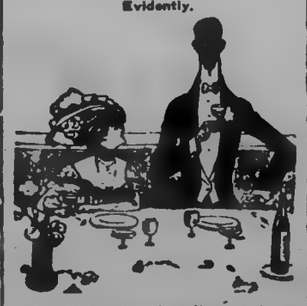
A week ago we had a maid
Whose memory will never fade.
You should have seen Louisa!
She piled the plates on which we dined
So very high they called to mind
The leaning tower of Pisa.

At other times they did not lean
When carried by our kitchen queen
(Whose other name was Dennis),
But rose as straight as spire or tree,
And then her model seemed to be
The campanile, Venice.

The leaning tower was first to go,
And when it hit the floor below
The havoc was appalling!
At once another crash occurred,
And then, alas, we knew we heard
The campanile falling!

I see its shattered remnants yet.
'Twas half our wedding dinner set—
The other half was Pisa.
My chatelaine her protest filed.
"Pray leave," she cried, "ere I go wild,
For Pelion on Ossa piled
Would be your next, Louisa!"
—Earle Hooker Eaton in Harper's Weekly.

Evidently.



She—This wine doesn't seem to go to your head as quickly as it does to mine.

He—No. That is probably because it has farther to go.

Golfing Sarcasm.

"Caddy, how many strokes is that for this hole?" asked the golfer with the plaid cap.

"I can't say, sir."

"Can't say?"

"No, sir; I can only count up to twelve, sir."

Courtship Was Hasty.

A young laborer appeared before the Kilmallock (County Limerick) guardians at their last meeting, and expressed a desire to marry one of the women in the workhouse. He explained that he had not a house, and that he did not want one until he had made sure of getting a wife. Further, he informed the chairman that he did not care whether he married a spinster or a widow with two or three children.

The workhouse master, a guardian, and the suitor then left for the workhouse to select the wife. A number of women were assembled in the hall, and after a few moments the young man made his choice. The guardian hurried back to his colleagues and announced, "It's settled; the girl has consented."

The clerk asked the suitor to postpone the happy event for a week, but he appeared to be in a hurry. "It is not possible that I could," he replied, "I'll come down to-morrow." He came and the ceremony was duly performed.

WORD ODDITIES.

Some Interesting Curiosities of the English Language.

Honorificabilitudinitatibus is a rather long word. You cannot find it in the dictionary, but you will find it used in Shakespeare and some of the other early English writers.

The word is meaningless. The only interesting point about it is its length. Twenty-seven letters in a breath are quite a few. But our dictionary gives some almost as long—for instance, the following two of twenty-four letters each:

Transubstantiationalists.
Insanthropomorphicability.

Here are some of the other boa constrictors:

Twenty-three letters:
Disproportionablenesses.

Twenty-two:
Intercommunicabilities.

Twenty-one:
Interconvertibilities.

Twenty:
Histomorphologically.
Interdifferentiation.
Supersensitiveness.
Hypersensitiveness.

It is safe to say that the ordinary reader would not run on to one of these in a hundred years, and if he did he would run the other way.

It is interesting to know that the entire alphabet can be arranged in one intelligible sentence without the repetition of a single letter—just twenty-six letters in the following sentence, and no two alike:

J. Q. Vends struck my big fox whelp.

That simple sentence is the hardest possible one to write on the typewriter. So many of the letters in the alphabet are used so seldom that even a good typist has to study out the combination before finding some of them. This sentence is the only known one that contains every letter in the alphabet but once and makes sense.

A TERRIBLE REWARD.

Cromwell's Payment For the Capture of Pembroke Castle.

During the struggle between King Charles and the parliament Pembroke castle was so well fortified that Cromwell, with all his cannon, could not take it.

After many failures he gave up his intention and began to march on for Tenby. But before he had proceeded far a country shoemaker came up to Cromwell and asked him whether he would reward him if he would tell him how to get the castle into his possession.

Cromwell, very glad of this offer, consented. Then this old shoemaker, glad to get some money, as no doubt he was rather poor, told him that there was a pipe through which they got their water and that if he were to cut the pipe the castle would surrender.

Cromwell said, "I thank you for the information you have given me, but as you have turned traitor to your countrymen the only reward I will give you is that you shall be hanged on the very next tree that I come to."

Cromwell had the shoemaker hanged and cut the pipe he had told him of, leading to the castle, which then surrendered.—London Telegraph.

Just Discovered It.

Before a New York dairymen's convention Mrs. Marshall, one of the proprietors of a dairy farm, gave a knock at some of the dairy advice so freely floating around at present: "In every movement looking to the reform or betterment of degenerate conditions, the existence of which has been perfectly obvious to thinking people, there arises a class of 'just-discovered-it maniacs' who fairly froth at the mouth in their zeal to outdo each other in correcting the abuse. For a few years the dairy has been the target of surplus wrath. It has been specialized, scrutinized, sterilized, pasteurized and paralyzed. Some of the latest items since the reformers have had their fling are: 'There is nothing but dirt in the dairy, and you keep everlasting at it.' 'And you tell everybody of your gymnastics to keep the dairies sanitary, and you shout it from the housetops, and you write it to the dairy papers,' and soon your labors will be all done, for nobody will want your milk or butter."

He Saw the Game.

The office boy had buried countless grandmothers, brothers, sisters, aunts and cousins, but he felt an enthusiasm for the baseball game that day which would not be downed.

Suddenly an idea struck him. Approaching the easy boss with an air of familiarity which had been nurtured by long usage he asked:

"May I leave at noon today, sir?"

"And why, my boy?"

"There is a fancy fair at our church and mother wants me to go this afternoon. She was so anxious that she bought me a ticket which cost a dollar, as she was sure you would allow me the few hours off. I have to assist at the refreshment stall, and it seems a pity to waste"—

"But surely you are above such things as that which take you away from your work. Why not give the ticket to one of your sisters?"

"Well, you see, sir, that wouldn't be fair, for I'm the only one of our family who can be depended upon to eat a dollar's worth, and"—

His supreme nerve won the day.

In spite of all your careful habits, its safe to say that in the spring you feel poorly—have a throbbing sensation in the head—skin is pale or yellow, with dark rings under the eyes. If not absolutely bilious the system is so full of bile that you feel heavy and tired all day long.

Clean up work off the winter's accumulation of waste, purify your blood Do this and you'll feel fresh as a prize-fighter. "For ten years," says W. B. Sangster, of Concord, "I suffered greatly from impure blood, which made me feel debilitated and unfit for work. I had no appetite suffered from indigestion and gas, had some pains in the back, caused by poor kidney action. Spring was the hardest time of all, and many a time I felt despondent and languid enough to throw up the sponge. I was impressed by the marvelous work done by Dr. Hamilton's Pills and tried them. They suited me exactly. In one week I felt like new. I was braced up, got rid of blood weakness, gained in flesh, got back my old time appearance and spirits. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will clean all the sickness out of a man in short order and I urge young and old to use this grand tonic medicine."

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensatory; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Prof. in Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send name and address on Postal Card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing, in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

Provincial Elections, 1908

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and scholars of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

Buy Casey Mountain Shares in the

Chartered by the Ontario Government. Authorized Capital $250,000.00

Par Value of Shares Fully Paid-Up and Non-Assessable $1.00

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

PRESIDENT, R. G. Williamson, Toronto, (formerly of Peterborough). VICE-PRESIDENT, James Thompson, Havelock, Ont.
SECRETARY-TREASURER, Dr. H. A. Wood, Peterborough. SUPERINTENDENT, D. Williamson, Haileybury, Ont.
D. A. Reid, Brandon, Manitoba.

HEAD OFFICE—MANNING CHAMBERS—TORONTO—ONTARIO

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares;—

Casey Mountain shares are full-ly paid-up and non-assessable.

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which has regular net-work of silver bearing veins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain has the goods in unlimited quantities sufficient to last for generations.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 todate varying in width from 16 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock Speculation), and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent. to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Dividends Paid by Cobalt Mining Companies

Foster Cobalt Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 45,000.00
McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd., have paid... 45,000.00
The Conlagas Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907 ... 200,000.00
Temiskamings & Hudson Bay Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 760,120.00

(These shares could have been had at 60 cents, and have sold as high as $120.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $30,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends. The Treadwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $20.00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would means a daily output of $2,000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The Above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar each. Write or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Sargent Has a Good Record Will Appear Before Com.

Mr. T. Sargent of Toronto, has been asked to meet the Fire, Water and Light Committee on May 25th, regarding the position of chief of the local brigade, for which he has applied.

Mr. Sargent was formerly with Bolton Avenue and Lombard street stations of the Toronto department, and subsequently organized a brigade in Cobalt. He is now with the Waterworks Department of Toronto.

Desperate Man was Overpowered--Prisoner Sorry He Wasn't Armed

Brockville, May 22.—After an exciting chase of three days, in which a large section of Leeds County and a part of the State of New York was covered, the police today succeeded in capturing James Young, the farm hand who made a murderous attack on Robert Stewart, his employer, on Tuesday last.

No clue was received until last night, when word was received that Young was seen east of the asylum on the G.T.R. A force was organized under Sergt. Burns, and the vicinity patrolled all last night. Young eluded the vigilance of the officers until this morning, when he was seen by a neighbor entering his mother's house. The police were notified and surrounding the premises succeeded in capturing the fugitive. He made a stout resistance, however, and when overcome, remarked that were he in possession of his two revolvers he would have shot the constable.

Young appeared before Magistrate Deacon and was remanded for a week.

The victim of the assault today made an ante-mortem statement to the Crown Attorney, as he is in a critical condition.

Pat McDonough Has Signed Contract with Torontos

The much-talked-of Pat McDonough has signed a contract to play out the season with the Toronto lacrosse Club. Jimmy Murphy has been after him for a long time, but was said he has been flirting with teams in the West. He decided to come to Toronto only a couple of days ago, and reached town yesterday afternoon in time for practice. Eddie Powers, the Elora man, was also on hand, and both the new men did work that made Jimmy Murphy's eyes sparkle with delight. McDonough is not yet in shape, but he is a pretty stick handler as one could wish to see. He also has the lacrosse head. Powers practically cinched his position at point in his first practice with the team. He is heavy and strong, and uses his body well.

There is probably a big surprise waiting for the Senators when they play at Rosedale on Monday. Dave Mulligan says what the Cups will do to Murphy's pick-ups will be a shame, but Mulligan may be forced to change his mind. Local experts expect to see the Torontos pull out a victory. At any rate it will be a great game.

Big Crowd Attend the Final Night of the Lakefield Walk--Doidge and Smaile a Tie for First Money

(Special to The Times.)

Lakefield, May 22.—In the greatest quest ever seen in Lakefield, Doidge and Smaile crossed the finish line abreast of one another, and the great three-day walk was over. These two have struck close together from the start of the tournament, and their gameness has excited much comment.

Gordon finished in third place, being about three-quarters of a mile behind the leaders who covered 29 miles 1 lap for the seven hours. Only six of the walkers finished the grind, Crawford, Short and Middlemas dropping out after going 32 miles 8 laps, 26 miles 13 laps and 33 miles 1 lap, respectively. When Short dropped out he was in fifth place.

Northey the 13-year-old youngster, who made such a remarkable showing the first night of the walk, did not come on the track at all tonight as his parents objected to him continuing in the race.

The crowd tonight was the biggest of the tournament, over 400 people being in attendance.

Charlie Stevens of Peterborough, was at the walk tonight, and wants a match with some of the local boys. An effort will be made to arrange a match between Northey and Stevens the race to take place here.

	Miles	Laps
Doidge	39	1
Smaile	39	1
Gordon	38	9
Quinlan	38	7
Leggott	37	7
Carter	37	1

Hurtubise Won From Yankee Rogers Last Night on a Foul-- Yokome and Burns Win

After exacting one fall in 20 minutes, and being on the aggressive for eight minutes in the second round "Yank" Rogers was disqualified for fouling, and the match was awarded to Hurtubise by Referee Conkle of Hamilton.

Rogers who showed dirty tatics was warned several times by Conkle to cut out the roughness, but he paid no heed to the warnings, and after making several attempts to tear off Hurtubise's nose, he tried to gouge out his eye with his thumb. It was on this foul that Conkle disqualified him and gave the match given to Hurtubise.

Rogers then went to the front of the stage and stated that he had used no rough tactics, saying that no marks could be found on Hurtubise. But the excited crowd would not let him go any further and he was forced to retire.

When the men came on the stage for the bout they were introduced to the audience and then Rogers demanded that the purse of $200 be handed over to the referee before he would go on. When the necessary number of yellow backs had been handed over the bout was on.

The men sparred for a hold for some minutes, Rogers finally securing a body hold which sent Gene to the mat but with shoulders up. Then the big American tried all he knew, but his knowledge of the catch-as-catch can game was evidently no better than Hurtubise's, for the local boy wiggled clear of every hold. Several times Rogers succeeded in getting the hold on Hurtubise, but Gene broke away from it time and again.

Then Hurtubise took a turn at forcing the fighting and he soon had "Yankee" underneath him, but was unable to turn him over. Finally after 20 minutes of very pretty wrestling, Rogers secured a half-nelson on his opponent and won the fall.

After a rest up of ten minutes the men came on the mat for the second round. Rogers immediately appeared on the aggressive and started to rough it. Several times he endeavored to throw Hurtubise, but when the local lad would start to wriggle out of the hold, Rogers would slam him down on the bare floor.

Once the men rolled off the mat, Rogers trying to secure a fall on a half-nelson. But when they rolled onto the boards, instead of letting Hurtubise up as he was told to do by the referee and get back on the mat, Rogers kept on forcing Gene's shoulders along the floor until the skin was all scraped off them and they started to bleed.

This was what Conkle first warned Rogers for, and his repeated roughtetics were anything but sportsman like, so when he tried to gouge out Hurtubise's eyes, Conkle disqualified him.

The match was for a purse of $200, winner to take all. Rogers agreeing to throw Hurtubise three times in an hour.

The first of the preliminaries was a wrestling bout between Bobby Long and A. C. Yokome for the city featherweight championship, and a gold medal, best two in three falls. Yokome cutted the first fall in 26 minutes with a waste hold, and repeated the trick in three minutes with a full nelson and was awarded the match.

Georg Clapp with his great box mystery was the next number on the program, and much curiosity was manifested as to what it was.

Finally after several minutes' delay a box measuring 17 1-2 by 18 inches was brought on the stage, and Announcer Lynch stated that Mr. Clapp, who appeared in street attire would get in the box and remove his clothing. He got into the box and after a wait of some four or five minutes he signalled for the box to be opened, and he got out of the box as he went in, saying that the closeness of the theatre exhausted him so much that it was impossible for him to do the trick.

The next mill was a boxing bout between Carney Burns, and "Buddy" Ryan of Toronto, for a decision and purse. Burns who had the better of the first two rounds, floored his man in the third and was given the decision. Chris. G. Graham refereed both the preliminaries.

This is the Wettest May Since that of 1904

May has still nine days to run, but the rainfall is already slightly above the average for that whole month of May in years past. April was wet also, the rainfalls being much heavier than usual.

Even though there is no more rain for the remainder of the month, this May will go on record as the wettest since 1904. Last May only 1.93 inches fell; in 1906, 2.51 inches. In 1904 the rainfall was 3.8 inches. May of 1894 was the rainiest since records have been kept. 9.37 inches fell that month. In the corresponding month of 1868 there were 7.67 inches. In 17 years since 1840 the May rainfall has been less than two inches.

The "Bargain Annex" Formally Opened

The well known bargain department of A. W. Chessman's which is actuated by and exclusively occupies the fourth floor of the establishment have for the past two years and a half been successfully conducted under the name "Bargain Annex."

This name has become so well known all over the country and the department has been such a success that others have tried to imitate it, both in name and character, however, the name was before the Minister of agriculture for registration and Mr. Chessman received the certificate this morning, thus barring any other firm from using the name "Bargain Annex" in connection with any mercantile business.

The "Bargain Annex" is a seperate department of the store and is conducted on the same basis as any of the others, having a manager who makes regular buying trips to the large centres. In the "Bargain Annex" there is nothing sold but underpriced articles and values are far in advance of the standard, giving this department a most popular place with the economical buyer.

Every Wednesday is a scene of activity in this store from 8.10 in the morning until 5.15 in the afternoon—throngs crowd the fourth floor gathering in the seasonable economies and many a shrewd housewife saves considerable out of her weekly allowance.

In the past two years and a half there has not been a poor day in the "Annex." Every Wednesday has been a decided success, and the number of customers waited on each day ranges from 400 to 650, averaging in the last year about 587 each Wednesday. Extra salespeople are required, who are employed for that day, the usual number serving ranges from 10 to 15, according to the saleable qualities of the goods advertised, as some bargains cause greater rushes than others.

One proof of the popularity of the "Bargain Annex" is the number of kicks registered against the distribution of the weekly annex dodger for not leaving the bill at the door, through some oversight — however when an oversight of this kind occurs and information is left at the office, the address is taken and a recurrence is made impossible. The "Bargain Annex" motto—"Seasonable goods at prices lower than elsewhere."

Over 400,000 French Sign Lavergne's Petition

Ottawa, May 22.—The petition to abolish the employment of both English and French languages by the railway, telephone, and telegraphic companies in Quebec is in the following terms:

"That all railway, telegraph, and telephone companies in the Province of Quebec be required to use both the French and English languages in all their dealings with the public, such as the announcement of the arrival and departure of trains, passenger tickets, time tables, bills of lading, baggage checks, employees' badges, the designation of the classes of railway carriages, despatch prints, forms of contract, subscription books, notices or regulations posted on railway stations, platforms, sidings, etc., and in the trains and offices of railway companies and in the public service."

It is thought that this petition with 443,000 signatures is the most largely signed thing of the kind ever presented to the Dominion Parliament.

Changes Likely to be Made in Office Staff

Rumors have it that there will soon be a number of changes made in the office staff of the Quaker Oats Company. One of the changes stated is that of the transference of Mr. Wm. Cochrane, who is now looking after the Company's interests in St. John's N.B. He will likely return to Peterborough, to take charge of the Sales Department at the local office, one of the most responsible positions in the establishment.

Since Mr. Cochrane left Peterborough a couple of years ago, he has been manager in the company's offices at Montreal and St. John, respectively.

Another change stated is the transference from the local office of Mr. E. A. Pay.

C. Armstrong Still Leads in the Y. M. C. A. Walk

At the end of the second session of the Y.M.C.A. boys' walking race, only six of the original ten contestants were left to fight it out for the silverware.

C. Armstrong is still leading with W. Saxby a close second while his brother Norman was only a lap behind.

The school boys turned out in large numbers to watch their friends' efforts at pedestrianism, and they were well rewarded for their time, for the sport was good. The score at the end of yesterday's walk was as follows:

	Miles.	Laps.
C. Armstrong	11	12
W. Saxby	11	11
N. Saxby	11	6
F. Feeney	11	0
P. Grant	10	10
T. Duffe	11	2

This morning the boys will walk for two hours, commencing at 9.30.

The Opening of the New Collegiate

Preparations are under way for the opening of Peterborough's new Collegiate Institute on Central Park, but what the exact nature of the celebration will be is not yet known but a program is being figured out.

The new building will probably be formally opened about the first of September. A Collegiate Institute Old Boys' re-union will likely be a portion of the celebration. The pupils of the upper rooms of the Institute are now looking into this proposition, and in all probability there will be hundreds of the "Old Boys" of the school on the city for the opening.

There is a large assembly hall in the new edifice, and the reunion will probably take place there.

In the evening of the same day an "at home" is proposed, which will either take the form of a concert or social evening.

The change from the present halls of learning to the new, as intimated above, will be made at the beginning of the autumn term, when the new building will be entirely completed, and when the new principal, Mr. H. R. H. Renner, will assume his duties.

The opening of the Collegiate Institute will be an important step in the interests of education here, and will be the marking of a new era in educational progress in Peterborough.

Sir Thos. Shaugnessy on All Red Line

London, May 22.—In the House of Lords an effective preference debate was concluded yesterday and Lord St. Aldwyn admitted that there was a change coming over the feeling of the country.

Lord Lansdowne said the government's attitude on the imperial conference was a big blunder. The government could have left us legacy more detrimental to the interests of the empire. He emphasized the isolating effect and the probable imitation by others of the colonies of Canada's commercial negotiations. Lord Crewe said it was impossible to divorce preference from protection, which would lead to changes so far-reaching as hardly to be calculated.

Lord Marlborough withdrew his motion.

Replying to Lord Lansdowne, Lord Crewe said there was nothing new in the negotiation of the Franco-Canadian treaty.

MISCHIEVOUS INFANTS.

The Standard, commenting on the preference debate, says the government acted like mischievous infants playing at noughts and crosses on the sands while the tide is rising. While The Times accuses the government of talking on theory and not business. It remarks, however, that even Lord Crewe's speech showed a consciousness that old arguments cannot much longer serve.

SHAUGHNESSY HEARD

The cabinet committee on the all-red route conferred with Lord Strathcona, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, and Messrs. Treadbridge and Ambrose, M. P. It was pointed out that the journey from London to Blackead and thence to Halifax would take only four days.

New York, May 22.—Trans-Atlantic records for a voyage speed and for the shortest trip over the long course were broken by the Cunard liner Lusitania, which arrived here today. The big ship anchored off the Sandy Hook lightship in a heavy fog at 2.55 this morning, just four days, 20 hours, and 52 minutes after she passed Daunt's Rock. This beats the best previous time for the long course by her sister ship the Mauretania, by three hours and 37 minutes, and is only one hour and 42 minutes longer than the Lusitania's record of 4 days, 18 hours, and 40 minutes over the short course.

The Lusitania's average speed for the voyage was 24.83 knots and this time goes far toward securing for her owners the British mail subsidy of $750,000 promised when the Lusitania and Mauretania each shall have averaged 24.50 knots per hour or better for a round trip passage.

The Lusitania's builders are said to be on board. They were urging her to her fastest speed, in order to qualify for the full subsidy offered by the British Navy.

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. He, therefore, publishes, broadcast and on each bottle-wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies it under oath. This he can well afford to do because the exact ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, sometimes accompanied, oftimes, with a debilitating pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nervine and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

Blood-Cleansing Recommended in the Spring Time

In This Way The System Is Strengthened and Better Health Assured.

From the earliest time it has been universally acknowledged that the transitory period between winter and spring is the seed time of disease.

Consequently it is necessary for us all to take suitable medicine.

A delay gives the germs and weakness a better chance to take hold.

Don't wait, think of our small resisting powers, and begin building up today. For weakness, overwork and debility the doctors prescribe Ferrozone; let it help you now.

Vitality and power are instilled into the blood; this means new strength for all weak organs.

The fire of youth will dance in your veins, and new found energy will increase your desire to work.

Ferrozone supplies the nourishing and tissue-building material your system lacks. Isn't this a reason why?

From Combermere, Ont., Mrs. Jno. Cram writes as follows: "For a number of years I was sickly in the spring-time. I felt tired, nervous and had headaches. My blood was weak and damp days brought on rheumatism. My nervous system was unstrung and I felt utterly worn out. Ferrozone revived me in a short time. In two days my appetite increased, and I could feel a building-up process going on. This great tonic made a new person of me and I don't think a more strengthening medicine for the spring can be found."

Wouldn't it be just fine for you to get back your old-time spirits and vigor? Easily done with "Ferrozone"; commence to-day. Sold by all dealers, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50.

OUR FORESTS.

As touching the importance attached by United States President Roosevelt to the question of forest preservation, the London Free Press recalls the following sentence from his recent special message to Congress. "Shall we continue," the President asked, "the waste and destruction of our national resources, in the form of our forests, or shall we conserve them? There is no other question of equal gravity before the nation." Another important communication to Congress stated: "When forests fall, the lumber industry, now the fourth greatest industry in the country, will disappear. Suffering among all building industries will follow immediately, mining will become vastly more expensive. Then, naturally, the prices of coal, iron and other minerals will rise, by this the railroads will be directly affected, and the cost of transportation and water power for lighting, manufacturing and transportation will increase. In brief, when the forests fall, every man, woman and child in the United States will feel the pinch. And through misuse, the forests are falling."

These allusions will be appreciated in Canada where the forest resources are being used up faster to-day probably than in any other part of the world.

Decoration Day May be on a Sunday

Decoration Day in Peterborough, will likely be held on Sunday this year, but however so far no definite arrangements have yet been made toward that end, but it is understood that a number of Oddfellows are agitating to have it on the Sabbath. The Oddfellows under whose auspices the ceremony at the cemetery is conducted, have charge of arranging the date. Some of their members are anxious to have it on Sunday, thinking this would be a better day. Everyone would be able to attend and it would not necessitate any suspension of business during the week.

Committees from each lodge of Oddfellows will meet shortly to decide upon a date and to discuss the matter of holding Decoration Day on Sunday.

Kenosha, Wis., May 19.—A state fight against the spread of tuberculosis has been started by fraternal organizations, whose losses from the malady have been great. The Equitable Fraternal Union led the movement last night when it levied a per capita tax of 5 cents a member to provide a fund for use in this city. Other fraternal organizations in Kenosha have agreed to follow suit and letters are being sent out to the chapters of the organizations in all parts of the state. Wisconsin has a membership in fraternal organizations of over 1,000,000, and the plan, if carried out, will furnish an annual fund of $50,000 for the fight against the disease.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often shows up, the Kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, tide, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

The Dairyman

Dairy farming is increasing in almost every section of the country, largely because it is recognized as one of the most economical forms of agriculture where preservation of soil fertility is considered. Opportunities for dairying are found everywhere in the United States. The different sections of the country have characteristic peculiarities, but all need milk and its products. Success awaits the dairyman who fits his work to the conditions of the place in which he lives. He should know the value of a good dairy cow and how to treat her. He should recognize the necessity of cleanliness from the time the milk leaves the udder until the finished product is in the hands of the consumer. He should know and meet the needs of his market.

Horses on the Dairy Farm.

On every dairy farm there are several horses kept to do the necessary farm work and hauling stuff to and from the city. During most of the year work is rather light on a dairy farm as compared with other kinds of work that the horse is called upon to do. There is some work to be done each day of the year, and this provides some exercise for the horse, which keeps him in good physical condition.

There is an unlimited market for high class draft horses, just the kind that a dairy farmer could raise if he would breed the right kind of animals. The people who use draft horses in the city are willing to pay long prices for them if they can only get the kind they want. The horse weighing 1,600 pounds, out of ordinary stock, sells at a comparatively low price, but a team well matched, sound and with good action and weighing from 3,200 to 4,000 pounds sells quickly and at an exceptionally high price.

It seems to us that most dairymen are so situated that they could raise at least one good team of drafters each year and would scarcely feel the time and money spent in producing them, says Hoard's Dairyman.

What is needed is a team or two of well bred mares, not necessarily pure bred, but animals of good size, strong bone, and well matched. If they be grade Percherons, breed them to the best Percheron stallion within reach; if they are Clydes, use a Clyde sire. Do not crossbreed, for it is just as ruinous a practice in the breeding of good horses as it is in the breeding of good cows. Aim to get well matched teams, strong bones, sound and with good action, and a ready market will always be found at good prices for such kind of horses.

For nine long years he had been wooing the fair daughter of the farm.

Jennie clutched his arm excitedly.

"Oh, Tom!" she exclaimed.

A BOWL OF BITTER TEA.

Himalayan Hospitality In a Snow Enveloped Hovel.

In spite of a poverty which limits their good intentions the inhabitants of central and south central Asia display a charming hospitality. Such, at least, is the impression gained from Mr. Ellsworth Huntington's book, "The Pulse of Asia."

At Matayan, a village in the province of Ladakh, the habitable portion of the upper Indus valley, a friendly villager invited Mr. Huntington to dive down from the crust which covered eight or ten feet of snow into a one story house. This was at an elevation of 10,500 feet.

Although it was April 11, the snow, even on a level, was higher than the tops of the houses. Where it had been shoveled off the flat roofs it formed high banks, protecting them from the wind and making them the favorite sitting room at that season and even in winter, for the sunshine is always warm in that dry, cloudless climate.

When the little black cows had been driven and pulled out of the way Mr. Huntington descended to an almost closed shed used for the two or three hardy sheep and goats and was ushered, stooping, into a dark stable containing a little pony, shaggy, like all the animals. Bending low once more, he climbed over a high sill and was in the warm, close family living room.

Light and air came in through a hole in the roof a foot square surmounted by a chimney pot a foot high made of three stones set up to keep out the snow. A few bits of ragged cloth on the mud floor for sleeping purposes, a half dozen metal utensils and an iron pot full of Himalayan tea, kept warm over some embers, comprised all the visible equipment for housekeeping.

After the host had persuaded Mr. Huntington to take a seat on the floor a half palsied old woman insisted upon ladling out for him a bowl of tea. It was surprisingly good in view of the fact that a poor grade of tea leaves had been steeped half an hour or more with milk, butter, salt and soda. In richer houses Mr. Huntington was often served with tea which had been improved by being churned violently in a slender, greasy black churn, twenty inches long by four in diameter, in order to mix the rancid butter well into the compound before it was turned into the drinking bowls.

Pretty Little Ornaments Worn Over High Collars.

Those pretty little velvet ornaments with fancy slides that are worn so much now over the high collars of dresses may be very easily made by a girl who is clever with her fingers.

Black can be worn with anything, and so that color is favorite, but if a girl wishes to have more than one she can choose those that will accord in tone with the waist with which it is worn. The shade should be light and delicate, however, such as pink, blue or mauve.

One will require a strip of ribbon velvet just large enough to fit easily over the top of a collar and have a little at the ends to turn under when making. In place of the slides, that cost more, pins are to be selected. Those of plated gold, rhinestones or more expensive kinds may be chosen. It is only necessary that there shall be four the same size.

The velvet should be fitted around the collar, the ends neatly turned under and two tiny hooks sewed at top and bottom. The smallest size should be used. The loops must be silk, as they are less apt to show than those of metal.

This done, the ornaments are taken and their pins removed. This can be done without breaking if they are gently and constantly worked far back and down. The pin should come out, leaving the little joint in which it was hinged and through which a small needle will pass. The hook into which the pin went should be flattened.

These are then sewed on carefully at regular intervals, one coming directly in front and back and under each ear or at either side of the front and the back. In either case the distance between must be the same.

Virtues of Titled Husbands.

"I can understand easily why many wealthy American girls are eager to get married to European noblemen," said recently a woman who spends much of her time abroad. "By their training titled foreigners are specially adapted, if they are moral, to make their wives happy. They have been trained in the little graces of thought and deed that mean so much in making a woman happy. They are thoroughly equipped for society life and know how to pleasantly entertain their wives. Now, if our American girls of wealth have no ambition for any serious work and wish to lead a gay life, mingling with fashionable, polished people, they cannot choose husbands better adapted for that kind of life than the foreigners. Wealthy American men, on the other hand, are always absorbed in some business which takes them away from their wives and society a great deal. In that respect they do not make good husbands, and I am convinced that if American girls get as husbands noblemen who are devoted to them and will remain so they could not do better. Of course that if is a big one."

An English Amenity.

A striking difference between our manners and those of our English cousins was shown one day at a garden party. The hostess, an American, was speaking to one of her guests, an Englishwoman of rank.

"Dear Lady B.," she said, "there are some sandwiches which I made with my own hands, particularly for you. You know I've often told you about our American sandwiches and how good they are. Here are different sorts, lettuce and cucumbers, if you care for 'grass,' or if you like a savory better try the cream cheese ones with pimentoes. I've some sweet ones, too, raisins and nuts chopped together—which will you try first?"

She held a plate in each hand, a plate filled with dainty looking sandwiches, and they were extended invitingly toward her guest, who looked at them critically, then said in the clear, high pitched voice of the well bred Englishwoman:

"Oh, thank you, so kind of you, but do you know I never touch the sweety things?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Toronto, March 20th, 1908.

To the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited:—

Gentlemen,—

I beg to confirm my previous report to you that in my judgment the surface showings on the 14 mining claims which the Company has acquired, being—Nos. H.S. 221 to H. S. 234, both inclusive indicate the probability of the existence of large bodies of both high grade and low grade free-milling ore, sufficient to pay dividends for an indefinite period.

I have personally examined a number of veins and reefs on said property (consisting of about 560 acres) and had some assays made and from such examinations and assays I make this report.

The statement on pages nine and ten of the Prospectus giving the short history of the Company are correct. I insisted on retaining a large interest in the Company rather than sell for any price that seemed reasonable to the purchasers.

DAVID A. FOSTER,
Haileybury.

IN THE MATTER OF THE GREAT NORTHERN LARDER LAKE MINING CO., LTD.

Statutory Declarations.
DOMINION OF CANADA
County of York
TO WIT:

I, David Foster, of the town of Haileybury, in the district of Nipissing, miner, do solemnly declare that the statements in the annexed certificate are true. I have personally inspected all of the fourteen claims now transferred to the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited. I have taken samples containing gold values from said property, and from my personal examination, and from assays made, I believe the Company's property when developed, will prove very valuable. I have full confidence in the success of the said Company, and on this account, with the exception of $600 already received, I have agreed to accept stock in said Company, and a note which I believe will not be of much value should the actual development work not prove the said claims to contain gold in paying quantities as it is not payable for one year from this date or until after, the Company shall have done the necessary development work on said claims. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath, and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act."

DAVID A. FOSTER.

Declared before me at Toronto, in the County of York, this 31st day of March, 1908. J. T. LOFTUS, A. Commissioner in H. C. J.

PROPERTIES TRANSFERRED.

Since the prospectus was printed, the sale of the 14 mining claims to the Company has been completed and the transfers to the Company are registered in the Recorder's Office at Larder City. There is no mortgage or other encumbrance against said claims.

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1/2 CENT A SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,461.67 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,600 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

—T Herbert Bell, M.D., C.M., M.R.C.S., son of our esteemed fellow townsman Mr. Frank Bell, Clerk of the First Division Court of this county, is House Surgeon of the Royal Eye Hospital of London, England. The Times congratulates Dr. Bell on his continued success. The Royal Hospital is an immense institution devoted wholly to diseases of the eye. Last year as the annual statement shows there was an attendance of 85,000 (out-patients which will give an idea of the opportunities for study and practice afforded there. Some of the best surgeons in the world are members of the staff. Dr. Bell has been on the staff for more than a year. When he has visited the continental hospitals he will probably return to Canada to practise as an oculist and aurist.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a question only little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds Nerve-force; it offers real, genuine help. "If you would have strong Hearts, strong Hearts, strengthen those Nerves"—re-establish them as needed, with

Man Who Steered Ill-Fated Troopship When Wrecked.

Memories of the tragic wreck of the troopship Birkenhead, with its deeds of splendid heroism probably unsurpassed in military or naval annals, are recalled by the death at Bristol (Eng.) of one of the survivors, at the age of 85.

He was Thomas Coffin, who, on the occasion of the disaster to the troopship was the "man at the wheel," and with seven others succeeded in pulling safely to shore in a gig.

Joining the Birkenhead about 1850, when he was 23 years of age, Coffin made three voyages in the vessel with troops.

A fourth voyage to the Cape was the fateful one in which the Birkenhead was wrecked, and the troops went down to a man, drawn up, as if on parade, on her decks.

Coffin has told his own story in quiet, plain phrases that perhaps give a clearer idea of the grim tragedy than a number of lurid phrases.

"I was at the wheel, and well remember the sentry calling out to the officer of the watch, 'Four bells, sir.' The officer replied, 'Strike them, sentry,' which he did not do, for at that very moment she struck the rock and the sentry went rolling to the deck. At the time most of the soldiers were below asleep, but were awoke by the crash (which appeared to me to be enough to wake the dead almost) and came on deck; but on being called to order, fell in and remained so, thus enabling the seamen to get out what boats were left.

"My instructions from the captain were to man my boat and pull off and await orders, which never came. I heard after that he was struck by a falling spar and killed. My boat's crew and myself picked up thirty-two in all, and we pulled till daylight, when we came across the second cutter and gig, and we sighted a sail in the offing. The ship's doctor, who was one of the saved, called for seamen to man the gig and pull toward her. Eight of us volunteered, and we pulled out, but could not attract her attention, so we decided not to venture any further.

"Fish Bay was our landing place, and fortunately for us the postmaster's daughters of Caledon had just finished bathing and were about to return home. They were very kind and provided us with some coffee and bread, which was very acceptable. After we had tramped to Caledon we were sent to Simon's Town, and then to Algoa Bay, our naval station. We were brought back to England on the Amazon."

Thomas Coffin was indeed a son of the sea, for he was actually born on a battleship, H.M.S. Pitt, of which his father was shipkeeper. In the natural course of events he entered the navy, saw active service on the coast of Syria, was with the Naval Brigade in the Crimea, and fought in the China war of 1860. In 1871, as a quartermaster he left the service of his country.

LINES TO LOUISA.

[The name being our forty-seventh maid who has gone to smash elsewhere.]

A week ago we had a maid
Whose memory will never fade,
You should have seen Louisa!
She piled the plates on which we dined
So very high they called to mind
The leaning tower of Pisa.

At other times they did not dress
When carried by our kitchen queen
(Whose other name was Dennis),
But rose as straight as spire or tree,
And then her model seemed to be
The campanile, Venice.

The leaning tower was first to go,
And when it hit the floor below
The havoc was appalling!
At once another crash conveyed,
And then, alas, we knew we heard
The campanile falling!

I see its shattered remnants yet.
'Twas half our wedding dinner set—
The other half was Pisa.
My chatelaine her protest filed.
"Pray leave," she cried, "ere I go wild,
For Police on Ossa piled
Would be your next, Louisa!"
—Earle Hooker Eaton in Harper's Weekly.

Evidently.

She—This wine doesn't seem to go to your head as quickly as it does to mine.

He—No. That is probably because it has farther to go.

Golfing Sarcasm.

"Caddy, how many strokes is that for this hole?" asked the golfer with the plaid cap.

"I can't say, sir."

"Can't say?"

"No, sir; I can only count up to twelve, sir."

Courtship Was Nasty.

A young laborer appeared before the Kilmallock (County Limerick) guardians at their last meeting, and expressed a desire to marry one of the women in the workhouse. He explained that he had not a house, and that he did not want one until he had made sure of getting a wife. Further, he informed the chairman that he did not care whether he married a spinster or a widow with two or three children.

The workhouse master, a guardian, and the suitor then left for the workhouse to select the wife. A number of women were assembled in the hall, and after a few moments the young man made his choice. The guardian hurried back to his colleagues and announced, "It's settled; the girl has consented."

The clerk asked the suitor to postpone the happy event for a week, but he appeared to be in a hurry. "It is not possible that I could," he replied. "I'll come down to-morrow." He came and the ceremony was duly performed.

WORD ODDITIES.

Some Interesting Curiosities of the English Language.

Honorificabilitudinitatibus is a rather long word. You cannot find it in the dictionary, but you will find it used in Shakespeare and some of the other early English writers.

The word is meaningless. The only interesting point about it is its length. Twenty-seven letters in a breath are quite a few. But our dictionary gives some almost as long—for instance, the following two of twenty-four letters each:

Transubstantiationalists.
Inanthropomorphiasability.

Here are some of the other boa constrictors:

Twenty-three letters:
Disproportionablenesses.
Twenty-two:
Intercommunicabilities.
Twenty-one:
Interconvertibilities.
Twenty:
Histomorphologically.
Interdifferentiation.
Supersensitivenesses.
Hypersensitivenesses.

It is safe to say that the ordinary reader would not run on to one of these in a hundred years, and if he did he would run the other way.

It is interesting to know that the entire alphabet can be arranged in one intelligible sentence without the repetition of a single letter—just twenty-six letters in the following sentence, and no two alike:

J. Q. Vands struck my big fox whelp.

That simple sentence is the hardest possible one to write on the typewriter. So many of the letters in the alphabet are used so seldom that even a good typist has to study out the combination before finding some of them. This sentence is the only known one that contains every letter in the alphabet but once and makes sense.

A TERRIBLE REWARD.

Cromwell's Payment For the Capture of Pembroke Castle.

During the struggle between King Charles and the parliament Pembroke castle was so well fortified that Cromwell, with all his cannon, could not take it.

After many failures he gave up his intention and began to march on for Tenby. But before he had proceeded far a country shoemaker came up to Cromwell and asked him whether he would reward him if he would tell him how to get the castle into his possession.

Cromwell, very glad of this offer, consented. Then this old shoemaker, glad to get some money, as no doubt he was rather poor, told him that there was a pipe through which they got their water and that if he were to cut the pipe the castle would surrender.

Cromwell said, "I thank you for the information you have given me, but as you have turned traiter to your countrymen the only reward I will give you is that you shall be hanged on the very next tree that I come to."

Cromwell had the shoemaker hanged and cut the pipe he had told him of, leading to the castle, which then surrendered.—London Telegraph.

Just Discovered It.

Before a New York dairymen's convention Mrs. Marshall, one of the proprietors of a dairy farm, gave a knock at some of the dairy advice so freely floating around at present: "In every movement looking to the reform or betterment of degenerate conditions, the existence of which has been perfectly obvious to thinking people, there arises a class of 'just-discovered-it maniacs' who fairly froth at the mouth in their zeal to outdo each other in correcting the abuse. For a few years the dairy has been the target of surplus wrath. It has been specialized, scrutinized, sterilized, pasteurized and paralyzed. Some of the latest items since the reformers have had their fling are: 'There is nothing but dirt in the dairy, and you keep everlasting at it.' 'And you tell everybody of your gymnastics to keep the dairies sanitary, and you shout it from the housetops, and you write it to the dairy papers,' and soon your labors will be all done, for nobody will want your milk or butter."

He Saw the Game.

The office boy had buried countless grandmothers, brothers, sisters, aunts and cousins, but he felt an enthusiasm for the baseball game that day which would not be dressed.

Suddenly an idea struck him. Approaching the copy boss with an air of familiarity which had been rendered by long usage he ventured:

"May I leave at noon today, sir?"

"And why, my boy?"

"There is a fancy fair at our church and mother wants me to go this afternoon. She was so anxious that she bought me a ticket which cost a dollar, as she was sure you would allow me the few hours off. I have to assist at the refreshment stall, and it seems a pity to waste"—

"But surely you are above such things as that which take you away from your work. Why not give the ticket to one of your sisters?"

"Well, you see, sir, that wouldn't be fair, for I'm the only one of our family who can be depended upon to eat a dollar's worth, sir!"

His eagerness were the ship.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each on and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Presented with a Suit Case

Mr. Thos. Begley, who left last night for Lindsay, where he has accepted a position of the staff of the Lindsay Post, on Thursday afternoon was presented with a suit case, and an address by the employes of the Review Publishing Company, where he has been employed for the past five years. The address was read by Mr. David Moore, and Mr R. T. Hounsell made the presentation.

He made an appropriate reply, expressing his appreciation of the remembrance and the kindness which actuated it.

By his departure from Peterborough, the dramatic section of St Peter's T.A.S. loses one of its most capable actors, who has always worked industriously for the success of the annual dramatic presentation.

GIVE NATURE A CHANCE.

The strongest minds have gotten their inspiration direct from Nature. Nature is the great teacher of mankind. We can look to Nature for all our needs. In the recent Russo-Japanese war the surgeons of the Japanese navy and army discovered that wounds would heal more rapidly and with better success if left to Nature. They washed the wounds with water which had been boiled and thus sterilized—then bandaged the wounds with clean linen—no powerful drugs or antiseptics were used in their first aid to the injured. Such methods resulted in the loss of only 23 out of 688 men treated in a naval hospital for their wounds. It is only from lack of observing Nature's laws that most of us suffer at one time or another from indigestion, impure blood and a generally run-down system. Our remedy lies in Nature's laboratory—deep in the fragrant woods—where are many American plants, the roots of which when properly treated will supply a health-giving tonic.

Many years ago a physician who had an extensive practice among the afflicted made a striking departure from the usual methods of his confreres in medicine—he went straight to Nature for the cure of those stomach disorders which resulted so often in an anaemic condition, or impure blood, loss of appetite, pale or pimply skin, feeling of lassitude and weakness. He found that the bark of the Black Cherry-tree, the root of the Mandrake, Stone root, Queen's root, Bloodroot and Golden Seal root, made into a scientific, non-alcoholic extract by the use of glycerine, made the best alterative and tonic. The refreshing influence of this extract is at once apparent in the recovered strength of the patient—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which otherwise may poison the system. This alterative and tonic extract has been found to stand alone as a safe, invigorating tonic, as it does not depend on alcohol for a false stimulation, but is Nature's own method of strengthening and cleansing the system. It tones up the stomach and the blood in Nature's own way. It is well known all over the world as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The name was given to this vegetable compound because one of the important ingredients was Golden Seal root. " " " Such an authority as Dr. Roberts Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, says "very useful as a stomachic tonic. Cures catarrh of the stomach and headaches accompanying the same." Dr. Grover Coe, in his book Organic Medicines, speaking of Golden Seal root, says that "as a liver invigorator it has few equals." Further he says, "in chronic inflammation of the bladder we deem it one of the most reliable agents of cure. As a tonic in the convalescing stages of fevers, pneumonia, dysentery and other acute diseases Hydrastis (Golden Seal root) is peculiarly appropriate."

Dr. Coe continues: "We would here add that our experience has demonstrated the Hydrastis or Golden Seal root to be a valuable remedy in bronchitis, laryngitis, and other affections of the respiratory organs."

"Of service in chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels following abuse of alcohol, a tonic after malarial fever. Has a distinct, anti-malarial influence. Good in all catarrhal conditions, as uterine catarrh, leucorrhœa, etc. Is a curative agent in chronic dyspepsia." —Robert A. Hare, M. D., University of Pennsylvania.

Prof. John M. Scudder in Specific Medication says: "It stimulates the digestive processes, and increases the assimilation of food. By these means the blood is enriched, and this blood feeds the muscular system. I mention the muscular system because I believe it first feels the increased power imparted by the stimulation of increased nutrition. The consequent improvement on the nervous and glandular systems are natural results.

In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

After many years of study and laboratory work Dr. R. V. Pierce produced the most happy combination of this Golden Seal root with other efficacious roots—enhancing and increasing its curative power these native plants from our American forests by the addition of chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, which is far better than alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles residing in plants. Glycerine itself is useful in medicine to subdue inflammation and by cleansing the membrane of the stomach of abnormal secretions aids in the cure of dyspepsia, and stomach and intestinal troubles.

Will the 57th go to Quebec?

That the full strength of the 57th regiment will be invited to Quebec for the tercentenary celebration. Such was the opinion of a local military man when talking to the newspapers yesterday. "Just watch if I am not right," he said, "all the city corps will be invited and some of the best of the rural battalions."

Price of Hay Takes a Big Drop

The price of hay at the present time is from $13 to $14 a ton, which is a big drop from the price demanded a fortnight ago. For many months the farmers have been receiving from $16 to $20 per ton, and strange enough, it remained at that notch without any sign of falling. Those who know could not put forward any particular reason saying, however, that the price had been altogether too high and that it was just settling down to the proper price.

This on attraction alone will be worth the price of admission to the grounds, but to this will be added two first-class ball games and a lot of sports that will be well worth going miles to see.—Hastings Star

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past session alone. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—As you are aware, I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good, economical and efficient administration of affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province, generally.

The test of good representation either by a Government or member is good work, and, in this respect both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr. Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure, for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evidently feel that they have done so, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies, inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto, by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent., while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per cent.

Disregard of the rights of labor was shown by the Government reviving the contract system of prison labor, abolishing by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labor at 3 cents per hour to compete against free labor.

The introduction of the "spoils system," the failure to remove license administration from the sphere of political influences, the three-fifths handicap to Local Option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and discouragement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, the neglect of law reform, with a view of making our law courts available for securing justice, within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters in which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests of the city in every direction, and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our working men and our manufacturing industries; and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying interests, which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen,

G. A. GILLESPIE

The little son of Mr. G. L. Stevens, manager for Robertson Bros. and who resides at 631 George street, met with a very serious accident, while playing near his father's house. A doctor was immediately called in and it was found to be a very serious break.

Temperance People to Ask Straight Question

Toronto, May 23.—The sub-executive committee of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance, at a meeting held in the Alliance offices, decided to again urge temperance people throughout the province to endeavor to secure the election of representatives in the next legislature, who will stand straight upon the temperance question.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"That our friends and workers in each constituency throughout the province be urged to secure from the candidates standing for election to the legislative assembly, a clear statement as to their position upon the temperance question. To this end it is suggested that definite answers be obtained to the following questions:

"Are you in favor of the abolition of the barroom?"

"Are you in favorf of the repeal of the three-fifths requirement?"

Already there are in the field in a number of constituencies candidates who have declared themselves for the abolition of the barroom, and the repeal of the three-fifths requirement. These are the two points upon which emphasis is being made.

The temperance people care not what fi man's party affiliations are nothing can be depended upon to death in his power to urge the enactment of effective legislation against the barroom evil, and who will hold himself free from party dictation in relation to such legislation.

Roman Catholic Organ Intimates Important Changes will be Made

Ottawa, May 23.—United Canada, the Roman Catholic organ says,

"The propaganda at Rome seems to have decided upon retiring several aged Canadian archbishops. In addition to Archbishop O'Connor of Toronto, the paper is informed that three other Ontario bishops will soon retire, including the chief pastors of Hamilton, Peterborough, Kingston and probably Ottawa."

British Orth of British Columbia, is also mentioned as [illegible] be superseded.

Kingston, May 23.—The venerable Archbishop Gauthier is out of the city at present, but no thought of his resignation of his office has ever been suggested. His secretary says any such a statement is foundationless, and if any papers have mentioned it, it is evidently purely fictitious.

Ottawa, May 23.—The Papal Ablegate, Mgr. Sbarretti, went to London yesterday in company with Bishop McEvay, who has been officially announced as the appointee to the archbishopric of Toronto. He will assume the position as soon as his pallium is received from Rome.

TREATED AS A JOKE

Hamilton, May 23.—The statement of United Canada, the Catholic paper published at Ottawa, to the effect that the propaganda at Rome has decided upon retiring the chief pastors of the Hamilton, Peterborough, Kingston, and probably the Ottawa diocese, is treated by the Church authorities here as a joke and given little credence in Catholic circles generally.

Rev. Dean Mahoney, rector of St Mary's Cathedral, when interviewed by a reporter, said; "While I know nothing officially, that report I would characterize as a humbug with a capital H. It is an April Fool joke perpetrated [illegible] about six weeks too late."

SCOLLARD TO SUCCEED M'EVAY.

While Rev. Dean Mahoney has been mentioned as successor of Archbishop McEvay in the London See, there is an impression here that Bishop Scollard of Sault Ste. Marie will have charge of the London diocese, and that Dean Mahoney is likely to be appointed bishop of the Soo diocese. It is impossible, however, to obtain any official confirmation of the report.

PROTESTANTS CONGRATULATE.

London, May 23.—The promotion of Bishop McEvay is gratifying not only to those of the Catholic faith, but to the community at large. Canon Dann of St. Paul's Cathedral and Rev. E. B. Lanceley of Dundas Centre Methodist Church, among many others, have expressed their pleasure at hearing of the appointment.

DOWLING WAS NOTIFIED.

Hamilton, May 23.—Bishop Dowling as senior Bishop of the ecclesiastical province of Toronto, has received official notification of the appointment of the Right Rev. Dr McEvay, Bishop of London, to the position of Archbishop of Toronto.

Judge Mulock Passed Death Sentence on Giuseppe Greco

Hamilton, May 23. — Giuseppe Greco, who was found guilty at the assizes of murdering Antonio Riezzo, was this morning sentenced to be hanged on Aug. 21.

Chief Justice Mulock pronounced the sentence, and as it was the first time he had uttered the fateful words he nearly broke down. Greco was the least moved of all in court. His honor said, "God forbid that I should let fall at this moment a single word unnecessarily that might add to your burden by chance. Rather is it my aim and effort to pronounce with all possible tenderness the death sentence established to law for cases like yours.

"As a rule when men commit a crime you can point to some compelling motive, but in your case the evidence wholly failed to disclose a motive for your act. There is a lack of any evidence that you are of criminal instincts and a person to commit crime from hardness of heart; on the contrary, with this single exception, you have been a good citizen.

"You have proven yourself an affectionate and good son, adding to this you have scarcely reached manhood, being only 20 years of age.

"It is indeed my duty that you must pay your debt to society by the forfeit of your life, and may your fate be a warning to others like you. It is not for me to hold out any hope that the penalty will be commuted, as the executive is the only body that can interfere with it. I beseech you during the time you remain on this earth to go with a penitent heart to the Father of all goodness and mercy."

The prisoner's brother, Bruno, who was charged as an accessory, heard the sentence, he dashed his head against the floor in the jail, beat himself with his fists, and bit a chunk out of one of his wrists.

If the recommendation of the grand jury is carried out, Bruno will be deported.

Manager Johnston's Nine Defeated the Athletics on Saturday Afternoon by 8 to 1

Mayor Rush, Ald. Harry Phelan as the battery and Ald. Bradburn wielding the willow, opened the baseball season in Peterborough on Saturday afternoon when Manager Lynch's Athletics played Manager Johnston's Petes. There was a good attendance. There has been keen rivalry between the Athletics and the Peterboroughs, the two local Midland League teams, and the exhibition game on Saturday afternoon at R'verside Park, was intensely interesting up to the fourth innings, both teams playing great ball. Manager Lynch kept his men well under hand considering the little practice they have had. After the fourth innings the Athletics showed lack of training and became erratic, the infield making some costly errors. Jack Connors was off color, not playing his usual good game. Quinlan never pitched a better game and had he received support would have made matters decidedly interesting for the Petes. "Dubby" Shea was all to the good with the willow, making three nice hits. Landry on 3rd has was a rank failure, and 11 some good chances pass, seldom covering the bag at an opportune time. With more practice on the batting line, and a good man on 3rd the Athletics will prove a hard team to beat.

The Petes played an errorless game but found Q e hard proposition to solve Quinlan's benders. Their fielding was of the sensational order and their play on the field has not been equalled in this city. The prettiest play of the day is credited to Maddock at short, taking in Shea's hot smasher right off the bat.

Every man on the Petes has the game on his finger tips, are clever base runners and play a winning game all through.

Summary—Earned runs, Peterborough 4, Athletics 0; two-base hits, Murphy, Shea; struck out by Quinlan 11, by Hawkins 9; left on bases, Petes 7, Athletics 4. Hit by pitcher, O'Brien. Sacrifice hits—Maddocks, Lawson, Landry.

SAYINGS OF THE FANS.

Landry, the Tri-State leaguer, as a misfit, was nuisance around third made the fans think he learned the game at a correspondence school.

Both teams tried hard to win.

Maddocks made the catch of the day, the ball in the game all the time.

Edmunds is a neat catcher and in the game with ginger and always there with the willow.

Flaherty covers first neatly.

Corney Burns made a nice catch after a long run, and also gave some nice exhibition of base running.

Cahill made a neat catch of a line drive back or short.

"Dubby" Shea was there with the goods, he certainly has a great batting eye.

Umpire Wareham's decision at the plate caused a lot of excitement—Edmunds had Landry a block, but "Billy" could not see it that way.

57th Regiment Annual Church Parade

The 57th Regiment presented a good appearance on parade yesterday to attend divine service at St. John's church. A large proportion of the regiment turned out although the full strength was not represented. The uniforms of the officers and men were bright and neat and the general department of the regiment was excellent.

Both bands were in attendance, the turnout of the regimental band and of the buglers and drummers being splendid. The regiment left the drill shed about four o'clock, the band playing march music on the way to the church and that spirited march setting of "Onward Christian Soldiers" on the return. The bugle band was heard to good advantage.

The regiment was admitted to the church first and as many as could secure entrance followed them, the church being crowded for the services. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt preached the sermon which was of special interest to the regiment and Rev. Wm. Major assisted in the services. The lessons were read by Lt.-Col. Stevenson.

Cecil Armstrong Still in the Lead

Cecil Armstrong is still first in the Y.M.C.A. walking race, leading at 6 p.m. Saturday, when the third session was finished. He was just one lap ahead of Norman Saxby, whose great walking was the feature of to-day's walk. He was six laps behind Armstrong when the two hours' walk began Saturday at noon and had closed up to one lap. Cuffe was seized with cramps and left the track for over half an hour, dropping to the bottom as a result.

The closing session will be held on this morning, when they walk two hours.

Mr. Cyril Lock Left for the Nipigon District

Mr. Cyril Lock, of Wm. Lech & Sons, left Saturday on a long trip to the Nipigon district, with Mr. J. McDonald to purchase furs in the northern country. Mr. McDonald is a representative of Revillion Bros., furriers, of Paris, France, with Canadian houses at Montreal and Edmonton. They have about twenty-four stations in the district in which Mr. McDonald works, and the furs from there are shipped to Montreal, Edmonton being the collective point of Western Canada.

The house of Revillion Bros. was founded in 1723 and has branch offices in all parts of the world. The furs that are looked for in the Nipigon territory are those of the mink, martin, red fox, cross fox, weasel, wolf and silver fox. They are obtained from the Indians by either barter or purchase, according (to their wishes.

Mr. Lech will obtain valuable information in this trip. He expects it will be a year before he returns home again.

Most Athletes Have a Wrong Conception of Training says Rogers

"Youkey" Rogers the celebrated American heavyweight wrestler, says that most athletes have a wrong conception of training. He states they do too much heavy work and have the erroneous idea that muscles to be powerful must be hard.

Rogers as a man of immense strength and phenomenal development has physique being a revelation to those who saw him wrestling against Hurtubise on Friday night and yet he does not do tender rough physical work, but goes in for exercises which will tend to make his muscles soft and pliable.

"I never do any weight lifting gymnasium work, dumb bell exercises or anything of that character," he said. "My course of training chiefly consists of running, bag punching, walking, boxing and wrestling. I wouldn't allow my muscles to become hard under any consideration, because if I did I would not be as speedy as I am and would be liable to become muscle bound. This hard and heavy system of exercising is a mistake."

And to see Roger's fine development and watch him at work on the mat is a guarantee that the big Yankee knows what he is talking about.

Will Erect Big Paper Mills at Town of Kenora

Kenora, May 23.—The most important intelligence which will affect the outer towns of Keewatin and Kenora in the future comes to hand in the shape of information, from a reliable source, that the Norman Dam is about to be purchased by a New York syndicate, and that paper and various other mills are to be started by the power derived therefrom.

The Norman Dam comprises the harnessing of that portion of the Winnipeg river at Norman and stretches about a third of a mile across with a fall of nearly 16 feet. Statements have been made that it is one of the finest water powers in Canada and that it is able to develop 40,000 horse power.

The late head of the Mather family was the originator of this engineering feat, and it was his capital that put the scheme into shape, nearly a million dollars being expended.

The towns of Kenora and Keewatin will thus become important manufacturing towns.

The Big Lock-Out in the Shipyards in North of England

The Evening Chronicle, a paper published in London, England, in its recent issue contains an account of the great lock-out at the shipyards in the north of England and in Scotland, which is reported to be a callous and most disgraceful act. The Chronicle says:

The first week of the great lock-out of the wood working trades at the shipyards on the Clyde, at Barrow-in-Furness, Birkenhead, Hull, Sunderland, Leith, Aberdeen, and Dundee, has commenced, and commercial men of every kind are regarding the extension of hostilities with feelings akin to consternation. A traveller, in deploring the turn events have taken, to a "Chronicle" representative this morning, described the present situation as a "cold-blooded business." The poverty that prevails as the direct result of the north east coast strikes of shipwrights and joiners, and of engineers is, unfortunately, very great. Locally, the shipwrights and joiners do not betray any sign of submitting to the employers' demand, although their disposition may undergo a change when it is fully realized that the masters are determined to have a reduction of 1s. 6d., and nothing less. A shipwright expressed the opinion this morning that the strike might go on until after Newcastle races, which take place in the last week in June. It is hoped, however, that the end may be reached before then.

There is some talk of further intervention by the Board of Trade. The shipbuilding employers it may be pointed out, have been averse from interference in the struggle by any third party, and people are asking what the Board of Trade is likely to accomplish at this juncture, having regard to the unconditional demand made by the masters. The time is ripe, it is urged, for another ballot of the whole of the men on the straight issue of acceptance or rejection of the reduction. If the vote went in favour of the position taken up by the Northeast coast men, then it would be opportune for the Board of Trade to try and bring about a compromise; if, on the other hand, there was a majority for the reduction, the dispute would in all probability terminate. We say in all probability, because of the general uncertainty there is on everything, now that the whole of the men are out. There are signs of serious trouble brewing on the Clyde. The lock-out men left the yards on Saturday without the slightest demonstration, it is stated, but beneath the surface there is considerable resentment of the employers' action, seeing that the men had already submitted to a reduction without resistance. The wages question on the Northwest Coast may have to be re-opened and settled before the men return to work, and, moreover, an agitation has begun for the Clyde men to be raised to Northeast Coast rates.

The allowances to the 15,000 men connected with the striking trades will be a heavy drain on the societies, and the General Federation of Trade Unions, which is a substantial financial contributor, is beginning to feel the burden very severely, but the temper of the men is such that as long as the funds are tolerably good they may, as some of the strikers have remarked, "fight to the bitter end."

Mr Arthur Henderson, M.P., in addressing a public meeting at Workington on Saturday night, described the general lock-out as callous and disgraceful, and said it was dictated by the desire that the heel of one party might be placed more firmly on the neck of the other.

The apprentice platers at the Walker shipyard of Messrs. Armstrong, Whitworth and Company, Limited, have gone on strike. It is stated that the apprentices have been doing drillers' work, but they have been dissatisfied with the wages they have been receiving, and, as we have said, they ceased work.

Provincial Elections, 1908

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the benefical acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

This is Best Time For Spring Medicine

Winter is gone, now the blood is renewed disease germs are destroyed, good summer health is assured.

That peculiar weakness so common in the spring, is demoralizing to body and mind alike.

You feel the need of a stimulating tonic.

To impart quickness and great vitality to the entire system nothing acts like Ferrozone.

In a short time it makes you feel fine, creates a feeling of youth and strength that's surprising.

Ferrozone revives and braces the sickly because it nourishes and builds up the organs that are weak. As a spring tonic appetizer and blood strengthener it is unequalled.

A well known resident of Utopia, Ont., Mr. H. H. Postle, writes: "From long experience I am convinced that everyone requires medicine in the spring. As a rule the blood is thin and impure and the whole system is congested with poisons that should be carried off. I use Ferrozone because it clears up the system, gives you an appetite and makes you feel well. One winter I had serious palpitation of the heart, nervous headaches, and an extreme tired feeling. Sleep was not restful and by spring I was in bad shape. I took six boxes of Ferrozone and was made the picture of health."

Ferrozone makes permanent cures. Absolutely safe because it is purely vegetable and contains no alcohol. Concentrated cure in tablet form, —that's Ferrozone, 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all dealers.

"Brethern of Christ" A Queer Denomination

Gormley, Ont., May 22.—The Brethren in Christ are here in conference, and they are a "peculiar" people. They rejoice in the fact, and say that it is Biblical to be peculiar. As citizens they are exemplary, and they can show a thing or two to other denominations as to the intimate acquaintance with the Holy Writ, but they have manners and customs which mark them as men and women of some what unusual beliefs.

They do not allow musical instruments in their churches, seldom in their homes.

The dress of both sexes is plain to the point of severity.

Jewelry is not worn.

Taking part in war is forbidden.

The courts of law must never be invoked to settle disputes.

In public places the women sit on one side of the building, the men on the other.

A moustache may not be worn alone, brothers may shave clean, wear a beard alone, or wear both beard and moustache.

Insurance is a challenging of Providence and is not encouraged.

Members of the body salute each other with a holy kiss in addition to shaking hands.

The brethren believe in baptism by immersion, but it must be in running water, and the candidate is immersed face downward.

Brethren are not encouraged to exercise their franchise.

Ministers support themselves, and are not helped by their congregations unless they are needy.

Singing is slow and "soulful."

Tobacco is forbidden; a brother here and there uses it, but such are not considered orthodox.

Intoxicating liquors are absolutely forbidden; hence the delegates to conference would not stop at a hotel, even if Gormley had such a thing.

The Brethren believe in the ceremony of feet washing.

Card-playing, theatre-going, and dancing are of the devil, and lead to perdition.

On Saturday evening there will be communion and feet washing. It is not every member who performs this act of humility at the same communion. One man will wash the feet of perhaps a half dozen brothers. The bylaws enact "that one wash the other wipe, changing frequently."

For this ceremony the brethren in Christ will gather from far and near. The roads will be lined with their rigs.

Next week the delegates will go home as quietly and unostentatiously as they came, to take up again their peaceful and uneventful lives in the calm and unalterable conviction that they are doing what is absolutely right.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often shows up, the Kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out, weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, vim, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

The Belle of Chinatown

Amid the ruins of looking San Francisco's Chinatown is a camp of three tents, where dwell surely the most curiously assorted trio of people on the coast. Three are Miss Sun Yu, who was Ella May Clemmons, and is the last recruit of the multi-millionaire, Howard Gould; a missionary to San Francisco's almond-eyed colony, and an 18-ft. of its Chinatown, Sun Yu, her Chinese husband, and an ardent co-worker in the missionary cause, and A. Ha Coon, an old-blind herb doctor, who brews from a fairly weed a remedy which is said to be other words of the opium habit, and which they are distributing at cost to all.

The public was taught with the amazing marriage which made Ella May Clemmons connected by her sister Kate Clem's marriage to one of the rich st and most prominent families in America, a social parish and outcast Ha Brother to Sun Yu, a Chinese tool, in San Francisco, furnish a man says would shock happiness to the astonishment of everybody in San Francisco and the utmost disgust of the Howard Gould. Miss Gould has never seen had the slightest communication with her sister.

The sudden new manner to live—living in a tent with her Chinaman and an old herb man and giving away an opium cure, it is all the most fantastic and curious phase of her peculiar slum life.

For several years ago Miss Ella May Clemmons suddenly turned her back upon the gay at which revolved about her and went to live in the slums. Her romantic friends said that an unfortunate attachment for a fascinating but dissipated foreign count—an affair of the heart—caused the queer change. There were all sorts of other rumors, but, be the cause what it may, her former chums saw her no more and she became a worker among the waifs and outcasts of big cities. Oddly enough, she did not join the ranks of any organized body, but conducted her own campaign of mission work, independently. Here was not the street corner preaching with music style of missionary labor. She went quietly, almost unnoticed, among the worst classes of a city's residents, took up her abode in the and everywhere—rescue work in the most unpleasant places and the worst slums appalled to her.

After some time drove brought Miss Clemmons back to San Francisco, and where she was next heard from she had given herself up to the special work of reclamation among the depraved of dark at Chinatown. This latest departure on her part astounded her former associates.

How could she do it they all exclaimed when hearing of it.

The Celestials looked on her with suspicion and hate; the men nor the women nor the children gave her their confidence. But she kept on her life among them, till one day a coolie merchant was injured before her door by an automobile. She had the fellow brought to her rooms and nursed him through the dangerous sickness which followed. When the Chinaman recovered he was keen enough to be grateful and she urged him to forsake his gods and become a Christian. Through his aid Miss Clemmons got first into touch with the Oriental character and accomplished her first real rescue work in Chinatown.

It was just at this time, too, that what income she had, which at best had been [illegible] she was left without funds at all. Coupled with illness of a serious character which befell her at this unlucky junction she was in bad position. But for her Chinese protege she might have sunk.

But San Yu, as he was named, proved indefatigable in his attentions, working by day and watching over her by night until she was well again. It was then the Chinaman proposed marriage and a dual mission work among the Chinese of San Francisco. Miss Clemmons—and this is what her friends never could understand—finally consented and the two married and began their crusade against the slave trade, the opium habit and tong wars, the curse of Chinatown's worst evils.

Then came the fire and earthquake of April, 1906, and, in the terrible days following the great disaster Mrs. Sun Yu devoted all her time and attention to the San Francisco Chinese and soon became known as the Belle of the Quarter.

While here she met A. Ha Coon.

This A. Ha Coon, like the aged hero in "The Count of Monte Cristo" confided to her his life secret, which he had kept always to himself, in gratitude for her assistance. He had, he claimed, discovered, as the result of many years' experiment and study, a sure cure for the opium habit in a native weed he tested in a certain manner. The old man was blind as the result of an injury received in the earthquake, and consequently felt himself unable to compound the medicine unaided. He did not trust his own countrymen, fearing that his secret would be taken and he himself, he gave no chances to share in its glory.

Mrs. Sun Yu, who got greatly interested in the secret and in old blind A. Ha Coon, promised to help the magician, and after securing a small quantity of the weed, assisted him to prepare it. A subject was then then secured in the person of a young Chinese, a relative of the old man's, who had fallen a victim to the drug of the poppy seed. At first no improvement was noticed, but after a time the young celestial showed signs of betterment, and further experiments in the compounding modified the remedy so that much quicker results were got. In six months the young man was entirely freed from his dreadful habit, and Sun Yue and Mrs. Sun Yu and old A. Ha Coon—this queer, queer trio—rejoiced together.

It was then that they thought of the camp on the hill. They secured permission from the owner and pitched their tent there—the three—chiefly because the weed used in A. Ha Coon's remedy, abounded on the hill in question. Here, then, they have brought their meagre belongings and set to work upon their opium cure-all.

It's an odd sort of life for the associates of one of the wealthiest men in the country, and Mrs. Sun Yu's boudoir is not the least odd thing about her life. It is a litter of junk. An iron and Chinese, containing many articles song of value, lying carelessly heaped about. On her dressing table are grouped crucifixes, Chinese gods, ornaments, a cool oil lamps, a Bible, an incense burner, a Chinese water pipe, bottles of A Ha Coon's medicine and odds and ends of every description.

"We are going to clean up soon," she says, "and buy everything very new here. Haven't we got a fine view."

Sun Yu stood by fingering his books and looking adoration at his wife. Near by was the old blind herb doctor, crooning to himself as he mixed his drugs. How them in Chinatown, who live the thousands of Orientals who regard the trio with something of awe and much curious admiration.

If the memory of Mrs. Sun Yue sometimes conjures up a past that is very different, and it flects upon how utterly the gown might have been, she gives no sign. Voluntarily she elected to live with these benighted Orientals, though what possessed her to do it no one can imagine.

Big Immigration for Winter Months

Winnipeg, May 20.—Now that the winter months have passed, the immigration into Canada during the month of November, December, January, February and March, can be fairly well sized up. Upon looking up the passenger lists of the steamers landing at St. John, N. B., and Halifax, N. S., it is found that the number of immigrants landing at those cities, is in advance of last year. It will be noticed in connection with this that eighty per cent. proceeded west immediately after landing in Canada. By this time they have taken up their homes in the cities or on farms and it is safe to say that if they have conducted themselves in a business-like manner they are now congratulating themselves that they came to the great Canadian West.

Among a large party of immigrants arriving from Montreal in past week were fifty children ranging in age from 9 to 14 years. They were bound for points west, where they were to join their fathers who had come to Canada several years ago and had made for themselves and families comfortable homes. No better testimonial could be given Western Canada, the fact that those parents are bringing their children to this country shows that they have the greatest faith in it and that they intend to live and die in the glorious land of the Maple Leaf.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE NORTH.

The development of that great country north of Edmonton is progressing rapidly. Last week the Department of the Interior issued a map illustrating the growth of this country, and putting in concise form the great possibilities now open in that district. From a survey made in 1908 the area of that section of Western Canada was found to be 120,000,000 acres. This area is marked in light red, in contrast the area in 1873 is shown in dark red. Tobolsk a district 100 miles north of Edmonton is in the same latitude as the Canadian winter land, with a population not very great, its wheat output in 1900 was 21,000,000 bushels. That land has been cultivated to a great extent since then and this year's crop is expected to nearly double that of 1900.

The Department of the Interior is going to a great deal of expense in an endeavor to have this rich country more thoroughly settled.

WHEAT PROSPECTS BRIGHT.

The crop prospects were never brighter. This statement has been made year after year, but never before was it nearer the truth than at the present time. When it is known that one hundred and ten persons, representing the many stations along the main lines of the C. P. R., wired on May 14th that weather conditions of the best, assured an excellent harvest of grain, where can the pessimist find opportunity to put in one single word, towards predicting a crop failure for 1908?

It will be remembered that last year the "crop Pessimists" were abundant. On every side could be heard a certain class of people deploring the fact that the crops would fail. What did those predictions amount to? A glance over the crop report for that year will show that they were but the idle talk of people who had not their own interests at stake.

The crop report issued by the C.P.R. in May 14th last is a most encouraging one, every station included in the long list, wired that seeding was nearly finished and that conditions were never better.

Carberry, Oak Point, Neepawa, Prince Albert, Regina, Carman and many other points have been having exceptionally good weather of late, and the farmers of these places are most optimistic.

The outlook is bright, and indications point to a golden harvest which is welcome news to financial and commercial interests in Eastern and Western Canada.

Made It Clear.

When Colonel Edmund Rice was in command of the Twenty-sixth infantry (mostly volunteers from New England) in the Philippines, he organized from his regiment a company of mounted scouts. To equip them for this service he made requisition on headquarters for the necessary outfit, including eighty nosebags. Some officious clerk in the quartermaster's office in Manila returned the requisition to Colonel Rice with these written remarks: "Your report shows but sixty men in your mounted company. Why do you require eighty nosebags?"

The colonel's explanation was short and characteristic. It was: "It is true I have but sixty men, but I have eighty horses. The nosebags are for the horses, not for the men."

Kindness.

Be kind as matter if you are on the honest run to catch your interests in life. While you run let your fleeting presence prove a blessing to those whom you must pass in the race to reach the goal. Leave behind you a trail of golden remembrances of words and smiles of good cheer that have cost you nothing at all in self sacrifice or money or physical strength or mental effort.

Toronto, March 30th, 1908.

To the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited—

Gentlemen,—

I beg to confirm my previous report to you that in my judgment the surface showings on the 14 mining claims which the Company has acquired, being Nos. H.R. 221 to H. R. 234, both inclusive indicate the probability of the existence of large bodies of both high grade and low grade free-milling ore, sufficient to pay dividends for an indefinite period.

I have personally examined a number of veins and reefs on said property (consisting of about 560 acres) and had some assays made and from such examinations and assays I make this report.

The statement on pages nine and ten of the Prospectus giving the short history of the Company are correct. I insisted on retaining a large interest in the Company rather than sell for any price that seemed reasonable to the purchasers.

DAVID A. FOSTER,
Haileybury.

IN THE MATTER OF THE GREAT NORTHERN LARDER LAKE MINING CO., LTD.

Statutory Declaration.
DOMINION OF CANADA
County of York
TO WIT:

I, David Foster, of the town of Haileybury, in the district of Nipissing, miner, do solemnly declare that the statements in the annexed certificate are true. I have personally inspected all of the fourteen claims now transferred to the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited. I have taken samples containing gold values from said property, and from my personal examination, and from assays made, I believe the Company's property when developed, will prove very valuable. I have full confidence in the success of the said Company, and on this account, with the exception of $400 already received, I have agreed to accept stock in said Company, and a note which I believe will not be of much value should the actual development work not prove the said claims to contain gold in paying quantities as it is not payable for one year from this date or until after the Company shall have done the necessary development work on said claims. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath, and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act."

DAVID A. FOSTER.

Declared before me at Toronto, in the County of York, this 31st day of March, 1908. J. [illegible] COSTUS, A. Commissioner in H. C. J.

PROPERTIES TRANSFERED.

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1/2 CENT A SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at 5c per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at 5c a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock. If you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,600 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Women at Work.

A German surgeon in the Franco-Prussian war had occasion to lance an abscess for a poor fellow, and, as the sore was obstinate, it became necessary to use the knife twice. The operation was not a very painful one, but the patient declared that it had nearly killed him, and when a third resort to the lancet was proposed he protested that he could never go through the operation alive.

The surgeon promised to make it easy for him and, calling up a few of the loungers, ordered one of them to hold his hands close over the patient's eyes and two others to grasp his hands firmly.

"This arrangement," explained the doctor, "is said to prevent pain in such an operation. Now, lie perfectly quiet, and when I say 'Now!' prepare yourself."

The surgeon at once began quietly with his work and in a short time had completed the operation without the least trouble, the patient lying as quiet as though in sleep.

When all was done the surgeon laid aside the knife and said, "Now!" Such a roar came from the lips of the sick man as seldom is heard from any human being. He struggled to free himself, yelling, "Oh, doctor, you're killing me!"

Shouts of laughter soon drowned his cries, and he was told that the operation had been all over before the signal was given. It was a good joke, but it is doubtful if the poor fellow could ever be made to believe that he did not feel actual pain immediately after that fatal "Now!"

Chinese Eating.

It is probably true that the Chinese use a greater variety of meats than do the people of other countries, although but little land is set apart for grazing or for the cultivation of food for live stock. Beef is not a common meat, principally because of the Buddhistic prejudice against killing any animal and particularly such a useful one. Since hogs can be so economically reared, pork is undoubtedly, after rice, the leading article of food. This is eaten in every form, and one may say that every part of the animal is utilized for food. Horseflesh, venison, antelope and bear are often seen, but in passing through the markets pork, mutton and fowls are the most conspicuous. For fish the Chinese have an omnivorous appetite, nothing from the water, either fresh or salt, being rejected. A few kittens and puppies may be offered for sale in cages. Those which are intended for the table are fed upon grain and clean food, so that if the nature of this food be considered it is far more wholesome than is the unclean hog. To assert that cats and dogs form a staple article of food is pure fiction.—London Standard.

Her Exalted Position.

"Ye needn't think because ye see me goin' an' comin' be th' back door fr Mr. Malcolm Goldborough's mansion that Ol'm wan iv th' common servants iv th' house," said the haughty customer to the uncivil butcher.

"Oh," ejaculated the fat little man, abruptly turning obsequious, "are—are you a family connection of the great Goldborough's, ma'am?"

"Ol'm more than a mere connection, sir."

"Pardon me," added the butcher, gazing patronizingly at this personage, "you're one of the family that's been abroad and whom I haven't had the pleasure of meeting before perhaps?"

"Ye'll have t' go higher than thot."

"Not Mr. Malcolm's new wife?" gasped the fat little man. "I didn't have a suspicion that he"—

"Higher, mon. Ol'm higher."

"Higher?" uttered the perfectly bewildered butcher.

"Yis. Ol'm th' cook!"—Bohemian.

Drug Store For Horses.

"I came across a queer little drug store the other day," said the city salesman. "It makes a specialty of veterinarian prescriptions. According to the proprietor's own account, they don't sell very much in that store except horse medicine. They sell more of that than any other drug store in town. The neighborhood abounds in stables and animals' hospitals, and most of the drugs used in doctoring sick horses are bought at that store. Of course the place is fitted up with the usual drug store paraphernalia. There is a soda water fountain, a cigar stand, postage stamps can be purchased there and drafts and doses for human beings will be compounded upon request, but those familiar and supposedly primary functions of a drug store are in this case a superfluity, because about all that druggist does is to put up cures for equine ailments."—New York Press.

Her Secret.

Wife—Have you any secrets you keep from me, dearest?

Husband—None, darling.

Wife—Then I am determined I will have none from you either.

Husband—Have you secrets, then?

Wife—Only one, and I am resolved to make a clean breast of it.

Husband (hoarsely)—Go on!

Wife—For several days I have had a secret—a secret longing for a new dress, with hat to match, for my birthday.

That fetched him.—London Mail.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, but they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that esteem and favor to Dr Shoop and his Restorative Wholeout that original and highly vital principle, up such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

WORD ODDITIES.

Some Interesting Curiosities of the English Language.

Honorificabilitudinitatibus is a rather long word. You cannot find it in the dictionary, but you will find it used in Shakespeare and some of the other early English writers.

The word is meaningless. The only interesting point about it is its length. Twenty-seven letters in a breath are quite a few. But our dictionary gives some almost as long—for instance, the following two of twenty-four letters each:

Transubstantiationalista
Isanthroponerphilosability.

Here are some of the other boa constrictors:

Twenty-three letters:
Disproportionableness.

Twenty-two:
Intercommunicabilities.

Twenty-one:
Interconvertibilities.

Twenty:
Histomorphologically.
Interdifferentiation.
Supersensualiveness.
Hypersensitiveness.

It is safe to say that the ordinary reader would not run on to one of these in a hundred years, and if he did he would run the other way.

It is interesting to know that the entire alphabet can be arranged in one intelligible sentence without the repetition of a single letter—just twenty-six letters in the following sentence, and no two alike:

J. G. Vands struck my big fox whelp.

That simple sentence is the hardest possible one to write on the typewriter. So many of the letters in the alphabet are used so seldom that even a good typist has to study out the combination before finding some of them. This sentence is the only known one that contains every letter in the alphabet but once and makes sense.

Jack Ketch.

Jack Ketch has long been a synonym for the public executioner and is derived from Richard Jaquett, who formerly owned the Manor of Tyburn, now the ground upon which stands the marble arch and where the Bayswater and Edgware roads meet.

Here some few yards westward of the arch stood Tyburn tree, and to it and to the tender mercies of its owner and presiding genius, Jaquett, came the highwayman or the horse thief or the housebreaker in a tumbrel from Newgate.—London Mail.

A Canine Suicide.

"What has become of that fine greyhound your wife gave you?"

"Suicide."

"Honest?"

"Yes. He tried to nab a flea on the small of his back and, miscalculating, bit himself in two."—Exchange.

Pride Gets the Pass.

We are a great people because we make such a hullabaloo about the things to do, because we accomplish them to the music of the band. Our pride has set the pace, and it's our pride that keeps us up till we drop.

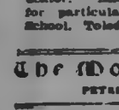
Weary, Worn-out, Tired

If You Feel Poorly This Spring this Article is worth Considering

Nothing in life keeps people from advancement like poor health. If the nerves are weak, if the stomach, liver, bowels or kidneys, fail to work properly, health surely suffers. Spring is the hardest time on health—the season when the system calls for active cleansing medicine.

The best plan is to entrust your condition to a physician of reputable condition to a physician of reputation like Dr. Hamilton, who has had years of experience in compounding tonics. For the ills and tired feeling of spring Dr. Hamilton says nothing is better than Mandrake and Butternut Pills, and this is well proved in the case of James Burton, of Lewistown. "I had grip and it left me very weak. The disease settled in my back and side, which ached day and night. I had a nagging cough. My appetite was all gone. My nerves unstrung. I could not sleep well. I struggled against growing pale, thin and weak—but it was not good. Spring brought depression, overpowering weakness and bad headaches. But my life as regards headaches. But my life was spared, simply because I learned of the wonderful merit in Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. The result was marvelous. I gained rapidly, became strong, ruddy, vigorous, perfectly well. I urge every man and woman to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly.

You'll brighten up, have cleaner blood stronger nerves, better spirits after using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c at all dealers. Guaranteed safe, sure, helpful for old and young.



SINCE CHIEF BLACK CLOUD has come to town, many people have tried his Blood Purifier, and results have delighted them in case derangement of the stomach live kidney and blood. Will be here all summer and manufacture his medicines, made from roots, herbes and barks. Take the car and call on him at Fly to Pieces

The Effect of Coffee on Highly Organized People

"I have been a coffee user for years and about two years ago got into a very serious condition of dyspepsia and indigestion. It seemed to me I would fly to pieces. I was so nervous that at the least noise I was distressed, and many times could not straighten myself up because of the pain.

"My physician told me not to eat any heavy or strong food and ordered a diet, giving me some medicine. I followed directions carefully, but kept on using coffee and did not get any better. Last winter my husband, who was away on business, had Postum Food Coffee served to him in the family where he boarded.

"He liked it so well that when he came home he brought some with him. We began using it and I found it most excellent. While I drank it my stomach never bothered me in the least, and I got over my nervous troubles. When the Postum was all gone we returned to coffee, then my stomach began to hurt me as before and the nervous conditions came on again.

"That showed me exactly what was the cause of the whole trouble, so I quit drinking coffee altogether and kept on using Postum. The old troubles left again and I have never had any trouble since." "There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville", in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro:

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—As you are aware, I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good, economical and efficient administration of affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province, generally.

The test of good representation either by a Government or member is good work, and, in this respect both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr. Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure, for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evidently feel that they have done so, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies. Inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent., while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per cent. shown by the Government reviving the contract system of prison labor, abolishing by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labor at 3 cents per hour to compete against free labor.

The introduction of the "spoils system," the failure to remove license administration from the sphere of political influence, the three-fifths handicap to Local Option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and discouragement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, the neglect of law reform, with a view of making our law courts cheap.

Disregard of the rights of labor available for securing justice, within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters in which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests of the city in every direction, and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our working men and our manufacturing industries; and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying interests, which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen,

G. A. GILLESPIE

Belleville, May 26.— Fred Cope, an Englishman, was removed from the early morning train here yesterday, and died inside of a few minutes.

Letters in his pocket showed that he arrived at Quebec last week from Liverpool, having been sent out by the Salvation Army, billed to Thomas Laidlaw at Omemee. The body will be buried by the city. Coroner Yeomans is investigating.

Stood in Water for Over Ten Hours Holding Their Children

Dallas, Texas, May 26 — Fourteen persons dead, others missing and believed to have suffered a like fate, property valued at millions of dollars swept away, thousands homeless and being cared for by charitable organizations, train and wire service demoralized—such are the conditions prevailing in the northern and central sections of this State, the result of a record-breaking rise in the Trinity River and other streams, following a rainfall unprecedented in severity. The crest of the flood passed Dallas last night, but in the north rain is again falling, and another rise in Trinity River is not improbable.

HEAVY DAMAGE TO CROPS.

Dallas suffered most yesterday. Four persons are known to have lost their lives, and many others are missing. The military and special patrolmen are guarding. Former President G. L. Shaw and Secretary Dorsey of the Texas Grain Dealers' Association, tonight estimated the damage to grain crops of Texas as a result of the floods at $3,000,000, and a damage of $2,000,000 to the crops of Oklahoma.

Fort Worth, May 26.—With the waters of the Trinity River still near the summit of the banks, another great volume of water began pouring from the west fork toward the city last night, and should reach here late today. The number of dead here stands at ten. A conservative estimate places the loss of the railways at a round $1,000,000. The water mains are filled with black, muddy, water unfit for drinking.

Thrilling rescues were reported from Carrowton and Grapevine. Thirteen men, women and children were caught in the overflow of the Denton River. Their condition became so precarious that they were forced to hold the children upon their shoulders in order to keep them from drowning. These people stood in water almost to their necks for ten hours until rescued.

TOOK REFUGE ON A TANK.

Thirteen railway employes engaged in repairing a bridge at Grapevine, were hemmed in by the rising waters on Monday. They sought refuge on top of a big water tank, and at last accounts were still on the tank surrounded by four miles of water. An effort will be made today to rescue them.

A Sad Drowning Accident at Lakefield Yesterday Afternoon --John Mayence Swept over Dam

The residents of the little village of Lakefield were shocked yesterday afternoon when the news spread that a man had been swept over the dam and precipitated into the rocks and water below. The word spread rapidly and soon almost the whole populace was at the dam eager to render assistance if possible.

The unfortunate victim was Mr. John Mayence, who was engaged by the Cavendish Lumber Company. He was working on the logs that had broken away from a boom located between Lakefield and Young's Point, and there was great danger of the logs sweeping the dam away. In an effort to save the logs for the company Mr. Mayence met a watery grave.

The unfortunate man was seen waving his hand while passing over dam, but this was the last glimpse of him. His pike pole and cap were found below the dam by those searching for the body.

The late Mr. Mayence was a young man who was a general favorite with his fellow employes and was greatly respected in Lakefield.

The deceased was 22 years of age and made his home with a married sister in Lakefield.

Twenty Thousand Logs Break Away

A boom enclosing 20,000 logs, belonging to the Cavendish Lumber Company, located between Lakefield and Young's Point, broke Monday afternoon and the logs are now coming down the Otonabee river. About 15,000 pieces got away and serious damage is threatened. It was feared at first that the dam at Lakefield would be swept away by the force of the logs, but it is believed that the danger is now over. It is feared, however, that damage will be done at other points along the river.

The logs are winding up their runaway in Little Lake. They were intended for the Cavendish mill at Lakefield.

Sudden Death of Mr. Edward Flaroty

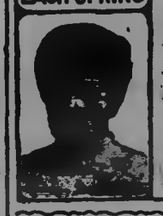
The many friends of Mr. Edward Flaherty, 716 Water street, will regret to learn of his death which occurred suddenly early Monday morning on the McDonald Estate drive coming through Ball Lake. The deceased was clerk for the company and has been connected with the lumbering industry in this district for a number of years, being very widely and favorably known.

Paralysis of the brain was the cause of death. Mr. Flaherty was apparently in good health yesterday but became ill at supper and suddenly grew worse until his death occurred this morning.

The remains were brought to the city yesterday and the funeral will take place from the family residence, 716 Water street, on Thursday morning at 9.30 o'clock, to St Peter's Cathedral and thence to Ennismore for interment.

A family of three sons and two daughters survive.

FOR 5 YEARS EACH SPRING



FACE AND SCALP ERUPTIONS

TROUBLED THIS LADY TILL ZAM-BUK CURED.

Miss Mary Levesque, 323 Shaboeian St., Hochelaga, Montreal writes:—"I have found Zam-Buk an excellent remedy for skin eruptions. Up to this Spring I was bothered for almost five years with a red rash, small pimples and sores on my face and on the scalp thro' the hair. Nothing I used would clear this rash from the skin until I began using Zam-Buk. This salve has effectually and I believe permanently taken off those unsightly pimples and sores from both scalp and face. I shall recommend Zam-Buk to all my friends."

For healing eczemas and all skin diseases Zam-Buk is without equal. It is good for those cases which resisted all. Piles also yield to Zam-Buk. All stores and druggists, 50c. or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

No Liquor Trade Men for the Orange Order

Toronto, May 26.—Shall an Orangeman who enters directly or indirectly into the liquor business become thereby ineligible for any office in the Order?

The question will be submitted at the annual meeting of the Supreme Grand Lodge of British America, which opens at Midland tomorrow, and promises to cause a vigorous discussion and much debate.

The movement in favor of the proposition originated in British Columbia, but has met with considerable encouragement in the other Provinces. Under the existing constitution no one engaged in the liquor business can secure membership in the order, but many Orangemen enter the business after becoming members. It is to deal with such that the amendment barring them from any office in the order is to be submitted.

The meeting will probably consider several points in the constitution with a view to proposed technical amendments. There is not likely to be any change in the officers, most of whom will secure re-election by acclamation.

Slashed His Wife and Child with a Razor

Kingston, May 26. — Early this morning Richard Marks, ship carpenter, while drunk, attacked his wife and child with a razor. His wife was badly hacked about the head, neck and arms, and the baby was also gashed severely.

The mother's cries aroused neighbors, who went to her aid and succeeded in overcoming Marks and placing him in safe keeping.

His wife and child have been sent to the General hospital for treatment.

In the Realm of Sport

Manager Johnston's "Petes" got away to a good start in the Midland League race on Monday afternoon by taking the Port Hope sphere chasers into camp to the tune of 4—0 in the first championship fixture.

A big holiday crowd were on hand to see the game and they thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Clements did the slab work for the locals and Edmunds did the receiving and their work was of the classy variety.

The Port Hope bunch put up a pretty fair game and showed a great pretty fair game and should greatly improve before the season is over. Surplus who did the slab work for the visitors pitched a good game, and kept the three hits that the Petes got off his delivery well scattered.

The locals started the run-getting in the first. Burns went out, Murphy drew a pass, then stole two sacks, and came home on Maddock's bunt along the first base line, the short-stop beating the ball out for a hit. The next tally came in the third, when Cheatham reached first on Wilson's error, was sacrificed to second by Burns, stole third and won the last peg on Maddock's sacrifice. Two more counters came in the seventh. Clements reached first on O'Brien's error, and then Cheatham came along with a pretty single which sent our slab-artist up a peg. A double steal was pulled off and Murphy came to the rescue with a bingle to right field which Adams dropped, and two runs were added to the score.

Only three of the visitors reached first base. Wilson singled in the third, but thee next three men up failed to connect and were easy outs.

O'Toole landed a hit in the seventh, but strayed too far off first and was caught on a nice throw by Edmunds. Wilson beat out one to Clements in the eighth, but it was all over with the next three.

This is the second errorless game the "Petes" have played, and their all round work, stamps them as the peppiest wigwags of 1908.

The score by innings was as follows;

Peterborough	10100020x—4
Port Hope	000000000—0

The morning game was only an exhibition, and the Petes pulled out an easy victory, coming strong on end and won by 6 to 2.

The Athletics lost their opening game on Monday to Cobourg by 17 to 2 in a one-sided game.

Games played in the big baseball leagues yesterday, resulted as follows:

EASTERN.

Baltimore 2, Toronto 1.
Buffalo 2, Providence 0.

NATIONAL

Pittsburg 5, Boston 2.

AMERICAN.

Boston 15, Chicago 2.

THE TURF.

Seismic, the King's Plate winner demonstrated the fact that his victory over Shamonese was no fluke, for he beat the Valley Farm filly by three lengths in the Breeders' Stakes at the Woodbine yesterday, leading from the post to the wire. The race was the third on the card, the distance being a mile and an eighth. The first three horses to get under the wire were;

1. Seismic, even.
2. Shamonese, 4 to 5, place.
3. Dog of War, seven to show.

After Coal, What? A Staggering Problem

End of Coal Supply Now in Sight--Water Power Only Hope

To Keep from Freezing

New York, May 26.—"There will be no coal soon. Very many of us will still be alive when the supply of hard coal is entirely exhausted. There are, no doubt, many persons in this room this afternoon who will live to see the time when soft coal will be out of reach for general use."

So says an authority than Dr. Chas. P. Steinmetz, of Schenectady, N.Y., consulting engineer for the General Electric Company, voiced this opinion yesterday before several hundred electrical engineers and students of the New York Electrical Trade School, at the Engineers' Building, in West 39th street. His subject was "The Future of Electricity."

"There will be no coal soon," he repeated. "We can now see the end of the supply. In a very short time coal cannot be used for fuel. It is already out of the question to use wood for fuel, and now, I ask you in all seriousness, what are we to do when finally we are brought face to face with the fact that unless some substitute for coal is evolved we will all freeze to death!"

He said that when the coal famine actually struck this country the people in it would then probably be taught a truth that we now should know, namely, that "it is vicious to poison the pure air with the killing gases that are emitted from the chimneys of steel plants and other manufacturing concerns burning soft coal," and said there was only one solution to the problem, in the adoption of which the United States would be utilizing the one remaining source of power.

VALUE OF WATER POWER.

"The one thing that can keep us from freezing to death in winter is water power," he said. "In Massachusetts there is water power, many times greater than Niagara, running to waste. We must collect the water power, change it into electricity and use it. Something has already been accomplished along this line, but compared to what will be necessary later when the people of this country can no longer live on their capital—the coal fields—we have done very little indeed. Power is now transmitted in one unbroken current from Cleveland to Poughkeepsie, N.Y., for the use of electric railroads; but we have not as yet made any attempt to utilize the tremendous power that goes to waste in our spring floods. When we are forced to economize, as we will be to a wonderful extent before long, we will collect all the available power from even the small creeks of the country, and even then it is not at all unlikely that before many years there will be periods during the winter months when manufacturing plants will be forced to shut down so far as the turning out of their regular products is concerned and run their plants for no other purpose than to distribute heat to keep us from dying from the cold."

Cecil Armstrong won the Walk

The finish of the boys' walking match at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday morning was of a most exciting nature. The real race was between C. Armstrong and N. Saxby. The boys went on the track Monday, with only one lap between them, Armstrong being in the lead. Saxby made a desperate attempt to catch the winner, but was unable to make any gain. Armstrong finished a lap to the good.

Two hours were walked on Monday from 10 to 12 o'clock and the Standing at the finish was as follows:

	Miles	Laps
C. Armstrong	33	8
N. Saxby	33	7
W. Saxby	32	5
P. Grant	30	4
T. Cuffe	29	1

There were nine starters and five finished, Armstrong, the winner walked 5 1-2 miles an hour for the six hours, a remarkable feat for a fourteen year old boy. T. Cuffe made a remarkable finish. He is a very small boy but made a great gain on those ahead of him during the last two hours.

"Jimmy" Reynolds, of Port Hope, saw the finish of the race and was greatly pleased with the performance of young Cuffe. Mr. Reynolds wants to take him to Port Hope to walk an exhibition mile.

Speak Well of Water Lily Crew

Owing to high water the Otonabee Navigation Co.'s steamer the Water Lily had some difficulty on her first excursion trip to Kawartha Lakes. The water was so high that in many places the boys were hidden. Just before the lock was reached at Lakefield the excessive tide caused her to swerve and run aground. This was, however, no fault of those in charge, Captain and mate, assisted by Wm. Shannon and D. Doris looked after the lowering of the life boats and the safe transport to the shore of those on board. The Water Lily was unimpaired and completed the return trip without any further incident.

The despatch with whose those in authority acted when the boat ran aground was the source of much favorable comment on the part of the passengers.

Salvationists Have a Pleasant Outing

The excursion under auspices of the Salvation Army, on May 25th, to Idyl Wild per steamer Otonabee, was a most successful one, and the large number of excursionists enjoyed themselves immensely. The weather was glorious, the lake was beautiful in the fresh new tints of spring, and the 250 or more excursionists thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Idyl Wild is reported better than ever under the care of Mr. Thos. Parker. The band was present, and there was music galore throughout the day.

17 Prisoners Got Away From the Galt Jail

London, May 26.—The town of Galt boasts of new locks on the jail which were, until the Seventh Regiment arrived in that city, the joy and pride of the entire populace; but no more does the chief of police and the jailor leave the prisoners to their own sweet will in the historic corridors and cells of the lock-up, for there was a wholesale jail delivery while the town officials and everyone else were away picnicking.

In the first place the Seventh Regiment was invited to Galt to afford a little of the spectacular to the holiday celebrations; and, although the regiment sustains an enviable reputation for sobriety, three of the rookeists took a little more of the pale amber joy juice than was conducive to machine-like precision in military manoeuvers. Consequently the company commander had them put in the jail for an hour or so to cool off—really quite an informal little affair, to which the jailer was a party. Just about 30 minutes search of their accoutrements by the famous trier revealed the fact that they still had, in conjunction with revivified faculties, their side arms. In all its glory and massive newness before them shone the new lock; and, suiting action to thought, a bayonet was put to work on the lock. The lock was quickly demolished, and then a new difficulty occurred on the outside. The three men with their bayonets chiselled through the four-foot brick wall, and escaped to the corridor, leaving a hole big enough for a horse to climb through. Picking up a plank, they threw it through the transom of the outer hall door, and a clear path lay before them.

FOURTEEN WERE FREED.

However, they were of a singularly sympathetic turn of mind, and, hearing the chuckles of the other prisoners, mostly drunks, they commenced to liberate them also, which [illegible] gether fourteen prisoners were freed and climbed through the broken transom to freedom, with the exception of one drunk who was too far gone to make the grade. The three soldiers mingled with the throng of red coats on the street, and the other prisoners also lost themselves in the crowds.

The sad wreck of the jail was discovered about four o'clock in the afternoon, which was three hours later than the thrilling escape, and the chief of police immediately notified the mayor. His worship dug up Col. Frank Reed and aired his grievances, asking that the regiment repay the town of Galt for the demolition of the jail. The captain of the company, who had confined the three resourceful soldiers in the lock-up, refused to come forward with any information when the different officers were assembled, and as the jailer couldn't identify any of the offenders with their business off, the three are safe from the retribution of justice, and the police magistrate of Galt, when he called court this morning, was almost out of a job, although the chief of police windy spent the night scouring the town for his liberated wards, and up to date has not recovered one of them.

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weaknesses and failing, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, quivering sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy of known composition, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take.

Provincial Elections, 1908

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. These are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

LOW SPRING FEVER

Doctors Report Many Cases.

Same thing happens every year. As winter's close the body is weak and run down. Damp spring weather brings out rheumatic tendencies, exhausts vitality, and simply demands everyone to use a bracing, strengthening tonic.

Time wont help; matters grow worse instead of better if your system isn't rid of its poisonous burden.

Your blood is not only thin, but is contaminated with a whole winter's accumulation of wastes.

A stimulating blood tonic is required. What's it going to be?

Not bitters or alcoholic dope, but concentrated cure in the form of "Ferrozone" which is known as the best of all spring rejuvenators.

It creates keen appetite.
Produces prodigious digestion.
Converts food into nourishment.
Gives richness and vitality to the blood.
Makes strong nerves and hardy muscles.

Ferrozone possesses power that can't be doubted. It will do for you what it did for Walter Wood, of Beaufort, Que. Co., N. B., who writes: "I can say that Ferrozone has given me a new lease of life. A year ago I suffered much from nervous weakness. I was really scarcely able to drag myself around. My appetite was gone, I had no color or ambition and felt generally used up. The first box of Ferrozone started me back to health. I took a number of boxes, but it was worth while as my health was completely restored.

Get back to health with Ferrozone, six boxes for $2.50, or 50c per box at all druggists.

UNCALLED FOR.

It seems that Chief Justice Longley of Nova Scotia, who aired his anti-imperialism at the annual Canadian Club dinner in New York the other day, blew west out of his way to make things unpleasant for the United States. Assuming the existence of any body of men "mad enough" at some future time to attempt to "infringe on Canada's rights and liberties" he informed his hearers that when Canada has fifteen millions of people she "will be in a state to challenge the issue with all the strength of a proud and independent race."

The anti-imperialism and the stuff about the United States were alike unasked for and in every respect unworthy of a man in Chief Justice Longley's position.

IRISH PROSPERITY.

Emigration from Ireland to America this year will, according to a Dublin correspondent, touch the low at most for many years. The same observation is true with regard to all the countries of Europe. During the past fall and winter the number of people who returned to Europe from the United States was almost as large as the number of immigrants who arrived in that country. This change was owing mainly to the industrial depression, and may be counted on to continue as long as that depression lasts. In the case of Ireland, it is satisfactory to learn that emigration has been checked by increasing prosperity and the rise of native industries, giving employment to skilled and unskilled labor in the villages, and Irish people in America should bear to mind that they can help this revival by purchasing Irish fabrics. All that encourages Irish industry makes for prosperity in the old land. Nothing more surely leads to the removal of grievances and promotes popular well-being and contentment than industrial prosperity. Let the Irish people turn their backs on the sorrowful past, look hopefully to the future, get to work, and the island will yet be restored to what we are told it was in ancient times, a home of art and a center of intellectual culture.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often shows up, the kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to those vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

WILL IT BE ROOSEVELT.

Months ago the Times suggested that it was quite too soon to say that President Roosevelt was out of the presidential race permanently, and it is interesting to note that a good many other people are getting to be of the same opinion. Our despatches speak of an effort being made by Republican leaders to secure the nomination of Mr. Taft, on the first ballot, and very much hinges upon this. It is proposed to endeavor to secure a renomination for Governor Hughes of New York and to bring about an alliance between Mr. Taft and Senator Fraker. If this can be done, Mr. Taft will be chosen as soon as the votes are counted. If it is not, there is no telling what will happen. The cartoonists in the comic weeklies have never dismissed the idea that Mr. Roosevelt will succeed himself, but we note something much more significant. The New York Herald has been keeping track of the chances of the several Republican candidates, and on Sunday, May 3rd, it placed the President's name in the list and declared that his chances were a cloud in the Taft sky. There is not much doubt, perhaps it may be truthfully said that there is none at all, about the sincerity of Mr. Roosevelt's declaration that he would not again be a candidate, but while he could refuse to permit his name to go before the people if he were nominated, and refuse to serve, if elected, he would never think of taking such a course. The demands of the people ought to, and would undoubtedly, override any personal feeling he might have in the matter. In all probability Mr. Roosevelt is himself in favor of the movement to secure such unity of action as will lead to the honor going to the Secretary of War; but if it should fall he may find himself obliged to become a candidate. At least that is how the situation looks to us from the outside.

FAITH IN THE FUTURE.

The organized movement started at St. Louis to dispel pessimistic views and promote the cultivation of faith in the future of the United States is apparently taken seriously enough in many quarters. The New York Times says it seems that some 91,000 industrial, trade, an financial bodies in the country are to be appealed to to join in the work. A literary bureau is already in operation, a million copies of the comforting platform adopted at St. Louis are to be distributed, and addresses, circulars, lettered an dother documents will be spread broadcast. Controller Metz, who is an optimist by temperament, is to be President of the Commercial Travelers' Inter-State Prosperity Congress, to be held in New York next August. Mr. Metz insists that "prosperity abounds in this great land to-day to a degree unprecedented."

The organization that started the movement, the "National Prosperity Association," has adopted a formal address to the people of the United States from which this passage may be quoted as serving to indicate one of the main objects in view:—

On all sides we find expressions of sentiment to the effect that further legislation against railroads and kindred corporations shall cease, that the business interests of this country shall be given a rest, and that the departments of justice may be allowed to proceed with their work in a quiet manner.

Endorsing this portion of the Association's programme, the Times says the great corporations to-day have felt the rod, as they have, for the most part, erased their transgressions. Their situation to-day is comparable not to that of the Southern States just after session, but to that of the reconstruction period. "The ruthless policy of the Republican party toward the South in the years that followed the war, a policy that if not vindictive was at least largely one entered into for partizan advantage, put a blight as of fire upon the Southern States and hindered for decades their return on prosperous conditions." The assaults upon corporations to-day, notably those made by the executive officers and Legislatures of States, are demagogic in their nature, and are inspired largely by the hope of personal an dpolitical gain. Regulation is no warfare, reasonable control does not mean destruction. The men who are seeking to restore public confidence, the Times remarks, are entirely justified in insisting that business should have a "rest", and that its tormentors should let it alone. The indispensible condition precedent to the return of prosperity is rest. It is something gained to have made the discovery that a period of rest is really desirable.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

E. H. Harriman is cheerful on the prospects of the immediate future. In an interview at Washington a few days back he said the United States was all right, and there was no reason why prosperity should not reign. "The basis of prosperity is in a country," he explained. "It is the product of the land, and the crops here could hardly be better. Farmers are contented; they have no mortgages to pay and the land is producing all they need. I see no reason for any business depression." The reasons Mr. Harriman gives are in his own country for calculating on a forward prosperity exist in Canada to a proportionately equal degree.

Montreal, May 22.—The backbone of the cotton operatives strike has been broken. This morning the mills of the Dominion Textile Company at Magog resumed operations, about half of the employees returning to their places. It is thought that the others will return to work tomorrow, as no notice of the opening of the mills was posted, and many of the employees did not know of it.

About twelve hundred of the employees of the Hochelaga mills of the same company also returned to work this morning, and it is expected that these mills will be in full swing tomorrow.

The men returned on the company's terms, the rate of wages being the same as before the strike.

CROSSING THE OCEAN

Queer Things That Happen on Atlantic Liners.

THE LURE OF THE DEEP SEA.

"As you are probably aware, almost the commonest occurrence during a voyage is the mysterious and sudden disappearance of a passenger. Seven times has this happened while I have been following my profession, and in no single instance have we been able to satisfactorily account for the missing traveler. Most of them, of course, we put down to suicide, but I feel bound to say that I think in some instances we have been wrong. Now, here is a case in point. Six years ago we had on board a young Australian, a handsome, well set up fellow, who seemed to have more money than would satisfy his wants and who told me himself that he was going to the states to marry the prettiest and sweetest girl in all Pennsylvania.

"He was the brightest fellow on board, sang well, played well, was expert at all kinds of sport and a general favorite with every one. He had a cabin on the lower deck, a fine big room, where I smoked many a cigar with him. Well, on the fifth day out he didn't come on deck. People asked where he was, and the general impression seemed to be that he had been up rather late the night before and was doubtless taking a few extra minutes between the sheets. But about noon the bedroom steward came to me and stated that he couldn't get in No. 27—the stateroom occupied by the popular traveler. No one could get any response, so we sent for the carpenter. The door was smashed in, and the room was found to be empty. The portholes were wide open, and all we could assume was that he had crept out of one of these and met with a watery grave. Reason? We never discovered any, but my belief is that he acted in his sleep. He was too happy a man to take his own life.

"On another occasion two ladies, sisters, disappeared. Both were charming and pretty, though some of the passengers afterward remarked that they usually seemed somewhat sad and preoccupied. I had often conversed with them and regarded them as the most attractive women on board. The night before we docked was a beautiful one, though intensely dark, and it was evidently on this night that they left the ship. No one saw them after 10 o'clock. The lookout reported nothing. No splash was heard, no cry. But in the morning they had vanished as silently and mysteriously as the darkness, leaving no word behind.

"A strange thing happened once when we were two days from New York harbor. There was an American on board who seemed to possess many friends and who apparently was extremely popular. He spent half his time in the smoking room, standing drinks to any one and every one and imbibing rather more than was good for himself. Well, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon he was with several other men on the promenade deck—the weather was glorious and the sea with scarcely a ripple—when, throwing off his coat, he exclaimed, 'Here goes for a swim!' and disappeared over the side.

"There was a yell which almost put the wireless out of business, and the captain, who had witnessed the affair, stopped the ship almost in her own length. Boats were lowered, and willing arms pulled to where the man was supposed to be fighting for his life. Instead of any struggle, however, he was taking long, easy strokes and evidently thoroughly enjoying himself. When pulled into one of the boats he ejaculated the single word, 'Grand!' and almost immediately fell into a kind of comatose state. He was put to bed in hot blankets and soon recovered. After an interview with the captain he was allowed his liberty, though a strict watch was kept on him during the rest of the voyage.

"A tragic occurrence took place about four years ago, the facts of which you will perhaps recall. It was during a voyage east, and we had among the second cabin passengers a widow and her three young children—two boys and a girl. The woman appeared to be much depressed, though the youngsters were as lively and merry as children generally are on board. The woman, it appears, spoke to none of the other passengers, and for her aloofness she was regarded with some suspicion. However, she was very quiet, and, as she appeared to be reading all day, not much notice was taken of her.

"One morning she was standing with her children, looking over the side of the vessel, when, with no warning, she suddenly tossed them, one after the other, into the sea and immediately followed them herself. It was all done so expeditiously and quietly that those who saw the tragedy were for a few minutes too dazed to give the alarm. The ship was stopped in record time and boats lowered, but the entire quartet had disappeared as though some invisible force had dragged them down. After two hours the search was given up and the boats returned to the ship. Another secret had been bequeathed to the ocean's mighty bosom."—London Tit-Bits.

The New Veil.

The new veil for windy weather has come in black or white or colored nets and must be big enough to cove the chapeau back and front. It has a little catch that hooks it at the brim of the hat in the back and then is allowed to flow or may be caught right at the back of the neck with the inevitable veil pin.

These veils are for riding, driving or automobiling and are very becoming. When automobiling the ends may be crossed in the back, then brought to the front and pinned under the chin.

Toronto, March 20th, 1908.

To the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited:—

Gentlemen,—

I beg to confirm my previous report to you that in my judgment the surface showings on the 14 mining claims which the Company has acquired, being Nos. H.S. 221 to H. S. 234, both inclusive indicate the probability of the existence of large bodies of both high grade and low grade free-milling ore, sufficient to pay dividends for an indefinite period.

I have personally examined a number of veins and reefs on said property (consisting of about 560 acres) and had some assays made and from such examinations and assays I make this report.

The statement on pages nine and ten of the Prospectus giving the short history of the Company are correct. I insisted on retaining a large interest in the Company rather than sell for any price that seemed reasonable to the purchasers.

DAVID A. FOSTER,
Haileybury.

IN THE MATTER OF THE GREAT NORTHERN LARDER LAKE MINING CO., LTD.

Statutory Declaration.

DOMINION OF CANADA
County of York
TO WIT:

I, David Foster, of the town of Haileybury, in the district of Nipissing, miner, do solemnly declare that the statements in the annexed certificate are true. I have personally inspected all of the fourteen claims now transferred to the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited. I have taken samples containing gold values from said property, and from my personal examination, and from assays made, I believe the Company's property when developed, will prove very valuable. I have full confidence in the success of the said Company, and on this account, with the exception of $400 already received, I have agreed to accept stock in said Company, and a note which I believe will not be of much value should the actual development work not prove the said claims to contain gold in paying quantities as it is not payable for one year from this date or until after the Company shall have done the necessary development work on said claims. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath, and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act."

DAVID A. FOSTER.

1 CENT A 1/2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at 35 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 5 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,461.67 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,-60 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

WIZARDS IN FIGURES.

Some Wonderful Feats of Boys Who Became Famous.

GAUSS WAS A RARE GENIUS.

He Was Not Only One of the Greatest Mental Calculators on Record, but He Was a Gifted Mathematician. Dase's Marvelous Mental Work.

When scarcely three years old Gauss, according to an anecdote told by himself, followed mentally a calculation of his father's relative in regard to the wages of some workmen who were to be paid for overtime in proportion to their regular wages, and, detecting a mistake in the account, he called out, "Father, the reckoning is wrong; it makes so much," naming the exact amount. The calculations were repeated, and it turned out that the child was correct, while all who witnessed the performance were greatly surprised. He retained an extraordinary ability for mental calculations throughout life and remembered the first few decimals of the logarithms of all numbers, so that he was able to use the data of a logarithmic table in his mental calculations, and hence he possessed a mental slide rule—a unique possession.

Gauss was not only one of the greatest mental calculators on record, but he excelled equally in all branches of pure and applied mathematics. At the age of twenty he discovered the first rigorous proof of the fundamental theorem of algebra, which affirms that every algebraic equation has as many roots as its degree, and at the age of twenty-four he published his great work on the theory of numbers under the title "Disquisitiones Arithmeticae." Later in life he turned his attention principally to applied mathematics, especially to astronomy and geodesy, and he is generally regarded as the last of the great mathematicians who were pre-eminent in nearly all branches of mathematical knowledge of his day.

While Gauss was both a great mental calculator and a great mathematician and was a real mathematical prodigy, we proceed to consider several who were merely arithmetical prodigies and seemed to have very little general mathematical ability. The greatest of these is Dase, who was born at Hamburg in 1824 and "seems to have been little more than a human calculating machine, able to carry on enormous calculations in his head, but nearly incapable of understanding the principles of mathematics and of very limited ability outside his chosen field." His extraordinary ability in mental calculation is evidenced by the fact that he was able to multiply mentally two numbers, each of which contained 100 figures. It took him eight and three-quarters hours to perform this feat, which stands in a class by itself, as no other arithmetical prodigy is known to have been able to multiply mentally two numbers each consisting of more than thirty-nine figures. Two forty-figure numbers Dase was able to multiply in forty minutes, while he would multiply two eight-figure numbers in less than one minute.

What is most surprising about this greatest calculator on record is that he was stupid in mathematics. Petersen is said to have tried in vain for six weeks to get the first elements of mathematics into his head, and other eminent mathematicians found that he had very little mathematical ability. Fortunately he was advised by some of the leading mathematicians of his day to turn his extraordinary ability to scientific uses instead of going around the country giving public exhibitions, a career upon which he had entered at the age of fifteen. He calculated many useful tables and was engaged on an extensive factor table at the time of his death. The ease and speed with which he could count the numbers of books in a case, the number of sheep in a herd, etc., were almost more surprising that his extraordinary ability as a mental calculator.

Another well known mental calculator, having even less mathematical ability than Dase, is Buxton, who remained illiterate through life, although his father had some education. He had a wonderful memory for numbers and could call off long numbers from right to left or from left to right with equal facility. On one occasion he squared mentally a thirty-nine figure number in two and a half months. He was extremely slow and in this respect resembled a negro of the name of Tom Fuller, who is known as the Virginia calculator. Although entirely illiterate, he was able to reduce mentally years and months to seconds and could multiply two nine-figure numbers.

Darboux has called attention to an infant prodigy. Joseph Bertrand was born in Paris in 1822 and was such a delicate child that his parents did not expect him to arrive at manhood, and hence his early education was partly neglected. At the age of four he was sick for a long time and overheard the lessons which were given his brother in the same room. He knew the letters of the alphabet, but nothing more. When he was convalescent his parents brought him a book to look at the pictures, and he relates in his account of his childhood that he remembers distinctly how he shocked his parents by reading the text fluently. His frightened father snatched the book from him and commanded that under no pretext should he be allowed to do any work.

DEATH OF "BIRKENHEAD" HERO

Man Who Steered Ill-Fated Troopship When Wrecked.

Memories of the tragic wreck of the troopship Birkenhead, with its deeds of splendid heroism probably unsurpassed in military or naval annals, are recalled by the death at Bristol (Eng.) of one of the survivors, at the age of 85.

He was Thomas Coffin, who, on the occasion of the disaster to the troopship was the "man at the wheel," and with seven others succeeded in pulling safely to shore in a gig.

Joining the Birkenhead about 1850, when he was 23 years of age, Coffin made three voyages in the vessel with troops.

A fourth voyage to the Cape was the fateful one in which the Birkenhead was wrecked, and the troops went down to a man, drawn up, as if on parade, on her decks.

Coffin has told his own story in quiet, plain phrases that perhaps give a clearer idea of the grim tragedy than a number of lurid phrases.

"I was at the wheel, and well remember the sentry calling out to the officer of the watch, 'Four bells, sir.' The officer replied, 'Strike them, sentry,' which he did not do, for at that very moment she struck the rock and the sentry went rolling to the deck. At the time most of the soldiers were below asleep, but were awoke by the crash (which appeared to me to be enough to wake the dead almost) and came on deck; but on being called to order, fell in and remained so, thus enabling the seamen to get out what boats were left.

"My instructions from the captain were to man my boat and pull off and await orders, which never came. I heard after that he was struck by a falling spar and killed. My boat's crew and myself picked up thirty-two in all, and we pulled till daylight, when we came across the second cutter and gig, and we sighted a sail in the offing. The ship's doctor, who was one of the saved, called for seamen to man the gig and pull toward her. Eight of us volunteered, and we pulled out, but could not attract her attention, so we decided not to venture any further.

"Fish Bay was our landing place, and fortunately for us the postmaster's daughters of Caledon had just finished bathing and were about to return home. They were very kind and provided us with some coffee and bread, which was very acceptable. After we had tramped to Caledon we were sent to Simon's Town, and then to Algoa Bay, our naval station. We were brought back to England on the Amazon."

Thomas Coffin was indeed a son of the sea, for he was actually born on a battleship, H.M.S. Pitt, of which his father was shipkeeper. In the natural course of events he entered the navy, saw active service on the coast of Syria, was with the Naval Brigade in the Crimea, and fought in the China war of 1860. In 1871, as a quartermaster he left the service of his country.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means pure defiance to Pneumonia. To once a cold with "Preventics" is another thing to go to work and chill it over in afternoons. Do by even "Preventics" will cause even a deeply seated cold to break gaily—at the same time they invariably head off those early colds that "hang on" and that's why they are called Preventics.

"Preventics" taste Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing disagrees. Pass for children—and thoroughly safe for all. If you suffer, if you cannot, if you catch all cold, think a cold coming, Preventics may also save half your annual sickness. And don't forget that cold, down to "preventics" and not to Pneumonia. How to Tell

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could have been saved if they only knew.

Your back may ache, you think it's tiredness or physical weakness.

You grow irritable and nervous—it's put down to loss of sleep.

Joints ache, muscles get sore,—that's all put down to bad weather.

Can't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills" writes C. C. Ferrier, a well known merchant in Plainsville. "Dr. Hamilton's Pills touched the spot at once, gave my back ease, lifted depression and weariness, made a new man of me. I can also say for a good spring medicine to clear and enrich the blood Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal."

The housewife whose aching back makes every task a burden, the working man who is tired all day and can't rest at night, whose back aches, and whose feet swell—these people have kidney trouble. Women whose kidneys are sick, suffer continually from blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, bearing down pains, sharps twinges when stooping, distressing urinary troubles, aching muscles and joints, lack of appetite and loss of sleep. Reach the cause. Cure the kidneys. Use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, which have cured thousands. 25c. at all dealers.

Strawberry Crop Promises to be Good

Dr. Talks of Food

Pres. of Board of Health

"What shall I eat" is the daily inquiry the physician is met with. I do not hesitate to say that in my judgment a large percentage of diseases caused by poorly selected and improperly prepared food. My personal experience with the fully cooked food, known as Grape-Nuts, enables me to speak freely of its merits.

"From overwork, I suffered, several years with malnutrition, palpitation of the heart, and loss of sleep. Last Summer I was led to experiment personally with the new food, which I used in conjunction with good rich cow's milk. In a short time after I commenced its use, the danger signals disappeared, my heart's action became steady and normal, the functions of the stomach were properly carried out and I again slept as soundly and as well as in my youth.

"I took upon Grape-Nuts as a perfect food, and no one can gainsay but that it has a most prominent place in a rational, scientific system of feeding. Any one who uses this food will soon be convinced of the soundness of the principle upon which it is manufactured and may thereby know the facts as to its true worth." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—As you are aware, I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good, economical and efficient administration of affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province, generally.

The test of good representation either by a Government or member is good work, and, in this respect both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr. Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure, for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evident interests of the city in every direction, and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our working men and our manufacturing industries: and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying in ly feel that they have done so, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies, inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent., while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per was shown by the Government reviving the contract system of prison labor, abolishing by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labor at 3 cents per hour to compete against free labor.

The introduction of the "Napoleon system," the failure to remove license administration from the sphere of political influence, the three-fifths handicap to Local Option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and discouragement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, the neglect of law reform, with a view of making our law courts cent.

Disregard of the rights of labor available for securing justice, within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters in which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests, which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen, Yours,

G. A. GILLESPIE

Church of Rome Making Inroads-- Disregard of Law

The Orange Grand Master Sounds Alarm Against What He Calls "The Great Disturbing Factor."

Midland, May 27—The seventy-ninth annual meeting of the Orange Grand Lodge of British America opened here this afternoon. D. T. S. Sproule, M.P., presented the Grand Master's address, which, in comment on current events, refers to Rome, "the great disturbing factor in national life," as steadily losing ground and losing control over the powers that be in her ancient strongholds—Italy, France, Spain, Portugal and and Germany. In the British Isles and on the continent of America, however, she has been distinctly yielding to her strength. Her obstruction of the administration of justice in Ireland and the agrarian crimes of her people made life and property insecure in that country. Coming insecure in that country. Continuing, the Grand Master says;

DISREGARD OF LAW.

"Coming nearer home, we have many instances which indicate the inroads she is constantly making on the rights of the people. The arrogance she displays in her disregard of law and authority is evidenced in the refusal of her clergy to obey the command of the courts to appear and give evidence as witnesses in civil and criminal suits. This shows the high-handed authority that she exercises. Her justification for such refusal, viz., that belonging to a higher and ecclesiastical court, she is under no obligation to obey the mandate of the lower one, seems to be arrogant in the extreme. The regrettable feature of it is that even the judges on the bench under such circumstance seem to be afraid or reluctant to compel obedience to the law, or punish for contempt of court. Two notable instances of it have occurred in Quebec within the last few months.

"Where she is all powerful we have from time to time notable instances of her intolerance. Only a few months ago four members of the Salvation Army were arrested and thrown into prison for soliciting alms at Lachine, Que. They were tried and fined under some antiquated bylaw of the parish. Their only offence being that of soliciting assistance from the people to help them in carrying on their Christian work. The trial was brief, not even being represented by counsel. They took their punishment, paid their fines and were released, and this, too, in the face of the fact that right in the capital of the Dominion, and even in the House of Commons and Senate, representatives of that church may be heard time after time during the session soliciting from the citizens, and from members of Parliament and others there assistance in the shape of alms to carry on and support their institutions.

"Another notable instance is the issuing of a proclamation by the Mayor of Buckingham, forbidding the Orangemen to assemble and parade on the Twelfth of July, in that village, thereby denying a law-abiding and peaceful fraternal society the enjoyment of the ordinary civil rights, to which every citizen or every law-abiding society is entitled."

Reference was made to the death of Lieut.-Col. J. E. Hallwell, Past Grand Master of Ontario East.

Joseph Torrance's Body Recovered

Lindsay, May 27 — The body of Joseph Torrance, the young man who was drowned at Fenelon Falls some weeks ago, and whose body was carried over the falls, was found last evening about four o'clock.

The body was floating in the Fenelon River below the first bend, and was found by the brother of the drowned man, Norman Torrance, who was walking along the river bank.

The clothes on the body were torn and the body bruised, showing it had been tossed around by the current and caught on the bottom.

The funeral was held this morning and was largely attended.

POLICE

Seventh youths appeared before Magistrate Dumble in the police court yesterday on a charge of stealing a quantity of wheat valued at over forty dollars.

Four of the seven were found guilty, and the rest were given their liberty.

E. J. Moher, who was one of the chief witnesses against the boys, was arrested for receiving goods, knowing them to be stolen. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded until next Tuesday.

It appears from the evidence adduced that these boys during the past month have been stealing wheat from G.T.R. cars consigned to the Central Milling Company. They sold fifty bushels of grain to Mr. Moher who paid the lads something in the neighborhood of forty dollars. Mr. Moher afterwards sold it to the Central Milling Co. Mr. Moher claimed that he did not know where the boys got the wheat. He at first refused to buy it from them. One night they came to his place and asked if they might leave a few bags of the grain in his barn. He allowed them to do so and when they urged him to buy that they might go to a show he bought the grain.

The evidence of the boys was extremely contradictory, some asserting that they took the wheat from cars of the Quaker Oats Co., on the several occasions. However, this statement is not correct as it was proven that the grain was stolen from G.T.R. cars.

Chinese Gambling Dens Take in About $250,000 Every Day

A Startling Statement Made in Vancouver by Chief of Police

King Hears Chinese Claim

Vancouver, May 27. — Examining the claims totalling $25,000, of Chinese for damages in the September riots, Commissioner Mackenzie King yesterday discovered an eighteen dollar item for a gun in Merchant Soon Keys' account. It was purchased during the riots. The Commissioner announced that the Government would not pay for guns and ammunition. "Unless you can show me the police were wholly unable to give protection. Besides, you can hardly ask the Government to pay for a gun when you have it now."

"Oh, no," replied the merchant. "Police take it, I no get it back." He said a similar item would appear on nearly all the claims. These will all be disallowed, but in other respects the claims will likely all be allowed, as it is said in every case they are less than the actual loss that can be proved. The police corroborate this, saying the damage was fully four time the amount of the Japanese claim of seven thousand.

Chief Chamberlain spoke of the efforts to put down gambling in Chinatown, declaring there was fully fifty dens taking in five thousand dollars daily. Some prominent citizens thought the police should not interfere. Intimating that the Chinese were gambling among themselves, but the chief declared that the money obtained in nearly every case was from white local patrons and tourists. The latter frequently complained, but as they were unable to identify the Chinamen it was not possible to obtain a conviction. The Commission recommended the chief's endeavors to stamp out the evil, although this is no part of the inquiry.

Tom Longboat's Name will be Sent on to England

Ottawa, May 27.—The entries of the Canadian athletes who are to take part in the English Olympic games will be forwarded to England in a day or two. The names of the winners in the preliminary tests, which took place at Toronto, Saturday and Monday, are being sent to Secretary Percival and he will immediately forward them to the head office of the Olympic games committee in London. The names of all winners will be sent and the committee has until June 12, to withdraw the entries of all who are put out of the running in the finals.

There has been further communication between the C.A.A.U. and the Olympic committee regarding Tom Longboat and everything looks good for the Indian. A recent report from the States is to the effect that the A.A.U. athletes will refuse to compete against Longboat, but the Olympic committee is doing no worrying and if Longboat can get rid of his physical trouble in the meantime he will go. He then will be sent with the first batch, although the Indian has not yet taken part in any of the tests.

Creighton, the Owen Sound Murderer, Has Been a Man of Ungovernable Temper

Owen Sound, May 27.—James Farish Creighton, who yesterday murdered his wife and two step-daughters and who attempted suicide, is reported by the physicians as having spent a good night and that his condition is the same as at night. There is some hope held out for his recovery, although his condition is critical.

An inquest was opened at 11 o'clock this forenoon at the residence on Union street, where the bodies remain in the position in which they were discovered.

USED A BREADKNIFE.

The knife used by Creighton in committing the deed was a bread knife which had apparently been in use for some time, and had been ground sharp and to a very fine point. It was found in Creighton's room beside the wreck of a small stand, which he had evidently knocked over. Creighton directed the searchers to where they found the knife, and told them they would find the revolver under his wife's right arm. It was found under her pillow.

OF GOOD FAMILY.

James Farish Creighton, is about 55 years of age and a member of one of the best families in town. His father was one of the earliest settlers in what was then the village of Sydenham, running a general store which was continued after his death by his four sons. His mother is still living in the town, respected by everyone. Creighton has three brothers and one sister, all of whom reside in Owen Sound.

MARRIED THIRTY YEARS AGO.

Until about twelve years ago Creighton was proprietor of the book and station ry business in town which he disposed of to enter his brother's office as assistant collector, which position he has filled ever since. He was married about thirty years ago to Miss Rosie Sidon, daughter of a former prominent citizen, but his married life was unhappy and they had not lived together for a number of years. For this he was largely responsible, as he was a man of irregular habits and ungovernable temper. Many times in fits of rage he threatened his wife's life, until regard for herself and child compelled her to leave him. His first wife died a little over a year ago; his daughter resides in town.

HIS SECOND WIFE.

It was just a few months after the death of his first wife that he married Mrs. Chapman, of Ypsilanti, Michigan. She was a frequent visitor with friends in Owen Sound, and met Creighton when on one of these visits. Their married life appeared to be very happy. Creighton being apparently devoted to her and to her two daughters.

PARENTS ARE PROSTRATED.

Port Huron, Mich., May 27.—Mrs. James Creighton, formerly of this city, who was killed by her husband at Owen Sound Tuesday, is survived by her parents, Judge and Mrs. Edward W. Harris, and her sister, Katherine Harris. Judge Harris is more than 70 years old, while his wife is a few years his junior. The shock affected both so that a physician is in attendance and all visitors are excluded from the residence. Mrs. Creighton was born in Port Huron and married Mr. Chapman here. After his death, Mrs. Chapman resided in Ypsilanti, Mich., for some time. She also lived there a short time after marrying Creighton. It was understood at Ypsilanti that Creighton

Owen Sound, May 27.—That Creighton will recover was the statement confidently made by the physicians in charge today. An examination of the wound showed that he had evidently shot lower than he intended. The bullet penetrated the right cheek bone and lodged in his neck. He is a bad and lodged in his neck. He is still a prisoner at his own house.

It developed today that Creighton had been intoxicated frequently of late, and only the day before the tragedy had been seen in such a condition down town. Although the town is under local option he seems to have been able to procure liquor without difficulty.

Some time ago, before local option came into force, in fact, and before Creighton's second marriage, an insurance man took away the policy from a local hotel. When the owner remonstrated he was told that the hotel was accustomed to supply liquor to Creighton at all hours.

"Well," the proprietor is said to have replied, "you would if you were in the same position. We cannot stand his blasphemy when we refuse him."

The revolver was borrowed from the hardware store of Christie & Co., on Monday morning, Victoria Day. They supposed that he intended to have some sport with it on the holiday. He was evidently meditating the murder twenty-four hours before he decided to commit it.

Creighton knew of the intended departure of his wife and the girls some time before, and it is thought in his drunken state, he brooded upon it until murder came into his mind.

Some time before, he went down to an official of the Collegiate Institute Board to learn when the school term would close, as he did not want the girls to lose the "year."

Those outside the family say that the public were not aware of any friction in the home. About the town, however, Creighton had the reputation of not saying a gentle word to anyone, and gradually becoming more and more pessimistic. He had not engaged in any regular work for several years. His first wife did not live with him for years before her death.

The girls moved in the best society of Owen Sound, and were very popular. Last evening when the news of the murder was announced, groups of their playmates could be seen in the streets, weeping.

The family attended the Presbyterian Church, but the girls had lately been attending the Methodist Sunday school.

Close Down Their Shops One After Another

Montreal, May 27.—"We stand as we did in the beginning. The legal department is looking after the future."

Such was the terse comment of Mr. David McNicoll, general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, when asked today regarding the trouble the company is at present having with its men. The closing of the shops at McAdam Junction is looked upon here as a warning to the men, and unless the men in the East cease their brickerings and attempts to embroil themselves in the question of the West, it is taken as a fact that the C.P.R. will continue the policy and close down one shop after another until practically all have discontinued work. The company appears determined to hold to its original position of keeping the affairs of the East and West separate, and will continue this policy to the bitter end.

Mr. F. A. Acland of the Ottawa Labor Department, who has been in conference with Mr. McNicoll for the past couple of days, has left for Ottawa without being able to arrive at any settlement of the vexed question.

Schooner Cut in Two and Eighteen Men Were Drowned

Halifax, N.S., May 27.— Eighteen men went to their death in the Bay of Fundy last night, when the Dominion Atlantic Railway's liner "Boston" crashed into the Boston schooner "Fame" and sent her to the bottom, only two of the schooner's crew being rescued. A thick fog, which enveloped the schooner's lights as if in a shroud, was the cause of the disaster.

NAMES OF DEAD AND SURVIVORS.

The dead are,

Captain Thos. Fy[illegible]Bernard Daley, Thomas Stapleton, Michael Welvina, Thomas Powers, sr., Thomas Powers, jr., Thomas Murphy, all of Newfoundland.

William Fisher and John Roy, of Nova Scotia.

Michael Connor, Wm. Bailey, Barney Cashino, of Boston.

Eight other names are unknown to the two survivors.

The survivors are,

John Clark, St. John's.

Edward Pitts, Halifax.

While the Boston was creeping along at half speed last night, about one hundred miles east of Boston Light, the lights of the Fame suddenly loomed up dead ahead, about 200 feet from the liner's bow.

CRY CAME TOO LATE.

When the hoarse shout of "Schooner dead ahead!" rang out from the forecastle head, Captain Mackenzie sprang to the engineers' telegraph and signalled for full speed astern, but it was too late. Before the engines had commenced to reverse, the Boston plunged into the low-lying schooner, just abaft the main-rigging, and cut her in two.

SUNK IN TWO MINUTES.

Lifeboats were swung out from the steamer, but the wreck of the schooner had gone down within two minutes, and although the Boston cruised around the scene for over an hour, only two men were rescued.

Both the survivors gave a graphic description of the accident. Pitts said that when the collision occurred only the captain and three men of the schooner were on deck, nine men were in the forecastle, and seven in the cabin.

PROBABLY ALL KILLED.

Pitts was one of the men in the forecastle, and he says all the men who were bunking there reached the deck in safety, but that none of them that were penned in the cabin got out. He thinks they were all killed instantly, for the Boston crashed right through this part of the schooner.

DRAGGED INTO VORTEX.

Pitts rushed on deck, but the vessel sank under his feet instantly, and he was carried down into the vortex. Going down he clutched a piece of wreckage and on this finally came to the surface. He saw men dragged down all around him when the vessel sank, but when coming to the surface there were only four men left. They were all poor swimmers, and one by one they sank, after half an hour from the time the schooner was hit.

IN WATER AN HOUR.

Clark told about the same story. He was also in the forecastle when the crash came, and he was in the water for about an hour before being picked up.

The Fames had been out from Boston on a fishing trip for four weeks. It was their intention to start for home today, as they had a catch of 100,000 pounds.

TWO LOST IN DORY.

Two men drifted away in a dory several days ago, and had been given up for lost.

The Fame was quarantined at Shelbourne for smallpox some months, and subsequently was taken to Halifax, where a crew of Boston fish students joined her, and started for home. They were long overdue on the trip, and only made Boston after a terrific experience.

SOMETHING ABOUT COMPANY.

The Dominion and Atlantic Railway owns 248 miles of line and runs on the Windsor line under agreement with the Intercolonial Railway. The company acquired the Yarmouth Steamship Company, and operates lines of steamships between New York, Boston, Yarmouth, St. John, Digby, and other Canadian ports.

The company is a consolidation of the Windsor and Annapolis Railway and the Yarmouth and Annapolis Railway. A good deal of English capital is in the company.

Yarmouth is a town on the southwest coast of Nova Scotia, with about 5,000 people. The steamer Boston was evidently coming in from New York.

There was red hot "doins" on Nicholls Oval last night, when the T.A.S. nine and the Y.M.C.A. aggregation hooked up in an intermediate league fixture. Although the game only went four and a half innings before it was called, there was something doing at every stage of the game, the T.A.S. family winning out by a score of 8—7.

125 Starving Bulgarians Arrive from U.S

North Bay, May 23.—Three carloads of laborers from Toledo, Ohio, passed through North Bay recently to work, it is alleged, on the G.T.P. contract of the Reynolds Construction Co., north of Mattawan.

Considerable indignation has been expressed that the dumping of United States' unemployed in Canada is encouraged when laborers are counting the ties on every Canadian railroad looking vainly for employment.

GOT FREE BREAD.

Toledo, May 23.—One hundred and twenty-five Bulgarians on Wednesday, of last week left Toledo over the Lake Shore railroad, bound for North Bay, Ont., where they will be employed by the Grand Trunk railroad.

Among them were many who had been receiving bread from the city and county ever since the "bread line" was established. While the Lake Shore made the Bulgarians an exceptionally low rate of fare, many are wondering where the men, who, at least some of them, were supposed to be in destitute circumstances, got the money. The full fare to North Bay amounts to nearly $20.

"One of the Bulgarians bought all the tickets," said the ticket agent on Wednesday. "I suppose they paid for them with their own money. All I know is that we got the money for the tickets."

The exodus of the foreigners had a big effect on the "bread line" at the East Side station. Less than 300 were in line on Wednesday morning, while on other mornings over 600 lined up for their rations.

While waiting for their train at the Union Station, the foreigners presented a picturesque and rather amusing spectacle. Their clothing was of every description, and their baggage consisted of all sorts of bundles and queer looking trunks. Many of them carried under their arms the loaves of bread, which they had received from the city.

Spring Tirdeness Cured By Harmless Remedy

Many are Using it and receiving benefit from its strength-giving power.

All winter long you worked hard. This took lots of nerve force. It lasted so far, but now it's all gone, and you feel half dead.

Somehow you must get new vitality and more nerve force. The water in your blood must be turned into strength and building material. Your fretful appetite must be braced up. Some new power must be imparted to your weak body.

This is just what happens in using Ferrozone, which is an instant blood maker, blood-enricher and nerve builder.

Ferrozone not only creates keen appetite, it goes further, improves digestion and assimilation, so that every particle of food is converted into nerve and muscle fibres.

By building up new nerve force and making each organ do the work that nature expects of it, Ferrozone quickly increases your weight and instils a reserve of vigor into the system that defies weariness, exhaustion, spring debility or sickness of any kind.

To prove the enormous strengthening power of Ferrozone we quote the following letter from Mrs. Cecil P. Gourmally, well known in Middleville: "Last March I was very run down and thin. I had no appetite and scarcely felt like eating at all. My face was pallid and haggard and I had dark circles under my eyes. My weight was seven pounds under normal, and day by day that awful spring weariness dragged me down. The change Ferrozone wrought was surprising. It must certainly contain wonderful building and strengthening properties, because I gained strength, flesh and appetite from the day I started it. I speedily came back to vigorous buoyant health with Ferrozone, and recommend it as the best medicine any person in weak health can take."

Ferrozone strengthens the weak, restores the anaemia, soothes the nervous, assists men, women and children to better health. Try it. 50c. per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

A CHILDREN'S CHURCH

New York, May 27.—A church for children, owned and managed by children, with a boy preacher in the pulpit, boy ushers and a children's choir, with story telling hours, games and other attractions to keep young girls away from the skating rink and the 5-cent theater and to make the pool table and the Sunday baseball match things to be avoided by the boys, is the latest institution established in Chicago. This children's church is undenominational. It was dedicated and opened April 30. In the short time that has elapsed since then it has mustered a regular congregation of more than 150, with new faces at every meeting. Nestling under the eaves of a large sanctuary for grown-ups, a chicken under the wing of its mother protector, the children's church appears to be almost a toy, a child's plaything. It is only one story high, but is wide enough for a double door and two windows in front and long enough for many rows of pews, a platform and a pulpit. Over the doorway its name is painted in large letters.

Its origin can be traced back to that noted evangelist Dwight L. Moody, though it is not known that Mr. Moody ever suggested the organization of a church exclusively for for children. He was responsible, however, for the establishment in Chicago of a great religious institution known as the Bible Institute, where hundreds and thousands of young men are trained to perform evangelistic and mission work. It happened in the passing of time that a young printer, William Fillins by name, took a course at the institute and was inspired with a desire to uplift the the community in which h dwelt. While he labored at this trade by day—for he was a poor boy—Fillins cast eyes around at night in search of the best spot to put his shoulder to the religious wheel.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often shows up, the Kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

DEATH OF "BIRKENHEAD" HERO

Man Who Steered Ill-Fated Troopship When Wrecked.

Memories of the tragic wreck of the troopship Birkenhead, with its deeds of splendid heroism probably unsurpassed in military or naval annals, are recalled by the death at Bristol (Eng.) of one of the survivors, at the age of 85.

He was Thomas Coffin, who, on the occasion of the disaster to the troopship was the "man at the wheel," and with seven others succeeded in pulling safely to shore in a gig.

Joining the Birkenhead about 1850, when he was 23 years of age, Coffin made three voyages in the vessel with troops.

A fourth voyage to the Cape was the fateful one in which the Birkenhead was wrecked, and the troops went down to a man, drawn up, as if on parade, on her decks.

Coffin has told his own story in quiet, plain phrases that perhaps give a clearer idea of the grim tragedy than a number of lurid phrases.

"I was at the wheel, and well remember the sentry calling out to the officer of the watch, 'Four bells, sir.' The officer replied, 'Strike them, sentry,' which he did not do, for at that very moment she struck the rock and the sentry went rolling to the deck. At the time most of the soldiers were below asleep, but were awoke by the crash (which appeared to me to be enough to wake the dead almost) and came on deck; but on being called to order, fell in and remained so, thus enabling the seamen to get out what boats were left.

"My instructions from the captain were to man my boat and pull off and await orders, which never came. I heard after that she was struck by a falling spar and killed. My boat's crew and myself picked up thirty-two in all, and we pulled till daylight, when we came across the second cutter and gig, and we sighted a sail in the offing. The ship's doctor, who was one of the saved, called for seamen to man the gig and pull toward her. Eight of us volunteered, and we pulled out, but could not attract her attention, so we decided not to venture any further.

"Fish Bay was our landing place, and fortunately for us the postmaster's daughters of Caledon had just finished bathing and were about to return home. They were very kind and provided us with some coffee and bread, which was very acceptable. After we had tramped to Caledon we were sent to Simon's Town, and then to Algoa Bay, our naval station. We were brought back to England on the Amazon."

Thomas Coffin was indeed a son of the sea, for he was actually born on a battleship, H.M.S. Pitt, of which his father was shipkeeper. In the natural course of events he entered the navy, saw active service on the coast of Syria, was with the Naval Brigade in the Crimea, and fought in the China war of 1860. In 1871, as a quartermaster he left the service of his country.

When It Hurt.

A German surgeon in the Franco-Prussian war had occasion to lance an abscess for a poor fellow, and, as the sore was obstinate, it became necessary to use the knife twice. The operation was not a very painful one, but the patient declared that it had nearly killed him, and when a third resort to the lancet was proposed he protested that he could never go through the operation alive.

The surgeon promised to make it easy for him and, calling up a few of the loungers, ordered one of them to hold his hands close over the patient's eyes and two others to grasp his hands firmly.

"This arrangement," explained the doctor, "is said to prevent pain in such an operation. Now, lie perfectly quiet, and when I say 'Now!' prepare yourself."

The surgeon at once began quietly with his work and in a short time had completed the operation without the least trouble, the patient lying as quiet as though in sleep.

When all was done the surgeon laid aside the knife and said, "Now!" Such a roar came from the lips of the sick man as seldom is heard from any human being. He struggled to free himself, yelling, "Oh, doctor, you're killing me!"

Shouts of laughter soon drowned his cries, and he was told that the operation had been all over before the signal was given. It was a good joke, but it is doubtful if the poor fellow could ever be made to believe that he did not feel actual pain immediately after that fatal "Now!"

Chinese Eating.

It is probably true that the Chinese use a greater variety of meats than do the people of other countries, although but little land is set apart for grazing or for the cultivation of food for live stock. Beef is not a common meat, principally because of the Buddhistic prejudice against killing any animal and particularly such a useful one. Since hogs can be so economically reared, pork is undoubtedly, after rice, the leading article of food. This is eaten in every form, and one may say that every part of the animal is utilized for food. Horseflesh, venison, antelope and bear are often seen, but in passing through the markets pork, mutton and fowls are the most conspicuous. For fish the Chinese have an omnivorous appetite, nothing from the water, either fresh or salt, being rejected. A few kittens and puppies may be offered for sale in cages. Those which are intended for the table are fed upon grain and clean food, so that if the nature of this food be considered it is far more wholesome than is the unclean hog. To assert that cats and dogs form a staple article of food is pure fiction.—London Standard.

A Royal Wedding Feast.

When Violante Visconti was married to Duke Lionel, son of Edward III. of England, at Milan, the wedding dinner consisted of eighteen courses, including suckling pigs, fish, hares, veal, quail, partridge, trout, beef, capons, lamb, chickens, carp, peacocks, ducks, cheese and cherries. Some of the fish and game were incrusted in gold.

Marie Antoinette.

A small round bathtub invented for the use of Marie Antoinette still bears her name. The dauphinness used in her baths a decoction of wild thyme and marjoram, to which was added sea salt.

Buy Casey Mountain Shares in the

Casey Mountain Cobalt Mining and Developing Co. Ltd.

HEAD OFFICE—MANNING CHAMBERS—TORONTO—ONTARIO

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares;—

Casey Mountain shares are fully paid-up and non-assessable.

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which has regular net-work of silver bearing veins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain has the goods in unlimited quantities sufficient to last for generations.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 to date varying in width from 16 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock speculation), and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 500 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; thus amount of cash would mean 120 per cent. to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Dividends Paid by Cobalt Mining Companies

Buffalo Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907	$ 81,000.00	The Conisgas Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907	200,000.00
Foster Cobalt Mining Co., Ltd., have paid	45,000.00	The Cobalt Silver Queen, Cobalt, paid during 1907	120,000.00
McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd., have paid	45,000.00	Temiscamings & Hudson Bay Mining Co., Ltd., have paid	746,120.00

(These shares could have been had at 60 cents, and have sold as high as $100.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $60,000,000 00 has been paid in dividends. The Treadwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $20 00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would means a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the benefical acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and scholars of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro:

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—As you are aware, I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good, economical and efficient administration of affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province, generally.

The test of good representation either by a Government or member is good work, and, in this respect both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr. Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure, for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evident interests of the city in every direction, and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our working men and our manufacturing industries; and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying industry feel that they have done so, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies, inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent., while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per was shown by the Government reviving the contract system of prison labor, abolishing by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labor at 3 cents per hour to compete against free labor.

The introduction of the "spoils system," the failure to remove disease administration from the sphere of political influence, the three-fifths handicap to Local Option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and disparagement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, the neglect of law reform, with a view of making our law courts cost.

Disregard of the rights of labor available for securing justice, within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters in which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests, which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen,

G. A. GILLESPIE

CAMP FURNISHINGS.

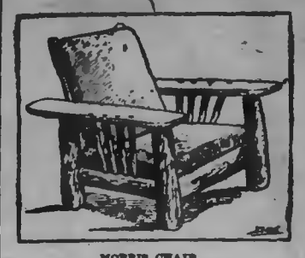
Comfort Should Be Carefully Studied In Their Selection.

NOT MANY PIECES NEEDED.

Very Quaint and Rustic Styles Found in the Shops—Easy, Though, to Be Your Own Carpenter—Cedar Poles the Best Material.

The following furniture suggestions may be of interest to owners or prospective owners of small camps in the woods. In the ideal camp every piece of furniture supplies an actual want.

The easy chairs are easy to sit in, the settees roomy and soft and the tables and desks of convenient height. This matter of comfort should be as carefully studied in the selection of simple camp furniture as in that of the most expensive pieces. It is a question of proportion, of careful adjustment of parts to the whole.



MORRIS CHAIR.

Furniture of quaint and rustic style may be found in the shops, but it is even better to have it built by a carpenter or unskilled workman or to build it oneself. Next to an original and interesting design, solidity of construction is the prime requisite. Careful cabinet work is unnecessary and accurate joining superfluous. No glue should be used, but instead pin and dowel construction, as exposure to rain melts glue, and chairs and tables are frequently needed outside the camp. Cedar poles make the best material. The bark can be left on, giving a charmingly sylvan effect. But wherever a rough surface might prove unpleasant to the touch, as on the arms of chairs, the wood should be planed and sanded. No stain is necessary on the bark, and the planed surfaces may be left to the finishing of time.

Very few pieces of furniture are needful. Built in fitments can be made to take the place of movable pieces and are both more interesting and less expensive. Chairs and tables are, however, necessary, and a swing seat is a desirable adjunct to a camp on a rainy day. Cedar poles and slabs are used in its construction, and it is hung from the ceiling by iron chains. A Morris or reclining chair is the most comfortable seat in existence and should be included in even a short list of furniture. The proper measurements can be obtained from any good example of the style. Cedar poles are used in its construction in connection with slender branches of saplings, which form splindles in the sides and back. The cushions may be made of some inexpensive material and stuffed with cotton. An armchair of unusual design is shown in the cut. It is built of pine slats and cedar posts and is provided with a pillow. A small table would be useful in an out of door existence. The slabs of which the top is made are planed to furnish a smooth surface for work or for serving tea.

"I shall always be a brother to you," he murmured.

"If I had any use for a brother," she replied sweetly, "I could reach under the sofa and get one right now."

Manner is everything with some people and something with everybody.

THE DEED OF A HERO.

How a Brave Boy Helped to Save the Indian Empire.

Not all the courage of war is expended on the battlefield. A boy once performed a deed which contributed greatly to save the Indian empire. At the time, in 1857, he was a mere lad employed as an assistant in the telegraph service. His name was W. Brendish, and he sent at the risk of his life a dispatch from Delhi to Umballa which bore the first news of the outbreak. This message, repeated to every town which could be reached, proved of priceless value. Colonel Edward Vibart in his "Sepoy Mutiny" tells the story of how, to quote the judicial commissioner of the Punjab, "the electric telegraph saved India."

It was the custom to close the telegraph offices on Sunday between the hours of 9 and 4. On May 10, 1857, as the operator at Delhi was about to close his station he received a message from the Meerut office announcing an uprising in that section. At 4 o'clock, when the office was reopened, connections with Meerut were found to be interrupted.

The telegraph force at Delhi consisted of the chief and two young assistants, Brendish and Pilkington. The office was situated outside of the city about a mile from the gates.

On discovering the break in the connections the chief sent the two lads to test the cable across the river. They found that they could signal to Delhi, but not to Meerut, and reported the fact on their return. It was too late to do anything that night, but the next morning Mr. Todd, the chief, went out himself to investigate the line. He never returned, and, although his fate is unknown, there is little doubt that he was murdered.

The office was thus left in charge of the two lads. Signs of trouble began to be evident close at hand. Brendish, stepping from the door, met a wounded officer, who cried out to him, "For God's sake get inside and close your doors!"

The revolt crept closer and closer. The boys felt that their lives were in danger. Soon they became sure of it. But before they fled to a place of comparative safety they waited to send out to the Indian world the news of the revolt.

Brendish ticked out the message which caused Sir Edward to say:

"Look at the courage and sense of that little boy! With shot falling all round him, he stayed to manipulate the message that was the means of saving the Punjab."

The government rewarded Brendish for his services by giving him a life pension, and as an old man he died in the India he had helped to preserve.

Benjamin Constant.

Benjamin Constant, having sided with Napoleon during the hundred days, felt the need of justifying himself when Louis XVIII. returned to power. He wrote the king a letter with that end in view and called upon Mme. Recamier to discuss the subject. She asked him quickly:

"Have you finished your letter?"

"Yes."

"Are you satisfied with it?"

"Entirely satisfied. I have shown [illegible]"

Appetite Gone Nerves Badly Run Down

A Strong Moral Well Exemplified In Mrs. Wilson's Case.

Like thousands of other people at this season of the year Mrs. E. P. Wilson was tired and worn out—winter sorely tried her health and vigor. But now she is robust and well, eats well, sleeps well, feels invigorated and braced. "For some years," writes Mrs. Wilson of Watmore, P.O., "I suffered from systematic weakness, biliousness and depressing headaches. I could take little nourishment and grew thin and pale. If I ate a hearty meal the result was dreadful. Pains started at my chest, and spread all through my body going across my stomach, back and right side. I was discouraged till a friend insisted on me taking Dr. Hamilton's Pills They made a new woman of me, and for the past eight months my health has been perfect. For a good cleansing, rejuvenating medicine I urge every one to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

There is extraordinary and magic power in Dr. Hamilton's Pills, they bring, vigor, tone, health, and spirits —are compounded from the most wonderful and healing juices and essence in vegetable life—are safe for young and old, and guaranteed to kindle renewed activity and strength in every system that is weak, sickly or run down from kidney, liver, stomach or bladder trouble. L'Envoi of Housekeeping.

When earth's last picture is dusted
And the floors are painted and dried,
When the oldest carpet is beaten
And the youngest spider has died,

We shall rest—and, faith, we shall need it—
Lie down for a moment or two
Till the dust on the grand piano
Shall set us to work anew.

And those that are clean shall be happy.
They shall eat off a kitchen chair
And dash with a seven league broomstick
At the back of the chiffonier.

We shall have real paint to lean on,
Pile everything into the hall
And scrub for hours at a sitting
And never be tired at all.

And the man of the house will praise us
And will (more than probably) blame,
And we never shall get any money
(And certainly not any fame).

But each for the joy of the cleaning
And each in her feminine glee
To look just as well as the neighbors
For the sake of things they might see.

—Laura Simmons in Circle.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable. A booklet of extracts from eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Normal Schools Soon to Open.

The normal schools which are being built at North Bay, Hamilton, Peterboro and Strafford will shortly be opened. The contractors have practically completed their work. For entrance into these institutions, the obligatory subjects at the July examinations have been reduced from ten to seven. A higher standard, however, will be exacted.

The Minister of Education lays great stress on the personality of the teacher, and he hopes that the success of the scheme which he has inaugurated, will justify him in extending it still further in both high and public schools. Toronto University has also adopted new regulations along these lines.

Fans in the Eighteenth Century.

A letter in the London Spectator dated May, 1711, gives a most interesting description of an academy where ladies could be drilled in the proper use of their fans and initiated into the mysteries of "the angry flutter, the modest flutter, the timorous flutter, the confused flutter, the merry flutter and the amorous flutter." In the eighteenth century at dancing assemblies in London, Bath and other places of fashionable resort gentlemen chose their partners by "lottery of the fan." The fans of all the ladies present were placed in a hat, whence each gentleman had the privilege of selecting one, the lady to whom it belonged becoming his allotted partner for the evening. Of course such a custom entailed a great study of fans on the part of the gentlemen. Boswell, Steele and Pope found something to say about the fan, and Guy, enlarging upon the efforts of his predecessors, wrote a long poem in praise of the fan, attributing its invention to Venus.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without letup, and we have made it an iron-clad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,600 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Prohibitionists Carry Carolina by 60,000 Majority

Asheville, N.C., May 28.—Latest returns of the prohibition vote in North Carolina indicate that the state has gone "dry" by 60,000 majority. Out of 96 counties the "wets" carried only five. This means that the manufacture of liquor will be barred after January 1st next.

New Fleet of Gasoline Launches

Four new speed boats will be added to the river fleet of gasoline launches and they should be the fastest craft of their kind sailing on the local waters.

One of them is owned by Mr. B. F. Ackerman. It is thirty feet in length and has a four-foot beam. It was built by the Peterborough Canoe Company, and on all its lines the designer has aimed at speed. Its long, sharp bow is so wedge-shaped that to the observer it would be expected that scarcely any resistance would be offered as it cuts the water. It is what is known as the Dolphin shape and is not unlike the Rochester, Jr.

One of Wilson's 3-cylinder, 4-cycle engines, estimated at 12 h.p., will supply the motive power. This boat should do 15 miles an hour.

Mr. Roland Wilson has a new speed boat which will soon be launched. It is not as long as that of Mr. Ackerman, but it possesses many qualities which are looked for in that type of craft.

The local trio is completed by Mr. G. A. J. Goulet's trim craft, which was built by Mr. Rye, and is with the other two mentioned above—at the rear of Mr. Wilson's shop on George street. They are all practically complete, and it will not be long before they are given their initial dip in the Otonabee.

Mr. G. L. Stevens, George street, has purchased the "It," the fast motor launch which ran away with many prizes in the regattas last year. It as the fourth member of the quartette, and no faster crafts will possibly be found on the Otonabee when they are consigned to their natural element.

There is a very fast launch at Gore's Landing, and if any of these five boats come together in a friendly brush there is bound to be a race which will make the ordinary races look slow.

Officers Elected for W. F. M. S.

The concluding meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society was held in St. Andrew's church on Wednesday with a large attendance. Rev. J. G. Potter and Rev. H. J. Keith assisted in the opening exercises, and Rev. Robt. Pogue gave a short but splendid address introductory to the lecture by Rev. R. P. MacKay, on the "Awakening of Korea." The address was well delivered. Rev. Mr. MacKay dealing in beautiful language with the natural grandeur of the country. The natives should be religious, but they are sadly lacking in education, and in their morals are greatly depraved.

Mayor of Penetanguishene will not Attempt to Stop Parade

Midland, May 28.—A rumor has been circulated in this district that the Mayor of Penetanguishene, Alphonse Tessier, a French-Canadian, was taking steps to prevent the celebration of the Twelfth of July. It was reported that he had written to Ottawa seeking authority to issue a proclamation to prohibit the parade. The Mayor denounces the rumor as malicious and absolutely without foundation. There is the utmost harmony prevailing among all creeds at Penetanguishene, so that there is no ground whatever for the report. Mayor Tessier as soon as he learned of the matter interviewed Mr. A. McElroy, the Master of the Orange Lodge, and assurred him officially that he would do anything in his power to assist in making the celebration a success.

The Provincial election campaign is responsible for the smallest attendance at Grand Lodge in many years. A number of the delegates were able to spend only the opening day. One result of this is that there is a strong feeling in favor of postponing any important legislation until next year. It was intended to revise the constitution at this session, but this will no doubt be laid over.

The place is seeking the next meeting of Grand Lodge are Brantford, Windsor, and Smith's Falls. At this morning's session a civic address of welcome was presented by Mayor E. Leatherby and the Town Council, nearly all of whom are members of the Order.

Bro. Fred Dane of Toronto, moved a resolution in favor of Canada making a substantial contribution to the maintenance of the Imperial navy.

Acting upon a memorial from the Grand Lodge of British Columbia, a resolution was passed protesting against the setting apart of large tracts of land in the West for colonizing foreigners, French and Orientals.

Operation Prevented

Bad Case of Piles Cured by Zam-Buk.

Sufferers from piles will be interested in the following testimony of Mr. Garfield Logan, 19 Welland Avenue, St. Catharines, Ont. He says: "For years I was a great sufferer from protruding bleeding piles. They got so bad that it was impossible for me to walk or sit down without a great deal of suffering. The pain I endured was dreadful. I tried everything and the doctors told me I would have to be operated upon before I could be cured. I do not think that there was one remedy that I did not try, but they failed to cure me. One day I received a sample of Zam-Buk and tried that. I got some relief and decided to give it a good trial. I bought three boxes and before I had finished the third box I was completely cured. Zam-Buk salve has saved me hundreds of dollars because I had decided to have the operation if Zam-Buk did not cure me. I have recommended Zam-Buk to a number of friends, and am always Zam-Buk succeeds because it goes right to the root of the trouble. Healing, soothing and antiseptic, it is Nature's remedy for all skin diseases. All stores and druggists sell at 50c., or from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

POLICE

Peter Simmons celebrated the first anniversary of his arrival here from England, by paying a fine of $2 in the police court yesterday. Peter was charged with discharging firearms within the corporation. The reason for his firing the gun, was to frighten away the sparrows which he said were eating the seeds he had so industriously planted.

"Why didn't you bawl at them or make a fuss?" asked the magistrte as he imposed a fine.

Appointment of Fire Chief a Thorn in the Side of Our Worthy City Fathers

Council Experienced a Dead Lock on This Question Last Night--Are Taking 24 Hours' Relaxation in the Hope of Reaching an Agreement Tonight

The City Council met in special session last night when there were present, His Worship Mayor Rush, Aldermen Phelan, McIntyre, Neill, J. J. Turner, jr., Bradburn, Buller, Morgan, Elliott and Johnston.

Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott,—That the city solicitor oppose before the Railway Commission the proposed Grand Trunk Railway siding into the George Matthew's Company's siding. The city will oppose this matter on the grounds of danger to citizens, that it would be a detriment to traffic and prejudice the value of private property for which there would be no redress whatever.

As Ald. Buller can give valuable evidence in the city's favor, the was voted to accompany the city solicitor to Ottawa. They will leave today.

NEW FIRE CHIEF.

The appointment of a new permanent fire chief, for which the meeting had been called, was here gone into.

Ald. Johnston reported that there had been seven applications for the position of fire chief but only one local man applied, and he is Mr. Pakenham. The report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, as read by Ald. Johnston, recommended the appointment of Mr. Leslie G. Finch of Brantford, at a salary of $1,000 a year. Mr. Finch is highly recommended, and in his opinion, ten men, including drivers and the chief, would compose a good permanent fire brigade for Peterborough to start with.

Ald. Buller endorsed Ald. Johnston's remarks that Mr. Finch is an experienced man who would do himself and Peterborough credit in the position for which he has been selected.

Ald. Turner pointed out that one of the most important recommendations carried by Mr. Finch is the fact that he is an electrician and familiar with the fire alarm system. He would save the expense of keeping an electrical expert to look after our electrical alarm system.

Ald. Morgan sarcastically remarked that the committee apparently have selected the best man of the bunch of applicants, and the cheapest man at that—a man who can do everything. He did not believe such man who can fill two or three posts, and who offers such services at a very minimum salary.

Ald. Neill offered that a friend of his highly recommends Mr. Finch as a first class man.

Ald. Elliott said that Mr. Finch had had three years' experience only as a fireman, and the last nine years he had worked as an electrician for the Massey-Harris Co., at Brantford. He could not conceive that a man with but three years practical experience with nine months intervening since such experience, could be the thorough fire-fighter required by conditions today. Ald. Elliott opined that Mr. Sargeant, with many years' experience as foreman of a Toronto fire hall, and who made application, must of necessity prove to be the best fire fighter of the two. He thought there are as good local men for this position as men from out of town, and they should be given first choice.

Ald. McIntyre concurred in these views and thought the position should go to a local man. He has contended this from the incipiency of the proposition for a permanent brigade and has not budged an inch from his position.

Ald. Phelan pointed out that the people would not stand for paying $1000 a year to a chief and $800 to an assistant in the shape of an electrical inspector, which position Mr. Pakenham fills. He have placed himself on record as being prepared to support a local man for the office of chief of the brigade providing such a man with the necessary qualifications can be found to accept the position.

The Mayor—"No local man applied. Here arose a pretty mess in this connection, the fact [illegible] to use a Mikado phrase. The city fathers proved to be all sizes and sevens on this important question, with the present brigade quitting office on June 30th at midnight, and the men the committee recommended, insisting on receiving his appointment before June first, in order that he may give a months' notice of his intention to assume his duties here on July first. And many of the members wanted to absolve the matter till Monday night, and advertise again for applications. Aldermen Neill, Buller and Turner tenaciously insisted that the question be settled at once in a business like way. Ald. McIntyre insisted that the position be advertised again, and Ald. Phelan that the measure be postponed till tonight to give local men a chance to apply. Aldermen Bradburn and Elliott did not agree that the committee had made a judicious choice from the applicants, the latter also reiterating his contention that the committee should have taken the present brigade into their confidence when contemplating the change to a permanent brigade. But Ald. Johnston proved a surprise. He would not vote for the adoption of his own committee's report, which all took to be satisfactory to his views, and actually announced his intention to support the appointment of Joseph Metheral, as moved by Ald. Bradburn. The council at this juncture had before them a motion, an amendment, an amendment to the amendment, and a new motion, and became involved in a lovely tangle that called for a postponement till tonight in the hope of its satisfactory unravelling. And Ald. Harry Morgan's face was wreathed in smiles, and Mr. Snowdon's application may yet be taken seriously.

THE RESOLUTIONS

Ald. Neill moved, seconded by Ald Turner,—That the report of the committee recommending the appointment of Mr. Finch at a salary of $1000 a year, his duties to commence July first, be adopted.

Ald. Neill said the office had been advertised, no local man had applied, and it was up to the council to deal with the applications before them in a business like way, setting aside all sentiment.

Ald. Elliott claimed that the committee had made a mistake in not having consulted the fire brigades' good faithful servants for years—when contemplating this change. It is he thought owing to this lack of common decent courtesy on the part of the committee that no local man had applied for the office of chief. He thought that even now it would be wise to consult the present brigade, and advertise again for a permanent chief.

The mayor remarked that he had not yet had one single ratepayer say the city is moving in the wrong direction in establishing a paid brigade, while many have remarked that the city is taking a wise step. And no local man had applied.

Ald. Bradburn—"I'd like to ask Ald. Johnston if it is the committee's intention to retain Mr. Pakenham?"

Ald. Johnston—"We never had any other intention."

Ald. Bradburn—Then why should we appoint Mr. Finch because he is an electrician? Ald. Bradburn here went on to offer that Mr. Finch is not qualified with only three years' experience to assume the duties of chief of our brigade. He considered Mr. Davis with many years' experience as foreman of a Toronto hall, should have been the choice of the committee. Of course he asked $1500 a year, but the committee might invite him to see if the office at say $1200. The city must be prepared to raise the salary of a chief from time to time any way. He further pointed out that the foreman of a Toronto fire hall has to assume the duties of a chief until the latter arrives; he is in fact practically on the same footing as the chief of a fire brigade like ours.

Ald. McIntyre moved an amendment, seconded by Ald. Morgan,—That the city advertise again for applications.

Ald. Phelan moved an amendment to the amendment, seconded by Ald. Elliott,—That this matter be left over till Monday night, to give local people a chance to apply. This would not interfere with the committee's report.

Ald. Buller thought there had been enough dilly-dallying on the subject already. A postponement would give opportunity for hole-and-corner consultations between aldermen and citizens, resulting in a worst state of things than even on Monday night. He liked to see a man stand by his convictions anyway, and vote accordingly. The committee had submitted their report, which should be acted upon without any further delay.

One effort had been made to vote on the report of the committee, and Ald. Johnston would not vote. However the effort was out of order, and he subsequently urged Ald. Johnston to vote for his report but he declined on the grounds that he had always to shoulder blame when the Fire, Water and Light Committee's report did not meet with the approval of certain aldermen.

Ald. Morgan stood by his position that the present fire brigade is highly efficient, and he could see no reason for a change.

The mayor eulogized the past work of the brigade, and offered that any applications from them would be welcome.

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott,—That if Mr. Joseph Metheral will accept the position of of chief of the fire brigade, at a salary of $1000 a year, he receive the appointment.

Ald. Turner contended that this would mean $1000 a year for a chief and $800 for an assistant chief in Mr. Pakenham as an electrical expert, when we could get the same knowledge and experience combined in the person of Mr. Finch, the committee's nominee, at a salary of $1000. He would oppose the appointment of two men when one could be engaged to do the work, and at a saving of $800 a years.

Ald. Johnston here remarked to the surprise of all, that he would favor the appointment of Mr Joseph Metheral.

Ald. Phelan—"What with an assistant at $800 a year?"

Ald Johnston—"Yes."

Ald. Phelan—"Not for me."

Ald. Neill—"I won't vote for it."

Ald. Turner—"Nor I."

A complete deadlock ensued here, and the council adjourned till tonight at eight o'clock.

Athletics Have a Strong Nine for Saturday's Game

The Athletics certainly do look strong for their league game with the Petes on Saturday, and should give Manager Johnston's sphere sweatters a good argument for the Pete's share of the score sheet. Here is the line up;

Rattery, c.
Quinlan, p.
C. Graham, 1b
Heaslip, 2b.
Shiu, ss.
Landry, 3b.
Pilling, lf
Connors, cf.
Callihan, rf.

The new faces on the team are Rattery, Heaslip, Graham and Pilling. Rattery has a good record both as a back stop and a hitter, and should prove a valuable acquisition for the Midland Leaguers. He has played ball in Peterborough before, and the older fans will no doubt remember him. Chris Graham who replaces Flaherty at first is too well known to the base-ball public to need any comment for his work on the diamond has been the field for much favorable comment.

Heaslip who will cover the second sack is a new one on us, but his playing abilities are said to be of the best, and he should greatly strengthen the infield.

Pilling will work out in the sun garden, and he should be a tower of strength to the outfield.

Taken altogether the nine looks a good one and Saturday's game should be a fast one all the way through.

Mr. Arthur Poe Leaving for Cedar Rapids, Iowa

Mr. Arthur Poe, assistant manager of the local branch of the Quaker Oats Company, leaves today for Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he has been transferred by the company. Mr. Poe will be much missed by the members of the Y.M.C.A., as he was the teacher of the Saturday Night Bible Class of the institution and much regret is felt at his departure

In the Realm of Sport

Tomorrow's Midland League ball game between the Peterboroughs and Athletics should be a "sizzler" as the Athletics are out to win and as they promise an entire new lineup for the game, the "Petes" will take no chance and have their best material on hand. Those who saw the game last Saturday between the two teams, think that with the weak spots rubbed out of existence the Athletics would give Manager Johnston's flock a warm argument for supremacy. The game will start sharp at 3, and spectators in order to get a seat should be at Riverside by 3 o'clock.

Resolution of Thanks to Rev. Langfeldt

The following resolution, moved by Col. Halliday and Captain Mills has been sent to the Rev. Rural Dean Langfeldt, by the officers of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers.

"That the thanks of the officers and men of the 57th Regiment be tendered to Rev. Dr. E. A. Langfeldt for the excellent and thoughtful sermon with which he favored the regiment on the occasion of the annual church parade, emphasizing the value of characters and high ideals in determining the success of each man's life—a theme exceedingly well suited to the occasion, and that a copy of this motion be sent to Rev. Dr. E. A. Langfeldt.

Will Meet Tonight

The swimming and life-saving class of the Y.M.C.A. will meet tonight. Instructor P. H. Smedmore requests a full turn-out of members.

Mr. Arthur Poe Presented with an Address and Picture

The teachers of St. John's church met in the Guild room of the church last night to present an address of regret to Mr. Arthur Poe, who leaves today for Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Mr. Poe was for many years superintendent of the Sunday school and much regret is felt at his departure. The teachers also presented Mr. Poe with a beautiful framed picture of the church.

Mr. Samuel Long is Very Much Alive

Mr. George Lajeatte of the East Ward, received a telegram last night from his brother-in-law Mr. Samuel Long of East Ward, dated from a place near Windsor Lake, up in New Ontario, and saying that he was well well and very much alive. Mr. Long went back into the woods some weeks ago, but as no word had been received of him, enquiries were made of him at the Turner Lumber Co., where he was formerly employed, but there no trace of him could be found. Then several days ago a search party was despatched to look for him, but they returned without a clue to his whereabouts. Great relief was felt last night when Mr. Lajeatte got the telegram saying he was alive and well.

Was Fined $10 and Costs

In the county court yesterday morning, P. C. Newhall was fined $10 and costs for assaulting B. Johnston the fishery inspector. His Worship Magistrate Edmison, after carefully considering the case found Newhall guilty and gave the above judgment. Mr. F. D. Kerr on behalf of the defendant, notified his worship that his client intended to appeal.

Hog Weighing 800 lbs

Mr. R. H. Harrison of Otonabee came into the city yesterday with a load of hogs for Matthews and company. One of the porkers weighed over 500 lbs.

Appreciative Program at Conservatory of Music

A large and appreciative audience attended the final production of Father, the Beautiful Queen, at the Conservatory of Music Hall last night. The cantata is a heavy one and involved considerable exacting work both on the part of the soloists and the chorus.

The principals gave a most intelligent and satisfactory delineation of their respective parts. The chorus also sang with a splendid conception of what was required of them and added to a very large extent in the success of the presentation.

Perhaps the most pleasing feature of the entertainment was the excellent singing. The vocalists excelled themselves, both as the matter of solos and chorus work and the audience was thoroughly appreciative.

The costumes were elaborate and rich and yet in the best of taste. The stage setting was also very pleasing.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver to-day a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the mouth, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipation or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, dizziness, headaches, pain or distress in stomach, sinking, gnawing or distress [illegible] in stomach, perhaps nausea, [illegible] "rising" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, you can feel sure a few doses of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will relieve you more promptly [illegible] you could possibly obtain from your family doctor. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Purges [illegible] a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to this use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended for cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Doctors all say the only hope lies in supplying lots of new blood which must be brimming with vitality and building material.

The quickest way to get the necessary supply of vitalized blood is by taking Ferrozone. It establishes a high standard of blood, increases nerve force, restores bodily vigor in a truly marvelous way.

You are amply protected from spring fever and debility diseases by using Ferrozone,—This is proved by Mrs. E. J. Richards, of Manotick, Ont., who tells in the following words how she gained in health and spirit from Ferrozone: "For about two years I was not well. I was thin and anaemic. Towards spring I fell into a condition of nervous exhaustion that made life scarcely worth living. A dead tiredness seemed to hang over me like a load of lead. I simply could not do housework of any kind. A bad cough developed that worried me greatly, for I thought it might be tubercular. (When I first read about Ferrozone I was convinced it was good. I took it regularly for about eight weeks and the change in my health was wonderful. My cheeks filled out and became clear and rosy. I gained eight pounds in weight and am now as strong and vigorous as possible."

Ferrozone feeds and nourishes the organs that require assistance. It sends the thrill and vim of robust health from head to foot, makes you feel better at once. Won't you use Ferrozone? Sold everywhere; 50 chocolate-coated tablets in a box for 50 cents, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers.

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 20 1908

THE "POST'S" POSER

The London Morning Post puts a question to the Colonies which deserves a serious answer. It asks whether "the great dominions have really decided to close their doors against the poorer classes of the country which not only founded the Empire but continue to furnish the main security for the unique privileges enjoyed by the younger nations." When such a question is pointedly put by the Post, we may be very sure that it has been whispered to his neighbor by many an Englishman, and that many a mind in the Mother Country awaits an answer. The Post has long spoken for that school of thought which invites the Colonies to keep more in mind, than they sometimes appear to do, the fact that the fighting force for the entire Empire is now supplied by the people of the United Kingdom, and this question is really an application of this doctrine.

There can be no doubt that an Empire owes more to its own subjects than to the foreigner. Canada has, indeed, just given a proof that she appreciates this principle by her special treatment of Hindoo immigration. We have taken a different attitude toward the Hindoo, our fellow subject, and the Japanese, our ally, than we have toward other Asiatic settlers. At present, we are not discriminating by law in favor of the British settler; but we are discriminating in practice. We make a great deal more effort to attract the British immigrant than any other nationality.

In fact, we try to attract every British immigrant who has a fighting chance of doing well in this country. We want them, and we spend our good money to get them. We have, however, decided not to encourage the immigration of even fellow British subjects whose arrival would be a damage to our people and whose future in this new country would be a doubtful problem. We cannot see that it will help the Empire much to import men whose competition will depress the rate of wages in Canada and so make it harder for British subjects living in Canada to bring up their families, while it will at the same time give these men no better chance than they have at home. Still we do not forbid the immigration of any variety of workingmen who choose to come at their own expense, and who have a paltry sum of money in their pockets to guarantee them against want while seeking for work.

The only classes we forbid are the "failures" of the Mother Country. These are people who must depend upon charity to get here, and who will not have a cent to support them while they find a footing. To call the dumping of such people a service to Imperialism, is surely absurd. They either become a burden upon our charities, or they—to quote Winston Churchill's telling phrase—"rot the under side of our labor market" in a disastrous manner. Their transference from Britain to Canada simply relieves the British "at home" of the task which it places upon the charities here. The British philanthropists may like this feature of the movement; but they can surely find their personal relief a saving to the Empire.

For every person to whom Canada means opportunity, we have a welcome; but, in judging of this matter, our British friends must remember that Canada has grown from [illegible] large cities, with their incipient unemployed. For those who can work on the land, we have a wide open gate. For domestic servants we have a more than warm welcome. For all people with a paltry $25 between them and want, we have an open door. But we must include practically every dweller in the British Islands who has a ghost of a chance to become a more useful citizen of the Empire by emigrating to Canada.

Rear-Admiral Evans, who has just resigned the command of the United States fleet at San Francisco, seems to be a worthy disciple of President Roosevelt in regarding the "big stick" as the most effective instrument for the preservation of the world's peace. In a speech at a farewell banquet in San Francisco, tendered him by the officers of the fleet, the admiral is reported to have said that "what was needed to preserve the peace of the world was more battleships and fewer statesmen". Although this may be the professional opinion of a bluff sailor, it will scarcely receive the assent of the politicians of his country. It would also be interesting to have the view of Admiral Evans as to how he would arrange matters if other nations took his advice and added to their naval forces so greatly that they became superior in strength at sea to the United States, and were inclined to dispute Mr. Roosevelt's role as the world's peace preserver. We are inclined to think that there will still be a large field and ample employment for the statesmen, notwithstanding Admiral Evans.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often shows up, the Kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to those vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

Her Exalted Position.

"Ye needn't think because ye see me goin' an' comin' be th' back door iv Mr. Malcolm Goldborough's mansion that Of'm wan iv th' common servants iv th' house," said the haughty customer to the uncivil butcher.

"Oh," ejaculated the fat little man, abruptly turning obsequious, "are—are you a family connection of the great Goldborough's, ma'am?"

"Of'm more than a mere connection, sir."

"Pardon me," added the butcher, gazing patronizingly at this personage, "you're one of the family that's been abroad and whom I haven't had the pleasure of meeting before perhaps?"

"Yo'll have t' go higher than thot."

"Not Mr. Malcolm's new wife?" gasped the fat little man. "I didn't have a suspicion that he"—

"Higher, mon. Of'm higher."

"Higher?" uttered the perfectly bewildered butcher.

"Yis. Of'm th' cook!"—Bohemian.

Drug Store For Horses.

"I came across a queer little drug store the other day," said the city salesman. "It makes a specialty of veterinarian prescriptions. According to the proprietor's own account, they don't sell very much in that store except horse medicine. They sell more of that than any other drug store in town. The neighborhood abounds in stables and animals' hospitals, and most of the drugs used in doctoring sick horses are bought at that store. Of course the place is fitted up with the usual drug store paraphernalia. There is a soda water fountain, a cigar stand, postage stamps can be purchased there and drafts and doses for human beings will be compounded upon request, but those familiar and supposedly primary functions of a drug store are in this case a superfluity, because about all that drug gist does is to put up cures for equine ailments."—New York Press.

Her Secret.

Wife—Have you any secrets you keep from me, dearest?

Husband—None, darling.

Wife—Then I am determined I will have none from you either.

Husband—Have you secrets, then?

Wife—Only one, and I am resolved to make a clean breast of it.

Husband (hoarsely)—Go on!

Wife—For several days I have had a secret—a secret longing for a new dress, with hat to match, for my birthday.

That fetched him.—London Mail.

Jack Ketch.

Jack Ketch has long been a synonym for the public executioner and is derived from Richard Jaquett, who formerly owned the Manor of Tyburn, now the ground upon which stands the Marble arch and where the Bayswater and Edgware roads meet.

Here some few yards westward of the arch stood Tyburn tree, and to it and to the tender mercies of its owner and presiding genius, Jaquett, came the highwayman or the horse thief or the housebreaker in a tumbrel from Newgate.—London Mail.

A Canine Suicide.

"What has become of that fine greyhound your wife gave you?"

"Suicide."

"Honest?"

"Yes. He tried to nab a flea on the small of his back and, miscalculating, bit himself in two."—Exchange.

HEAD OFFICE—MANNING CHAMBERS—TORONTO—ONTARIO

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares;—

Casey Mountain shares are full-ly paid-up and non-assessable.

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which has regular net-work of silver bearing veins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain has the goods in unlimited quantities sufficient to last for generations.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 todate varying in width from 16 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock speculation), and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatestore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent. to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Dividends Paid by Cobalt Mining Companies

Buffalo Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907... .....$ 81,000.00	The Conisgas Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907 ... 200,000.00
Foster Cobalt Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 45,000.00	The Cobalt Silver Queen, Cobalt, paid during 1907 ... . 120,000.00
McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd., have paid... 45,000.00	Temiscamings & Hudson Bay Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 746,120.00

(These shares could have been had at 60 cents, and have sold as high as $190.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $60,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends. The Tredwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $20.00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would means a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

Provincial Elections 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro:

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—As you are aware, I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good, economical and efficient administration of affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province, generally.

The test of good representation either by a Government or member is good work, and, in this respect both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr. Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure, for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evident interests of the city in every direction, and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our working men and our manufacturing industries; and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying interests of the Province.

I firmly feel that they have done so, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies, inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent., while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per was shown by the Government reviving the contract system of prison labor, abolishing by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labor at 3 cents per hour to compete against free labor.

The introduction of the "spoils system," the failure to remove license administration from the sphere of political influence, the three-fifths handicap to Local Option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and discouragement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, the neglect of law reform, with a view of making our law courts cost.

Disregard of the rights of labor available for securing justice, within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters to which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests, which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen,

G. A. GILLESPIE

LINES TO LOUISA.

[The same being our forty-seventh maid who has gone to smash elsewhere.]

A week ago we had a maid
Whose memory will never fade.
You should have seen Louisa!
She piled the plates on which we dined
So very high they called to mind
The leaning tower of Pisa.

At other times they did not lean
When carried by our kitchen queen
(Whose other name was Dennis).
But rose as straight as spire or tree,
And then her model seemed to be
The campanile, Venice.

The leaning tower was first to go,
And when it hit the floor below
The havoc was appalling!
At once another crash occurred,
And then, alas, we knew we heard
The campanile falling!

I see its shattered remnants yet.
'Twas half our wedding dinner set—
The other half was Pisa.
My chatelaine her protest filed.
"Pray leave," she cried, "ere I go wild.
For Pelion on Ossa piled
Would be your next, Louisa!"
—Earle Hooker Eaton in Harper's Weekly.

Evidently.

She—This wine doesn't seem to go to your head as quickly as it does to mine.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn body growths back to fresh supple. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—while a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it unfailingly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those mad-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no need—no actual excuse to suffer longer with foul help. WORD ODDITIES.

Some Interesting Curiosities of the English Language.

Honorificabilitudinitatibus is a rather long word. You cannot find it in the dictionary, but you will find it used in Shakespeare and some of the other early English writers.

The word is meaningless. The only interesting point about it is its length. Twenty-seven letters in a breath are quite a few. But our dictionary gives some almost as long—for instance, the following two of twenty-four letters each:

Transubstantiationalists.
Inanthropomorphibability.

Here are some of the other boa constrictors:

Twenty-three letters:
Disproportionableness.

Twenty-two:
Intercommunicabilities.

Twenty-one:
Interconvertibilities.

Twenty:
Histomorphologically.
Interdifferentiation.
Supersensitiveness.
Hypersensitiveness.

It is safe to say that the ordinary reader would not run on to one of these in a hundred years, and if he did he would run the other way.

It is interesting to know that the entire alphabet can be arranged in one intelligible sentence without the repetition of a single letter—just twenty-six letters in the following sentence, and no two alike:

J. Q. Vands struck my big fax whelp.

That simple sentence is the hardest possible one to write on the typewriter. So many of the letters in the alphabet are used so seldom that even a good typist has to study out the combination before finding some of them. This sentence is the only known one that contains every letter in the alphabet but once and makes sense.

Calling the Kettle White.

Judge—Are you the co-respondent in these divorce proceedings?

Witness—No, your honor. You see—or—I'm ther—er—the defendant's affinity.

Courtship Was Nasty.

A young laborer appeared before the Kilmallock (County Limerick) guardians at their last meeting, and expressed a desire to marry one of the women in the workhouse. He explained that he had not a house, and that he did not want one until he had made sure of getting a wife. Further, he informed the chairman that he did not care whether he married a spinster or a widow with two or three children.

The workhouse master, a guardian, and the suitor then left for the workhouse to select the wife. A number of women were assembled in the hall, and after a few moments the young man made his choice. The guardian hurried back to his colleagues and announced, "It's settled; the girl has consented."

The clerk asked the suitor to postpone the happy event for a week, but he appeared to be in a hurry. "It is not possible that I could," he replied, "I'll come down to-morrow." He came and the ceremony was duly performed.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any reserve may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

They have four vertical seams of coal traversing their property, aggregating over 40 feet in thickness. Three of these seams are developed to a depth of 350 feet, and as they pass through the Company's lands for nearly a mile, some idea of the amount of coal may be had.

Says This Medicine Has Mystic Powers

Will Assist Anyone in Weak, Pale Nervous, Condition to Robust, Hearty Health.

It's in the spring that health gives out—that folks begin to feel draggy, weary, restless,—hate to eat, look pale, feel discouraged.

If you've reached this state, read what J. W. Jewell, well known in Morristown has to say about the medicine that cured him. "Last winter I caught a heavy cold that settled in my back. My kidneys and liver were effected and my health failed. By spring I was in bad shape—couldn't sleep like I used to—felt tired in the morning—ate very little—was terribly depressed, pale and anxious looking. Twinges of rheumatism, frequent neuralgia attacks over the temples made matters worse. The doctor prescribed three times, but didn't help. Then I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills,—they possess mystic power surely, for I gained and improved day by day and now am in perfect health again. I will praise and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I die."

The ingredients in Dr. Hamilton's Pills are pure and wholesome,—come right from the storehouse of Nature in the form of vegetable juices and extracts,—consequently this gentle, invigorating laxative tonic and blood purifier is safe for old and young alike. We assure you of enormous benefit from Dr. Hamilton's Pills which revitalize delicate glands, search out the seat of hidden disease, flood the body with vigor and health that has caused thousands of broken-down, despairing men and women to join in a mighty song of praise for the beneficient, aid that comes from this king of all tonics. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills—today—25c. at all dealers.

SINCE CHIEF BLACK CLOUD has come to town, many people have tried his Blood Purifier, and results have delighted them in case derangement of the stomach liver kidney and blood. Will be here all summer and manufacture his medicines, made from roots, herbes and barks. Take the car and call on him at

Interesting Meeting at Gospel Hall

"Why do we keep the first day of the week?" or an answer to Seventh Day Adventists, will be the subject taken up at tonight's meeting of the Gospel Hall Bible study class. Mr. John Murdock will open with a number of reasons from Scripture, after which the meeting will be given up to questions and general discussion. This is a question of vital importance, and should be thoroughly understood by Christians. In a day like the present, when so much pernicious literature regarding the Sabbath Day is flooding our city, it is well that some solid ground of doctrine be maintained. All are cordially invited, and any questions will be gladly considered in a Christian spirit. Meeting begins at eight o'clock.—Com.

Erroneous Marking of Cheese Weights

Local cheesemakers have received a copy of a letter from the secretary of the Board of Trade at Montreal, dealing with erroneous marking of weights and also the green cheese trouble, strongly urging that hereafter weights shall be clearly stenciled on each box, as it is not wise to rely upon marking weights in lead pencil as is frequently done. The letter goes on to say;

"In connection with the shipment of green cheese, this association begs to recommend that hereafter every country cheese board should insist that each factory when boarding its product should state the date of the make of the cheese offered for sale.

"In our mutual interest the above complaints and recommendations are earnestly recommended to your attention."

Jas. Farmer Had His Foot Crushed to a Pulp

Yesterday morning shortly after nine o'clock, James Farmer while working on a planer in the Peterborough Lumber Co.'s mills at Burnham's Point, met with a terrible accident. Mr. Farmer was working at the planer and was forcing a board in the machine, and to apply more strength, put his foot underneath the machine for a trace, but in doing so he placed his foot on the revolving cylinder, and the cogs catching the toe of his boot and gradually drew it right in to the head, terribly lacerating the flesh of his leg and crushing the foot in a pulp.

The unfortunate man was taken to Nicholls Hospital.

Leona Rebecca Lodge, I.O.O.F. Toronto, Pay Fraternal Visit

A special meeting was held last night in the Oddfellow's Hall of Golden Link Rebecca Lodge, I.O.O.F., for the purpose of entertaining the degree staff of Leona Rebecca Lodge, Toronto, who are in the city paying a fraternal visit to this lodge, for the purpose of exemplifying the work of the Rebecca degree.

About 75 of the visiting Oddfellows were present, headed by Mrs. Smith, N.G., and Mrs. Booth, V.G., and the members of Golden Link did all in their power to give their Toronto friends a good time.

The Toronto degree team went through the work of initiation, which was one of the prettiest nights ever seen in the local lodge rooms.

After the general business was dispensed with, about 120 Oddfellows sat down to supper, the menu provided being an excellent one. When full justice had been done to the appetizing viands, a first-class musical program was rendered by a number of Golden Link artists which was greatly appreciated by all present. The officers of the visiting degree staff are as follows:

J.P.G.—Mrs. Thompson.
N.G.—Mrs. Smith.
V.G.—Mrs. Booth.
Chaplain—Miss James
Conductor—Miss Curry.
Warder—Miss McIntosh.
Captain—Mr. W. Reinboldt.

Council Still at a Deadlock Concerning the Appointment of a Fire Chief

The city fathers met in adjourned session from Thursday night, when there were present, Mayor Henry Rush, Aldermen McIntyre, Elliott, Morgan, Neill, Turner, Buller, Johnston, Bradburn, Tovey and Phelan.

The purpose of the meeting was to decide upon the appointment of a chief of the fire brigade, which question could not be settled satisfactorily Thursday night.

No application from local men for the position were to hand.

Ald. Neill moved, seconded by Ald. Turner,—That the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, that Mr. Finch of Brantford, be appointed at a salary of $1,000 a year, be adopted.

Ald. Bradburn moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Elliott,—That Joseph Metheral receive the appointment.

Mr. Adam Hall offered that after seeing the report of Thursday night's meeting in The Times, he had canvassed the merchants on George St., who all expressed their opinion that a local man should be appointed chief, should such a one with the necessary qualifications be open for the appointment.

Ald. McIntyre moved in amendment to the amendment, seconded by Ald Morgan,—That the city advertise again for applications for a fire chief.

The two amendments were lost, and the committee's report, recommending the appointment of Mr Finch was tied, with the following gentlemen voting in its favor; Mayor Rush, Aldermen Buller, Neill, Turner, Tovey and Phelan.

This left the question at a deadlock, and Ald. Turner moved, seconded by Ald. Buller, that Mr Fakenham receive this appointment.

At this juncture Mr. Joseph Metheral put in an appearance, and expressed his willingness to accept the appointment if offered him. He did not like to apply as he thought Mr. T. Rutherford should have the choice of the appointment.

Ald. Phelan here reiterated his contention that the city cannot afford to pay $1,000 for a chief and $800 for an electrician and assistant. No matter whether Mr. Metheral or Mr. Fakenham is appointed it would still mean that each man would lack some qualifications of the other, and thus entail upon the city an additional expenditure of $800 a year. The report of the committee recommended the appointment of a man who is a qualified electrician and fireman, and his appointment would mean a saving of $800 a year to the city.

At this stage of the proceedings, seeing that the council could not agree, Ald. Neill moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Phelan, that the measure be left over till Monday night, in order to give the aldermen a breathing spell.—Carried.

The council here adjourned

In the Realm of Sport

Ho! for Riverside Park this afternoon. At 3 o'clock the game will be called, and it should be a "hummer" for since the game last Saturday the Athletics have greatly strengthened their line up, and now look to be as fast as the Petes, and are certainly out for revenge.

On the other hand Manager Johnston still wears that broad smile of confidence, which has been spread across his face ever since the Petes took the fast Aberts of Toronto, across the river and gave them such a drubbing, and he predicts a victory for the blue and white, but don't think it will be as easily got as the one of a week ago.

The teams will line up as follows;

The Imperial Bank

Annual Meeting of Shareholders—A Splendid Report

We heartily congratulate Mr. D R Wilkie, the general manager, as well as the directors of the Imperial Bank of Canada, on the splendid report presented at the thirty-third annual meeting, held at the head office of that institution, Toronto, on Wednesday last. The business, after providing for all bad and doubtful debts, interest on unmatured bills under discount, the usual contribution to the pension and guarantee funds, the payment of all taxes, and also for a special contribution to the pension fund of $25,000, shows a profit of $721,175.07

These profits have been applied in dividends to the amount of $535,524.21, an increase of the profit and loss account by $49,583.31, in the application of a special fund of $100,000 in writing down the bank's investments and creating bank premises and furniture with the remainder. The premium of $191,809.06 received on an equal amount of new capital stock has been carried to the rest account, which now stands at $4,965,757.50, equal to the paid-up capital stock.

Twelve new branches have been opened during the year in the Province of Ontario, two of these being in Toronto.

There are nearly three million dollars' worth of the bank's notes in circulation. The deposits bearing interest amount to a little more than $24,000,000 and deposits not bearing interests to almost six millions. The bank holds gold and silver coin to the value of more than a million dollars, and the Government notes almost equal to six millions. Among the assets the largest item is that of $1,600,000 odd in Canadian municipal securities, British and foreign and colonial public securities other than Canadian.

The directors elected for the ensuing year are Messrs. D. R. Wilkie, Hon. Robt. Jaffray, Wm. Ramsay, of Howland, Stow, Scotland; Elias Rogers, J. Kerr Osborne, Chas. Cockshutt, Peleg Howland, Wm. White of Winnipeg; Cawthra Mulock, Hon. Richard Turner of Quebec, and Wm. Hamilton, Merritt, M.D., of St. Catharines. Mr. Wilkie was elected President and Hon. Robert Jaffray, vice-president.

Grand Orange Lodge will Meet Here

The next annual meeting of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America, will be held in Peterborough. This was decided upon at this year's meeting now in session at Midland. There was a lengthy debate as to whether Peterborough, Smith's Falls, Brantford or Winnipeg, and finally this city was selected. The date will be set by the executive. There will be delegates present from all parts of Canada, and the convention will be a big thing for Peterborough.

Death of Benjamin Moore

After an illness of only a few days with pneumonia, the death occurred on Thursday of Benjamin Moore, at his late residence Murray street. He was 82 years of age and was born in Carleton. He was an Anglican in religion. The funeral will take place tomorrow at 2.30 o'clock from the residence of his son, 63 Aylmer street to the Little Lake cemetery.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often shows up, the kidneys are inactive, and even the heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

Family Took Refuge Under Bridge and the Parents were Drowned

Mr. and Mrs. Wisdom, Who Live Near Orangeville, Drowned in a Peculiar Accident Thursday

Orangeville, Ont., May 29.—William Wisdom, a farmer of Mono township, and his wife were drowned yesterday afternoon on the Hockley road, eight miles from here, about four o'clock.

Mrs. Wisdom with her children left home with a lunch for the men working on the rear of the farm. Returning with her husband the party was overtaken by a storm, and took refuge under the old bridge over the dried up creek, which was without warning swept away by the rushing waters of the Nottawa River or a cloud-burst, which, it is not clear yet.

All five were drawn into the vortex. The father and mother were drowned, the eldest boy saved himself and the two other children.

The woman's body was recovered and over a hundred men are searching the river bed and debris for the body of Wisdom.

WAS A CLOUDBURST.

Later—Young Wisdom, seen this morning at Mono Mills, states his parents were drowned by a cloudburst over sixteen feet of water instantly carrying away the bridge and everything before it. The boy was under the bridge. The others left to see if the storm was over when the cloud burst.

The accident happened on the seventh line of Mono. A family of seven or eight children are left orphans. A team of horses narrowly escaped destruction.

Cure for Eczema Discovered

Dr. J. E. Currier Tells How It Can be Used by the Patients Themselves

(From Detroit News)

"Eczema, tetter, ringworm and other skin diseases are spreading," says Dr. J. E. Currier in the Doctor's Guide, writing about a new and wonderfully successfully cure for skin affections.

"I apply plain pure citrox, dissolved in hot water, twice a day. You who know how stubborn tetter, ringworm and eczema can be, will be amazed to see how soon this stops the itching, dries up the eruption and causes a growth of new healthy skin. I now tell my patients to get a package of pure citrox at the drug store and dissolve a teaspoonful in two tablespoonfuls of hot water, as this solution must be made fresh each time and used warm.

"I am having better success than ever before. A case of tetter on the hand that had run six months, citrox cured in a week; and a young woman whose back was a mass of pustules was cured in two weeks. I could cite many others. Be careful to get the pure drug put up in small sealed packages, as the common kind sold in bulk is not fit for medicinal use."

It will interest women to learn that this well-known drug's value for skin diseases was discovered accidentally by the doctor's wife.

Tearse Will Not Hang He May be Deported

Toronto, May 29.—What is to be the future of John Tearse, the immigrant who slew his employer in Peel County?

The question promises to cause complications between the Dominion and Provincial governments.

The death sentence pronounced on him at the time of his trial was commuted to life imprisonment on the ground of insanity by the Dominion Department of Justice yesterday. This will probably mean his removal from Kingston Penitentiary to the Hamilton Asylum.

Tearse, however, is a recent arrival in this country, and under the immigration act the deportation of any immigrant who becomes a charge on the Province within two years of his arrival is directed.

Mr. S. A. Armstrong, head of the Provincial Department was interviewed by a press representative this morning, and stated that Ontario was taking active steps to secure the deportation of undesirables foisted upon her, and would protest against being called upon to take the Peel murderer as a permanent charge, demanding his deportation. Tearse was brought to the country by the Dominion authorities.

"The proper course for the Federal authorities would be to arrange for the man's admission to an English asylum," said Mr. Armstrong.

Seventeen Runners Named for the Marathon Final

Toronto, May 29.—Ontario's representatives in the Canadian Olympic trial finals were selected by the C.A.A.U. Board of Governors last night.

Lou Sebert, West Ends, Toronto, 400 metres.

W. W. Worthington, West Ends, Toronto, broad jump and running hop, step, and jump.

Irving Parks, West Ends, Toronto, 800 metres.

Jack Tait, West Ends, Toronto, 1,500 metres.

Cal. Bricker, West Ends, Toronto hurdles and jumps.

George Barber, Centrals, Toronto, jumps.

M. J. Creed of the I.C.A.C. will also go for the jumps if his hip recovers.

Those who will compete here at Rosedale on June 6 follow:

MARATHON

Harry Lawson, West Ends, Toronto.
Alf. Sellers, West Ends, Toronto.
Bert Goldsboro, Centrals, Toronto.
Jack Near, Centrals, Toronto.
Percy C. Sellen, I.C.A.C., Toronto.
Geo. Adams, I.C.A.C., Toronto.
Claude Pierce, I.C.A.C., Toronto.
Jack Caffery, St. Patrick's, Hamilton.
Tom Coley, St. Patrick's Hamilton.
W. H. Wood, Brantford.
Fred Simpson, Peterborough
Eddie Cotter, Burlington.

Pearce and Coley are the only official starters, the committee feeling that the record of both men entitled them to a chance.

When he was asked why Ernie Wood of the Irish-Canadians, who finished twelfth and strong in the 15-mile trial, and Will Thomas and T. J. McAughey, the Hamilton-Toronto pluggers, were not given a chance, President Stark said that while their names had not been passed the chances were that if they appeared at the mark no serious objection to their starting would be made.

"There is room for them all, and if they can win so much the better," said the president.

Engineer Pense Inspecting Local Wharf

As a result of the city's deputation which waited on the Government recently, Government Engineer Pense, of Mr. Sing's department, was in the city yesterday for the purpose of inspecting the location at the end of Mark street, where the Government will repair the wharf and place it in a good condition.

POLICE

Jos. Pullman was in the dock yesterday morning in the police court charged with discharging a firearm within the city limits. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the defendant and pleaded not guilty. The information was laid in connection with the accident to Mr. Edward James at Auburn last Saturday. However, it was not proven that Mr. Pullman was the man who fired the shot although he admitted firing a gun outside the city. The case was dismissed.

Sir Thos. Shaugnessy on All Red Line

London, May 29.—In the House of Lords an effective preference debate was concluded yesterday and Lord St. Aldwyn admitted that there was a change coming over the feeling of the country.

Lord Lansdowne said the government's attitude on the imperial conference was a big blunder. The government could have left no legacy more detrimental to the interests of the empire. He emphasized the isolating effect and the probable imitation by others of the colonies of Canada's commercial negotiations. Lord Crewe said it was impossible to divorce preference from protection, which would lead to changes so far-reaching as hardly to be calculated.

Lord Marlborough withdrew his motion.

Replying to Lord Lansdowne, Lord Crewe said there was nothing new in the negotiation of the Franco-Canadian treaty.

MISCHIEVOUS INFANTS.

The Standard, commenting on the preference debate, says the government acted like mischievous infants playing at noughts and crosses on the sands while the tide is rising, while The Times accuses the government of talking on theory and not business. It remarks, however, that even Lord Crewe's speech showed a consciousness that old arguments cannot much longer serve.

The cabinet committee on the all-red route conferred with Lord Strathcona, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, and Messrs. Troubridge and Ambrose, M. P. It was pointed out that the journey from London to Blackwood and thence to Halifax would take only four days.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in restored comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine, nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

May Build an Addition to Y.M.C.A. for New Alleys

The Board of Directors of the Y.M.C.A. met last night and decided to install a special heater for heating the water for the baths and plunge. They also asked the property committee to investigate the best place to put the bowling alleys whether to put them in the basement of the present building or wether it would be advisable to excavate and build a small addition suitable for the purpose, to the south side of the association building. If this latter suggestion is decided upon, it will mean the cutting off of a large portion of the land to the south which is known as the tennis court.

Japs and Coreans in a Bloody Conflict

Seoul, Korea, May 29.—According to military reports, a total of 63 engagements were fought during the months of May in the campaign of the Japanese forces against Korean insurgents and rioters. Five hundred and forty-nine insurgents were killed and many wounded, and a large number captured. The Japanese lost 30 killed. The insurgents invariably outnumbered the Japanese forces five to one. Many of the Korean insurgents who have given the Japanese Administration much trouble are surrendering.

Y.M.C.A. Notes

The regular weekly tea of the Strangers' Fellowship Club of the Y.M.C.A., will be held on Sunday afternoon at 5:30. Any strangers in the city are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. J. C. Shook and Mr. Richard Lees will leave the city today to attend the Presbyterian General Assembly, which meets at Winnipeg the second week in June.

On Sunday afternoon Rev. Mr. Lowes of Toronto, will speak to men in the Y.M.C.A. at 4.15 p.m. Mr. Lowes will take for his subject, "Superb Manhood," and his address should be very interesting.

Mr. Lowes will also speak on Sunday morning at the Crystal to boys under 17, on "Some hard things for a boy to do."

"Tours to Summer Haunts"

That "Tours to Summer Haunts" issued by the Intercolonial Railway is a favourite with the travelling public, each year becoming better acquainted with the territory it describes, was demonstrated by the enormous demand for the last edition of the valuable little booklet.

This spring it comes to us dressed in chaste blue covers and containing over 100 pages. Taking Montreal the metropolis as an initial point the country so replete with historic lore and scenic attractions adjacent to over 1,000 miles of railway is described in readable style. Neat half tone reproductions of scenes along the line illustrate the text and in addition over 100 well thought out tours, with special rates, are presented.

Fifty copies will be furnished on application to the City Ticket Agents at Toronto, Montreal etc., or to the General Passenger Department, Moncton, N. B.

A CURE FOR SHYNESS.

Two Kinds of This Disease, Physical and Mental.

There is probably no defect which causes so much anguish of spirit and discomfort as shyness and blushing. Nobody who has not personally suffered from it can conceive what it may cause.

Shyness may proceed from one of two causes—the one physical, the other mental. It is often an affair of health. The nerves are out of order, and the will becomes weak. People shrink from their fellow creatures and are filled with an unreasoning horror of meeting or speaking to them. The best cure for this kind of shyness is fresh air, exercise and cheerful society.

But there is another shyness and one harder to cure which comes from mental causes. The person so afflicted may be in robust health and yet so tormented by this inward enemy that she finds all intercourse with other people positively alarming. To meet strangers causes her a severe struggle. She would gladly turn down the first street corner to avoid bowing to even an acquaintance.

In either case the root of the matter is self consciousness, and it is only by losing that self consciousness that self possession can be gained. As long as one thinks about oneself at all one will be liable to shyness. The only cure is to thrust all thought of oneself into the background as much as possible, when one will gradually become natural, happy and at ease.

One For Each Life.

"I want a good revolver," began the determined looking man.

"Yes, sir," said the salesman. "Six chambers?"

"Why—er—you'd better make it a nine chamber. I want to use it on a cat next door."—London Express.

A Poor Corner.

When a girl puts a man off by saying she will keep a little place in a corner of her heart for him he may be sure that it is a corner for which she doesn't expect to have much use.

A Point of View.

The new steamer City of —— was laid up for repairs, and one of the rickety old timers of the line was sailing in her place. A passenger who was somewhat irritated by the fact remarked to another, an Irishman, by the way, "The City of —— always gets in at 2 in the morning, and this old tub never gets in before 6."

The Irishman thought for a moment and replied: "It's all right. The distance is just the same, and we get a longer sail for our money."

Needed a Cloudburst.

Staying at an inn in Scotland, a shooting party found their sport much interfered with by rain. Both wet or fine, the old fashioned barometer that hung in the hall persistently pointed to "wet fair." At length one of the party drew the landlord's attention to the glass, saying, "Don't you think, now, Dugald, there's something the matter with your glass?" "No, sir," replied Dugald, with dignity, "she's a gude glass and a powerful glass, but she's no' moved wi' trifles."

Such Is Fame.

A learned correspondent writes: "I was examining a witness, an elderly woman, the other day. On my inquiring her name she said it was Mrs. Bardell and that she came from Gravesend. I asked, 'Did you know Charles Dickens?' She replied, 'Do you mean the undertaker?' Such is fame."—London News.

Make use of time while it is present with you. It depends upon your will and not upon the number of days to have a sufficient length of life.—Massinger.

TRAIN AND TRACK.

New York city's subways are now carrying 80,000 more passengers daily than they did one year ago.

The street car companies of Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland and Buffalo have ordered cars of the Montreal "pay-as-you-enter" type.

There are now at work on the new Western Pacific railroad, under construction from Salt Lake City to San Francisco, 7,000 men. About 400 miles of the line will be finished by the end of this year.

A writer in the Frankfurter Zeitung protests indignantly against the idea that the American Pullman cars are more comfortable and elegant than first class cars in Europe, and he adds that the American railway companies are now beginning to get rid of the Pullman cars and build their parlor and sleeping cars after European models.

ODD ACCIDENTS.

In an effort to help a wounded sparrow William Longberry of Philadelphia fell off the roof of a house and was killed.

Mrs. Mary Carman was killed near Osage, N. J., by a freak of the wind which tore up a chicken house, whirled it around and threw it on the woman, crushing her skull.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pool, aged fifty-six and fifty-two respectively, were killed at the same minute, the husband by an explosion in a coal mine and the wife in the railroad yards at Centralia, Ill.

A fighting water bird, known as the stake driver, was captured near Portland, Mich., by Byron Aldrich. When he blew smoke at the captive the bird plunged its bill deep into the man's eye, the sight of which will probably be destroyed.

The Last Cigar in the Box.

"The last cigar in the box is the hardest to sell," was the remark of a Front street dealer. "Not because it is not as good as any other cigar, but because of the superstition of the average man against taking the last of anything. As a result we often take one cigar, or even two cigars, of the last cigars in a box and put them on top of the cigars in a full or almost full box. On the other hand, I ought to mention that there are men who prefer the last cigars and who ask us to save the last cigars in the boxes for them every day, sometimes to the number of six or seven daily, for which they call every evening. We have thus no trouble in disposing of these last cigars, but the contrast in the conduct of the two styles of customers is curious."—Philadelphia Record.

Identification a Good Game For Fiction Readers.

A good game for a company of fiction readers is called identification. It is easily arranged and never fails to "take" with intelligent people.

When the amusement is about to begin the hostess distributes among her guests large cards or strips of cardboard on which are the names of fifty characters, male and female, extracted from standard or popular novels, who must be identified.

This is done by writing opposite the name of the character the title of the novel in which it figures. Each player may have a separate list, or one list may be given to each pair of partners who work together to complete it.

In preparing a set of characters avoid selecting those which fill title roles or who are too familiar to the reader.

A good beginning for such a list would be:

Babbie ("The Little Minister").
Dinah Morris ("Adam Bede").
Nydia ("The Last Days of Pompeii").
Kate Hardcastle ("She Stoops to Conquer").
Adam Moss ("A Kentucky Cardinal").
Little Eve ("Uncle Tom's Cabin").
Blanche Amory ("Pendennis").
Rosamund Lydgate ("Middlemarch").
Sir Lucius O'Trigger ("The Rivals").
Josephine March ("Little Women").
Sancho Panza ("Don Quixote").
Edward Fairfax Rochester ("Jane Eyre").
Miss Euphemia Dundas ("Thaddeus of Warsaw").
Noddy Boffin ("Our Mutual Friend").
Mrs. Malaprop ("The Rivals").
Lady Teazle ("The School For Scandal").
Quilp ("Old Curiosity Shop").
Eugene Marchbanks ("Candida").
Lacy Dashwood ("Charles O'Malley").
Phineas Fletcher ("John Halifax").

A popular or standard novel would make a good choice in prizes, to be awarded for the longest list of correct answers.

My Symphony.

To live content with small means; to seek elegance rather than luxury and refinement rather than fashion; to be worthy, not respectable, and wealthy, not rich; to study hard, think quietly, talk gently, act frankly; to listen to stars and birds, babes and sages with open heart; to bear all cheerfully, do all bravely, await occasions, hurry never. In a word, to let the spiritual, unbidden and unconscious grow up through the common. This is to be my symphony.—William Henry Channing.

According to History.

A New York man, who spends a portion of the summer each year in England, tells of an amusing incident in connection with his first visit to Richmond castle. On that occasion he was accompanied by a guide who relied for his information mainly on a guide-book, which from time to time he would furtively consult if he thought the visitor was not looking his way.

"What is the height of this fine old keep?" asked the New Yorker.

"According to hist'ry," replied the guide, "it's ninety-two feet."

Similar replies were made to other questions of a like nature, each being vouchsafed with the assurance that it was "according to hist'ry."

Finally there was reached a part of the battlements where the hill on which the castle stands descends abruptly to the river.

"Pretty steep descent!" exclaimed the American.

"Yes, sir," came from the guide in his monotonous tone. "According to hist'ry, it's almost perpendicular!"

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares:—

Casey Mountain shares are fully paid-up and non-assessable.

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which has a regular net-work of silver bearing veins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain has the goods in unlimited quantities sufficient to last for generations.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 to date varying in width from 16 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock speculation), and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 700 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent. to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Dividends Paid by Cobalt Mining Companies

Buffalo Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907..... $ 81,000.00
Foster Cobalt Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 45,000.00
McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd., have paid... 45,000.00

The Coniagas Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907 ... 200,000.00
The Cobalt Silver Queen, Cobalt, paid during 1907 ..... 120,000.00
Temiscamingue & Hudson Bay Mining Co. Ltd., have paid 746,130.00

(These shares could have been had at 60 cents, and have sold as high as $190.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $69,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends. The Tradwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $20.00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would means a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically a close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar each. Write or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Additional information can be had from the Secretary-Treasurer Dr. H. A. Wood, 403 1-2 George street, Peterborough.

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past session. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining lands of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

Provincial Elections 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro:

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—As you are aware, I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good, economical and efficient administration of affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province, generally.

The test of good representation either by a Government or member is good work, and, in this respect both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr. Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure, for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evident interests of the city in every direction, and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our working men and our manufacturing industries; and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying interests of the Province.

I feel that they have done so, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies, inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent., while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per cent. This was shown by the Government reviving the contract system of prison labor, abolishing by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labor at 5 cents per hour to compete against free labor.

The introduction of the "spoils system," the failure to remove license administration from the sphere of political influence, the three-fifths handicap to Local Option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and discouragement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, the neglect of law reform, with a view of making our law courts cheap.

Disregard of the rights of labor available for securing justice, within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters in which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests, which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen,

G. A. GILLESPIE

Toronto, 30th April, 1908.

On moving the adoption of the report, the President remarked to the Shareholders: "It is with great pleasure that your Board of Directors present you with their Second Annual Report, feeling assured that you will receive same with gratification. The past year, while being one of considerable anxiety in financial circles, has also been one in which we were able to make considerable profits, owing to the high rates obtainable for money. Your Directors especially call your attention to the new premises, secured on what are considered favorable terms, for the Head Office and Toronto Branch, in which we took for a marked increase in the business we have already procured. The affairs of the Bank continue to receive the untiring supervision of the members of the Board of Directors, who earnestly solicit the hearty co-operation of the Shareholders in furthering in every way the business of the Bank.

The usual resolutions were moved and adopted.

The Scrutineers reported the following gentlemen duly elected to act as Directors for the ensuing year: H. Wilberforce Aikins, B.A., M.D., M.R.C.S. (Eng.); Wm. Dineen, R. Y. Eaton, W. K. George, Sidney Jones, Noel Marshall, G. T. Somers, C. W. Spencer, John H. Tilden. The meeting then adjourned.

At a subsequent meeting of the newly-elected Directors, Mr. G. T. Somers was re-elected President and Mr. W. K. George Vice-President by an unanimous vote.

FOUND THE FRASER RIVER.

Abandoned at First and Believed to Be Non-Existent.

Judge Howay recently delivered an interesting lecture in Vancouver on "The Attempt to Find the Fraser River by Land and Water." Judge Howay, as reported in The News-Advertiser, of Vancouver, said that the real discoverer of British Columbia was Captain James Cook, who on his third voyage landed at Nootka on March 29, 1778. Captain Cook discovered and named Cape Flattery by reason of its appearance having flattered him with the hopes of finding a harbor.

One of the best-known of all the traders and discoverers on the coast during the latter part of the eighteenth century was John Meares. His vessel, the Felice, entered the Strait of Juan de Fuca in June, 1788, and sailing southward he was on July 6, 1788, in the latitude of the Columbia river, which at that time was known as Martin d'Aguilar's river or the River San Roc. He did not discover the river, however, and came to the decision that "no such river as that of San Roc exists as laid down in the Spanish charts."

On May 11, 1792, Captain Gray sailed up this non-existent river in the American ship Columbia, and Meares claims for Gray the honor of being the first person to circumnavigate Vancouver Island, but the modest captain disclaims the honor by stating that he did not sail round the island.

A trouble which had arisen between England and Spain owing to the seizure of Lieutenant Meares' vessels and trading post by the latter, was settled in 1790 by the Treaty of the Escurial, and the terms stipulated that an officer should be sent to Nootka to receive from Spain, in solemn form, restitution of the territory. Captain George Vancouver was selected for this duty, and was given command of two vessels.

Reaching these territories, he immediately compared notes and discussed the geography of the regions already known with the Spanish commander.

Many weary months of toil and research followed in the hunt for the Fraser river, and although surrounded by evidences of its existence, and while lying in its very waters, Vancouver and the Spanish commanders solemnly agreed that the River of Florida Blanca did not exist, and unceremoniously rubbed it off the chart. The hour of exploration had not come, nor the man.

It was reserved for one of the hardy bourgeois of the Northwest Co. sixteen years later almost to a day, after many trials and much hardship, to seek out and trace the course of the river, from its source in the Shining Mountains to its mouth behind those giant sand-bars and to give his own name—Fraser—to that river."

Oldest Goose in Canada.

Unruffled by the smallpox scare in the village, the Weston goose serenely pursues her peaceful way, oblivious to all disturbances. Born in 1865, this goose claims to be the oldest in Canada. Since she first swam in the Humber a lot of water has gone under the bridge. Deadlock is no mere, and in its stead "our fair Dominion now extends from Cape Race to Nootka Sound," the Liberal party is protectionist, and some of its Senators are as capable members of the Upper House as our veteran biped would be.

During the Fenian troubles of 1866, the late William Chew purchased from Thomas Quinn a young bird, hatched the year before. Born in civil war times, and contemporary with every campaign down to the last and bloodiest of them all, when men were slaughtered in tens of thousands in Manchuria, no doubt the Weston goose can testify that war is all William Tecumseh Sherman said it was.

Her performance of the matron-like duty of laying eggs and hatching them was steadfast till ten years ago. Since her thirty-third year her interest in the feathered household has been expressed in the grandmotherly attention which she pays to the welfare of all the flocks, regardless of whether they are geese, ducks or chickens.

Till sixteen years ago she had a mate. But one day when they were flying their roost from the high bank to the river below, he paid so little attention to his own flight that his collision with the limb of a tree had fatal results.

Since her gander's death, those who know her claim that she has withdrawn herself to a marked degree. It is only to one member of the family that she will respond. But her stately strut still proclaims her the dowager-duchess in her little court, and the weight of her forty-three years does not prevent her from enjoying her dignity as the oldest inhabitant. In the pasture with her on the farm of the Misses Chew roams "Trottie," a shaggy-maned little horse, who is now 37 years old. Two other equine friends on the farm are 30 and 28 years old respectively.

Sixty Years In Ice.

A despatch from Dawson says that Aubrey Forrest, who recently arrived there from Fort McPherson on snowshoes, reports that Capt. Jarvis of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, has brought advices there from Herschel Island that Explorer McClure's famous ship Investigator, once a British man-of-war, which was caught in the ice sixty years ago and had been fast there ever since, last summer was so free that vessels could approach close to the ship.

The mildest winter ever known in that part of the Arctic may mean that the ice on the Arctic coast will not be so heavy this season, but that steam whalers may hope to be able to reach the Investigator this summer.

McClure had to abandon the ship because the men became afflicted with scurvy. They left their supplies on board. No one has visited the ship since. This may be the vessel that natives sighted on the Arctic coast a few years ago.

Visitor (rushing back)—I left my stick.

Little Girl—It's gone. I heard sister say, "Thank heaven that stick's gone."

Easy Existence.

It is easy in this world to live after the world's opinion. It is easy in solitude to live after our own, but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowds keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude.—Emerson.

Ready For Business.

A tragedian playing Richard III. in a small town was waited on after the show by an honest farmer, who said that "if the gentleman who wanted a horse was still of the same mind he would like to do business with him."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE CHINESE FARMER.

He Is Slovenly, Twisted and Bent and Queerly Clad.

The Chinese farmer gives the impression of a man whose life has been spent in downright hard work. There is not a single ounce of spare flesh upon him. His face and hands are of a dark brown color, tanned into them by exposure to the fiery faced sun of the orient and to the open air influence amid which his daily life is spent. His hands, unless he is still young, are gnarled and twisted out of shape by the constant grasping of his hoe, the one implement that to the Chinese farmer takes the place of the spade, only in a more extensive degree. He never stands erect. He bends a little forward, having a slight list to the left. This is due to his having to do all his own carrying work. The manure to fertilize his fields and the water to irrigate them when the rains are insufficient are both borne on the left shoulder of the sturdy farmer, and when the ripened crops are housed and the surplus is to be disposed of in the city miles away it is the same mode of conveyance that has again to be employed. Railroads and carts and wagons and beasts of burden are luxuries that are still beyond the reach of the farmers of this land.

The whole look of the man is that of a worker, and the very pose that his body has taken is but an attempt to ease the strain that severe labor is constantly putting on it. Unfortunately his dress does not add to his personal appearance. It consists of a loose coat, buttoned by a flap on one side and reaching to a little below the hips. The trousers are loose and baggy and extend to the knees. These and his usual clothing are made of cotton cloth, which is dyed with the universal blue that seems to have such a fascination for the working classes. As the weather grows colder others of the same kind and, where the purse will allow of it, wadded garments are added, but the legs and the feet even in the coldest weather remain uncovered excepting on very special occasions when etiquette demands that both shoes and stockings shall be worn.

The Chinese farmer further adds to his far from prepossessing appearance by his utter neglect of all habits of neatness. His head is shaved only at considerable intervals of time, and so the place that among the residents of the towns is clear shaved is covered with a thick bristly undergrowth of black hair that has a most untidy and slovenly look. His pigtail, instead of being plaited and combed smoothly, is allowed to grow at its own sweet will, and, following the instincts of nature that longs for freedom, it sends out straggling tufts here and there and so gives the wearer an unkempt and disorderly aspect.—John McGowan in North China News.

A Fatalist, but Cautious.

A story is related of a minister of the foreordination school of belief on a Mississippi steamer in the good old fashioned days of river racing, when a negro sat on the safety valve and the furniture and woodwork of the boat fed the fire. The captain, seeing a rival boat half a mile ahead, ordered tar, pine knots, naval stores, bacon, etc., to be thrown in to kindle the fire as hot as possible. As the steam got higher and higher and the old boat trembled and groaned under the pressure the preacher drew nearer and nearer to the stern. Noticing this and never losing an opportunity to crack a joke, the bluff captain tapped the fatalist on the shoulder and said:

"Hello, Brother Blank! What's ailing you? I thought you was one of them fellows what believes what is to happen will happen nohow."

"So I do," replied the clergyman, drawing himself up. "So I do, but I want to be as near the stern as possible when it does happen."

What a Good Play Must Have.

"A play should have continuous action all the way through. When I allude to action I don't necessarily mean physical movement and pistol play," says Daniel Frohman in Harper's Weekly. "A successful play must contain continuous struggle and battle—the struggle of love with duty, to name the most frequent example. The characters may be sitting in their chairs, talking pleasantly together, and still fulfill this purpose. And the action must go forward by leaps and bounds from one climax to another. The ideal play will have the fewest characters, but it will hold the attention so that you won't know whether there are six or sixty, and two persons upon the stage will hold the audience entranced, as in the Greek drama. Like the Greek characters, too, they will appear as puppets upon a dark background of necessity, victims of the circumstances which they have helplessly brought into existence."

The Nobility.

The "nobility" goes back to the very beginning of human society, when "wild in woods the noble savage ran." At first the institution rested on brute force. The physically strongest were supreme. It was an aristocracy of muscle and brawn. By and by intellectual cunning was added to the brute strength, and the strongest and smartest became the "top of the heap." With the advantages accruing to it from the possession of the most strength and cunning the "nobility" intrenched itself so securely that it could not be shaken, and well down into the eighteenth century it was practically supreme. By the time of the French and American revolutions, however, the world was beginning to wake up to the fact that the "nobility" was a bear and an imposition, and since these two famous events the ancient institution has been in a bad way.

HOW SHE KEEPS BEAUTIFUL.

The Mystery Solved.

Like the flowers that bloom in the spring the young girl just budding into womanhood is an inspiring sight and she is usually beautiful if she is perfectly healthy. She stays beautiful just so long as her health and constitution remain good. Let her be nervous, have backache, sleepless nights, and how soon does it take for wrinkles, crow's feet and dark circles to appear in the face? Her cheeks were rosy until she began to suffer from woman's weaknesses and the constantly recurring pains and drains brought her quickly from the beautiful age to the premature middle age. It was not meant for women to suffer so—it is due to our unnatural, but civilized methods of living, and to the fact that so many neglect those small ills which soon lead up to larger ones. Nothing so drags a woman down as those constantly recurring periods when she suffers more and more from a chronic condition that can be easily cured. No woman should take an alcoholic compound for that will disturb digestion, and the food is quickly compacted and becomes hard and tough in contact with alcohol, rendering the food indigestible. She must go to Nature for a cure. The native Indians of early times were far from wrong when they called a marvelously effective medicinal plant "Squaw root"—what the physicians of our day called Caulophyllum or Blue Cohosh. This and Black Cohosh, Golden Seal, Lady's Slipper, and Unicorn root, are important ingredients of a wonderfully successful remedy in modern times, namely, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Having made a specialty of the diseases of women in the early sixties Dr. Pierce soon found that a glyceric extract of these roots with Hydrastis or Golden Seal and Lady's Slipper root, combined in just the right proportions, made the very best tonic and cure for the distressing complaints of women. Where women suffered from backache, weakness, nervousness and lack of sleep, it was usually due to functional trouble, therefore this prescription directed at the cause cured 98 per cent. of such cases. That is why Dr. Pierce soon put it up in a form easily to be procured all over the United States.

Aching from head to foot—that is the condition that afflicts some women at stated periods—backache, dizziness, and pains almost unbearable. An honest and a safe remedy which no woman can afford to lose the opportunity of trying for the cure of these distressing complaints which weaken a woman's vitality is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Dr. Pierce not only assures you that his "Favorite Prescription" is honestly made, but he lets you know just what it contains.

The best of medical authorities recommend and extol the virtues of the above ingredients in "Favorite Prescription." Thus F. Ellingwood, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica, Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of Golden Seal: "It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions." Of Lady's Slipper root he says: "Exercises special influence upon nervous conditions depending upon disorders of the female organs; relieves pain, etc." Prof. John King in the AMERICAN DISPENSATORY, says of Black Cohosh root: "This is a very active, powerful and useful remedy." "Plays a very important part in diseases of women; in the painful conditions incident to womanhood. In dysmenorrhea it is surpassed by no other drug, being of greatest utility in irritative and congestive conditions." "Its action is slow, but its effects are permanent." "For headache, whether congestive or from neuralgia or dysmenorrhea it is promptly curative."

Dr. John Fyfe, of Saugatuck, Conn., Editor of the Department of Therapeutics in THE ELECTIC REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica), one of the chief ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription: "A remedy which invariably acts on a uterine (womb) invigorator and always favors a condition which makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system, cannot fail to be of great usefulness and of the utmost importance to the general practitioner of medicine."

"In Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent."

"Tours to Summer Haunts"

That "Tours to Summer Haunts" issued by the Intercolonial Railway is a favourite with the travelling public, each year becoming better acquainted with the territory it describes, was demonstrated by the enormous demand for the last edition of the valuable little booklet.

Taking Montreal the metropolis as an initial point the country so replete with historic lore and scenic attractions adjacent to over 1,000 miles of railway is described in readable style. Neat half tone reproductions of scenes along the line illustrate the text and in addition over 100 well thought out tours, with special rates, are presented.

Medicine in the Spring Needed b Everyone

Winter Weakens the System, Saps the Blood, Leaves Us Tired and Thin

Great epidemics break out in spring, such as fevers, pestilences, and infectious skin diseases.

Winter shuts us in from air and only the most robust get even a little sunshine. As a consequence of this unnatural mode of life, the blood becomes polluted, thin, colorless. Then we grow listless, dull, easily tired, have headaches and find our work a burden.

Reduced to this condition we become an easy prey to disease and fill hospitals and churchyards.

To rapidly form rich blood, to expel the accumulated humors that winter has stored up in the system, to call back the energy, endurance and vim that will make life joyous, just take Ferrozone, a spring cleanser, unequalled in medicine.

Ferrozone purifies by rebuilding nerve tissue and vitalizing the blood. The entire system soon feels the beneficient action of new rich blood; slow organs are stimulated to normal activity, expel poisons and wastes from itfully, harmonious working of the system. Weak folks are restored and health becomes as natural a consequence as growth from moisture and sunlight.

Men and women fortify your nerves with Ferrozone, renew the blood through its marvelous blood-forming power, regain vigorous and enduring strength by its action upon appetite and digestion. Use Ferrozone if you want to be strong.

"I increased my weight seven pounds in one month and regained health that had been lost for two years—did this by using Ferrozone," writes Mrs. C. B. Maybee, of Centertown. "Ferrozone brought me restful sleep and good digestion, enabled me to relish my meals and work hard all day. I consider it the finest tonic, the most nourishing medicine I ever used."

Try Ferrozone yourself, 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers.

THE THERMOMETER.

It Was Invented by a Poor Man Who Had Failed as a Merchant.

There is one little instrument in which the interest of all classes of people in this country never diminishes through all the changing seasons of the year, from the first day of January to the last day of December. It regulates the business pulse of the nation and is the shrine to which men of all occupations turn. And this little instrument is the thermometer, which bears the name of Fahrenheit.

Before the seventeenth century men could only judge of the amount of heat prevailing at any place by their personal sensations and could only speak of the weather in a very indefinite way as hot or very hot, cold or very cold. In that century several attempts were made by scientific experimenters by means of tubes containing oil, spirits of wine and other substances to establish a satisfactory means of measuring heat, but none of them proved successful. Even Sir Isaac Newton, who applied his great mind to this work, and also the noted astronomer, Halley, failed in their attempts to produce a heat measure.

It was reserved to Gabriel Daniel Fahrenheit, an obscure and poor man, a native of Dantzig, to give to the world the instrument which has proved to be so serviceable to mankind. He had failed in business as a merchant and, having a taste for mechanics and chemistry, began a series of experiments for the production of thermometers. At first he made these instruments with alcohol, but soon became convinced that the mercurial mercury was a more suitable medium to use in the glass tube.

Fahrenheit had removed from Dantzig to Amsterdam, and there in the year 1720 he made the mercury thermometer which has ever since been fashioned much like the original.

The basis of his plan was to mark on the tube the two points respectively at which water is congealed and boiled and to graduate the space between. He began with an arbitrary marking, beginning with 32 degrees, because he found that the mercury descended 32 degrees more before coming to what he thought the extreme cold resulting from a mixture of ice, water and sal ammoniac. In 1724 he published a distinct treatise on the subject of his experiments and the conclusions that had resulted therefrom.

Celsius of Stockholm soon after suggested the more rational graduation of a hundred degrees between freezing and boiling point. This was the centigrade thermometer. Reaumur proposed another graduation which has been accepted by the French, but by far the largest part of the civilized world Fahrenheit's scale has been accepted and used, with 32 degrees as freezing, 65 degrees as temperate, 96 degrees as blood heat and 212 degrees as boiling point.

It is true that the zero of Fahrenheit's scale is a solecism since it does not mark the extreme to which heat can be abstracted. This little blemish, however, does not seem to have been of any practical consequence.

Arctic explorers have persisted in describing temperatures below the zero of Fahrenheit, and scientists have produced artificially temperatures far below any ever dreamed of by the thermometer maker of Amsterdam. There is doubt as to the year of the death of Fahrenheit, but it is generally placed in 1740.

Sun Power.

There is one source to which all minds revert when this question is mentioned, a source most promising and yet one which has so far eluded the investigator. The sun on a clear day delivers upon each square yard of the earth's surface the equivalent of approximately two horsepower of mechanical energy working continuously. If even a fraction of this power could be transformed into mechanical or electrical energy and utilized it would [illegible] world's work. Fuel is [illegible] delivered at our very doors without cost. How to store the energy so generously furnished and keep it on tap for future use is the problem. That the next half century will see some solution thereof, either chemical or otherwise, seems likely.—W. J. Fryer.

THE EDUCATED MAN.

Not All of His Knowledge Comes From Books and Schools.

The most important part of education comes from intercourse with people. From this side comes the education in love and duty and service. The actions of people stimulate imitation and emulation. By these men grow in power and skill. From observation of the character of people men form ideals of character for themselves and are transformed thereby. Herein lies the consummate educative power in Christianity—the transforming power of the divine man.

According to this new idea, education is not merely receiving, but giving; not learning aloue, but doing. The educated man is open eyed and open minded, quick to respond to influences from without, learning from all his experiences and growing in power as he grows in knowledge. Charles Kingsley said of his father that "he possessed every faculty but the faculty of using his faculties." He was not an educated man, although he was a very learned one.

Education is an individual matter. No two men can be educated alike in manner or degree. They respond to different influences and grow in different ways. One becomes educated by way of schools and colleges and life, another by life alone. The measure of a man's education is the measure of his use in the world.—George W. Martin in Boston Globe.

A COSTLY NAP.

Slumber That Led to the Death of King Charles I.

In the middle of Holborn once stood an inn, the George and Blue Boar, and there took place an incident which entirely changed the whole tale of England's history.

As twilight was falling in October, 1648, a very tired post boy mounted on a sweating horse pulled up outside the old inn. The lad knew nothing of the importance of the letters which lay in his post bag. His orders were to convey them to a point on the Great North road, where he would be met by other messengers.

But Cromwell's spies had followed him from the south coast, for England's liberty depended upon his dispatches miscarrying. The boy had some supper and afterward fell asleep, his head pillowed on his post bag.

While he slept Cromwell's men took the bag and found in it a letter from King Charles I. to the Scottish generals arranging for his rescue, an immediate advance on London and the arrest and execution of Cromwell and his friends. That same evening Cromwell had the fatal letter and determined on Charles' death.—London Tit-Bits.

Where Fat Is Beauty.

In Tunis when a man wants to take another wife he picks out a girl and then carries to her father a pair of bracelets and a pair of anklets from one of the other ladies of his household. The bracelets and anklets are slipped on the young woman, and several months are allowed for her fattening. She must fatten until she completely fills the four ornaments or otherwise the man has a right to refuse her, for in Tunis fat is beauty, and a permanently slender girl has no chance of marriage.

A LEGEND OF WORMS.

Prophecy of the Jewish Sage and Its Strange Fulfillment.

Rashi lived during the time of the first crusade, and one of the legends of Worms connects him with this event. He was one day seated with his pupils, when a knight, full panoplied, made his way into the schoolhouse and with threatening mien thus addressed him: "Rabbi, thy name for wisdom has reached me and fain would I learn my fate from thee. I have assembled a host wherewith I purpose to drive the infidel Turk from the Holy City, but before I set out I demand to know whether my undertaking will succeed. Answer me at once. I have no time for delay."

The rabbi replied: "Thou wouldst learn the future from me? Alas, I am unable to foretell it. God alone can say what the future will bring forth. I have no powers of divination, and my faith forbids the assumption of them. Pray, therefore, forgive me if I am unable to accede to thy request."

"Rabbi," exclaimed the knight in tones of passion, "I will listen to no refusal. Well I know that thou canst foretell the future. If thou will truly as I am Gourrey or Bouillon, so truly do I promise to protect thee and thy community from all harm, even if thou shouldst foretell disaster to me. But if it is a successful issue that thou hast in store for me I will right royally reward thee in addition on my return. What? Art thou silent? Speak or by heaven my sword shall open thy mouth wide enough."

"My liege lord," answered the Jewish sage, "there is only one above who can penetrate the future. Unless I would deceive thee, which I dare not do, at most I can but venture an opinion of what will happen to thee. Thy undertaking will only succeed in part. Of thy immense host but three men and one horse's head will return in safety." With blanched countenance Godfrey of Bouillon turned to depart, exclaiming as he went, "Take care, Jew, if I return to find thou hast deceived me!" Godfrey of Bouillon went up to Jerusalem, captured it and became its first king.

But his success was short lived, and the tide of war turned against him. Defeat and disease decimated his vast host until there remained but four riders of them all who made their way to Worms. "The Jew has not spoken the truth," he remarked as the gates of the city came in sight. "He said we should return with only three riders and a horse's head. He has lost his reward." They rode up to the gates and demanded admission. The massive door behind was raised, and they passed through. But as the fourth rider was about to follow it fell down again with a heavy thud, decapitating the horse and leaving its trunk and burden outside the city. "Conduct me to the rabbi," said Godfrey of Bouillon. "I must see him at once." But the rabbi had long since left Germany.

Just the Same as Usual.

"I thought you said you weren't going to drink any more."

"I did."

"But here you are drinking as much as ever."

"Well, that isn't any more, is it?"

READ COPY OF CERTIFICATE AND STATUTORY DECLARATION CONFIRMING SAME.

Toronto, March 20th, 1908.

To the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited:—

Gentlemen,—

I beg to confirm my previous report to you that in my judgment the surface showings on the 14 mining claims which the Company has acquired, being Nos. H.S. 221 to H. S. 234, both inclusive indicate the probability of the existence of large bodies of both high grade and low grade free-milling ore, sufficient to pay dividends for an indefinite period.

I have personally examined a number of veins and reefs on said property (consisting of about 560 acres) and had some assays made and from such examinations and assays I make this report.

The statement on pages nine and ten of the Prospectus giving the short history of the Company are correct. I insisted on retaining a large interest in the Company rather than sell for any price that seemed reasonable to the purchasers.

DAVID A. FOSTER,
Haileybury.

IN THE MATTER OF THE GREAT NORTHERN LARDER LAKE MINING CO., LTD.

Statutory Declaration.
DOMINION OF CANADA
County of York
TO WIT:

I, David Foster, of the town of Haileybury, in the district of Nipissing, miner, do solemnly declare that the statements in the annexed certificate are true. I have personally inspected all of the fourteen claims now transferred to the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited. I have taken samples containing gold values from said property, and from my personal examination, and from assays made, I believe the Company's property when developed, will prove very valuable. I have full confidence in the success of the said Company, and on this account, with the exception of $600 already received, I have agreed to accept stock in said Company, and a note which I believe will not be of much value should the actual development work not prove the said claims to contain gold in paying quantities as it is not payable for one year from this date or until after the Company shall have done the necessary development work on said claims. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath, and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act."

DAVID A. FOSTER.

CHILDREN'S TROUBLES.

Treat Them Seriously and Try to Gain Their Confidence.

When your child first comes to you in tears and complains bitterly of this or that petty wrong or injury, be forces you to one of the most important decisions in your parental career. Your path lies open before you—to treat his trouble seriously, to speak to him "man to man" or to laugh at it as of no consequence.

Beware before you too hastily make your choice. You are choosing between your little one's future confidence, even his self respect and his final alienation from you.

To the child all his woes are real and important. His little fears and angers are as great factors in his mental development as your large ones are in yours.

Many a timid child has been frightened into convulsions and death by something which would not cause an adult even to start, and many a passionate one has lived to regret that all his infantile naughtinesses were treated as jokes and made simply the cause for laughter.

There is no occasion to overestimate their importance. It will not be necessary. Simply accord to the child the same consideration, help and criticism that you would give a grown person suffering from proportionately heavy troubles, and do not let him feel that always he is to be the butt for the mirth of his audiences, "just because," as one small boy plaintively remarked, "they woke up a few years before I did!" His philosophy was inadequate, but his sense of justice was in the right place.

RAWHIDE-DULZUAR

1/2 CENT A SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without letup, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 5 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,661.27 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,-600 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Cleaning Shoes.

Many people pin their faith to gasoline as the best cleanser for shoes in the light pastel shades, as well as those of darker leather.

A hardening of the leather, however, sometimes is the result of cleansing by this method.

The effect should be tried on the shoe under the instep before the entire surface is treated.

Under no consideration should the whole shoe be immersed in the gasoline, but an end of a piece of cloth should be dipped in the oil, then rubbed evenly over the leather.

Any stains or spots are eliminated by extra rubbings.

A Chair Hospital.

Quite the newest thing in the way of an occupation for women is putting cane seats in chairs.

A Boston woman has chosen this unique way of earning money and is making a decided success of it. She has secured a clientele among well known families, and every patron she serves brings several others, so that her "chair hospital," as she calls her workshop, is seldom without a large number of patients. She averages 60 or 70 cents on each chair and can cane five or six a day.

In the Sewing Basket.

Use a common bottle cork and a common thimble, push the cork into the thimble, small end first, then hollow out the cork enough to admit the point of your scissors. When your scissors are not in use keep the cork on the points of them and you need not be afraid they will do any damage to your sewing in your workbasket. This will also keep your fine scissor points in good condition.

For bath purposes the flesh brush should take the place of flannel. Indeed, the vigorous use of the flesh brush or glove may be recommended as an effective substitute for a bath where the latter is not at hand, as the rough glove or brush cleanses the skin of small particles which are apt to cling to it from the clothing that is in daily contact with the body.

White spots on furniture caused by putting down a hot jug or cup should be rubbed at once with a little oil of some kind, linseed for choice, though paraffin or sweet oil is nearly as good. Leave the oil on some hours if possible and then polish.

His Wife (writing)—Which is proper, "disillusioned" or "disillusionized?"

Her Husband—Oh, just say "married" and let it go at that.

Almost any stain can be removed by rubbing butter well into it if it is immediately washed with pure water and soap.

Her Purse and His Handkerchief.

"The thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts." The other day a young woman who had dropped her purse, full of pay money for the corps of girls under her charge, considered the thoughts of youth to be rather too "long."

She was in one of the large department stores, and as her hands were occupied she let her purse lie for a few moments where it had fallen. But her eye was on it. In the meantime a bright little fellow not more than nine or ten years old left his parents near by and deftly covered the purse with a handkerchief.

The woman, who is a perfectly self possessed young person, could hardly believe her eyes, but she waited to see what the boy would do. Just as he was stooping to his prize she placed her foot quietly upon it. The youngster slipped back without a word to the well dressed "respectable" people with whom he was.

Then the woman picked up her purse and, taking the handkerchief over to the lad, handed it to him, saying, "There is no reason why you should lose your handkerchief just because you didn't get my purse!"

Too Good to Miss.

"Theater audiences have improved in recent years," said a manager. "Why, with provincial touring companies in the past maltreatment was regularly expected. In fact, the companies profited by it in more ways than one.

"I know of a company that was playing 'The Broken Vow' in Paint Rock, a one night stand. The audience didn't like 'The Broken Vow,' and eggs, cabbages and potatoes rained upon the stage.

"Still the play went on. The hero raved through his endless speeches, dodging an onion or a baseball every other minute and pretty sore from those missiles that he hadn't been able to dodge.

"But finally a gallery auditor in a paroxysm of rage and scorn hurled a heavy boot, and the actor, thoroughly alarmed, started to retreat.

"'Keep on playing, you fool,' hissed the manager from the wings as he booked in the boot with an umbrella. 'Keep on till we get the other one.'"

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first nourishes the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is so directed to the weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen those nerves — re-establish them as needed, with reserve may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each am and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

"She Isn't Me."

A woman was waiting for her sister in a railway station when a gentleman, looking for his wife and misled by a general resemblance in figure and clothing, stepped up behind her and, laying his hand on her shoulder, exclaimed, "Thank goodness, Emma, it's you!" The name he used happened to be really hers, which made the sudden familiarity even more startling. She jumped nervously. "You're mistaken, sir!" she gasped. "I'm Emma, but she isn't me."—Youth's Companion.

"Hamlet" has made more money than any other play in the world.

The Sheffield Club.

The Sheffield club is the oldest football organization in the United Kingdom. It was started in 1855, and its minute book for 1857 is still in existence.

Sir Frederick's Prescription.

The King of England's famous surgeon, Sir Frederick Treves, has this to say to the rising generation. It comes from one who knows:

"Boys, don't bother about genius, and don't worry about being clever. Trust rather to hard work, perseverance and determination. The best motto for a long march is: 'Don't grumble, Plug on.' You hold your fortune within you. If you confuse your future in your own hands. Never waver in this belief. Don't swagger. The boy who swaggers like the man who swaggers, has little else that he can do. He is a cheap-jack crying his own paltry wares. It is the empty tin that rattles most. Be honest, be loyal, be kind. Remember that the hardest thing to acquire is the faculty of being unselfish. As a quality it is one of the finest attributes of manliness. Love the sea, the ringing beach, and the open down. Keep clean body and mind."

Britishers Are Growing.

That the British head is shrinking and the British muscles are degenerating, as recently charged by certain scientists, was refuted by evidence introduced at the meeting of the British Association of Leicester. Records for the last twenty years at Marlborough College show that the fourteen-year-old boys there average five pounds heavier and nearly an inch taller than those of 1888.

A hatter who furnishes hats for six schools, vouches that hats of 21 1-8 inches circumference formerly were rarely demanded, while now hats 22 1-8 inches in circumference are needed continuously.

Sir Victor Horsley proposed a motion at the meeting, urging the Government to institute in connection with the medical inspection of school children, a system of periodic measurements.

Shaving Statistics.

The statistician has been at it again. The average man, he has discovered, has twenty square inches of beard on his face. Ergo, if a man with twenty square inches of face shaves every morning he will scrape over 7,300 square inches in a year. Accordingly if he shaves from the time he is twenty until he is seventy years old he will have shaved 365,000 square inches of beard.

Death of Mr. Harry Linton

While under the influence of an anaesthetic, Harry Linton, who was about to go under an operation at St. Joseph's hospital, passed away. His death was attributed to paralysis of the heart. Coroner Dr. Gray was called but decided that death was due to natural causes and an inquest was not necessary.

The late Mr. Lenton was born at Abbotsville, England, forty-three years ago. He came to this country several years ago but until two months ago resided in Vancouver, B.C.

The deceased was unmarried. He was a brother of Mr. George Lenton of this city. Two sisters survive him in the Old Country.

The funeral will take place today and will be private.

Met with a Very Painful Accident

While driving from Bailey to Carson's Siding in East Victoria county, Thursday afternoon, Mr. J. E. Firth of this city met with a very painful accident.

On going down a steep hill one of the small whiffle trees came off the buggy and allowed the pole to drop from the neck yoke. The vehicle rushed up on the horses and frightened them. They turned off the road and ran into the fence with great force. Mr Firth and the driver were thrown from the carriage and landed forcibly on the hard road. Both were badly shaken up and received a number of severe bruises. The horses knocked down the fence, but were not badly injured.

Mr. Firth arrived home last night and considers he was lucky to escape so lightly. He will be unable to attend to his duties for several days.

Firemen May Have a Tournament

A former resident of Brantford, but now a citizen of Peterborough, suggests a firemen's tournament for the city on the occasion of the establishment of a paid brigade of firefighters in the city.

He says the tournament held in Brantford have always been attended with great success and sees no reason why a good one could not be held here. He thinks the time suggested above would be particularly appropriate.

He states that a large number of Canadian and some American brigades would undoubtedly be glad to come here. Each brigade would be required to bring its band with them and a big athletic program could be run off in connection with the visit of the out of town firemen. A firemen's tournament is quite a big affair and the city would be well advertised should one be held here, on account of the many visitors who would be present from different cities.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than frauds. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got THEIR NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $18 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $31 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."

Miss Albina Chauvin, No. 50 Rue Agnes, St. Henri, Montreal, Can., writes:

"I consider Peruna better than any other remedy, as it cured me when nothing else could. I suffered for years and years with heart trouble, headache and weakness. I never expected to find anything to cure me. I saw one day, in "La Presse," that Peruna was excellent and I tried it. One bottle produced a change in me and if the price had been $100 a bottle I would have paid it gladly. I have taken six bottles and am entirely cured. Please accept my thanks and best wishes for your Peruna."

"Please Accept My Thanks and Best Wishes For Your PE-RU-NA."

Many cases of heart trouble are caused by reflex disturbances.

Derangements of the stomach and liver produce symptoms of heart trouble.

Catarrh of the stomach is a very frequent cause of sympathetic heart disease.

Palpitation, shortness of breath and bloating after meals are the most prominent symptoms.

Such a condition of the stomach is also liable to produce headaches of the worst sort.

Medicines that palliate the symptoms will never lead to a cure.

It is the effect which Peruna has upon the stomach, healing the mucous membranes and restoring the natural function of the stomach, that causes Peruna to bring such prompt relief.

The Sterling Bank

Elsewhere will be found the Statement issued by the General Manager, Mr. Broughall, before the second annual meeting of the shareholders of the Sterling Bank of Canada at the head office, Toronto, on Tuesday of last week. The profits for the year, after deducting charges of management and all incidental expenses, amounted to $50,091.47, being almost double those of the first year's net returns, which, after paying four quarterly dividends to the shareholders and transferring $12,500.50 to Reserve Fund, left a surplus which enabled the management to carry forward to balance of profit and loss the sum of $27,642.86. This, added to the balance at credit of the same account a year ago, gives $153,749.86, or nearly 23 per cent. of the paid-up capital. The other items which show considerably for progress during the year are the bank's circulation by $188,800; public deposits by $677,200; with bills discounted and advances current by the amount of $726,048.81, all bearing witness to the increased esteem in which this newly-established banking institution is generally held. General Manager Broughall and the directors are to be congratulated upon the results of their second year's efforts, a large portion of which was attained during a period of some depression in general business affairs.

Chinamen in Boxes Died Before Reaching Destination

Washington, May 30.—The alleged shipment of twelve Chinese coolies alive from El Paso to New York in boxes and their reported delivery at their destination dead, which is now being investigated by officials of the Bureau of Immigration, is not the first case of the kind to come to the attention of the bureau.

Three years ago a Chinaman was smuggled in this way from Canada, and when he reached his destination was found to be lifeless. His fate was followed almost immediately by the death from grief of the Chinese smuggler who caused him to be shipped from the Dominion.

"We do not know that the El Paso case is true," said an official of the Bureau of Immigration, "but if it proves to be we shall not be at all surprised, for we had a case very similar not long ago. This was of a Chinese cook shipped from Windsor to Toledo. It was in the dead of winter and very cold. The car containing the box in which the Chinaman was concealed got lost, and instead of going to Toledo it meandered as far as St. Louis, where the body of the Chinaman was discovered, frozen stiff. The stubborn fellow had preferred to die from cold and hunger rather than to make his presence known at any of the stopping places.

"We at once set an investigation on foot," continued the official, "and got the man who managed the smuggling job. We tried and convicted him and collected a $1,000 fine. The loss of the money so preyed upon his mind that he died within a week of his conviction."

Keg of Whiskey Stirs Up Big Official Scandal in Oklahoma

Tahlequah, Okla., May 30.—Less than a year ago Burt Hampton, a young Cherokee who is now openly defying the sheriff of Delaware county and all his men, wanted on a charge of killing two men at a country dance, was a deputy marshal under the federal regime, and considered a good officer. A ten-gallon keg of whisky did it. This same keg of whisky stirred up the biggest official scandal that was ever heard in that section. Subsequent to this incident, but prior to the murder of the two men near Tahlequah, Hampton had been the leading man in several dramatic incidents with the officials playing the minor parts, but he had never committed murder.

Hampton was sent out from Tahlequah to arrest a couple of whisky peddlers who were supposed to be operating in the vicinity of Wauhillau postoffice in the mountains east of Tahlequah. He arrested the whisky peddlers and then got drunk on the ten gallon keg of whisky he had captured, shot up that section of the country on the Illinois River, drove customers away from the store and drove the owner outside, made a preacher's wife dance by shooting and around for toes, rob a negro cook a mile through the woods firing two big revolvers at him, and finally a constable got some of the proceedings and arrested him. The constable, in turn, got drunk on the whisky, and Hampton, the constable, and the two whisky peddlers were taken in charge by a number of outraged farmers who turned them over to the A.H.T.A. The A.H.T.A. put them in charge of one of their men and started them to Stillwell. The rollicking drunken crowd persuaded the anti-horse thief man and he fell under the lure of the fatal ten-gallon keg. The horses ran away and turned the wagon over, throwing the men and the whisky all out. Before they sobered up a bunch of full blood Indians came along and grabbed the keg of whisky and disappeared with it, and the last heard of them they were on the apree of their lives.

When they five men sobered up they plodded sadly back to civilization. The constable turned Hamptonloose. Hampton turned the two whisky peddlers loose and he went on the scout to evade the officers from Tahlequah, who had heard of the disgraceful scenes that followed his capture of the ten gallons of liquor.

Peterborough Cereal Mills Destroyed by Fire on Sunday Afternoon--Walls Standing

Building and Contents Damaged to the Extent of $50,000, Partly Covered by Insurance--Origion of the Fire is Unknown

Late yesterday afternoon, fire broke out in the Peterborough Cereal mills, and before the flames could be got under control the whole building was completely gutted.

The alarm was turned in at five o'clock from box 22, and in a short time a hose reel and hook and ladder truck were on the scene. several minutes had elapsed before a section of hose was attached to a hydrant, and it was 5.10 before a stream was played on the flames, which were issuing from the west side of the building.

By 5.18 the fire had gained considerable headway, and another branch of hose was put on; ladders were run up to a second story window and a stream was played in through the window. But this only served to drive the flame toward the front of the building, and smoke began to issue from the roof and windows. The hose wagon was dispatched for more hose and ten minutes later a third stream was in play.

The fire spread rapidly and fiercely on its way to the north side of the building. Ladders were placed against the tin roofing which overhangs the driveway, and the firemen soon had a stream playing on the flames through one of the windows. But poor judgment was used, for another branch was turned on the flame from the side of the building, the result being that great volumes of smoke poured out of the openings at the front where the fire laddie was at work, and greatly impeded progress as he was nearly suffocated.

The firemen seemed to be wholly at a loss as to what to do and where to play their streams to the best advantage, and were seemingly fighting the fire in a disorganized way. The absence of ex-Chief Rutherford to direct the men was a great loss as was plainly seen by the spectators and the feeling of many against the action taken by the council in accepting Chief Rutherford's resignation was heard expressed in no mild terms.

At 5.30 the flames broke through the roof, and a stream was played on the flames, which were rapidly consuming the dry shingles on the roof, but it proved worthless. Several times the branches was turned on and off and it was only for a few minutes at a time that the three streams were kept going.

At 5.45, with a mighty crash the roof fell in, shooting the burning timbers in all directions.

After this the firemen turned their attention to saving the adjoining property. The fireproof office to the south of the mill was well soaked with water, as also was the frame house to the west of the office. The firemen, although working heroically, seemed handicapped by the absence of Chief Rutherford, and they did not seem to know where to play the water.

At 6.20 the roof of the office caught fire and the fire fighters turned two streams of water on the flames. A large staff of help was quickly secured and everything of value removed from the office. But this latter move although a good one, was unnecessary as the flames were quickly extinguished.

At 6.30 the fire had cut its way into the big grain elevator to the east of the mill where tons and tons of grain are stored. The firemen soon smashed in the iron door leading from the roof of the mill to the elevator, and a steady stream of water was played on the interior, proving so effective that by seven o'clock one of the men was able to climb up a ladder on the inside and break open the window and a section of the wall on the west side of the elevator. Through the opening a branch was played on the ceiling to cool it off.

Although the roof of the mill had fallen in the second floor of the building stood intact until about 7.15 when with a roar it tumbled downward carrying with it tons of machinery which was smashed to pieces and lies in a broken mass on the floor.

By 7.20 the firemen had the flames pretty well under control, but it was not until a late hour last night that the fire was extinguished.

The cause of the fire is unknown, unless it was from defective electric wiring.

The damage will reach in the neighborhood of $50,000, which we regret to say is only partly covered by insurance.

The fire originated in Collier Bros. mill which adjoins that of the Peterborough Cereal Company, but had not been in operation for about two months, and only yesterday morning, Mr. Phair the chief miller and his assistant went through the building and found everything alright.

Although the mill was not in operation five cars of grain were taken in on Friday and Saturday, and a car of flour shipped away from the elevator.

Where the firemen seemed to have made their greatest mistake, was in not playing water on the inside of the Collier mill, where the fire started. Had they done so this fire would have undoubtedly been checked.

Great sympathy is felt for Mr. Meldrum, the manager of the company, over the loss of the building.

Local S. A. Band will go to Lindsay

Ensign and Mrs. Calvert have decided to remain in Lindsay until the 23rd of June, and therefore will not leave for Cobalt on Tuesday next, as was first arranged. The local officers have been asked to remain in town until after the visit of the Salvation Army band of Peterborough, which comes here on June 20 and 21st.

A musical festival will be given in the Army barracks on Saturday, June 20th, by the visiting band for which an admission will be charged.

On Sunday afternoon the band will play in Victoria Park, and in the evening at the Academy of Music. Colonel Sharp of London, Ont. Ensign Roy of Toronto, Staff Captain Goodwin and Captain Mussy of Peterborough will be here with the band and will speak at the different meetings.

Great interest is being taken in the coming visit of the Peterborough band, and no doubt they will be well received by the citizens of the town.—Lindsay Free Press.

Are Not Going to Instal a Pool Table at Y.M.C.A.

"I hear you are going to install a $2000 pool table," said a lady to Secretary Wright of the Y.M.C.A. the other day. This is a sample of the various kinds of opinions that seem to be afloat regarding the installation of bowling alleys in the association building. The directors of the "Y" have no intention of putting in a pool table.

Black Flies Getting In Their Work

Nearly every person returning from Stony Lake has the same complaint, to make, viz., the black flies causing so much trouble. And they are not talking on mere supposition either for they are bringing back with them evidences of the truth of what they say. Hands, arms, and faces covered with bites bear striking testimony that the flies are biting well.—better than the fish in fact.

It is said that the wet spring is responsible for the prevalence of the flies and it is not expected that they will last very long. At any rate they are hoping that they will soon depart as they do not add to comfort of life at the lakes.

A Splendid Investment

Thos. Patterson & Co Have Seven Per Cent. Mortgage Bonds for Sale

Elsewhere will be found an advertisement of Mr. Thos. Patterson & Co., the well known brokerage firm, who offer for sale a quantity of first mortgage five-year gold bonds. What makes an integrating feature of this allotment, is the fact that with every $100 bond goes $100 in stock on the property.

The Times commends this to the attention of Canadian investors.

The Body of William Meehan Found Yesterday

Word was received in the city last night that the body of William Meehan, who was drowned near the mill dam at Lakefield on Tuesday afternoon had been found yesterday afternoon, about 60 yards below the dam.

It was thought that he had been engaged in running logs for the Cavendish Lumber Co., when he met with this sad fate, but this could not have been the case, for when the body was recovered, there was no spikes on the boots, such as rivermen wear.

Coroner Dr. Gray of this city was immediately notified but at an early hour this morning it was not known whether an inquest will be held or not.

Sudden Death of Mrs. Rush's Brother

Engineer Wm. Boskell, who was killed in the recent accident near Owen Sound Friday night, was a brother of Mrs. (Mayor) Rush, city who received word on Saturday of the sudden death of her brother. The late Wm. Boskell, although he never lived here, was known by a number of Peterborough people, and the intelligence of his tragic death will be received with much regret. Mrs. Rush left for Toronto to attend the funeral.

The deceased at one time lived in Port Hope, but had been a resident of Toronto for many years.

He was very painfully injured in the wreck, which was caused by a collision of two engines and died shortly after reaching the hospital.

Assistance in Drainage

Farm Drainage Demonstrations for the Farmers of Ontario

To the Editor of The Times:

Sir,—The Department of Physics at the Ontario Agricultural College desires to announce the continuance of its previous offer of assistance to farmers in matters pertaining to drainage. For the past three years we have been authorized by the Minister of Agriculture to go out and assist any farmers in taking the levels of his lands for drainage purposes, in planning the most advantageous systems of drains, and in calculating the grades and sizes of tile for the different drains. A finished map bearing all the information is sent to the owner. This serves two purposes; first, it is used as a guide in constructing the drains; second, it may be preserved as a record of the exact location of every drain, so that if for any reason it should be necessary in years to come to find any drain it could be done accurately at a moment's notice.

The number of applications for assistance has increased very rapidly, so that last year we had many more than we could attend to. To enable us to meet this increased demand the Minister of Agriculture has this year given us a special appropriation whereby we have been enabled to double our staff for this work.

A new feature is being added. We have found in the past that frequently the neighbors in the vicinity of the farm being surveyed were interested and wished to observe the operations. This suggested the desirability of making these demonstrations public, and this will be done wherever possible. Anyone interested will be welcome on all occasions. By this means we shall be able to instruct a much larger number in matters pertaining to drainage problems.

Anyone wishing drainage surveying done should apply to Wm. H. Day, Department of Physics, O.A.C., Guelph. The only outlay connected with the work is the travelling expenses of one man, including meals, cartage of instruments and railway fare at one cent. a mile each way.

The Department has just issued a new pamphlet on "Farm Drainage Operations," which may be had on application.

WM. H. DAY,
Lecturer in Physics.

Mad Cat in Factory Furiously Attacks Two Girls

London, Ont., May 29.—The excessive heat in Perrin's factory caused a cat to go mad, and infuriated it rushed into the chocolate dipping room of the factory and attacked two young women, Misses Edith Poulter and Louisa Kishel, and inflicted a number of scratches before it was killed. The wounds were immediately cauterized. Hydrophobia has not yet developed, although there is yet thought to be some danger.

The cat, which had been a favorite in the dipping room for a considerable time, had never shown any symptoms of rabies until yesterday, which was the hottest day of the present summer.

Miss Edith Poulter was working at her task of dipping chocolates when she was horrified to see the cat prepairing to spring at her. In terror she sprang upon the table, followed by the cat, which sprang at her shoulders. Her screams attracted several employes from the adjoining rooms of the factory.

Mr. E. Hutchinson Injured at Fire

While assisting the firemen at the Peterborough Cereal mills fire last night, Mr. Ernest Hutchinson had the misfortune to trip over a ladder, which was lying on the road, throwing him heavily to the ground and striking his head against the pavement. He was removed to his home in the hose wagon and two doctors were called to attend him.

Tired nerves, with that "too ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often shows up, the Kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "In Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with a leucorrhoeal atonic (weak) condition of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the uterus or ovaries of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding), due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhoea suppressed or absent monthly periods, usually from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and Anaemic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present in the woman she will be better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. One of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions * * * and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhoea (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

Death of Mr. Henry Thos. Strickland on Saturday

One of the pioneer residents of the city passed away on Saturday morning at Nicholls Hospital, in the person of Mr. Henry Thomas Strickland. Deceased had been in ill health for some time past, and was gradually sinking until the end came today.

Born near Lakefield in 1835, the deceased resided all his life in the County of Peterborough. He was the fourth son of the late Col. Strickland, of Lakefield. He was in his 73rd year. A man of sterling qualities, honest and upright, he was held in the highest esteem. He was widely known and his death will be deeply regretted.

At the age of fourteen years Mr. Strickland entered the store of the late R. D. Hogaboam, Ashburnham, where he served for a number of years. In 1858 he went into a mercantile lumbering and mining business with Col. H. C. Rogers, now postmaster. In 1880 he withdrew his interests with Mr. Rogers and joined his brothers in the lumber business. The same year he succeeded his father as agent for the Canada Land Co. This position he held until the time of his death.

The late Mr. Strickland was lieutenant in the first Infantry Company of Ashburnham. He was a veteran of '66, having fought against the Fenian Raiders.

At the opening of St. Luke's church in 1876, the deceased was appointed church warden, which office he filled for twenty-one consecutive years. He was a faithful member of the church.

He was married twice, his first wife being Miss Rogers of Grafton, a sister of Col. H. C. Rogers. His second wife was Miss Morgan, of Toronto. She predeceased him years ago.

He leaves to mourn his loss two daughters, Mrs. Markee, of Grand Forks, B.C., and Miss M. Strickland at home.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon, from Nicholls hospital to St. Luke's church, and thence to the Little Lake cemetery.

Father of 27 Children 18 of Them are Alive

Chicago, May 30.—James Allen Monroe, a live stock commissioner and broker, made a family returns to the new school census enumerator, announcing that twenty-seven children were born to him. Eighteen are alive. He first became a father in 1866, and soon fell into the habit. His third wife recently gave birth to a daughter.

POLICE

In the police court, on Saturday morning, John Bailey was charged with threatening to take the life of his landlord, Mr. Carr. Carr gave evidence to the effect that when he came home to dinner on Friday, the offensive John raised some quarrel, and in the midst of the tongue duel, he said he would take Carr's life if he didn't look out. It was brought out in the evidence that the trouble arose over Mr. Carr taking possession of Bailey's trunk, on account of his leaving behind in his board bill.

Mr. Carr's mother-in-law who was present at the dinner table, gave corroborative evidence.

The complainant's mother-in-law was present at the time the threat was made and gave evidence this morning.

Bailey swore that he did not make the threat. Carr, he stated, said that he would smash his mouth and he only replied that he would fight it out with him.

"Where did you get the revolver?" asked his worship.

"I brought it out from the Old Country," said the defendant.

"Did you think you were coming to a country of savages?" queried the magistrate.

"I did not know," replied the young Englishman.

Robinson, another Englishman, who boards in the same house, said that Bailey did not use any threats.

"Did you come out on the same ship?"

"No, sir."

"How many revolvers did you bring with you?"

"None, sir."

Mr. Carr was insistent upon Bailey being bound over, as he was afraid that some time he might catch him on the street and hurt him.

Bad Case of Piles Cured by Zam-Buk.

Sufferers from piles will be interested in the following testimony of Mr. Garfield Logan, 149 Welland Avenue, St. Catharines, Ont. He says: "For years I was a great sufferer from protruding bleeding piles. They got so bad that it was impossible for me to walk or sit down without a great deal of suffering. The pain I endured was dreadful. I tried everything and the doctors told me I would have to be operated upon before I could be cured. I do not think that there was one remedy that I did not try, but they failed to cure me. One day I received a sample of Zam-Buk and tried that. I got some relief and decided to give it a good trial. I bought three boxes and before I had finished the third box I was completely cured. Zam-Buk salve has saved me hundreds of dollars because I had decided to have the operation if Zam-Buk did not cure me. I have recommended Zam-Buk to a number of friends."

Doctors Report Many Cases

May that Spring Fever is Prevalent. Patients Feel Drowsy, Dull, Dead Tired.

How provoking to sleep well, but when you awaken to find none of the exhilaration that rest and sleep should bring. You ought to feel alert, bubbling over with vim, but instead of this there's dullness, languor and disinclination to do things.

There causes for this sort of feeling—a lazy liver, lazy kidneys, and a lazy stomach, the liver doing its work very poorly and compelling the other organs to perform a task they are unequal to.

Note the consequence—blood is filled with waste matter—poisonous substances weighing down the nervous system—tissue building processes absolutely impossible.

Take Ferrozone and note the rapid change. Your appetite improves and your digestion soon is as good as ever. Your skin has its natural color, the sense of languor and unsteadiness if not entirely gone, comes back only occasionally, and then disappears.

You see Ferrozone restores all the powers of the body to normal activity.

The reason you feel better is because Ferrozone is driving out all the poisonous wastes from the body.

Ferrozone imparts to the blood that element that is necessary to render the air you breathe vitally active and strength-giving. In the old condition it simply acted on the surface. Now it enters deeply into all the activities of the body.

Now you know that Ferrozone stimulates appetite and makes rich, red blood.

Now you feel that Ferrozone gives strength, endurance, vim.

Ferrozone clarifies the brain, imparts tone and vigor to it, gives clearness and strength.

Your will power is as strong as ever, and your enjoyment of life has a new zest because so vigorously renewed.

As a bracing, uplifting tonic for men, women and children—as a medicine for anaemia, weakness or nervous troubles nothing excels Ferrozone.

Try it, 50c a box or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

THE CLASS WANTED

The London Morning Post a few days back asked the question whether the great dominions of the Empire had really decided to close their doors against the poorer classes of the United Kingdom. Various answers have been given by different Canadian papers, but the one that seems to come nearest to the mark is the Montreal Star. In fact, it says, we try to attract every British immigrant who has a fighting chance of doing well in this country. We want them, and we spend our good money to get them. We have, however, decided not to encourage the immigration of even fellow British subjects whose arrival would be a damage to our people and whose future in this country would be a doubtful problem. We cannot see that it will help the Empire much to import men whose competition will depress the rate of wages in Canada, and so make it harder for British subjects living in Canada to bring up their families, while it will at the same time give those men no better chance than they have at home. Still we do not forbid the immigration of any workingmen who choose to come at their own expense, and who have a paltry sum of money in their pockets to guarantee them against want while seeking for work.

The only classes we positively forbid outright are the "failures" of the Mother Country. These are not wanted. To send them here is useless.

Lacking in Humor.

Little Robbie was entertaining Mr. Geeseley while Miss Tripperson was upstairs adjusting her back hair and giving her face a few final dabs with the powder puff.

"My sister says you ain't got no idea of humor," said Robbie.

"Indeed!" Mr. Geeseley returned. "When did she say that?"

"Just after you was here the last time. She said she seen you lookin' at yourself in the mirror several times, and you never laughed wunst."

Very Steady.

Relative—Well, I sincerely hope you will be happy with him, Mandy. Is he a steady young man? Miss Mandy—Steady! My goodness, Aunt Judy, he's been coming to see me for more 'an eleven years.—London Punch.

Regal Magnificence.

"The Mackroyds have a new flat, I believe."

"Yes, and it is something magnificent too. The bathroom is so spacious that it is possible to have two Turkish towels in it at once."

CHILDREN'S TROUBLES.

Treat Them Seriously and Try to Gain Their Confidence.

When your child first comes to you in tears and complains bitterly of this or that petty wrong or injury, he forces you to one of the most important decisions in your parental career. Your path lies open before you—to treat his trouble seriously, to speak to him "man to man" or to laugh at it as of no consequence.

Beware before you too hastily make your choice. You are choosing between your little one's future confidence, even his self respect and his final alienation from you.

To the child all his woes are real and important. His little fears and angers are as great factors in his mental development as your large ones are in yours.

Many a timid child has been frightened into convulsions and death by something which would not cause an adult even to start, and many a passionate one has lived to regret that all his infantile naughtinesses were treated as jokes and made simply the cause for laughter.

There is no occasion to overestimate their importance. It will not be necessary. Simply accord to the child the same consideration, help and criticism that you would give a grown person suffering from proportionately heavy troubles, and do not let him feel that always he is to be the butt for the mirth of his audiences, "just because," as one small boy plaintively remarked, "they woke up a few years before I did!" His philosophy was inadequate, but his sense of justice was in the right place.

Sir Frederick's Prescription.

The King of England's famous surgeon, Sir Frederick Treves, has this to say to the rising generation. It comes from one who knows:

"Boys, don't bother about genius, and don't worry about being clever. Trust rather to hard work, perseverance and determination. The best motto for a long march is: 'Don't grumble, Plug on.' You hold your fortune V..6..s Ot....f ve cmfwy cmf fetune in your own hands. Never waver in this belief. Don't swagger. The boy who swaggers like the man who swaggers, has little else that he can do. He is a cheap-jack crying his own paltry wares. It is the empty tin that rattles most. Be honest, be loyal, be kind. Remember that the hardest thing to acquire is the faculty of being unselfish. As a quality it is one of the finest attributes of manliness. Love the sea, the ringing beach, and the open down. Keep clean body and mind."

Britishers Are Growing.

That the British head is shrinking and the British muscles are degenerating, as recently charged by certain scientists, was refuted by evidence introduced at the meeting of the British Association of Leicester. Records for the last twenty years at Marlborough College show that the fourteen-year-old boys there average five pounds heavier and nearly an inch taller than those of 1885.

A hatter who furnishes hats for six schools, vouches that hats of 21 1-8 inches circumference formerly were rarely demanded, while now hats 22 1-8 inches in circumference are needed continuously.

Sir Victor Horsley proposed a motion at the meeting, urging the Government to institute in connection with the medical inspection of school children, a system of periodic measurements.

Shaving Statistics.

The statistician has been at it again. The average man, he has discovered, has twenty square inches of beard on his face. Ergo, if a man with twenty square inches of face shaves every morning he will scrape over 7,300 square inches in a year. Accordingly if he shaves from the time he is twenty until he is seventy years old he will have shaved 365,000 square inches of beard.

L'Envoi of Housekeeping.

When earth's last picture is dusted
And the floors are painted and dried,
When the oldest carpet is beaten
And the youngest spider has died,

We shall rest—and, faith, we shall need it!—
Lie down for a moment or two
Till the dust on the grand piano
Shall set us to work anew.

And those that are clean shall be happy.
They shall eat off a kitchen chair
And dash with a seven league broomstick
At the back of the chiffonier.

We shall have real paint to lean on,
Pile everything into the hall
And scrub for hours at a sitting
And never be tired at all.

And the man of the house will praise us
And will (more than probably) blame,
And we never shall get any money
(And certainly not any fame).

But each for the joy of the cleaning
And each in her feminine glee
To look just as well as the neighbors
Per the sake of things they might see.
—Laura Simmons in Circle.

Care of the Boar.

Many excellent boars are put in a dirty pen and confined the year round without any pasture or yard for them to exercise in, and by the time they are old enough to be in their prime they are ruined by excessive service and lack of exercise, proper nourishment, etc. Give him a yard, an acre in extent if possible, with a good strong fence around it and away from the rest of the herd, provide him a warm sleeping place during the cold and damp weather and treat him in a manner that will make him think he is of some importance and not salute him with a kick or a club every time you go around him. His disposition toward you will be to a great extent what you make it, and you can rest assured that he will appreciate and enjoy any kindness and rubbing that you do for him and will not forget all of the injuries and await his chance to get even with you.

Buy Casey Mountain Shares in the

HEAD OFFICE—MANNING CHAMBERS TORONTO—ONTARIO

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares;—

Casey Mountain shares are fully paid-up and non-assessable.

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which has regular net-work of silver bearing veins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain has the goods in unlimited quantities sufficient to last for generations.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 to date varying in width from 16 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock speculation) and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 700 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent. to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

(These shares could have been had at 50 cents, and have sold as high as $190.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $60,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends. The Treadwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $20.00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would means a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Additional information can be had from the Secretary-Treasurer Dr. H. A. Wood, 408 1-2 George street, Peterborough.

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I beespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

Provincial Elections 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro :

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—As you are aware, I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good, economical and efficient administration of affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province, generally.

The test of good representation either by a Government or member is good work, and, in this respect both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr. Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure, for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evident interests of the city in every direction, and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our working men and our manufacturing industries; and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying interests of this district, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies, inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent., while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per cent. was shown by the Government reviving the contract system of prison labor, abolishing by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labor at 3 cents per hour to compete against free labor.

The introduction of the "spoils system," the failure to remove license administration from the sphere of political influence, the three-fifths handicap to Local Option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and discouragement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, the neglect of law reform, with a view of making our law courts cent.

Disregard of the rights of labor available for securing justice, within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters to which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests, which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen,

G. A. GILLESPIE

SENSIBLE ADVICE.

Good For Children to Have Small Responsibilities.

"I believe in giving children responsibilities," said the mother of half a dozen. "I know that most mothers have a foolish prejudice against the idea. They seem to think that a responsibility is a burden to a child, but it really isn't if it is managed the right way."

"I am afraid I am one of the prejudiced," answered her neighbor. "Children learn the meaning of responsibility soon enough. Why should I be the one to teach them?"

"Because you are their mother, and the lesson will come so gently from you that they will not know they have learned it till some great experience makes them rise up and call you blessed for your teachings," said the other. "Take my little family. We are not well enough off to provide a nurse, and so instead of trying to assume the care of them all I have taught each one to look out for the next youngest. The amount of supervision that Tommy exercises over his three small brothers is really wonderful. I feel as safe when they are with him as I do when they are with their father."

"That sounds sensible, and I suppose I am rather foolish. My husband told me yesterday that I was literally a slave to the children," sighed the neighbor.

"You are," assented the other frankly. "You give up your time and your health and your friends and your husband for them. You never have a moment to yourself. You've taught your children to come to you for everything, and so they don't hesitate to burst in upon you at any moment, whether you are trying to get a nap or entertaining company or just sitting down for a quiet chat with one of your friends. If you leave them for even a couple of hours you are perfectly wretched for fear something has happened to them. You never have a holiday because you are afraid they might possibly miss you or need you. You think that argues great devotion and a motherly sense of duty, but you are making the mistake of your life."

Her Exalted Position.

"Yo needn't think because yv see me goin' an' comin' be th' back door iv Mr. Malcolm Goldborough's mansion that Of'm wan iv th' common servants iv th' house," said the haughty customer to the uncivil butcher.

"Oh," ejaculated the fat little man, abruptly turning obsequious, "are—are you a family connection of the great Goldboroughs, ma'am?"

"Of'm more than a mere connection, sir."

"Pardon me," added the butcher, gazing patronizingly at this personage, "you're one of the family that's been abroad and whom I haven't had the pleasure of meeting before perhaps?"

"Ye'll have t' go higher than thot."

"Not Mr. Malcolm's new wife?" gasped the fat little man. "I didn't have a suspicion that he"—

"Higher, mon. Of'm higher."

"Higher?" uttered the perfectly bewildered butcher.

"Yis. Of'm th' cook!"—Bohemian.

Drug Store For Horses.

"I came across a queer little drug store the other day," said the city salesman. "It makes a specialty of veterinarian prescriptions. According to the proprietor's own account, they don't sell very much in that store except horse medicine. They sell more of that than any other drug store in town. The neighborhood abounds in stables and animals' hospitals, and most of the drugs used in doctoring sick horses are bought at that store. Of course the place is fitted up with the usual drug store paraphernalia. There is a soda water fountain, a cigar stand, postage stamps can be purchased there and drafts and doses for human beings will be compounded upon request, but those familiar and supposedly primary functions of a drug store are in this case a superfluity, because about all that druggist does is to put up cures for equine ailments."—New York Press.

Her Secret.

Wife—Have you any secrets you keep from me, dearest?

Husband—None, darling.

Wife—Then I am determined I will have none from you either.

Husband—Have you secrets, then?

Wife—Only one, and I am resolved to make a clean breast of it.

Husband (hoarsely)—Go on!

Wife—For several days I have had a secret—a secret longing for a new dress, with hat to match, for my birthday.

That fetched him.—London Mail.

"She Isn't Me."

A woman was waiting for her sister in a railway station when a gentleman, looking for his wife and misled by a general resemblance in figure and clothing, stepped up behind her and, laying his hand on her shoulder, exclaimed, "Thank goodness, Emma, it's you!" The name he used happened to be really hers, which made the sudden familiarity even more startling. She jumped nervously. "You're mistaken, sir!" she gasped. "I'm Emma, but she isn't me."—Youth's Companion.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two troubles in, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local.
Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and irritated mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nerve excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing almost renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

Cleaning Shoes.

Many people pin their faith to gasoline as the best cleanser for shoes in the light pastel shades, as well as those of darker leather.

A hardening of the leather, however, sometimes is the result of cleansing by this method.

The effect should be tried on the shoe under the instep before the entire surface is treated.

Under no consideration should the whole shoe be immersed in the gasoline, but an end of a piece of cloth should be dipped in the oil, then rubbed evenly over the leather.

Any stains or spots are eliminated by extra rubbings.

A Chair Hospital.

Quite the newest thing in the way of an occupation for women is putting cane seats in chairs.

A Boston woman has chosen this unique way of earning money and is making a decided success of it. She has secured a clientele among well known families, and every patron she serves brings several others, so that her "chair hospital," as she calls her workshop, is seldom without a large number of patients. She averages 60 or 70 cents on each chair and can cane five or six a day.

In the Sewing Basket.

Use a common bottle cork and a common thimble, push the cork into the thimble, small end first, then hollow out the cork enough to admit the point of your scissors. When your scissors are not in use keep the cork on the points of them and you need not be afraid they will do any damage to your sewing in your workbasket. This will also keep your fine scissor points in good condition.

For bath purposes the flesh brush should take the place of flannel. Indeed, the vigorous use of the flesh brush or glove may be recommended as an effective substitute for a bath where the latter is not at hand, as the rough glove or brush cleanses the skin of small particles which are apt to cling to it from the clothing that is in daily contact with the body.

White spots on furniture caused by putting down a hot jug or cup should be rubbed at once with a little oil of some kind, linseed for choice, though paraffin or sweet oil is nearly as good. Leave the oil on some hours if possible and then polish.

His Wife (writing)—Which is proper, "disillusioned" or "disillusionized?"

Her Husband—Oh, just say "married" and let it get at that.

Almost any stain can be removed by rubbing butter well into it if it is immediately washed with pure water and soap.

"Hamlet" has made more money than any other play in the world.

Try Again for Health

The Dangerous Weakness That Follows Should be CuredNow

One of the oldest physicians, after closely studying spring tiredness, says it seems to seek out the same victims year after year, and if the disorder is once contracted, one is very prone to contract it again.

The symptoms are common — no appetite — turn against your food, aches in back and limbs, nervous, and often melancholy, dyspepsia and languid.

"I had all the symptoms," writes Mrs. Eva E. Clarkson, well known in Chester. "I was discouraged, blue, felt too poorly to bother with medicine. But I tried again for health's sake. Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The very sight of food used to turn me sick; now I eat and digest like a growing child. I used to feel bloodless and starved, now I am well-nourished and gaining in flesh. My face was haggard, full eyes, dark circles; now I am animated, have pink cheeks, bright clear eyes. A hard cough that used to rack my chest is gone. But best of all is the feeling of buoyancy and good spirits that displaces the awful tired, drowsy, melancholy fits that come on, and always with splitting headache, too. I hope my letter will induce others to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—such a good honest, bracing tonic should be in every home, both for children and parents' use."

You have a woman's work to do in life — you have only a woman's delicate organism to do it with. You'll be vastly assisted with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, because they are good for women just as they are good for men and children, too; 25c. at all dealers.

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 PER CENT FIRST MORTGAGE FIVE-YEAR-OLD BONDS

dated January 11, 1908, and maturing January 11, 1913. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned by THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico, Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness except this present Bond Issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

$100.00 Stock Bonus Given with Every $100.00 Bond

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mex. Co. Free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 5,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.47 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shafts to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $60,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $3,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,464 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $502.50.

The Money Derived from the Sale of These Bonds

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 80 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $750,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated —an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is small and promises to be quickly sold.

READ COPY OF CERTIFICATE AND STATUTORY DECLARATION CONFIRMING SAME.

Toronto, March 30th, 1908.

To the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited:—

Gentlemen,—

I beg to confirm my previous report to you that in my judgment the surface showings on the 14 mining claims which the Company has acquired, being Nos. H.S. 221 to H. S. 234, both inclusive indicate the probability of the existence of large bodies of both high grade and low grade free-milling ore, sufficient to pay dividends for an indefinite period.

I have personally examined a number of veins and reefs on said property (consisting of about 560 acres) and had some assays made and from such examinations and assays I make this report.

The statement on pages nine and ten of the Prospectus giving the short history of the Company are correct. I insisted on retaining a large interest in the Company rather than sell for any price that seemed reasonable to the purchasers.

DAVID A. FOSTER,
Haileybury.

IN THE MATTER OF THE GREAT NORTHERN LARDER LAKE MINING CO., LTD.

Statutory Declaration.
DOMINION OF CANADA
County of York
TO WIT:

I, David Foster, of the town of Haileybury, in the district of Nipissing, miner, do solemnly declare that the statements in the annexed certificate are true. I have personally inspected all of the fourteen claims now transferred to the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited. I have taken samples containing gold values from said property, and from my personal examination, and from assays made, I believe the Company's property when developed, will prove very valuable. I have full confidence in the success of the said Company, and on this account, with the exception of $,000 already received, I have agreed to accept stock in said Company, and a note which I believe will not be of much value should the actual development work not prove the said claims to contain gold in paying quantities as it is not payable for one year from this date or until after the Company shall have done the necessary development work on said claims. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath, and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act."

DAVID A. FOSTER.

Declared before me at Toronto, in the County of York, this 31st day of March, 1908. J. T. LOFTUS, A. Commissioner in H. C. J.

PROPERTIES TRANSFERED.

Since the prospectus was printed, the sale of the 14 mining claims to the Company has been completed and the transfers to the Company are registered in the Recorder's Office at Larder City. There is no mortgage or other encumbrance against said claims.

Will Not go Into Camp This Year

The militia of Ontario will not go into camp this year as the militia department finds itself without the necessary funds to enable the holding of the annual training camps. It has been necessary to send out orders cancelling the orders already issued to hold training camps next month. This means the doing away with the training of all the rural corps east of Winnipeg.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1/2 CENT A SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without letup, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out, send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company, consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,660 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

VOL. XXXVI. NO 129 — PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO TUESDAY JUNE 2 1908 — PRICE TWO CENTS

Whole Family Drowned While Celebrating

Philadelphia, June 1.—An entire family, consisting of Wm. Eidleman, aged 36 years, his wife, Elizabeth, aged 37, and their two children, Anna, aged 17, and William, aged seven, of West Pensauken, N.J., were drowned in Pensauken Creek, below Riverton, N.J., yesterday, by the capsizing of a small row boat. The family was taking an outing, partly in celebration of the fact that the father had just cleared off the mortgage on a home he had purchased. While rowing down Pensauken Creek the boat was caught in the swift current and carried against a snow moored in the stream. The boat was overturned and all the occupants thrown into the water and before assistance could be rendered all were drowned.

A Big Loss to Canada, Decline in Farming Produce

Ottawa, Ont., May 28.—Canada's export trade in dairy produce, eggs, bacon and fat cattle, which a few years ago was considered one of the great sources of national wealth, has dwindled away to an alarming extent. The shrinkage shown by the comparative trade returns of the past few years emphasizes the fact that great and far-reaching changes have taken place in this line of Canadian business.

A short time ago the export trade in eggs was an important feature in the business activities of this country. To-day this trade has not only receded to the vanishing point, but eggs during the past year were actually imported by the carload from the United States. It may be pointed out that one Montreal dealer alone has ten carloads of eggs stored in Chicago, which he expects to bring into this country and sell at a big profit next year.

BUTTER EXPORTS CEASE.

Then, too, Canadian exporters for years did a big business in butter with the old country, and it competed successfully with the Danish product. There has, however, for the past two or three years been a steady reduction in this line, until last year's shrinkage of 300,000 packages brought the exports of butter down to practically nothing. Nor does that tell the whole tale, for butter was actually brought into Canada at Halifax and Vancouver during the past winter in large quantities. The exports of Canadian cheese, which have been falling off rapidly since 1905, showed a further decrease last year of 370,000 boxes, while this year's production to date has been fully one-third less than in the same period of a year ago.

The record and prospects in the bacon trade appears to be just as bad, if not worse. Between 1902 and 1907 the exports of Canadian meats were cut in two, and it is estimated that the shipments this year will probably not be more than 50 per cent. of the total for last year.

GET AMERICAN MEAT.

Carloads of American meats and lard have been brought into Canada and distributed from Montreal throughout eastern Canada, while Manitoba and the west are largely supplied with meats from Chicago.

The trade in fat cattle from Ontario and ranch cattle from the ranges of the Canadian Northwest sheds no brighter light upon this gloomy situation. Prominent exporters are pointing out that as Canada's exports of manufactured articles are comparatively small at present, and the trade in farm products, exclusive of grain, seems to be rapidly disappearing, grain, lumber and the products of the mines are about the only principal commodities left to the country to maintain its balance of trade.

During the present season the authority of the Canadian mounted police will be extended to a part of the Northwest the resources and conditions of which at the present time are little known. This will carry the police patrols as far north as a line drawn from Great Slave Lake to Chesterfield Inlet, on Hudson Bay.

During the past winter the American whalers operating in the Atlantic Ocean adjacent to the mouth of the Mackenzie River and eastward along the coasts of the islands in Beaufort Sea have acknowledged, for the first time on record, Canadian authority in these remote northern regions by the payment of customs duties.

Eyes of Dead Woman Revealed Hook-Nosed Man

Alton, Ills., June 1.—Belief in the theory that the last object seen by a murdered person may be fixed as a photographic negative on the retina caused Coroner Streeper to have a photograph taken of one eye of a woman whose body was taken on Thursday from the Mississippi River, and who, it was thought, was murdered and thrown into the river. The developed photograph, the coroner says, shows a faint outline of the face of a man with hooked nose, bearded cheeks, and glabrous scalp. The coroner says he will try to find a possible murderer by the use of this photograph.

A post mortem examination established the absence of water in the lungs, although the body had evidently been in the water for several weeks, and the neck was broken.

106 Barnardo Girls Arrive in Peterboro

A special train from Montreal arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, carrying 200 boys and 100 girls, from the Barnardo Home in London, England. The youngsters crossed "the Pond" on the steamer Dominion, and had an enjoyable trip over. The girls were for Peterborough, and the boys were taken on to Toronto to the Barnardo home there.

The girls were taken in "busses to Hazel Brae and they will be gradually placed out in homes. All the children appeared robust and healthy. They ranged in age from about 10 to 15 or 17 and were likely looking children. The girls had the usual plaited bags and wore long coats of brown or blue cloth and the customary "tams."

Too Much Fire Water for This Red Skin

While on a visit to the city yesterday, a red-skin brave evidently was compelled to take a full out of a bottle of fire water, which somehow got the best of him, and the police station was his lodging house last night.

"Big Chief" had wandered down Simcoe street to gape at the ruins of Sunday's fire, but on finding that pastime too tame had started in to take the scalps of a few youngsters who were on hand. The police were telephoned for, and just as P. C. McGinty headed for the scene the Indian ran right into the arms of the blue coat and was an easy captive.

WHO WILL BE FIRE CHIEF? THE COUNCIL IS UNDECIDED

A Committee will Meet the Firemen Tonight--A Hard Nut to Crack--Other Business Transacted

The City Council met in regular session last night. There were present, Mayor Henry Rush, Aldermen Phelan, McIntyre, Neill, Turner, Bradburn, Fuller, Morgan, Elliott, Tovey and Johnston.

Mr. J. H. Yelland applied for the position of fire chief.

LEGAL REPORT.

Ald. Elliott submitted the following report.

Gentlemen,—Your Legal Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows;—

1. That the mayor and chairman of the committee interview Andrew Graham with authority to settle the claim made by him for goods damaged by water.

2. That the matter of the council co-operating in welcoming an excursion from Whitby under the auspices of the 37th Regt. Band, United Workmen and Sons of England on July 15th and 16th, be left in the hands of the chairman of this committee.

3. That the clerk writes to the Peterborough Radial Railway Co., and tell them of the claim of W. D. Mars and that the cause of the accident was the neglect of the company to spread the snow evenly over the street and ask them whether they are prepared to settle the claim or to defend a suit.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

PROPERTY REPORT.

Ald. Bradburn presented the following report;—

Gentlemen.—Your Property Committee beg leave to report as follows;

1. We recommend that the chairman of this committee be authorized to engage a practical plumber to examine the work referred to by E. R. Stocker and make a report to this committee.

2. In accordance with the resolution of the council your committee authorized the mayor to send a guarantee to the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives, that this city will pay to the hospital $7.00 a week for the maintenance of Reynold Myers for one year, providing they receive him and care for him for that time.

3. We recommend that the contract for furnishing ice for the fountains near the police station and at the Central Park for the season be given to T. A. Hewitt, at the price of $75 for the season.

4. We asked for and received tenders for eighty tons of coal, being fifty tons for the city building and thirty tons for the fire hall, and recommend that the tender of R. J. Wolstenholm at $6.50, being the lowest, be accepted, the coal to be first-class hard coal, and market weigh tickets to be delivered with the coal.

5. We recommend that the chairman be authorized to purchase lamps for the Victoria Park.

6. We recommend that the city purchase from J. T. O'Connell, property on the north end of Bethune street 66 feet wide and so far as he owns it, for the continuation of Bethune street, at $300, and sell him lots 10 and 11 plan 22A, for $200. Mr. O'Connell to be permitted to grade Paddy street under the direction of the city engineer provided he uses any gravel taken from it to fill up that part of the gravel pit which is on Paddy street, this whole proposition to be dependent upon Mr. Dixon giving a right of way for the extension of Bethune street from Mr. O'Donnell's property to Aberdeen avenue.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

R. J. Wolstenholm, having withdrawn his tender to supply 80 tons of coal at @6.50 a ton, clause 6qr. was struck out.

The report was then adopted.

Ald. Elliott moved, seconded by Ald. Morgan,—That the city's patronage for coal be distributed among the local dealers, share and share alike.—Carried

FINANCE REPORT.

Ald. Bradburn submitted the following report;

Gentlemen.—Your Finance Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows,

1. That a grant of $125 be made to the Orange Association towards decorating the city for the 12th of July celebration and that they be given the use and control of the Central Park on the day of the celebration.

2. That a grant of $150 be made to the Salvation Army Band provided they play in the Victoria Park or in such other park as may be designated from time to time by the chairman of the Property Committee, on each Tuesday night during the season.

3. That the assessors be paid $75 each on account of salary on the last days of the months of May, June, July and August of this year and the balance when they return the rolls with their work employed.

4. That the city treasurer be authorized to pay Mr. J. Newlan $2.25 witness fees in the case in Rossel vs Nixon.

5. That the request of Dr. D. King for a bonnell license for a fee of $10.00 be granted.

6. That the clerk purchased the stationery required for the city to the end of the year by tender from the local stationers.

7. That the business tax of R. J. Soden of $14.70 on Hunter street be remitted provided he pays the business tax on No. 369 George street.

8. That a cheque for 98 cents be issued to R. Nicholls for dog tax paid in error.

9.—That a cheque be issued to the tax collector for $6.04 taxes on part of lots Nos. 12, 13 and 14, plan 26 and for $7.36 for taxes on 56 Wescott St., being taxes for part of the year 1907 on property purchased by the city.

10. That a number of current accounts be paid.

The above report was adopted as read, on the motion of Ald. Bradburn, seconded by Ald. Fuller.

The Property Committee were empowered to act in reference to clause one of the report re grant of $125 to the Orangemen for decorating purposes.

GIFTS TO BANDS.

A bylow authorizing the grant of $150 to the Salvation Army Band, passed its several readings.

Mr. Elliott, of the Peterborough Band (a new organization), addressed the council, and asked for a little assistance towards paying off the balance of indebtedness on their instruments.

This matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

FIRE CHIEF.

Mr. Kugan here addressed the council, and on behalf of the merchants of Peterborough, urged upon the council the necessity of the appointment of a first class man to fill the position of fire chief, whether he be a local man or not.

Mr. Collier, a chief sufferer from the fire of Sunday, urged upon the council to take steps to provide a responsible and capable chief. He contended that had the brigade been properly directed, 30 per cent. of company's loss would have been avoided.

Mr. Denham of the American Cereal Co., said the fire of Sunday had brought home to him the possibilities of loss to his own company. He urged that an outside man be appointed chief, sentiment ignored, and a capable permanent brigade of 12 or 15 men be installed. He could not see why the fire engine which would have done splendid work, had not been brought into service.

Mr. Collier here claimed that the word 20 minutes after the fire bell hose was not playing on the flames rang. It was seven o'clock, over two hours after the fire started before an extension ladder was brought into requisition to reach the roof of the elevator, and this caused the destruction of 6,000 bushels of grain. He strongly contended that had the fire fighting work been handled properly, a great loss of property, would have been avoided.

Archie Moore contended that the firemen did all that could have been done, and all the firemen in America could not have saved the Peterborough Cereal mill.

Mr. E. G. Peterson of the C.G.E., urged that it was time an effective permanent brigade was installed. He could not, after Sunday's exhibition, vouch for the efficiency of Peterborough's volunteer brigade.

A heart to heart discussion was here gone into as to the appointment of a fire chief, the aldermen voicing their respective opinions, and—

Ald. Neil moved, seconded by Ald. Gillespie,—That Aldermen Turner, Bradburn and Phelan be a committee to recommend the appointment of a fire chief, and that ex-Chief Rutherford and the present brigade be asked to continue in office until permanent arrangements are reached.

Ald. Morgan here spoke in favor of the present brigade as being more efficient than any paid brigade, each member of the existing organization being in one way or the other connected with the building trade, which counts in the case of fire.

Ald. Neill's motion was here carried, and ex-Chief Rutherford and his brigade will be asked to continue in office until such time as permanent arrangements are entered into.

The fire brigade are meeting tonight, and the above-mentioned committee will discuss the situation with them.

Bigamist Married Methodist Minister's Daughter in Renfrew

Renfrew, June 1.—Mr. John E. Anderson, inspector of schools at Brockville, and formerly principal of the Public School here, was arrested here Saturday afternoon on the charge of bigamy, and on being brought before Police Magistrate Eady, pleaded guilty, and was committed to the county jail at Pembroke to await his sentence, which will be pronounced at 10 o'clock Saturday morning next. The week's delay was given at the request of Detective Rogers of Toronto, so that he might communicate with the department at Toronto.

The news of his arrest spread rapidly throughout the town, and as he had always been held in the highest respect while in Renfrew, and married only on April 20th last, a little more than a month ago, Miss Florence Jamieson, the youngest daughter of Rev. W. S. Jamieson, of the Renfrew Methodist church, the story was hard to believe by many. Since their marriage the couple have resided in Brockville, and it was while they were on a visit to Mrs. Anderson's parents here that the arrest was made.

Rev. and Mrs. Jamieson have been attending the Methodist Conference in Montreal and the news was only broken to them there this morning. As Mr. Jamieson has just been appointed to his new station in Stanstead, Que., he was to have preached there yesterday, and no services were held in the Methodist church here.

PROSTRATED WITH GRIEF.

Miss Jamieson, Anderson's second wife, is only 21 years of age, and along with her two elder sisters who alone are at home, is prostrated with grief, and medical attendance had to be called Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jamieson will probably return today. The ladies of the church here had been making arrangements to give them a farewell banquet this week before their departure, but it will probably be dropped now. Mr. Jamieson was to have preached his farewell sermon here Sunday next.

HAS NINE CHILDREN.

Anderson's first wife is living at present in Toronto, and he is said to have nine children, five daughters and four sons, two of whom are married and have children. His first wife's name was Eliza Jane Walker, and the marriage took place on May 24th, 1877, at Wingham, Huron county, it being celebrated by the Rev. G. A. Mitchell, Methodist minister of that place. His own brother was a witness of the marriage, and the certificate showed that he was 23 years of age at the time. His correct age now would be 54, but at his marriage in April, his age was registered as 30.

HAS NOT SUPPORTED THEM.

It appears that all communication with his family was carried on by Anderson through his son, and Detective Rogers says that he has done nothing toward the support of his family for at least three years. Just before his second marriage, it appears that he caused a letter to be sent to his first wife from out West saying that while on his way to a school in British Columbia, he caught smallpox on the train, and was forced to get off at Banff, while at the same time he was arranging for his marriage here.

WIFE GOT A MARKED PAPER.

After his marriage in April, it appears that a marked copy of a paper containing the account of the wedding, fell into the hands of his wife in Toronto. Information was then laid by the family to the Department of Justice at Toronto, and investigations were immediately begun, which finally led to his arrest.

PREACHED IN CHURCH.

He was at one time connected with the Great Western Insurance Company, but for the last number of years has been teaching. He was principal of the Public School here for two years, until last September, when he received the appointment of inspector of schools at Brockville, where he has lived ever since.

Home Fat Reducer

Works Rapidly and Safely—Requires No Exercising and Allows You to Eat What You Like Cut this Out

For the benefit of those who wish to reduce their flesh quickly and safely, we will give the receipt and directions in full for a simple household remedy that can be obtained at trifling cost from any good drug store: 1-2 ounce Marmola, 3-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and 4 3-4 ounces Syrup Simplex. All three are cheap and wholesome, but you should take care to get an unbroken package, so that you get Marmola and not a substitute. When you get home mix the three by shaking them together in a large bottle and take one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Follow these directions and you will have the best fat-reducer that money can buy. It will take off the flesh at the rate of at least two pounds a week without disarranging the stomach or causing wrinkles, while best of all, no exercising or dieting is required to help it out. You can get results and at the same time take things easy and eat what you like—as much as you like—and whenever you like.

Cherokee Indians will be Here This Month

Peterborough ball fans are to be given a real treat in the near future. Manager Johnston has secured a game with the touring Cherokee Indian ball team, who have won a world wide reputation on the diamond. They will be in Peterborough about the middle of the month, and will buck up against the "Petes."

The Cherokees are all full-blooded Indians and with their war paint on, will make a mighty effort to take the scalps of the "Dago" outfield, and the rest of the Petes. The game should be one of the best ever seen in the city, and will no doubt draw a stellar crowd of fans.

The advance agent of the Cherokees will be in the city early next week to meet Manager Johnston, when the final arrangements will be completed and the date of the game decided on.

Number of Employees were Laid off Yesterday

Last night at 6 o'clock, about 30 employes of the Canadian General Electric Company, were given notice that their services would not be needed again until called on. The reason for this action, is on account of there not being enough work on hand to enable the company to retain their services.

Twelve men were laid off in the machine shop, eight in the tool room, two in the brass finishing department, and eight or ten more in various parts of the works. Some of the men were told to return to work in a fortnight, while the rest were given no definite answer.

By a score of 6 to 3, Karnets defeated the Strathcona last night in an exhibition game on Nicholls oval. The game was a good one from start to finish, the slab artists fighting it out all the way.

Yesterday was Nomination Day

Yesterday was nomination day throughout Ontario. The proceedings for the riding of West Peterborough were the quietest ever held for many years. The nomination of the two candidates, Mr. Bradburn and Mr. Gill ape, and the election of an agent for each candidate, was practically all there was to the meeting. The usual nomination speeches were dispensed with, and only a handful of electors turned out to see to.

The nominations took place in the court house between twelve and two o'clock, returning officer, Sheriff Hall, being in charge. Mr. T. E. Bradburn was nominated by Mr. W. E. Moore and Ald. Harry Phelan, while the papers of Mr. Gillespie bore the signatures of Mr. Andrew McFarlane and Mr. J. O'Brien. Mr. E. L. Goodwill was appointed agent for Mr. Gillespie, and Mr. E. A. Peck, will act in that capacity for Mr. Bradburn.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often shows up, the Kidneys are inactive and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers. Counsel

What Do They Cure?

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription."

The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels, (as mucous colitis), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or ulcerative stages of these affections it is often successful in affecting cures.

"Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of one class of diseases—those peculiar weaknesses, derangements and irregularities incident to womanhood. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and nervine. For weak women, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formulas of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each ingredient entering into these medicines.

The words of praise bestowed on the several ingredients entering into "Doctor Pierce's medicines by such writers should have more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials, because such men are writing for the guidance of their medical brethren and know whereof they speak.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being compounds of glycerin extracts of the roots of native, American medicinal forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, small, sugar-coated, easy to take as candy, regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

Funeral of Late Wm. H. Bouskill

Toronto, June 1.—The funeral of Engineer William H. Bouskill, who died from injuries received in the train wreck at Owen Sound on Friday night, took place from his late residence, 13 Northcote avenue at 1.45 this afternoon. There was a short private service at the house, at which only the relatives and near friends attended, after which a public funeral service was held at St. Ann's Episcopal Church. Rev. Lawrence B. Skey, M.A., rector of the church, officiated.

Many beautiful floral offerings were sent as tokens of sympathy by friends of the family, and the different railway men's organizations. Among them were a harp of white roses, from the father, mother, four sisters, and two brothers. A design, representing "Gates-Ajar" was the offering of the West Toronto Division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and a wreath from London Division, No. 528, of the same order. A beautiful gates bore the names of the wife and two sons of deceased. B. of L. F. E., 282, also sent a wreath.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers attended in a body. The pall bearers were all relatives, and consisted of a brother, Fred Bouskill, and five brothers-in-law, H. Rush, Peterborough; W. J. Foster, Hawkstone; John Anderson, A. J. Veale, and Richard Foster, all of Toronto. The interment took place in Prospect Cemetery.

Blood-Cleansing Recommended in the Spring Time

In This Way The System Is Strengthened and Better Health Assured.

From the earliest time it has been universally acknowledged that the transitory period between winter and spring is the seed time of disease.

Consequently it is necessary for us all to take suitable medicine.

A delay gives the germs and weakness a better chance to take hold.

Don't wait, think of our small resisting powers, and begin building up today. For weakness, overwork and debility the doctors prescribe Ferrozone—let it help you now.

Vitality and power are instilled into the blood; this means new strength for all weak organs.

The fire of youth will dance in your veins, and new found energy will increase your desire to work.

Ferrozone supplies the nourishing and tissue-building material your system lacks. Isn't this "a reason why?"

From Cornbermere, Ont., Mrs. Jno Oram writes as follows: "For a number of years I was sickly in the spring-time. I felt tired, nervous and had headaches. My blood was weak and damp days brought on rheumatism. My nervous system was unstrung and I felt utterly worn out. Ferrozone revived me in a short time. In two days my appetite increased, and I could feel a building-up process going on. This great tonic made a new person of me and I don't think a more strengthening medicine for the spring can be found."

Wouldn't it be just fine for you to get back your old-time spirits and vigor? Easily done with "Ferrozone"; commence to-day. Sold by all dealers, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50.

TREATING THE INSANE

Dr. C. C. Easterbrook, a Scotch alienist, has been applying the fresh air treatment to cases of acute insanity. His former treatment included keeping the patients in the wards with only a limited amount of outdoor activity. He now keeps them in bed for a month in the open air, with milk as their chief nourishment; after that they are allowed to get up and walk about, or do some light work, but not permitted to go indoors. By this procedure he has secured much more favourable results. It has long been known, too, that in typhoid fever patients are treated in tents, the mortality is reduced to a minimum; and astonishing cures have been made in cases of pneumonia treated on roofs, with no more shelter than is necessary to keep the rain or snow out of the bed. That the treatment of consumption has been revolutionized by the fresh air method, and the mortality from that plague greatly reduced in consequence is also known to most people. But none of these experiments should be ventured on by persons susceptible to cold and chills except under medical directions. There is one thing nearly every man, woman and child can do, however, with safety and certain benefit, it is claimed, and that is, to leave the bedroom window open sufficiently to keep up a constant light current of air, night and day, without lying in a strong, cold draught, which is not necessary or beneficial, but under certain circumstances some authorities state might be extremely dangerous.

A circular advertising one of the Niagara Falls hotels enumerated among its inducements offered to guests a complete system of electric heating in use since 1895. There are 175 bedrooms. The electricity is generated by the falls, but in that respect Niagara has no advantage over this city. Electric heating on a small scale has been tried there but found as alleged, to be too expensive for general use. The substitution of the clean white coal for black coal and dirty ashes, and the saving of time and labor by electric heating would be a boon if it could be had at a reasonable price. But that seems a long way off.

SUNSET AT GUAYAQUIL.

There is No Twilight, No Interval Between Daylight and Dark.

The days and nights at Guayaquil are of equal length. The sun knocks off promptly at 6 o'clock in the evening and gets up at 6 in the morning with equal regularity the whole year around. There is no twilight, no gloaming, no interval whatever between daylight and dark—only a brilliant illumination, the sudden disappearance of a red ball into a blue ocean, a spread of flame color over all the western sky for a few minutes and a purple haze in the east.

Then the surface of the ocean, like the heavens, is lighted with millions of strange and shifting stars, for the water is so impregnated with phosphorus that each tiny wave is tipped with light, and the foam that follows in the wake of the vessel is often like a stream of fire. Sometimes you can see porpoises swimming along the bow of the vessel livid with phosphorescent light and followed by a streak of sparks like a comet's tail.

The Southern Cross, with the right arm tipped out at proper angle, lies straight ahead in the midst of myriads of unknown worlds that look strange to those accustomed to the northern constellations. Under the left arm is a large black spot in the heavens, brightened by only a single modest star, which the sailors call "the devil's dinner bag." Over the stern of the vessel in the early evening you can plainly distinguish the familiar constellation of the Great Bear, but it goes to bed with the children.

HIS SERVICES.

What Became of All the Bills He Introduced in Congress.

"Yes, my fellow citizens," said the political candidate, "if you have paid any attention to the work of congress you will have noticed that during the past session I introduced twenty-two bills, each of which was intended to benefit this community. I stand before you today with the proud consciousness of having served you faithfully and to the best of my ability. Those twenty-two bills would, if they had been passed, have made this one of the most favored districts on God's green earth, and"—

"Oh," yelled a man in the gallery, "we know you introduced 'em, all right, but what happened to 'em after that?"

"Gentlemen, I appeal to your sense of honor. Do you consider it fair that I should be interrupted in this manner? Is it right that I should"—

"There ain't no harm in answerin' the question, is there?" asked another of the statesman's hearers.

"Well, sir, I will tell you what became of those bills, my fellow citizens. Every one of them was printed in the Congressional Record, where, if you will look over the files, you may find them today. But to revert to the seed question, gentlemen, I do not hesitate to promise that no man living in this, the most splendid district in our grand old state, shall appeal to me in vain if you shall deem it best to send me back to Washington, where I have served you with such signal ability."

The Ticket That Came Back.

A prominent railway man tells of a railway ticket that took a sudden journey on its own account. It appears that as a northbound train on the Colorado and Southern road passed one of the stations a passenger in a forward car raised a window, and in an instant his ticket was blown from his hands. The passenger naturally gave it up for lost and was much surprised when the baggagemaster handed it to him a little while later. It appears that when the ticket flew through the window a southbound train was passing. The suction of that train, which was moving at a rapid rate, drew the ticket along with it, and as it passed the rear end of the northbound train it blew into the door of the smoking car. There it was found by the baggagemaster.

Moscow's Beggars.

Of the beggars so characteristic of Russia's ancient capital a writer says: "The old city of Moscow could not easily be dissociated from the 50,000 beggars who haunt its streets. The city belongs to them. If the city rats own the drains, they own the streets. They are part of the city; they are in perfect harmony with it. Take away the beggars and you destroy something vital. Some are so old and weather battered that they make the Kremlin itself look older, and of those who lie at the monastery doors some are so fearfully pitiable in their decrepitude that they lend power to the churches."

HEAD OFFICE—MANNING CHAMBERS TORONTO—ONTARIO

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares;—

Casey Mountain shares are fully paid-up and non-assessable.

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which has regular net-work of silver bearingveins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain has the goods in unlimited quantities sufficient to last for generations.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 to date varying in width from 16 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock speculation), and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 900 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent. to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Dividends Paid by Cobalt Mining Companies

Buffalo Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907...	$ 81,000 00
Foster Cobalt Mining Co., Ltd., have paid	45,000.00
McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd., have paid...	45,000.00
The Conisgas Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907 ...	200,000.00
The Cobalt Silver Queen, Cobalt, paid during 1907	120,000.00
Temiscamings & Hudson Bay Mining Co., Ltd., have paid	746,120,00

(These shares could have been had at 60 cents, and have sold as high as $190.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $60,000,000 00 has been paid in dividends.

The Tredwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2 00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $20 00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would means a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500 00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically a close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar, each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Additional information can be had from the Secretary-Treasurer Dr. H. A. Wood, 408 1-2 George street, Peterborough.

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past session. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

Provincial Elections 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro :

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—As you are aware, I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire freed, economical and efficient administration of affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province, generally.

The test of good representation either by a Government or member is good work, and, in this respect both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr. Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure, for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evident interests of the city in every direction, and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our working men and our manufacturing industries; and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying interest that they have done so, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies, inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent., while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per was shown by the Government reviving the contract system of prison labor, abolishing by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labor at 3 cents per hour to compete against free labor.

The introduction of the "spoils system," the failure to remove license administration from the sphere of political influence, the three-fifths handicap to Local Option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and discouragement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, the neglect of law reform, with a view of making our law courts cost.

Disregard of the rights of labor available for securing justice, within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters in which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests, which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen,

G. A. GILLESPIE

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

reserve may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

His View of It.

A little boy had been sent to the dairy to get some eggs, and on his way back he dropped the basket containing them.

"How many did you break?" asked his mother.

"Oh, I didn't break any," he replied, "but the shells came off some of them."

Keeping His Word.

Mrs. Fogarty (in fashionable restaurant)—Now, for goodness' sake, Mike, don't order Irish stew.

Mr. Fogarty—All right, I won't, dear. Walther, fetch me ayther some Hiberian suey or Celtic goulash!

She Didn't Understand.

"Can you tell your present fiance's ring?" inquired the romantic girl as the doorbell sounded.

"Why, certainly," answered her practical friend. "It's the newest of the lot."

Age glides stealthily on and begullies us as it flies.—Ovid.

THE BUSINESS GIRL.

Don't Be Afraid of Undertaking New Ventures.

If you want to succeed you must dress the part. Don't be wasteful or extravagant in your dress, but keep yourself neat looking and well groomed. Don't go about with a slipshod, hangdog air, as though you and success were as far apart as the poles. If you look helpless and incompetent no one will trust you with work of any kind.

When you apply for a post do so in a modest yet confident manner.

Business men are not looking for helpless, dependent femininity in their employees.

What they want is a well behaved, capable business woman.

Dress as well as you can afford to, but don't make the mistake of wearing beads and laces and elbow sleeves while on duty.

Many an applicant has failed to win a position because she was untidy or overdressed.

If you look capable, alert and interested, opportunities are sure to come your way.

When there is something important to be done your employer will say: "I will put it in the hands of Miss K. She looks trustworthy."

The first steps in the ladder of success are the most difficult ones to climb.

But nothing succeeds like success, you know, and when you have once made yourself known as a capable, successful worker half the battle is won.

Don't be afraid of undertaking new ventures or of doing more than your share of the work.

Failure once or twice or half a dozen times does not mean failure for good and all.

These rules hold good with men as well as women.

Looking in Humor.

Little Bobbie was entertaining Mr. Greenley while Miss Tripperson was upstairs adjusting her back hair and giving her face a few final dabs with the powder puff.

"My sister says you ain't got no idea of humor," said Bobbie.

"Indeed!" Mr. Greenley returned. "When did she say that?"

"Just after you was here the last time. She said she seen you lookin' at yourself in the mirror several times, and you never laughed wunst."

Very Steady.

Relative—Well, I sincerely hope you will be happy with him, Mandy. Is he a steady young man? Miss Mandy—Steady! My goodness, Aunt Judy, he's been coming to see me for more than eleven years.—London Punch.

Regal Magnificence.

"The Muckroyds have a new flat, I believe."

"Yes, and it is something magnificent too. The bathroom is so spacious that it is possible to have two Turkish towels in it at once."

Fans in the Eighteenth Century.

A letter in the London Spectator dated May, 1711, gives a most interesting description of an academy where ladies could be drilled in the proper use of their fans and initiated into the mysteries of "the angry flutter, the modest flutter, the timorous flutter, the confused flutter, the merry flutter and the amorous flutter." In the eighteenth century at dancing assemblies in London, Bath and other places of fashionable resort gentlemen chose their partners by "lottery of the fan." The fans of all the ladies present were placed in a hat, whence each gentleman had the privilege of selecting one, the lady to whom it belonged becoming his allotted partner for the evening. Of course such a custom entailed a great study of fans on the part of the gentlemen. Boswell, Steele and Pope found something to say about the fan, and Gay, enlarging upon the efforts of his predecessors, wrote a long poem in praise of the fan, attributing its invention to Venus.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—drains blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it supply equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If it's painful periods with women, same cause.
If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is so certainly, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

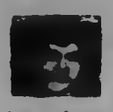
Clean Up Inside

Blood and System Cleansing in the Spring Makes Good Health all Summer.

In spite of all your careful habits, its safe to say that in the spring you feel poorly—have a throbbing sensation in the head—skin is pale or yellow, with dark rings under the eyes. If not absolutely bilious the system is so full of bile that you feel heavy and tired all day long.

Clean up, work off the winter's accumulation of waste, purify your blood. Do this and you'll feel fresh as a prize-fighter. "For ten years, says W. B. Sangster, of Concord, "I suffered greatly from impure blood, which made me feel debilitated and unfit for work. I had no appetite suffered from indigestion and gas, had some pains in the back, caused by poor kidney action. Spring was the hardest time of all, and many a time I felt dependent and languid enough to throw up the sponge. I was impressed by the marvellous work done by Dr. Hamilton's Pills and tried them. They suited me exactly. In one week I felt like new. I was braced up, got rid of blood weakness, gained in flesh, got back my old time appearance and spite its Dr. Hamilton's Pills will clean all the sickness out of a man in short order and I urge young and old to use this grand tonic medicine."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a perfect spring medicine; they destroy germs and poisons of every description and strength whereby the system rallies and the patient quickly enjoys the blessings of Perfect Health. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills—to-day—25c at all dealers.



SINCE CHIEF BLACK CLOUD has come to town, many people have tried his Blood Purifier, and results have delighted them in case derangement of the stomach liver kidney and blood. Will be here all summer and manufacture his medicines, made from roots, herbes and barks. Take the car and call on him at

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 PER CENT FIRST MORTGAGE FIVE-YEAR-OLD BONDS

dated January 11, 1908, and maturing January 11, 1913. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico, Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness except this present Bond Issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

$100.00 Stock Bonus Given with Every $100.00 Bond

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 5,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.47 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $60,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $5,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,456 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $562.50.

The Money Derived from the Sale of These Bonds

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 80 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the Bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $750,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated —an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is small and promises to be quickly sold.

To whom it may concern:—

We hereby beg to state that The Ures Consolidated Mining Company has during the past five years made several deliveries of bullion to this bank, and it is the opinion of mining men here that they have the making of a fair mine, and further, that the properties owned and controlled by them bid promise of becoming paying properties.

From our knowledge of the men connected, we believe they are doing all in their power to bring about the results above mentioned.

Western Orders Pour Into Wholesalers

Winnipeg, June 2.—A remarkable feature of the returning confidence due to the crop and crop prospects is the number and volume of orders being wired down by Winnipeg and Western jobbers to Eastern wholesale houses. This movement is quite unprecedented for this season of the year and represents orders held back pending the conclusion of seeding operations.

POLICE

$50 and costs was the decision of justice handed out to a meal ticket keeper by Magistrate Dumble in the police court yesterday morning for selling whisky to a minor on May 25th last.

The boy, a 16-year-old lad named youth, swore that he had purchased a 40-cent flask over the bar of the hotel in question. The flask had been paid for by himself and two companions, and after a portion had been consumed the bottle was thrown away in the yard at the rear of Dingeon's Carting Works. The bottle was produced in court, having been recovered by the boy at the instance of the police.

The barkeeper from whom the boy testified that he had obtained the liquor, swore that it had not been sold to him.

Mr. Dumble remarked that he hadn't a doubt in his mind as to the case and fixed the defendant $50 and costs.

John George, the Indian arrested Monday by P. C. McGinty, pleaded guilty to being drunk and was remanded until Monday. A charge under the Liquor license act will likely develop.

Plenty of Water for the Drives

Mr. J. J. Pearson, caretaker of the Government dams on Burnt River, was in the city yesterday morning, and left for home last night. While here, Mr. Pearson stated that the reservoirs were all in splendid condition, and there was plenty of water for the carrying down of the drives.

In all, Mr. Pearson stated, there would be at least 300,000 pieces of timber down the Burnt River and tributaries this season, among these being on of the McDonald Estate drives. The reserve dams only allow the water down when required, so that the authorities have full control of it.

"It will have to be a pretty dry time to catch us without plenty of water," said Mr Pearson.

He also referred to the damages to the West Lake road in Cavendish, caused by the building of the new dam at White Lake. This road has been completely repaired by being raised from three to six feet with stone and gravel in proportion to the rise of the water. The public is asked until Mr. Pearson says that the highway, which is a leading one in the township, is now a substantial one.

GENERAL BULLER HAS PASSED AWAY --SOLDIERLY CAREER

The Man Who Relieved Ladysmith Falls Before Grim Disease--His Character Won Him the Confidence of His Troops and His Sovereign

London, June 2.—General Redvers Henry Buller, who has been ill for some weeks past, is dead. He was born in 1839.

General Buller entered the army in 1858, and in 1901 he had risen to the rank of Lieutenant-general. He saw active service in many parts of the world. He served in China in 1860, in the Ashanti War in 1874, in the Kaffir War, in the Zulu War in 1878-79, he was in South Africa in 1881 and in Egypt in 1882, and was present at the battle of El-El-Kebir; he also fought in the Soudan War in 1884, and was under secretary for Ireland in 1887.

RELIEVED LADYSMITH.

He became well-known during the Boer War, as the man who relieved Ladysmith. He went out to South Africa in 1899, first as general commanding the forces in South Africa, and afterwards as general officer commanding in Natal. He conducted the operations for the relief of Ladysmith, which was successfully accomplished after an investment of 118 days, and subsequently he conducted the operations that resulted in the expulsion of the Boer army from Natal.

AT THE TOP OF THE WAVE.

Neither at that time nor since have General Buller's fellow-countrymen been disposed to underrate the difficulties of the task that was set him, and it is perhaps the greatest tribute to his character as a man and as a soldier that even after the disaster at Colenso he possessed the unalterable confidence of his troops and of his gallant sovereign. At the outbreak of the war he was at the top of the wave, and not a soldier at home or abroad doubted that the office of commander-in-chief was earmarked for him as its next holder. Over and above his personal courage shown on many fields, he was an ideal staff officer and an excellent administrator at the war office.

CONTRACTED A CHILL.

In April Gen. Buller contracted a chill in London, and this indisposition was followed by a severe attack of jaundice and other complications. Early in May a hopeful view of his recovery was entertained by his physicians, and the turn for the worse was unexpected.

General Buller married Lady Audrey Jane Charlotte, daughter of the fourth Marquis Townsend.

The Story of a Biblical Hold-Up

New York, June 2.—The story of a Biblical hold-up was told by some clergymen and their friends who sailed from New York on the Arabic's cruise to the Holy Land. Two of the clergymen returned Saturday on the Celtic. They were the Rev. Griffith Bailey of Washington, D.C., and the Rev. Norman Macleod of Brockville, Canada.

While in the ruins of ancient Ephesus, the Rev. Mr. Bailey had a bad scare, when, in the company of two other ministers, he became separated from the main party of the tourists.

In the caves beneath the foundations where Paul fought lions and other wild beasts could be heard mysterious whistling calls. The three clergymen beat a hasty retreat and, looking back, saw a squad of brigands in full pursuit. The ministers escaped.

The Rev. Mr. Macleod, told of the adventure, bought a revolver and some days later started with other clergymen on the road to Jericho. Mr. Macleod was riding his horse a good distance in advance of the rest, near Mar Saba, when three Bedouin bandits jumped into the path and held him up.

"Here, don't touch me," said the clergyman, shivering. "There are five more coming. Wait for the bunch."

John W. Shire of Sault Ste Marie, Mich., continues the narrative.

"The brigands hailed the approaching five with shouts of glee and ordered them to fork over everything they had. The Rev. Mr. Duke, one of the party, pulled out his Bible and turned to a chapter wherein is related a similar adventure to the one they were passing through.

"Well, well, robbers on the road to Jericho! So it has even been, even according to the Gospel,' said Mr. Duke; 'seems to me the road hasn't improved much in 1,900 years.' He pointed to the text to verify his reference, and the robbers were so much amazed that the leader dropped his musket.

"Mr. Macleod then whipped out his revolver, covered the brigands and advised them to depart in peace or they would be filled with bullets.

"'And they beat it.'"

The Old Volunteer Fire Brigade Back Again in Harness

Ald. Johnston's proposed paid fire brigade will not materialize for some time to come at least. The members of the volunteer fire brigade and a committee from the City Council held a conference last night, and they came to an amicable agreement. The present brigade who some time ago tendered their resignation to the council, will continue in the city's service with Chief Rutherford at their head they will be found fighting the flames as efficiently as ever. Ald Morgan is much pleased with the action taken last night. He has fought hard for the retaining of the present fire brigade which is as efficient if not more so than any paid brigade in any city in Canada, the size of Peterborough.

Aldermen Elliott and McIntyre were opposed to the establishment of a permanent brigade without first taking the present brigade into the council's confidence.

No doubt the feeling of the citizens who were incensed at the council's action in calling for a permanent brigad without consulting the present brigad, had considerable to do with last night's decision.

Board of Education in Regular Session Last Night

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education held last night was of a quiet nature. Only eight of the trustees were present and a little after eight o'clock before a quorum was formed.

The reading of the minutes was the first business occupying the attention of the board, after which several communications were read.

E. C. Swigley of the commercial department of the high school, wrote the board with a view to awakening them up to the fact that he had been forgotten when the teachers' salaries were raised. The communication was marked received.

Mr. McClarry, principal of the South Ward school, wrote to the board, tendering his resignation.

Messrs. W. H. Wilson and Joseph Dublin wrote, asking for the position of caretaker of the new Collegiate Institute.—Received.

A letter was read from C. H. Bishop of Toronto, acknowledging the board's letter to him.

The monthly report from the schools was read, which were all satisfactory.

Mr. Hill moved, seconded by Mr. Morrison, to the effect that the resignation of Mr. McClary be accepted.—Carried.

Chairman Hill of the Committee of appointments read the report of the committee, and then made a motion that it be received and adopted.

The report of the Finance Committee, recommending the payment of several accounts, was read, and on a motion by the chairman of the committee, the report was adopted.

The Supervision Committee's report was also read and adopted, as was that of the Property Committee.

Trust Hill.—"I have been during past few months investigating the condition and work done by the public school caretakers of the city, with a view to drawing up a schedule of work and a scale of wages for caretakers. The following is the best scale that could be compiled, in my estimation.

The following salary schedule shall be applicable to all janitors engaged in the Public schools and Collegiate Institute of the city of Peterborough.

The remuneration shall be determined by the number of occupied teachers' class rooms, and shall be as follows:

1 $60 for each occupied class room up to and including eight rooms.

2 $50 for each additional occupied class room over eight.

3 An allowance of $150 per year for each occupied class room to be given for the purchase of tools, soap, brooms, etc., for cleaning and repairing purposes.

4 $50 extra per year shall be allowed the janitor of the King Edward school for attending to the lawn and grounds.

5 All janitors having charge of schools containing over four occupied class rooms shall give their whole and undivided attention to the work.

School	Salary
Collegiate Institute, 11 rooms	$630
Central School, 10 rooms	580
South Central, 10 rooms	580
Queen Alexandra, 10 rooms	580
King Edward, 8 rooms	530
East City, 6 rooms	360
Park street, 4 rooms	240

School	Brooms
Collegiate Institute	$18.50
Central school	15.00
South Central	15.00
Queen Alexandra	15.00
King Edward	12.00
East City	9.00
Park street	6.00

Moved by Mr. Hill, seconded by Dr. Morrison that this schedule be adopted and that it take effect from July 1st, 1908.

Chairman Fair.—The schedule as it is outlined, seems to me to be a very fair one and Mr. Hill's work is commendable.

Mr. Ackerman wanted to know if the caretaker of the South Central school would have to pay for his supplies out of his wages, by the new scale.

Mr. Hill however, fully explained the gist of the report to Mr Ackerman and all was peaceful. The report was adopted.

Mr. Crane made a motion to the effect that Mr. Keasby be appointed to the Board of Examiners.—Carried.

Dr. Morrison wanted to know if something couldn't be done, toward getting a board sidewalk placed around the Collegiate Institute. It was decided to ask the City Council to have the walk laid.

Dr. Morrison moved, seconded by Dr. Burnham, that the schools of the city be closed for the summer holidays on June 26.—Carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

Alberta a Great Coal Province--Prosperity in Western Towns

Winnipeg, June 3.—Financial and real estate men of Western Canada, and particularly Manitoba, have awakened to the fact within the past few weeks, that the investor and prospective settler from the middle states, are showing more inclinations to come to this country than ever before.

Thomas Beattie of Winnipeg returned recently from an extended trip to Southern Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas City and Missouri and the message that he brought back was a most encouraging one. In a recent conversation he made the following statement, which goes to show just where Western Canada stands, in the minds of the people of the Middle West of the United States. I found that the great interest in the lands of the southwestern states, particularly Texas, New Mexico and Colorado is now practically a thing of the past. I am satisfied that from now on, our country will be the first and last consideration of the homeseekers and investors in the middle west of the United States.

"The recent financial depression was quite serious in the States I visited and affected all branches of business in that country, but I was pleased to see that the farmer was the man with the ready cash for a good investment. He had set aside his cash for just the class of investment that Western Canada offers."

"The agents of the Canadian government at St. Paul, Omaha and Kansas City, I found were very active in supplying these people literature, and replying to inquiries both by mail and over the counters.

"I was shown a table by an agent taken from the daily weather reports, published from Washington by the United States government. The table shows the temperature at the same time each day in Chicago, Sioux City, Prince Albert and Regina". Mr. Beattie went on to state that after looking over the table he found that the temperature at Prince Albert was higher than at any other of the four points. This fact goes to illustrate just what kind of weather the Western Canadian people have, in the most important times of the year, the early spring and fall.

WONDERFUL GROWTH.

Western Canada is growing, (every portion of it) and there is little necessity of dwelling on that fact at any length. It might be surprising to some of the pessimists, however, to learn from accurate figures, just how great a growth is taking place.

Alberta is a new province, and the report issued by the Provincial Secretary a few days ago, for the year 1907, will show it is a prosperous one. The revenue collected by the department during the last year was $32,981.95 as against $26,463.30, for 1906. Four new towns have been incorporated, namely Lacyland, Nanton, Magrath and Taber. One hundred and eighteen new companies were incorporated with a total capitalization of $22,180,950.00.

The above figures will show that Alberta is progressing with rapid strides. The report also mentions the fact, that at the Dominion Fair at Calgary, gold will be exhibited, which will be taken from the Saskatchewan river, in Alberta. Another striking proof of what is taking place within the great wheat belt.

MANY NEW CITIZENS.

During the week of May 25th, registration was carried on in Winnipeg. From the returns it can be seen that there are many citizens in this flourishing city. To register, a person must have lived in the province for twelve months, and the data show large increases over previous ones.

A large majority of the new persons registered, are men from the United States and the old country. The fact as they responded to the call for registration, shows that they are well satisfied in their new homes, and are thinking of the country's welfare.

The crop reports for the past week are most encouraging. From all points come the statements that the weather conditions are good, and that an excellent harvest is almost an assured fact. The recent rains have been of estimable value.

The Bank of Montreal has disposed of the $7,000,00, 12-year issue of Winnipeg bonds—the whole issue has been underwritten in England at 96, which means to the city money at 4 1-3 per cent. The total assessable property of the city in 1908 reaches $106,128,583 as against $43,511,725 in 1907. Statistics just issued by the Assessment department shows a population of 118,352 for 1907 as against 11,717 for 1906.

The business people of Winnipeg are at the present time, more optimistic, than they have been for two years. With the assurance of a summer of prosperity, and a harvest from the Manitoba wheat fields of unexcelled richness, how could it be otherwise. Several of the leading Winnipeg business men have predicted a boom for that city this summer. Judging from the conditions of affairs and the vast improvement in business in general, which has taken place during the past month, there is much room for such a prediction, and things never looked better for the "Chicago of Canada."

Winnipeg, June 2.—The wonderful wealth of Western Canada is becoming more evident each week. On May 11th at Spruce Grove a coal seam 6 inch in lignite was discovered, and before the summer is over it will be mined. The seam is located on section 3, township 53, range 26, W 4th in the immediate vicinity of Edmonton. Borings had been made all through the early spring and at a depth of 375 feet the vein was discovered. Hardly had the find been made, than it was announced that a party of capitalists from Winnipeg and Edmonton would take up the work of mining the seam.

No Pay for Trent Canal Employes

The Trent canal employes are receiving notice from Superintendent McMillan to the effect that they remain in the Government service at their own option, and if they continue at work they must expect no wages until such time as the passing of supplies at Ottawa. He is receiving many requests from employes of the canal for money but regrets he is unable to meet demands owing to the fact that no funds are at his disposal to draw upon.

Pearson-Hill

An exceedingly pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at 621 Dunsmuir st., when Miss Edna T. Hill, first daughter of Mr. Wm. Hill was united in marriage to Mr. H. Alan Pearson, secretary of the St Catharines Y.M.C.A. And son of Mr. J. J. Pearson, of Lindsay.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Pearson, pastor of George street Methodist church, in the beautifully decorated drawing room. The wedding took place beneath a bell of white lilies and its background was white and many lilies. After the ceremony Miss Ina Mowry sang "Island of Dreams."

The bride was beautifully attired in white silk muli, with trimmings of lovers' knots of white satin ribbon. She wore the conventional bridal veil with lillies of the valley and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was assisted by her sister who was gowned in cream net over silk with trimmings of insertion. She carried pink roses. The groom was ably supported by Mr. M. I. Finnemman, assistant secretary of the West End Y.M.C.A. Little Malcolm Davidson, cousin of the bride, acted as page.

The ceremony was witnessed by the intimate friends of the contracting parties.

Outfielder Murphy of the Petes, is suffering from a badly bruised finger, which he received in a training stunt on Monday.

Rapid progress is being made, in the erection of the new grand stand at Hiveside Park. The stand which will be 168 feet long, will have a seating capacity for 800 people, with lots of room for each spectator. The stand is being erected on the West side of the grounds, right behind the first base line. It is expected that the new structure will be completed in time for the game between Cobourg and Peterborough a week from this Saturday.

Manager Johnston's Petes have quite a program of dates for games this week and next. To-day they play at Lindsay, Saturday they play a league game at Cobourg, Monday they hook up with Belleville 8s, Lawrence League team, Tuesday is as yet an open date, but an effort is being made to arrange a game at Frankford, and on Wednesday the team will play at Wellington, Ontario. Latonia, Ky.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests afford us most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we will properly investigate them; and, in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled curse it is constantly making of women's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic (female) pains, periods, irregularities, prolapsus and other displacements, caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

Alberta Fall Wheat is Two Feet High

Winnipeg, June 2.—Crop prospects continue to be satisfactory and growth vigorous and rapid. Many points report wheat up from twelve to fifteen inches, while out in the fall wheat areas of Southern Alberta some of the grain is two feet high.

The C.P.R. crop report today, covering the west, shows the optimism of all previous reports of the company this spring. Every point tells the same story of prospects of a magnificent crop, such as was never surpassed in the country. General conditions are ideal.

M. W. Hat Angers Judge, Will Get Life Sentence

San Francisco, June 2.—"I'll continue your case till tomorrow morning," said Police Judge Coulan to Mrs. Helen Stanley, a stately negro woman, "and if you come into court again with a hat like that I will send you to jail for the balance of your life."

The Judge was exasperated at the hat that Helen wore. It was of the "Merry Widow" variety, and was about the size of an ordinary round table. The folding doors of the courtroom had to be both opened by the bailiff to enable Helen to enter. The hat was lavishly trimmed with green wreaths and feathers.

This is Best Time For Spring Medicine

[illegible] germs are destroyed, good summer health is assured.

That peculiar weakness so common in the spring, is demoralizing to body and mind alike.

It is the need of a stimulating tonic, to impart quickness and great vitality to the entire system nothing acts like Ferrozone.

In a short time it makes you feel fit and fine, creates a feeling of youth and strength that's surprising.

Ferrozone revives and braces the sickly because it nourishes and builds up the organs that are weak. As a spring tonic appetizer and blood strengthener it is unequalled.

A well known resident of Utopia, Ont., Mr. H. H. Postle, writes: "From long experience I am convinced that everyone requires medicine in the spring. As a rule the blood is thin and impure and the whole system is congested with poisons that should be carried off. I use Ferrozone because it clears up the system, gives you an appetite and makes you feel well. One winter I had serious palpitation of the heart, nervous headaches, and an extreme tired feeling. Sleep was not restful and by spring I was in bad shape. I took six boxes of Ferrozone and was made the picture of health."

Ferrozone makes permanent cures. Absolutely safe because it is purely vegetable and contains no alcohol. Concentrated cure in tablet form, —that's Ferrozone, 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all dealers.

The Glory of Life.

The human race is still in its infancy. Up to the present moment, with a few grand exceptions, man has lived mostly an animal existence. The brute is only partially educated out of him. He has not yet evolved that superb character, that diviner man, foreshadowed in the beast. How few people ever get anything more than a mere glimpse of the true glory of life! Few of us see any real sentiment in life or anything above the real animal existence and animal pleasures. Most of us look upon our occupation as a disagreeable necessity that somehow or other ought to have been and might have been avoided. The trouble with many of us is that we think too meanly of ourselves. Our sordid aims and material, selfish ambitions have so lowered our standards that we think downward instead of upward; we grovel instead of soaring. Our lives are materialistic, selfish, greedy, because we live in the base of our brains, down among the brute faculties. We have never explored to any great extent the upper regions of our brain, never developed our higher intelligence.—Success Magazine.

A Courteous Pirate.

That even a Chinese pirate may have a strong idea of chivalry is proved by the following excerpt from an item in the North China Daily News: "The launch at once stopped when ordered to do so. The leader of the pirates was then heard to order his men that they were not to molest any one on board who voluntarily handed over his or her valuables. Among the passengers, however, were a father and son, the latter of whom, it seemed, was a little too slow in obeying the pirates' order to hand over his money, with the result that he was shot. Upon hearing the shot the pirate chief, who was on deck, came down into the cabin and, seeing the father of the unlucky young man lamenting over his son's death, addressed the old man and condoled with him on his son's unfortunate and 'undeserved' death. The chief finally brought out of his pocket a roll of $50 and handed the sum to the old man as a solatium, bidding him to refrain from further lamentations."

Oswego, N. Y., June 3.—Lawrence J. Richardson, a wealthy real estate dealer, has turned over to the police several threatening letters demanding $50,000. The writers demand that Richardson place the money near one of the local churches.

Pending investigation, the police have posted a guard about the Richardson house. The police declined to-night to divulge the details of the threats made against Richardson.

Her Purse and His Handkerchief.

"The thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts." The other day a young woman who had dropped her purse, full of pay money for the corps of girls under her charge, considered the thoughts of youth to be rather too "long."

She was in one of the large department stores, and as her hands were occupied she let her purse lie for a few moments where it had fallen. But her eye was on it. In the meantime a bright little fellow not more than nine or ten years old left his parents near by and deftly covered the purse with a handkerchief.

The woman, who is a perfectly self possessed young person, could hardly believe her eyes, but she waited to see what the boy would do. Just as he was stooping to his prize she placed her foot quietly upon it. The youngster slipped back without a word to the well dressed "respectable" people with whom he was.

Then the woman picked up her purse and, taking the handkerchief over to the lad, handed it to him, saying, "There is no reason why you should lose your handkerchief just because you didn't get my purse!"

Too Good to Miss.

"Theater audiences have improved in recent years," said a manager. "Why, with provincial touring companies in the past maltreatment was regularly expected. In fact, the companies profited by it in more ways than one.

"I know of a company that was playing 'The Broken Vow' in Paint Rock, a one night stand. The audience didn't like 'The Broken Vow,' and eggs, cabbages and potatoes rained upon the stage.

"Still the play went on. The hero raved through his endless speeches, dodging an onion or a baseball every other minute and pretty sore from those missiles that he hadn't been able to dodge.

"But finally a gallery auditor in a paroxysm of rage and scorn hurled a heavy boot, and the actor, thoroughly alarmed, started to retreat.

"'Keep on playing, you fool,' hissed the manager from the wings as he hooked in the boot with an umbrella. 'Keep on till we get the other one.'"

THE BUSINESS GIRL.

Don't Be Afraid of Undertaking New Ventures.

If you want to succeed you must dress the part. Don't be wasteful or extravagant in your dress, but keep yourself neat looking and well groomed. Don't go about with a slipshod, hangdog air, as though you and success were as far apart as the poles. If you look helpless and incompetent no one will trust you with work of any kind.

When you apply for a post do so in a modest yet confident manner.

Business men are not looking for helpless, dependent femininity in their employees.

What they want is a well behaved, capable business woman.

Dress as well as you can afford to, but don't make the mistake of wearing beads and laces and elbow sleeves while on duty.

Many an applicant has failed to win a position because she was untidy or overdressed.

If you look capable, alert and interested, opportunities are sure to come your way.

When there is something important to be done your employer will say: "I will put it in the hands of Miss K. She looks trustworthy."

The first steps in the ladder of success are the most difficult ones to climb.

But nothing succeeds like success, you know, and when you have once made yourself known as a capable, successful worker half the battle is won.

Don't be afraid of undertaking new ventures or of doing more than your share of the work.

Failure once or twice or half a dozen times does not mean failure for good and all.

These rules hold good with men as well as women.

My Symphony.

To live content with small means; to seek elegance rather than luxury and refinement rather than fashion; to be worthy, not respectable, and wealthy, not rich; to study hard, think quietly, talk gently, act frankly; to listen to stars and birds, babes and sages with open heart; to bear all cheerfully, do all bravely, await occasions, hurry never. In a word, to let the spiritual, unbidden and unconscious grow up through the common. This is to be my symphony.—William Henry Channing.

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares;—

Casey Mountain shares are full-ly paid-up and non-assessable.

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area which has regular net-work of silver bearing veins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain has the goods in unlimited quantities sufficient to last for generations.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 to date varying in width from 16 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock speculation), and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the most rich ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization, this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Dividends Paid by Cobalt Mining Companies

Buffalo Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907	$ 81,000.00	The Coniagas Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907	200,000.00
Foster Cobalt Mining Co., Ltd., have paid	45,000.00	The Cobalt Silver Queen, Cobalt, paid during 1907	120,000.00
McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd., have paid	45,000.00	Temiscamingue & Hudson Bay Mining Co., Ltd., have paid	746,120.00

(These shares could have been had at 80 cents, and have sold as high as $190.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $60,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends. The Treadwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $50.00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would means a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Quantity is what counts in a profitable mine, providing the grade is high enough to leave a margin over and above expenses.

Casey Mountain is practically close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Additional information can be had from the Secretary-Treasurer Dr. H. A. Wood, 408 1-2 George street, Peterborough.

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

Provincial Elections 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro:

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—As you are aware, I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good, economical and efficient administration of affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province, generally.

The test of good representation either by a Government or member is good work, and, in this respect both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr. Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure, for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evident interests of the city in every direction, and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our working men and our manufacturing industries; and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying industry feel that they have done so, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies, inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent., while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per was shown by the Government reversing the contract system of prison labor, abolishing by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labor at 3 cents per hour to compete against free labor.

The introduction of the "spoils system," the failure to remove license administration from the sphere of political influence, the three-fifths handicap to Local Option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and discouragement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, the neglect of law reform, with a view of making our law courts cheap.

Disregard of the rights of labor available for securing justice, within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters in which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests, which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen,

G. A. GILLESPIE

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

reserve may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each son and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

THE PRISON BIRD.

This African Beauty Seals His Mate Up in the Nest.

The peculiarity of the prison bird, a feathered beauty of Africa, is that he is the most tyrannical and jealous of husbands, imprisoning his mate throughout her nesting time. Livingstone watched the bird's habits while in Mosopour and in his subsequent observations referred to the nest as a prison and the female bird as a slave.

The nest is built in the hollow of a tree through an opening in the bark. As soon as it is completed the mother bird enters carefully and fearfully and settles down in it. Then papa walls up the opening, leaving only just space enough for air and food to pass through. He keeps faithful guard and brings food at regular intervals without fail. The female thrives under her enforced retirement. But if the prison bird is killed or in any other way prevented from fulfilling his duties the mother and her little ones must die of starvation, for she cannot free herself from bondage.

Normally the imprisonment lasts until the chicks are old enough to fly. Then the male bird destroys the barrier with his beak and liberates his family. "It is charming," writes Livingstone, "to see the joy with which the little prisoners greet the light and the unknown world."

TOBACCO POISON.

If You Must Smoke, Puff Your Cigar or Pipe Leisurely.

That it is much more injurious to smoke quickly than slowly is the conclusion arrived at by two Austrian scientists after careful study and experiment.

The two professors—Dr. Liebermann and Dr. Davidovics—tested pieces of cotton which had been placed in the mouthpieces of pipes and cigar holders and found them covered with yellowish brown flecks. These were found to be of a tarry nature, produced during the process of combustion, and highly poisonous.

It was found also that two cigars of the same brand and strength often produced differing degrees of discoloration of the cotton. Further investigation showed that these differences were due to the length of time occupied in smoking. The same weight of tobacco smoked in five minutes produced nearly three times as many yellowish brown spots as if it were smoked in fifteen minutes. The professors therefore concluded that a rapid smoker inhales a much larger quantity of poisonous substance, to the consequent injury of his health, than does his more phlegmatic colleague.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Horses and Music.

Horses are particularly sensitive to music. Guenoc, who carefully studied the matter, quotes the following curious fact: "In 1802 the Fifty-eighth regiment of infantry was making a military test march when the music struck up. The young horse of Captain De R. hastened forward and placed itself, in spite of its rider, behind the last rank of the musicians. Then it followed peacefully, giving obvious signs of pleasure.

"When the music ceased the captain was able to resume his place at the head of his company, but the band struck up again, and the horse, notwithstanding the efforts of Captain De R., galloped ahead and once more placed itself behind the musicians. This happened every time the band played."

Lions have been found to listen with marked joy to the piano. They appreciate the top notes and the medium, but roar terribly when the bass keys are struck loudly.

Her Sweet Revenge.

Difficult subjects require careful handling, and for this reason a room clerk at a woman's hotel must have special qualifications. One of the many applicants to approach a clerk of this class was a young, prepossessing woman, who, a few days ago, walked to the desk and hesitatingly asked if a room could be had at a moderate price. "Would you like a room at a dollar and a half a day?" With a startled look she replied, "I want one at $3 a week." "We have rooms at that price, but none vacant. You can see that the office is full of guests, and it is not probable that we shall have such a room as you desire until one of our guests dies—or gets married." Sweeping the office with her eyes, the young woman replied sweetly, "Oh, then, it is hopeless!"

Changed Accompaniment.

One can hardly be expected to have "music in his soul" when there is discord in his stomach.

Husband—What was that you were playing, my dear?

Wife—Did you like it?

"It was lovely—the melody divine, the harmony exquisite"

"It is the very thing I played last evening, and you said it was horrid."

"Well, the stock was burned last evening."

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." (and! Very good!) Hereafter for this very reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Druggists everywhere are advising its use as a splendid and prompt general tonic. It gives more vim and more spirit to be spoonful than any other known nerve or constitutional tonic. It sharpens a failing appetite, aids digestion, frees sluggish livers and kidneys, and brings new life, strength and ambition. Try it a few days and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 PER CENT FIRST MORTGAGE FIVE-YEAR-OLD BONDS

dated January 11, 1908, and maturing January 11, 1913. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico. Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness except this present Bond Issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

$100.00 Stock Bonus Given with Every $100.00 Bond

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Itamona Mine) 6,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts on three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.47 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $60,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore-buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $4,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,466 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $602.59.

The Money Derived from the Sale of These Bonds

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 80 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $750,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated—an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is small and promises to be quickly sold.

READ COPY OF CERTIFICATE AND STATUTORY DECLARATION CONFIRMING SAME.

Toronto, March 20th, 1908.

To the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited:—

Gentlemen,—

I beg to confirm my previous report to you that in my judgment the surface showings on the 14 mining claims which the Company has acquired, being Nos. R.S. 221 to H. S. 234, both inclusive indicate the probability of the existence of large bodies of both high grade and low grade free-milling ore, sufficient to pay dividends for an indefinite period.

I have personally examined a number of veins and reefs on said property (consisting of about 560 acres) and had some assays made and from such examinations and assays I make this report.

The statement on pages nine and ten of the Prospectus giving the history of the Company are correct. I insisted on retaining a large interest in the Company rather than sell for any price that seemed reasonable to the purchasers.

Statutory Declaration.
DOMINION OF CANADA
County of York,
TO WIT:

I, David Foster, of the town of Haileybury, in the district of Nipissing, miner, do solemnly declare that the statements in the annexed certificate are true. I have personally inspected all of the fourteen claims now transferred to the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited. I have taken samples containing gold values from said property, and from my personal examination, and from assays made, I believe the Company's property when developed, will prove very valuable. I have full confidence in the success of the said Company, and on this account, with the exception of $440 already received, I have agreed to accept stock in said Company, and a note which I believe will not be of much value should the actual development work not prove the said claims to contain gold in paying quantities as it is not payable for one year from this date or until after the Company shall have done the necessary development work on said claims. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath, and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act."

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1/2 CENT A SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice-president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,600 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

The Bad Seed Sellers To be Prosecuted

Toronto, June 3.—The Dominion Department of Agriculture is taking drastic action to prevent the sale of unclean seed to farmers.

Some 25 retail merchants of the Province will be prosecuted for selling bad seed this spring, and where necessary, action will also be taken against the wholesale houses.

Mr. T. G. Raynor representing the seed section of the Department of Agriculture, who is at the Iroquois today, has just returned from Mount Forest, where proceedings were taken against a local merchant who pleaded guilty to the charge, but threw the blame on the wholesale house. He was fined off with paying the costs of the court, and action will be taken against the wholesaler.

The law allows six months within which to take action against retailers, and a year within which to proceed against wholesalers.

The department will also try to secure convictions against farmers who sell bad seed to retail or wholesale dealers.

Mr. Raynor has seen a good deal of the province lately and reports that the prospects for the farmers of Ontario were never better than they are this spring.

"In fact I never before saw the country looking so good," he said.

"The hay promises to be a bumper crop and the pasture good. The grain crops are coming on well too. In some parts, like certain sections of North Wellington, the rain has kept back seeding and the farmers will just have to put in the crop that will best suit the lateness of the season."

"A wet season like this, he added, "will show the farmers the practical value of having their farms well drained."

Liberals Say it was Stolen Con. Claim They Found It

Alexandria, June 3.—It is reported that the private grip of Mr. A. W. Mellonguld, Liberal candidate, is in the possession of the Conservatives. As to how it got there is a matter on which the two parties are not agreed. Conservatives claim that they found it, while Liberals claim it was stolen. In any case the interesting end of the story is the revelation of what the value contained. To Conservative quarters it is alleged that the private memoranda disclosed important facts. It is even said that there are private memos of payments to party workers, which might be construed as a violation of the Election Act. Briefly, the charge is made that there is corruption in the Liberal campaign. It is understood that the alleged discovery has been communicated to the Attorney-General's Department, with a request for advice

Annual Outing of Durham Old Boy's

The annual outing of the Durham Old Boys' Association of Toronto, will be held on July 8th, starting at Peterborough over the G.T.R. to Toronto, thence to Lewiston by the Niagara Navigation Company's steamers, and on to the Falls in the Great Gorge route.

Those who wish to cross to the Canadian side can do so on the street car which crosses the bridge at the Falls. The Durham Old Boys' excursions are deservedly popular, because their arrangements are always so complete and every detail is carried out as planned. The excursion always affords an excellent opportunity for meeting with friends on the boat crossing the lake morning and evening. Toronto friends hope that a large number of their old friends in Durham will as usual take advantage of the excursion.

Col. Matheson, M.P.P., will Speak Here Tonight

The Provincial Treasurer, Hon. Colonel Matheson, M.P.P., will address the electors of Peterborough in the interests of Mr. Bradburn, M.P.P., in the Grand Opera House tonight at eight o'clock. Everybody is invited.

Mr. Bradburn, M.P.P., will also speak and a rousing meeting is expected. Col. Matheson will deal largely with the financial side of provincial politics and his address should be of a most interesting nature.

Seats will be reserved for the ladies and their escorts.

June Sittings of High Court

The High Court will commence the June Sittings at the court house, on Monday, June 22, at one o'clock, with his lordship, Justice Teetzel presiding.

There are three non-jury cases to come up at the present time, but the time for settlement has not yet expired, and perhaps before then satisfactory agreements between the parties implicated may be reached.

The County Court June session will be held on the 9th before his honor Judge Weller. There are four jury cases to be heard.

Wedding Bells

A quiet but pretty wedding was celebrated in St. Peter's Cathedral, Tuesday morning, at seven o'clock, by the Rev. Father Galvan, when Miss Nora McGillen, daughter of Mr. Peter McGillen of Hastings, was united in marriage to Mr. Patrick J. Flynn of Seymour, son of Mr. David Flynn, east ward. The bride was attended by Miss Susie Flynn and was given away by her brother James. The groomsman was Mr. Thos. McGillen, brother of the bride.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white silk over lisce, trimmed with pearl satin ribbon. The bridesmaid wore blue voile over white silk with Copenhagen blue hat to match. At conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party drove to the home of her brother, 225 Carlyle avenue, east ward, where a splendid wedding breakfast was served. The present were numerous and costly showing the esteem in which the young couple were held.

The happy pair left the city on the 11.16 for Montreal and other points east. On their return from their honeymoon they will take up residence in Seymour. The good wishes of many friends follow Mr. and Mrs. Flynn.

Four-Year-Old Tot Picked Up Dynamite and it Exploded

Brockville, June 3.—Last evening a little child four years old, son of Samuel Lennox of this town, while playing with other children in a vacant lot near which the C.P.R. is constructing a loop line into the works of the James Smart Manufacturing Company, picked up a stick of dynamite. Shortly after an explosion followed and the youngster was painfully injured about the head and face.

The sight of one eye was completely destroyed and the physicians say the other eye will not be saved.

The little fellow is in the hospital in an unconscious condition and will not likely recover.

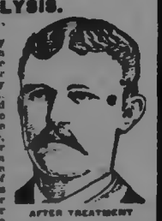
BEFORE TREATMENT



AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class quacks, but received little benefit. While here Goltha went to Mr. Clemens for baths, but received little benefit. While at 70, Clemens I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic. I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

Thos. Wright Accused of Deliberate Murder in Northern Camp

Wright is Foreman of Construction Camp and is Accused of Stabbing Young to Death Two Others Accused of Abetting in Crime

Haileybury, June 3.—One man dead and three men held charged with his death is the result of a row which took place in a construction camp at Iroquois Falls, about 120 miles north of here Saturday night. The Reynolds Company, which have a large contract on the Transcontinental Railway, take supplies to their different camps near the Abitibi River via Iroquois Falls.

Fritz Y. Young, a man about 50 years of age, who comes from Stanhope, in the Province of Quebec, was in charge of three pointers taking supplies down the Abitibi to the crossing. He left with the three boats early Saturday morning and returned to the camp at Iroquois Falls between six and seven at night with only one pointer. He immediately went to the cook tent to get his supper. In the tent when he went in were Dan Milligan, the cook; L. Brisson, a Frenchman; and the foreman of the camp, T. S. Wright. Sitting around a camp fire about twenty feet away were two other men, Michael Morris and James Quinn. When Young was inside he had some words with the foreman in regard to his leaving the other pointers, during which, it is said, the foreman called him several names. Wright then came out of the tent and spoke to Quinn and Morris, saying, so the evidence goes, that he would stick a knife into Young. He also told them he had purchased a new knife that day. The men outside told him not to stab Young, but give him a good hammering.

SCRIMMAGE TAKES PLACE.

Wright then returned to the tent, followed by the other two men. When they got inside the three got into a scrimmage with Young, as Brisson, the Frenchman says, which lasted for a minute or two. The cook separated the men and put Morris out of the tent. He then told Young to get up, but Young said he had been stabbed and could not. He then opened his shirt and displayed a large knife wound in his abdomen. He also asked to be taken to McDougall's Chutes, where he would be under a doctor's care.

DIED IN AGONY ALONE.

A very heavy rain began to fall and the men wrapped the wounded man up in blankets, put him on a pointer, and started down the river for the Chutes about nine o'clock at night. After they got up the river about five miles they decided to camp for the night, and left Young who was in terrible agony, wrapped up, in the pointer. Next morning when they got up they found that Young was dead. They took his remains to the Chutes, where Morris, Quinn, and Wright, were put under arrest, and Dr. Codd, the coroner of Haileybury, was telegraphed for. Dr. Codd came up Sunday afternoon and held an inquest in Tige's Hotel.

MALICE AFORETHOUGHT.

The jury brought in the following verdict;

"We say that Thomas S. Wright on the 30th day of May, 1908 at Reynolds' construction camp at Iroquois Falls, in the Township of Tooty, in the District of Nipissing, did feloniously, wilfully, and of his malice aforethought, kill and murder one Fritz Young by stabbing him in the abdomen with a knife, about 7.30 on the evening of the day and year aforesaid, from which wound the said Friz Young, about 7 o'clock Sunday morning, 31st of May, 1908, died, and we also say that Michael Morris and James Quinn aided and abetted the said Thomas S. Wright in killing and murdering the said Friz Young."

PRISONERS AT NEW LISKEARD

The three prisoners were taken to New Liskeard on Tuesday and lodged in jail there. They will be given hearing before Magistrate H. Hartman tonight.

Fritz L. Young was about 50 years of age and came to this country some time ago. His home was in Stanhope, Que.

The man charged with the murder Thomas S. Wright, is about 45 years of age, and has also been in the country for some time. He originally came from the United States.

BEEN THERE TWO YEARS.

Mike Morris and Jim Quinn, the alleged accomplices, have been working in and around the Chutes for the past couple of years.

The knife that the stabbing was done with could not be found after the murder. Wright claims he did not have it on him the night of the stabbing, but contradicted himself when he said he had cut some tobacco with it shortly before the row took place.

About noon yesterday the Chief of Police of Englehart received a telegram from Matheson saying that another stabbing affray had taken place there that morning.

If one feels dull and spiritless, in the spring or early summer, they call it "Spring Fever." But there is no fever—usually. It is the after effect of our winter habits. The nerves are mostly at fault. Tired, worn-out nerves, leave us languid, lifeless, and without spirit or ambition. A few doses of Dr. Shoop's Restorative will absolutely and quickly change all of these depressing symptoms. The Restorative of course won't bring you back to full health in a day or two, but it will do enough in 48 hours to satisfy you that the remedy is reaching that "tired spot." Druggists everywhere are advising its use as a splendid and prompt general tonic. It gives more vim and more spirit to the spasmful than any other known nerve or constitutional tonic. It sharpens a failing appetite, aids digestion, frees sluggish livers and kidneys, and brings new life, strength and ambition. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

The First Taste

Learned to Drink Coffee when a Baby

If parents realized the fact that coffee contains a drug—caffeine—which is especially harmful to children, they would doubtless hesitate before giving the babies coffee to drink.

"When I was a child in my mother's arms and first began to nibble things at the table, mother used to give me sips of coffee. As my parents used coffee exclusively at meals I never knew there was anything to drink but coffee and water.

"And so I contracted the coffee habit early. I remember when quite young, the continual use of coffee so affected my parents that they tried roasting wheat and barley, then ground it in the coffee-mill, as a substitute for coffee.

"But it did not taste right and they went back to coffee again. That was long before Postum was ever heard of. I continued to use coffee until I was 37, and when I got into office work, I began to have nervous spells. Especially after breakfast I was so nervous I could scarcely attend to my correspondence.

"At night, after having coffee for supper, I could hardly sleep, and on rising in the morning would feel weak and nervous.

"A friend persuaded me to try Postum. My wife and I did not like it at first, but later when boiled good and strong it was fine. Now we would not give up Postum for the best coffee we ever tasted.

"I can now get good sleep, am free from nervousness and headaches. I recommend Postum to all coffee drinkers.

"Petes" Win Again --Defeated Lindsay Yesterday 4 to 1

Manager Johnston's Petes returned home last night all covered with glory and singing at the top of their voices. And why shouldn't they. Didn't they travel to Lindsay yesterday and take the fast Wolseleys into camp by four to one.

The game which was played at the Exhibition grounds, started at five o'clock, and was the best exhibition of base ball seen there for a number of years. The Petes started in to win, right off the reel, scoring their initial counter in the first. Burns doing the trick.

Two more tallies were chalked up in the second, and another in the third, which finished the scoring as far as the Petes were concerned.

The Wolseleys finished each inning up to the fifth with a goose egg to their credit, but in the sixth by securing a pass, Koyle reached first, went down to second on the throw, got the third peg on Nesbitt's bunt, and came home on Maddock's error of Thompson's drive. This was the only tally they got, only getting to Clements for three hingles who was in fine form.

The longest hit of the game went to O'Brien, he landing on the horsehide for two cushions. Burns made a drive early in the game which would have been going yet, had not Koyle made a circus catch, which brought the crowd to its feet.

The Wolseleys pulled off a pretty double play in the fourth innings.

Clements, who was on the slab for Peterborough, had the Lindsayites doing a fanmill stunt, and succeeded in striking out six would-be swatters. Cinnamon was also in good form, he tossing over three strikes each to three men, and issued no free passes.

The Petes kept up their good work on the bases, Burns, Murphy, Clements, Lawson and Craig working off a steal.

Maddocks as usual put up a star game, he having four put outs, five assists and one error, was up four times, getting two hits.

Craig, the Examiner man, also had a good day, he having two hits to his credit, out of four times at bat.

The score was as follows;

Mr. and Mrs. Sid. Blade are Here from Australia

A former resident of Peterborough has returned to the city after an absence of 17 years in the person of Mr. Sidney Blade of Menangle, New South Wales, Australia, and with his wife is the guest of his brother and sister at 226 Murray street.

In a conversation with Mr. Blade, the newspaper men learned some facts about Australia that were both interesting and instructive. He set sail for Canada from Sidney on Feb. 29th by the steamship Drayton Grange, the boat reaching England on May 4th.

Speaking of the climate of Australia, Mr. Blade said that it was ideal. It is winter there now but Australia's winter is not much colder than it is here just now. May, June, July are the winter months. August, September, October, the spring months, November, December and January, the summer months, and February, March and April the months of autumn.

Mr. Blade will remain here about two weeks when he will again return to Australia.

FOOTBALL.

The Y.M.C.A. Football Club had a good practice at the Driving Park last night.

The Athletics won a practice game from the Lakeviews at Riverside Park last night by a score of ten to two. The game although a good one, was too one-sided to be interesting and the handful of spectators who were present soon dwindled away until only the opposing teams remained.

Strathcona defeated the T.A.S. once last night in a City League game on Nicholls Oval by a score of 10 to 8.

FRED WHITCROFT IN NEW ROLE.

Fred Whitcroft is branching out in a new line of sport in the West, as the following paragraph from the Edmonton Bulletin will show;

J. F. Fitzgerald, winner of the nine-mile race, was entered by the Young Liberal Club A.A. He is 23 years of age, and has lived in Edmonton for the past nine months. Although this was his first race in Canada, he has run a number of five-miles races in England, where he was born, having made a five-mile heavy cross country run in 29 minutes. His record on a mile track is four minutes and 26 seconds. He is of slight build, with keen features and clean-cut limbs. He tips the scales at 112 pounds.

Fred Whitcroft, manager of the Edmonton hockey team last winter, is Fitzgerald's trainer and manager. He states that he has entered Fitzgerald for the five-mile event in the Olympic trials to be held at Calgary on Wednesday, May 27. He believes, if pressed, he could have cut a minute off his time yesterday.

Horse Shot at the Corner Brock and Chamberlain Sts

Another horse has done its last work. This one belongs to a man named Williams, who had to shoot it last night owing to its having a big leg and was in consequence suffering much pain. The shooting took place at Brock and Chamberlain streets shortly after seven o'clock, the square standing on the road side, when the deed was done. Two shots were fired, both entering the temple and the horse died instantly.

Examination of Immigrants

Toronto, June 3.—A rigid system of the examination of immigrants entering Canada from the United States, such as the Republic has maintained for some time against immigrants entering their country from Canada, is now being established by the Dominion Immigration Department all along the international boundary.

Mr. S. Blake Robertson, superintendent of immigration, who is engaged in getting this work thoroughly organized, arrived at the Queen's this morning. He has just returned from Winnipeg and Port Arthur on the same work. At the latter place he met a boat from Duluth and six undesirable foreigners were turned back. The stricter inspection at the Manitoba boundary is also resulting in more immigrants being rejected.

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he had removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits and made them [illegible] Dr. Pierce has published [illegible] of the ingredients entering into [illegible] that he is not afraid to subject them to full investigation.

Not only does he publish the formula of his Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal troubles wherever located, but has printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, and a small book has been compiled from the leading standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents, and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that many of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," worn and debilitated women, were employed years ago by the Indians for similar purposes, affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants growing forms the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, was known to the Indians as the "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and scientific processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the menstrual functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

LOW, SPRING FEVER

Doctors Report Many Cases.

Same thing happens every year. At winter's close the body is weak and run down. Damp spring weather brings out rheumatic tendencies, exhausts vitality, and almost demands everyone to use a bracing tonic. Time wont make you grow worse instead of better if your system isn't rid of its poisonous burden.

Your blood is not only thin, but is contaminated with a whole winter's accumulation of wastes.

A stimulating blood tonic is required. What's it going to be?

Not bitters or alcoholic dope, but concentrated cure in the form of "Ferrozone" which is known as the best of all spring rejuvenators.

It creates keen appetite.

Produces prodigious digestion.

Converts food into nourishment.

Gives richness and vitality to the blood.

Makes strong nerves and hardy muscles.

Ferrozone possesses power that can't be doubted. It will do for you what it did for Walter Wood, of Beaufort, Car. Co., N. B., who writes: "I can say that Ferrozone has given me a new lease of life. A year ago I suffered much from nervous weakness. I was really scarcely able to drag myself around. My appetite was gone, I had no color or ambition and felt generally used up. The first box of Ferrozone started me back to health. I took a number of boxes, but it was worth while as my health was completely restored.

Get back to health with Ferrozone, six boxes for $2.50, or 50c per box at all druggists.

THE BRITISH SURPLUS

The budget surplus is entirely due to the operation of the principle of altruism as manifested in pounds, shillings and pence, which is the British equivalent for dollars and cents. There is this important difference between it and the socialism of class; that while this is the monied class being made to contribute to the national finances in proportion to the magnitude of their possessions, it was done, not by a Socialist leader, at the dictates of proletariat in which class-conscious socialism is rampant and clamorous, but in old-fashioned Britain, by a descendant of the Plantagenets. It was Sir William Harcourt who made the death duties a part of the economic system of Great Britain and who also introduced the phrase, "We are all Socialists now," into English speech. The Knight of Malmesbury, Falstaffian of figure, apt of speech, inexhaustible in humor, and almost infinite in his sympathies, was a Socialist, without the selfishness and the narrow class-view which make the real Socialist and his creed of economic dry-bones among the most unlovely features on the economic-humanitarian landscape. Where the operation of the death duties will end is a question that may be left with safety to the British economist, politician and taxpayer. It will be dealt with when need arises; for it is in accordance with the British genius for government never to legislate in advance of necessity.

POLITICAL AGREEMENTS

With regard to the late tendency to establish agreements between political parties not to break the election law, the Montreal Star is somewhat inclined to be sceptical. "When these agreements are proposed," it says, "each side scrutinizes the clauses of the understanding with the utmost care; and they are as cautious about accepting the joint plan for temporary honesty as two rascals of a rougher age were about giving their right hands into each other's keeping. Thus there are not a few "hitches" in these local movements for a decent campaign. Each thinks that the other has hidden an African in the fence, and they are on the look-out for his shining ivories. But there is a prospect that, as in New Brunswick, some of the elections may be run under agreements to avoid crime. It is to be hoped that in every such case the agreements may be clear and explicit and that their enforcement may be put in the hands of a committee at once resolute and knowing. The country will be the better for a few successful experiments of this sort. If we "can point with pride" to sound honest elections thus obtained, with proofs that they were really honest or that the vigilance committees deterred and punished dishonesty, we will have made a start."

Prosperity in Western Canada

Every province in Western Canada is showing signs of great prosperity. There are the prospects for a season of excellent business in the cities of Manitoba, the likelihood of mining on an extensive scale in Alberta, and the almost certain production of a 500-barrel-per-hour flour mill at Regina, Saskatchewan. These signs along with many others have made themselves visible since May 10, and they go a long way in illustrating the coming season of success which will crown Western Canada. The announcement was made during the week of May 10, that a new flour mill capable of turning out 500 barrels of flour per day and 100 barrels of oatmeal, would be built at Regina this summer. A large number of men will be given employment and the revenue of Regina increased.

PROSPERITY IN WINNIPEG.

Your correspondent on May 8th, stated that the real estate business in Winnipeg was brightening up in rapid strides. He was given that information by men of the trade, who evidently knew whereof they spoke, as an increase in business took place on the week of May 10, that had not been equalled in five years. At the time of writing twenty-one new buildings are under construction in Winnipeg. They are all large ones, and altogether are giving work to about two hundred men.

On May 18th, a party of American capitalists were in Winnipeg. They were bound west on a journey of viewing the country, and keeping their eyes open for land that looked good to them. It goes without saying that they saw all kinds of that and it is more than probable that they will not return to the States without owning some of the rich soil in which Western Canada abounds.

G.T.P. INTO CALGARY.

A prominent merchant of Calgary wrote to an official of the Grand Trunk Pacific last week, inquiring whether the G.T.P. would be into that city this year. A reply came promptly. It contained a most encouraging message, which stated that although the line could not possibly be constructed into Calgary in 1908, it was an assured fact that a branch line would be commenced in 1909. The official stated that the G.T.P. officials are now devoting all energy in endeavoring to have the main line finished.

TOWNSITES SELLING RAPIDLY.

The G.T.P. town sites in all the new towns west of Edmonton are now on sale. The sites take in from 40 to 160 acres and are being taken up rapidly. They are situated on the north side of the track, and run into lanes, which in time to come, and a short time at that will be streets. Although the sale of the townsites has only been on a short time, the lots are bringing from $40 to $400.

THE CROPS.

The heavy rains which have fallen all over the western country during the past few days, have done wonders with the wheat. The latest C.P.R. crop report contained information to this effect, and the many branches reported, all stated that the crops were progressing favorably. The greatest growth so far in Manitoba is at Treelon, Arden and Morris. At these places the wheat is now over six inches in height. With the warm sunshine which is sure to follow, a crop of unusual richness is assured.

News in Brief

Racine, Wis., June 3.—A real "biggest show on earth" has been hired for a day as one of the amusement features of the state convention of Elks, opened here to-day. In addition to the circus and Elk parade and performances, there will be a banquet, drills, smokers and other "doings" during the three days of the convention.

London, June 3.—Through the death of Baron Nathaniel Rothschild the Austrian Exchequer will receive the nice round sum of 20,000,000 crowns, or $4,165,000, being duties and taxes at the rate of 9 per cent. on the total value of the estate, which is about $12,500,000.

Although the Baron died nearly three years ago the estate is only now being wound up. Under the will the testator's brother, Baron Albert Rothschild is the residuary legatee and chief executor. Twenty million crowns is bequeathed for the erection of a sanitarium for nervous diseases, and another ten millions must be capitalized to provide for the payment of numerous annuities to employes of the bank and on the estate of the late Baron, as well as to household ser-

New York, June 3.—The Royal Mail steam packet liner Trent sailed yesterday for West Indian ports and Panama with fifty-five cabin passengers. Dr. W. J. Waymark, the ship's surgeon, in discussing the bubonic plague said to exist at La Guayre said fifty to 90 deaths occurred hourly, every day, and that 500 bodies were being burned daily in the streets in the midst of the disease.

The bubonic plague, he said, did not originate in India, as generally supposed, but was carried there from Asia Minor through Persia. He said he believed the present plague in La Guayra might have been carried by a tramp steamer from Asia Minor.

Washington, June 2.—Six prominent Washington attorneys have been disbarred from practice in the department of the interior after to-day. It is alleged that they sought out old soldiers or their widows to whom land grants had not been issued and informed them that such land could be had on application. When the warrants were issued the lawyers advised the holders that the land could be sold at a nominal figure. In most cases the veterans would agree, the land becoming the property of the lawyers, who sold it at a large profit.

The lawyers disbarred are Thomas R. Harney and Eugene E. Stevens.

HEAD OFFICE—MANNING CHAMBERS TORONTO—ONTARIO

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares;—

Casey Mountain shares are full-ly paid-up and non-assessable.

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which has regular net-work of silver bearing veins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain has the goods in unlimited quantities sufficient to last for generations.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 to date varying in width from 16 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock speculation), and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent. to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Dividends Paid by Cobalt Mining Companies

Buffalo Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907	$ 81,000.00	The Conlagas Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907	200,000.00
Foster Cobalt Mining Co., Ltd., have paid	45,000.00	The Cobalt Silver Queen, Cobalt, paid during 1907	120,000.00
McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd., have paid	45,000.00	Temiscaminga & Hudson Bay Mining Co., Ltd., have paid	746,120.00

(These shares could have been had at 60 cents, and have sold as high as $150.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $60,000,000.00 has been paid in dividends.

The Tredwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $20.00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would means a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000.00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Additional information can be had from the Secretary-Treasurer Dr. H. A. Wood, 408 1-2 George street, Peterborough.

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

Provincial Elections 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro:

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—As you are aware, I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good, economical and efficient administration of affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province, generally.

The test of good representation either by a Government or member is good work, and, in this respect both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr. Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure, for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evident interests of the city in every direction, and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our working men and our manufacturing industries; and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying interests of the county.

I firmly feel that they have done so, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies, inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent., while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per was shown by the Government reviewing the contract system of prison labor, abolishing by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labor at 3 cents per hour to compete against free labor.

The introduction of the "spoils system," the failure to remove license administration from the sphere of political influence, the three-fifths handicap to Local Option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and discouragement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, the neglect of law reform, with a view of making our law courts cost.

Disregard of the rights of labor available for securing justice, within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters in which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests, which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen,

G. A. GILLESPIE

A Fatalist, but Cautious.

A story is related of a minister of the free-ordination school of belief on a Mississippi steamer in the good old fashioned days of river racing, when a negro sat on the safety valve and the furniture and woodwork of the boat fed the fire. The captain, seeing a rival boat half a mile ahead, ordered tar, pine knots, naval stores, bacon, etc., to be thrown in to kindle the fire as hot as possible. As the steam got higher and higher and the old boat trembled and groaned under the pressure the preacher drew nearer and nearer to the stern. Noticing this and never losing an opportunity to crack a joke, the bluff captain tapped the fatalist on the shoulder and said:

"Hello, Brother Blank! What's ailing you? I thought you was one of them fellows what believes what is to happen will happen nohow."

"So I do," replied the clergyman, drawing himself up. "So I do, but I want to be as near the stern as possible when it does happen."

What a Good Play Must Have.

"A play should have continuous action all the way through. When I allude to action I don't necessarily mean physical movement and pistol play," says Daniel Frohman in Harper's Weekly. "A successful play must contain continuous struggle and battle—the struggle of love with duty, to name the most frequent example. The characters may be sitting in their chairs, talking pleasantly together, and still fulfill this purpose. And the action must go forward by leaps and bounds from one climax to another. The ideal play will have the fewest characters, but it will hold the attention so that you won't know whether there are six or sixty, and two persons upon the stage will hold the audience entranced, as in the Greek drama. Like the Greek characters, too, they will appear as puppets upon a dark background of necessity, victims of the circumstances which they have helplessly brought into existence."

The Nobility.

The "nobility" goes back to the very beginning of human society, when "wild in woods the noble savage ran." At first the institution rested on brute force. The physically strongest were supreme. It was an aristocracy of muscle and brawn. By and by intellectual cunning was added to the brute strength, and the strongest and smartest became the "top of the heap." With the advantages accruing to it from the possession of the most strength and cunning the "nobility" intrenched itself so securely that it could not be shaken, and well down into the eighteenth century it was practically supreme. By the time of the French and American revolutions, however, the world was beginning to wake up to the fact that the "nobility" was a hoax and an imposition, and since those two famous events the ancient institution has been in a bad way.

Identification a Good Game for Fiction Readers.

A good game for a company of fiction readers is called identification. It is easily arranged and never fails to "take" with intelligent people.

When the amusement is about to begin the hostess distributes among her guests large cards or strips of cardboard on which are the names of fifty characters, male and female, extracted from standard or popular novels, who must be identified.

This is done by writing opposite the name of the character the title of the novel in which it figures. Each player may have a separate list, or one list may be given to each pair of partners who work together to complete it.

In preparing a set of characters avoid selecting those which all title roles or who are too familiar to the reader.

A good beginning for such a list would be:

Babbie ("The Little Minister").
Dinah Morris ("Adam Bede").
Nydia ("The Last Days of Pompeii").
Kate Hardcastle ("She Stoops to Conquer").
Adam Moss ("A Kentucky Cardinal").
Little Eve ("Uncle Tom's Cabin").
Blanche Amory ("Pendennis").
Rosamund Lydgate ("Middlemarch").
Sir Lucius O'Trigger ("The Rivals").
Josephine March ("Little Women").
Sancho Panza ("Don Quixote").
Edward Fairfax Rochester ("Jane Eyre").
Miss Euphemia Dundas ("Thaddeus of Warsaw").
Noddy Boffin ("Our Mutual Friend").
Mrs. Malaprop ("The Rivals").
Lady Teazle ("The School For Scandal").
Quilp ("Old Curiosity Shop").
Eugene Marchbanks ("Candida").
Lucy Dashwood ("Charles O'Malley").
Phineas Fletcher ("John Halifax").

A popular or standard novel would make a good choice in prizes, to be awarded for the longest list of correct names.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of and is itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heart, and Indigestion as real diseases, but are symptoms only of a certain abnormal weakness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop to the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that aid and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative which that original and highly vital principle such lasting accomplishments were ever to

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend London, June 4.—Owing to its having become very decayed and dangerous, the old sycamore standing near Dulwich College, known as "Mr. Pickwick's Tree," has had to be cut down, much to the regret of the residents of Dulwich village, amongst whom the tradition prevails that Dickens's immortal hero was in the habit of a fine evening of resting on the seat beneath its branches towards the close of his career.

Weary, Worn-out, Tired

If You Feel Poorly This Spring this Article is worth Considering

Nothing in life keeps people from advancement like poor health. If the nerves are weak, if the stomach, liver, bowels or kidneys, fail to work properly, health surely suffers. Spring is the hardest time on health—the season when the system calls for active cleansing medicine.

The best plan is to entrust your condition to a physician of reputable ddition to a physician of reputation like Dr. Hamilton, who has had years of experience in compounding herbs. For the ills and tired feeling of spring Dr. Hamilton says nothing is better than Mandrake and Butternut Pills, and this is well proved in the case of James Burton, of Lewistown. "I had grip and it left me very weak. The disease settled in my back and side, which ached day and night. I had a nagging cough. My appetite was all gone. My nerves unstrung. I could not sleep well. I struggled against growing pale, thin and weak—but it was not good. Spring brought depression, overpowering weakness and bad headaches. But my life as regard headaches. But my life was spared, simply because I learned of the wonderful merit in Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. The result was marvelous. I gained rapidly, became strong, ruddy, vigorous, perfectly well. I urge every man and woman to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly.

You'll brighten up, have cleaner blood stronger nerves, better spirits after using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c at all dealers. Guaranteed safe, sure, helpful for old and young.

Lost His Right Hand

Word comes from Dunnville township that Wm. Rogers, an employe of Frank Parker's saw mill, had the misfortune to lose his right hand while at work on Monday afternoon. Rogers put his hands under the carriage to take cuttings from behind the saw when his right hand came in contact with the fast revolving saw and was completely amputated at the wrist. The unfortunate young man was taken to Norwood as quickly as possible and his injuries were dressed by Drs. Pettigrew and Wilson. He is getting along as nicely as can be expected.

Steady Demand for Farm Hands

Immigration Agents Howson reports a steady demand for farm hands. On Saturday a large number were placed in the country but there were more applications than there were men to fill them. At present the majority of the men who are offering themselves to hire with the farmers are those who have been in the city for some time. They have had experience at some trade but are ignorant of farm work. Unable to get work at their own business they are applying to go on the farm as a kind of joke. They want at least $10 a month and of course most of the farmers refuse to hire them. The men have a hope that they can secure work in the city and those farmers who have met them are not pleased with the manner in which they make application.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of small and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 PER CENT FIRST MORTGAGE FIVE-YEAR-OLD BONDS

dated January 11, 1908, and maturing January 11, 1913. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico, Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness except this present Bond Issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

$100.00 Stock Bonus Given with Every $100.00 Bond

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 5,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.47 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $50,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $3,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,464 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $562.50.

The Money Derived from the Sale of These Bonds

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 30 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $750,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated —an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is small and promises to be quickly sold.

To whom it may concern:—

We hereby beg to state that The Ures Consolidated Mining Company has during the past five years made several deliveries of bullion to this bank, and it is the opinion of mining men here that they have the making of a fair mine, and further, that the properties owned and controlled by them bid promise of becoming paying properties.

Commission May Grant Request

The ruling of the Railway Commission at Ottawa, on the application of the G.T.R. to construct a siding into the premises of the George Matthews Co., on George street, makes it look like a certainty that the request will be granted. The commission held that unless the city and the property owners interested could come to an agreement satisfactory to the Matthews Co., and Grand Trunk within fifteen days they would give an order for the siding.

Mr. M. K. Cowan of Montreal and Superintendent Tiffin were present in the interests of the Grand Trunk. Mr. R. F. McWilliams and Mr. T. F. Matthews were present for the Matthews Company. Mr. Angus MacMurchy, of Toronto, and Divisional Superintendent Murphy appeared for the C.P.R. City Solicitor Hall appeared for the City of Peterborough. Ald. Butler and Mr. F. D. Kerr for the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Co., and Mr. Osias de Lapointe for the property owners. The Hilliard Estate was also represented.

The C.P.R., City of Peterborough, Fuel and Cartage Co., and property owners objected to the application being granted but the Commission held that the siding was necessary in connection with the Matthews Company's business but would prefer to see some arrangement made between the C.P.R. and G.T.R., whereby it would not be necessary to have another siding constructed. They allowed fifteen days to see what could be done in the direction. If some arrangement cannot be made the commission will give an order for the construction of the siding.

Toronto, March 30th, 1908.

To the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited:—

Gentlemen,—

I beg to confirm my previous report to you that in my judgment the surface showings on the 14 mining claims which the Company has acquired, being Nos. H.R. 221 to H. R. 234, both inclusive indicate the probability of the existence of large bodies of both high grade and low grade free-milling ore, sufficient to pay dividends for an indefinite period.

I have personally examined a number of veins and reefs on said property (consisting of about 560 acres) and had some assays made and from such examinations and assays I make this report.

The statement on pages nine and ten of the Prospectus giving the short history of the Company are correct. I insisted on retaining a large interest in the Company rather than sell for any price that seemed reasonable to the purchasers.

DAVID A. FOSTER,
Haileybury.

IN THE MATTER OF THE GREAT NORTHERN LARDER LAKE MINING CO., LTD.

Statutory Declaration.
DOMINION OF CANADA
County of York
TO WIT:

I, David Foster, of the town of Haileybury, in the district of Nipissing, miner, do solemnly declare that the statements in the annexed certificate are true. I have personally inspected all of the fourteen claims now transferred to the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited. I have taken samples containing gold values from said property, and from my personal examination, and from assays made, I believe the Company's property when developed, will prove very valuable. I have full confidence in the success of the said Company, and on this account, with the exception of $468 already received, I have agreed to accept stock in said Company, and a note which I believe will not be of much value should the actual development work not prove the said claims to contain gold in paying quantities as it is not payable for one year from this date or until after the Company shall have done the necessary development work on said claims. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath, and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act."

DAVID A. FOSTER.

25 YEARS ECZEMA DEVELOPED BLOOD POISON

Theological Student Says Zam-Buk Saved His Leg.

The dreadful irritating skin disease Eczema includes amongst its victims the rich and poor, the student and the illiterate. Mr. Geo. E. Williams, who now resides at 69 Mutual St., Toronto, was intended for the Ministry, and to this end studied Theology at King's College, London Eng. He says: "Whilst there I began to suffer from Eczema. This was 25 years ago, and I concluded I was doomed to suffer for life. A few weeks ago I was called to Hamilton on business, and had not been there two days when I was forced to lay up, the pain in my legs was so severe. My wife examined the parts that were so painful, and discovered a patch of badly discolored skin. She did all she could think of to relieve me, but failed. We obtained advice, and it was found I was suffering from Blood Poison, and that I was in danger of losing my legs, if not my life. At this point I decided to try Zam-Buk which I had seen advertised. The first application gave me great relief, and the poisonous matter which came from the wounds convinced me that I was on the right track. I therefore persevered with this healing balm. The first two boxes had cleaned the sores and my legs looked as though they were full of holes. From this time on the healing work commenced, and I am thankful to say that after using 4 boxes of Zam-Buk all the wounds were healed and my legs cleared of the horrible Eczema that had affected me for 25 years."

Zam-Buk Ointment eliminates skin diseases, spreading scabs, running sores, blisters, chafing, eczemas, pimples, ulcers, festering sores, weak ankles, ringworm, bad legs, piles, swollen knees, inflamed patches, scalp irritations, poisoned wounds, sore faces, etc. Of all druggists and stores, 50c. per box or postpaid from the Zam-Buk Co., 36 Colborne St., Toronto. 6 boxes $2.50.

James Byers Used a Shot-Gun at a Charivari

The village of Baillieboro is greatly excited over a shooting affray, the result of a charivari at the home of James Byers, who lives a mile from the village. Hobson, Weigh Byers, was married a month ago, and the boys were long in preparing the celebration. When the crowd roused the Byers family after eleven o'clock of the 2nd, and, after a noisy demonstration, asked for money, the father fired a charge of fine shot into the crowd, injuring over six of the men. Among them were Ernest Anderson, Wellington Bateman and one Gibson, all of whom were injured in the face. Bateman may lose his sight.

Col. Mathieson, Provincial Treasurer, Speaks in the Interests of Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P.

A large and very enthusiastic audience, including many of the fair sex, attended the Conservative meeting in the interests of Mr. T. E. Bradburn, at the Grand Opera house last night. The principal speaker of the evening was Hon. Col Mathieson, Provincial Treasurer. Although many Liberals were present, Conservatism reigned supreme. The interior of the house was artistically decorated, and on each side of the balcony front were hung the motto s "No Coercion," and "Secret Ballot."

The chairman of the evening was Mr. Kendry, who in his opening address said; Ladies and gentlemen, I take great pleasure in being here tonight to speak in behalf of Mr. Bradburn, who unfortunately is not able to be with us. I first of all want to speak to you on the license question. As far as the Whitney Government is concerned the change in the license laws are for the better. The way the license laws of our Province are now enforced are quite different than during the Ross regime. A man in order to get a license now, is not compelled to tell which side of politics he follows, as he did when Mr. Stratton was our representative in the house. The license inspectors now, do what is right by everybody. The Whitney Government have given us one thing; the secret ballot, which is a god-send to the Province. The laws of our Province are better administered than they were. The present government treats everybody the same. In Peterborough we had to reduce our hotel licenses by three, and the three to get off were Tories.

SPOIL SYSTEM.

Take the sports system. There is not a shadow of it in the Whitney Government, but there was in the Ross Government. Two cars in 1901, some of the hotels in the Province were run all night long. Now the hotel keepers have to keep the law. They close their bars at 11 p.m. and at 7 p.m. on Saturdays, for we have an inspector who makes them do it. The Examiner, ladies and gentlemen, are after us, whether we are right or wrong (cheers). The Whitney Government should be sustained, and it will be. Mr. Bradburn will have a larger majority than ever before. He has done more for Peterborough than previous member.

MR. GARVIN.

The next speaker was Mr. Garvin, who reviewed the work of the Government at length. His speech in brief is as follows; Ladies and gentlemen, this is the first time I have had the honour of being in your new opera house. It is seven years since I had the occasion to address the electors of West Peterborough, and I must say I am greatly pleased to be with you tonight. The Whitney administrator has been a first class one. During the last five or six days, I have been in East Peterborough, and am glad to say it will be redeemed next Monday. Talk fold about promises to give Thompson a majority of 75. Opposition to think the election is very quiet. Perhaps so, but the only reason for its being so, is that the people take it for granted that the Whitney Government will be returned to power. They have put before the public a magnificent platform. Not one of promises, but one that will stand him on the foundation of their excellent administration. The interests are crying about the $130,000 deal with the La Rose people, but it was a good thing and I can speak with the knowledge that I know what I am talking about. In 1903 La Rose made a valuable discovery at Cobalt, he staked it up, but the good thing soon got noised abroad. The Ross Government, hearing of it, appointed a commissioner to investigate the mine and he reported that it was the richest discovery of the age. But J. W. O'Brien, a very shrewd man, and at that time chairman of the Railway Board, got hold of a man named King, who had made a big discovery, and proceeded to buy him out. It was then that the fight between La Rose, O'Brien and a man named Martin, commenced. The government appointed a commission who divided the limit as follows; La Rose, 40 acres; Martin, 40 acres; O'Brien, 277 acres.

After the change in government La Rose came to Whitney with a proposition, who was wise enough to see a chance to save a part of this wealth for the people. The result of the deal was that the royalty last year, netted the government $227,000. Another grand thing the Whitney Government did for Ontario was the appointment of the Hydro-Electric Commission. Canada has no coal mines of its own, and the nearest market is in the United States. But we have the great white coal, by that I mean the electric power to be generated from our great water falls at Niagara. But the greatest work accomplished by the government in my estimation was perpetrated, by the Hon. Mr. Hanna. While on a visit to the Mercer Reformatory he saw there nearly 60 girls ranging from 16 to 19 years of age, who by being shut up were growing bad instead of better. He sent for Mr. Kelso, who suggested sending the girls out to homes throughout the Province. This was done in small numbers at first but before very long only four or five remained. And this work has been successful. Oh! a new era has dawned on Canadian politics through the honesty of the Whitney Government. (Cheers)

Ald. Barry Phelan spoke a few words to the electors, and endorsed the work of the Whitney Government.

COL. MATHESON.

The next speaker was the guest of honor, the Hon. Col. Mathieson, the Provincial Treasurer, and he was given a rousing reception. He first of all reviewed the work of the Whitney Government. He also paid a high tribute to Mr. Bradburn, who he said was a man of sound business abilities and took an active part in the committees of the legislature, and always done his best for his constituents. One of the things Mr. Bradburn has brought to you gentlemen, is the beautiful new normal school. Here students can obtain the highest grade of training without the expense of leaving their home town. You know the record of the Whitney Government for the past three and one half years. One of the things we did was the secret ballot. By it no man can be threatened like the men of West Peterborough were. Stratton knew by the old numbered ballot, who had voted for him and who had not. The speaker then went on to give an account of the financial standing of the province when the Whitney Government took the reins of office into their hands. He had went over to England and floated a permanent loan on the Bank of England at 3 1-2 per cent. The Bank of Montreal has done a lot for the Province during the past few years. The timber dues are now collected properly.

The Government increased the license fees, and insisted that the Province have more subsidy. We admit we have increased the expenditure of the Province, but it was all for the good of the people. We propose to borrow $4,000,000 to pay off the Bank of England debt, and to finish the work of construction on the Temiskaming railroad. We closed up the pool rooms at Fort Erie and at Toronto Junction, where hundreds of young men were being dragged down to ruin. The recent bribery case in London, Ontario, serve as a lesson in the future and put an end to this kind of thing.

Another thing we did was to reduce the price of school books by from 1-3 to nearly 50 per cent. of their former cost. And another thing, the present text books are out of date and new ones are needed. The prisoners of Ohio, U.S.A., are treated well, they are trusted and put on their honor. Over there the prisoners are all working a large and extensive farm. We hope on time to do the same with ours. Another thing the government did was to agree to make no more contracts for prison labor, against free labor, which satisfied the labor unions of the Province. The speaker also reviewed the C.N.R. deal, explaining as he went on, the terms finally set forth by the government. Mr. McKay says we were bought by Mackenzie and Mann, but we were not.

Mr. Matheson also went over the La Rose mining settlement. Everywhere you go, he said you see the Union Jack flying from the tops of schools and public buildings and I am pleased to know that it is a Peterborough man that is making them. Local option, he said, in order to be the voice of the people should have something more than a mere majority, and hence the three-fifths clause. Ladies and gentlemen, if you are satisfied with the record of the Whitney Government, if you think we are honest, surely we are entitled to a second term. The prospects for victory look good. East of Toronto we carried five seats by acclamation and I am glad to say I am one of the lucky ones. I ask you Conservatives and you Liberals to use your influence with others, and also see that your own vote is cast on Monday.

The ladies of our own country have a great influence over the electors. I owe to women, my own relations, the success of my political career. They have been a great encouragement many a time when I was about to give up a task. Take no chances on this election gentlemen, we are up for your judgment, and we want you to judge us fairly. In conclusion the hon. member paid a high tribute to the late Sir Oliver Mowat, who he said had always worked to the best interests of the electors.

After Mr. Matheson sat down, Chairman Kendry called for three cheers for the Honorable Whitney Government, Mr. Matheson, and Mr. Bradburn, which were loyally given.

Sick Farmer was Left to Die in the Pouring Rain

For Eighteen Hours He was Left on Side of Road, While His Horses were Put Under Shelter --Had Asked for Doctor--Sister Lived Only a Mile Away

Renfrew, June 4.—The death of Michael Sholes, in the upper country, might well be investigated.

On Friday afternoon, at about four o'clock he left his farm with his team to drive to Barry's Bay. About five miles along the road lives a farmer by the name of John Retza. According to Retza's story, he was coming home from his work when he met Sholes driving. Sholes asked him where he could get a doctor as he was sick. Retza says he told him, and then passed on to his house, only a hundred yards or so from the road. After dark that night, two men from Barry's Bay were driving along the road when they saw a team of horses at the side of the road at the place Retza says he met Sholes. The men went to Retza's house, and Retza, returning with them, found Sholes hanging out of the rig, with his head on one of the wheels, and his feet in the rig. They thought he was the worse of liquor, although he was not unconscious, for he mumbled something about getting a doctor, so they picked him up, and laid him in the bottom of his rig, and left him there to sober up, as they thought, and his horses were unhitched, and put in Retza's stable. Sholes was left on the side of the road all night in a heavy downpour of rain, and with no covering on him, and also all Saturday morning. About two o'clock that afternoon some farmer passing found him lying in the rig, and took him home. He was barely conscious, and was unable to answer any questions, but was able to ask for a priest, but before one could be got he became unconscious, and remained so till his death, on Sunday.

As the nearest doctor lives in Killaloe, none was sent for, and the funeral was held Tuesday morning without any examination or inquest. It was found, however, that his body was covered with severe bruises. His chest and back appeared to have been injured, but apparently no bones were broken. Bruises on ... neck and legs. One only ... were found in his pockets.

The deceased was about 42 years of age, and besides his wife, survives him five sons and four daughters, all but two of whom are at home. E. Sholes, a laborer in the town, is a brother.

Sewing Bee at Children's Shelter

A very successful sewing bee was held at the Children's Shelter on Wednesday afternoon, and a considerable amount of work was accomplished, ice cream and cake were served after the work was through. The ladies, who so kindly tendered their services to assist the society in providing clothing for the children were Mrs. Beat, Mrs. Rawlings, Mrs. Jas. Montgomery, Mrs. Wm Montgomery, Mrs. Rowe, Mrs. Tidy, Mrs. Harding, Miss Bella Munn, Miss Mamie Anderson and Miss E. Cochrane.

Opening of the Free Methodist Mission

Next Monday morning the Free Methodists of Toronto, will pitch their tents on the Exhibition grounds here in preparation for the opening of the big mission next Thursday, June 11.

The mission will last for ten days the services being held during each day and evening, and judging from the numbers who visited the camp last year, there will be crowds in attendance. Preachers are expected belonging to the Free Methodist sect from the United States as well as Canada, and among them are said to be many good speakers.

The display building on the grounds will be fitted up for the boarders, who are expected in large numbers. The work of preparing and erecting it began yesterday. The local pastor of the City Mission is Rev. H. B. Luck, who is one of those busily engaged in making the preparations.

Load of Liquor

Cobalt, June 5.—Yesterday Inspector Blackwell landed a big cargo of liquor in a waggon driven on the Haileybury road by a Frenchman named Pigeon. The inspector confiscated the load, which consisted of eight cases of whiskey. In spite of the fact that innumerable blind pigs have been selling liquor openly since the opening of the election campaign, the confiscation of this load yesterday seems to be the only notice taken of it, but it is reported a wholesale clean-up will be made immediately after the election.

Works All Day

And Studies at Night on Grape-Nuts Food

Some of the world's great men have worked during the day and studied evenings to fit themselves for greater things. But it requires a good constitution generally to do this.

A Ga. man was able to keep it up with ease after he had learned the sustaining power of Grape-Nuts, although he had failed in health before he changed his food supply. He says:

"Three years ago I had a severe attack of stomach trouble which left me unable to eat anything but bread and water.

The nervous strain at my office from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. and improper food caused my health to fail rapidly. Cereals and so-called "Foods" were tried without benefit until I saw Grape-Nuts mentioned in the paper.

"In hopeless desperation I tried this food and at once gained strength, flesh and health. I am now able to work [illegible] and study at night, without the nervous exhaustion that was usual before I tried Grape-Nuts.

"It leaves me strengthened, refreshed, satisfied; nerves quieted and toned up, brain-waste restored, and intellect brightened. I would have been a living skeleton, or more likely a dead one by this time, if it had not been for Grape-Nuts."

"There's a Reason."

Fired Shots at Dreyfus and Wounded Him

Paris, June 4.—At the conclusion of the ceremony this morning in connection with the placing of the body of M. Emile Zola in the Pantheon, and while the procession was emerging from the portico to witness the defile of the troops, a member of the staff of the France Militaire, who gave his name as Gregori, fired two shots point blank at Major Alfred Dreyfus. The latter, however, was only struck once, in the hand. His assailant was arrested. Dreyfus' injury is only a slight one.

The attempt on the life of Major Dreyfus was made at the foot of the catafalque, directly in front of the Tribune, from which M. Doumergue, the Minister of Public Instruction, delivered an eulogy on M. Zola's matchless courage in arousing the consciences of the nation to the necessity of doing justice to Dreyfus.

A DRAMATIC MOMENT.

As the last refrain of the magnificent orchestra, which was playing the "Chant Du Depart," was floating away through the marble columns of the classic temple and as President Fallieres and the members of the gubernatorial party, after shaking hands with Madame Zola and her two children, were moving out towards the portico to review the garrison of Paris, two sharp reports startled the vast assemblage.

A scene of indescribable confusion followed, and many women present shrieked and fainted. The assailant was stricken down by the officers. Major Dreyfus, with hawk-like features, pale as death, but manifesting complete composure, was holding up his hand from which the blood was streaming, while the soldiers could with difficulty prevent the enraged crowd from beating and kicking the man on the floor.

A PITIABLE SPECTACLE.

Upon the sharp command of the Prefect of Police Lepine, who was immediately on the scene, the assailant of Dreyfus was dragged to his feet. He presented a pitiable spectacle. From a blood-smeared face his wild eyes looked around appealing as if for sympathy, but they met only the angry and menacing glare of the crowd, and his curses had only their impreca tions upon his foul deed. The man's clothing was in shreds and his coat and vest had been literally torn from his body.

Major Dreyfus, accompanied by his brother Matthew, was the first to strike the assailant after he fired. De Pozzi and several other friends led the way to the mayor's office opposite the Pantheon, where his wound was dressed. He was then taken to his home, where he was rejoined by his wife, who was with him when he was shot.

The news spread like wildfire through Paris, and caused a veritable panic, as it was at first believed that President Fallieres had been killed. The crowds around the Panthe on were driven back, and all the streets leading to the temple were barred. Twenty arrests have been made by the police.

Emile Zola, who died in September, 1902, was ten years ago, twice condemned to a year's imprisonment for addressing to Felix Faure, then President of France, the famous letter, "J'Accuse," in which he laid bare the conspiracy in the general army staff against Major Dreyfus. The opposition to the removing of his remains to the Pantheon arises from the fact that he is thus honored because of his famous letter, not because of his literary fame.

In the Realm of Sport

A lively game is expected at Riverside Park on Saturday when P.Ports Hops and the Athletics clash in a Midland League fixture. The Athletics are confident of taking the scalps of the Port Hopers, while Manager O'Brien says that his team is through losing for the season, and figure that the big end of the score will be with them when they board the 9 o'clock train for home Saturday night. At this distance it looks like an even money proposition, and the bugs will see a game that they will long remember. With Quinlan pitching for the locals, and Surphlis on the mound for Port Hope, it will be a pitcher's battle all the way. The Athletics will have by far the strongest line-up they have had this season. They had a lively practice with the Jaklviews Wednesday night and will be in the best of shape for tomorrow's big battle. A record crowd is expected.

FOOTBALL.

Keene and Warsaw will play off the tie in their district of the Midland Football League, in Peterborough next week.

BASEBALL.

The scores in the three big leagues yesterday are as follows:

Toronto, June 3.—"Jimmy" Reynolds, the Port Hope barber, is going to try the Port Hope-Toronto walk again. This time to win his wager he must cover the distance, 134 miles in 33 hours, at an average of nearly 4.1 miles per hour. The start for the attempt is June 11, and the veteran walker will leave the Queen's Hotel at Port Hope at 6 a.m.

The Petes won from the T.A.S. nine in a practice game last night by a score of 10 to 0, at Riverside Park.

Took His Life at the Hour of His Wedding

Winnipeg, June 4.—Alexander Scott, a young foreman of the Winnipeg Paint and Glass Company, committed suicide in his room last night by cutting his throat. Scott was to have been married to a young lady of this city at eight o'clock last evening. The guests had assembled at the home of the bride, but no Scott did not put in an appearance at the appointed hour, the bride's brother and one of the guests started for his lodging house to learn what was keeping him. They found Scott lying on the bed dead. He had done the deed at the exact hour the wedding was to have taken place. The only motive that can be suggested is financial straits and mental derangement.

Nursing Mothers and Over-burdened Women

In all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken down by over-work, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating restorative strengthgiver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless boon, as it prepares the system for baby's coming and renders the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable, pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, displacement or retro-version or other displacements of womanly organs from weakness of parts will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully and fairly persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This world-famed specific for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native, medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. All its ingredients printed in plain English on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the fullest investigation of his formula knowing that it will be found to contain only the best agents known to the most advanced medical science of all the different schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

If you want to know more about the composition and professional endorsement of the "Favorite Prescription," send postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his free booklet treating of same.

You can't afford to accept as a substitute for this remedy of known composition a secret nostrum of unknown composition. Don't do it.

Georgc Miller, Aged 15 Accidentally Shot by Youth

Toronto, June 4.—George Miller, aged 15, of 336 Queen street east, lies at the point of death in Grace Hospital, as the result of a twenty-two calibre bullet discharged into his left lung, just under the heart, from a Winchester rifle in the hands of four-year-old Clarence Gildner, son of a neighbor, Charles Gildner, butcher, at 322-24 Queen street east.

IN MILLER'S KITCHEN.

The accident occurred at 8 o'clock this morning in the kitchen above the grocery store, the business of which is carried on by the sons of the late James Miller, who died three months ago. George and the little lad were great friends, and as Clarence only returned from a six week's visit to relatives in Berlin, Ontario last night, the meeting between the two this morning was very warm.

George was proud of his Winchester rifle, although it was old and somewhat rusty. He showed it to his little friend, who, with childlike curiosity, stretched out his hands for it. George smilingly handed it to the little fellow, who immediately began to finger the trigger.

There was a flash, a report, and George fell to the floor. The bullet had penetrated the left lung, immediately below the heart, and an internal hemorrhage resulted, suffusing the lung with blood.

See Peril to England in Rctainers' Army

London, June 4.—English political pursuits never tire in their contemptuous references to Tammany Hall and its pecuniary ways, but a number of the great men of the British nation during the last week have been pointing with much wrath to various weapons of corruption that are being fashioned in the municipal life of the United Kingdom. Lord Avebury, Lord Lamington, Sir Felix Schuster, Alfred Mosely and several others have been condemning many serious features of municipal trading, which is increasing by leaps and bounds.

What is considered a dangerous feature and quite distinct from interference with private enterprise is the enormously increasing number of employes required by local authorities to carry on their various speculative undertakings.

Keir Hardie, member of Parliament, states that there are more than two million municipal employes in the country. According to the parliamentary returns, there are 62,000 municipal employes in London alone. Excluding those employed by the city corporation and metropolitan boards of works, they amount to more than 7 1-4 per cent. of the electorate. A municipal council is to a town what a government is to a nation, with this difference, that a council is directly returned with the aid of the votes of those electors who are in its employment and whose rate of wages it fixes.

Many prominent public men who have taken an active part in municipal government in Great Britain point to the danger with which the country is threatened by the ever increasing number of municipal employes. Some socialist leaders have described municipalization in the near future of all industries in the country. They are declaring that municipal employes are beyond a doubt the nucleus of a coming socialist commonwealth.

The leading opponents of municipal trading contend that there is danger is a vast army of municipal employes, who form an organization most whose operations at the polls might be destructive of the very best government of cities, and that disfranchisement should be a condition of municipal employment, or if not disfranchisement, that such bodies should be represented by only sectional representation carefully and well differentiated.

There is a distinct party now, an independent labor party, which does not care for any other interest than those of labor, and it is becoming a powerful body. In some municipalities the undignified spectacle has been presented of leading corporation officials marshalling bands of corporation workmen into a polling area and explicitly instructing them how to vote.

In Manchester there are 13,000 municipal employees, and they number 90 per cent. of the parochial electors. A councillor of that city has just stated that he receives applications every day from people who are out of work and who expect him to find places for them under the corporation in return for their votes at election.

If one feels dull and spiritless, in the spring or early summer, they call it "Spring Fever." But there is no fever—usually. It is the after effect of our winter habits. The nerves are mostly at fault. Tired, worn-out nerves, leave us languid, listless, and without spirit or ambition. A few doses of Dr. Shoop's Restorative will absolutely and quickly change all of these depressing symptoms. The Restorative of course won't bring you back to full health in a day or two, but it will do enough in 48 hours to satisfy you that the remedy is reaching that "tired spot." Druggists everywhere are advising its use as a splendid and prompt general tonic. It gives more vim and more spirit to the spoonful than any other known nerve or constitutional tonic. It sharpens a failing appetite, aids digestion, frees sluggish livers and kidneys, and brings new life, strength and ambition. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

Spring Tirdeness Cured By Harmless Remedy

Many are Using it and receiving benefit from its strength-giving power.

All winter long you worked hard. This took lots of nerve force. It lasted so far, but now it's all gone, and you feel half dead.

Somehow you must get new vitality and more nerve force. The water in your blood must be turned into strength and building material. Your fretful appetite must be braced up. Some new power must be imparted to your weak body.

This is just what happens in using Ferrozone, which is an instant blood maker, blood-enricher and nerve builder.

Ferrozone not only creates keen appetite, it goes further, improves digestion and assimilation, so that every particle of food is converted into nerve and muscle fibres.

By building up new nerve force and making each organ do the work that nature expects of it, Ferrozone quickly increases your weight and instils a reserve of vigor into the system that defies weariness, exhaustion, spring debility or sickness of any kind.

To prove the enormous strengthening power of Ferrozone we quote the following letter from Mrs. Cecil P. Gourmally, well known in Middleville: "Last March I was very run down and thin. I had no appetite and scarcely felt like eating at all. My face was pallid and haggard and I had dark circles under my eyes. My weight was seven pounds under normal, and day by day that awful spring weariness dragged me down. The change Ferrozone wrought was surprising. It must certainly contain wonderful building and strengthening properties, because I gained strength, flesh and appetite from the day I started it. I speedily came back to vigorous buoyant health with Ferrozone, and recommend it as the best medicine any person in weak health can take."

Ferrozone strengthens the weak, restores the anaemia, soothes the nervous, assists men, women and children to better health. Try it. 50c. per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

CONTENTMENT

Dr. Hirsch preached a sermon some time since on "Contentment" in which he said: "Contentment leads to senility and decay. Out of unrest comes progress and enlightenment, but out of contentment comes stagnation. In the East, where humanity is steeped in the stupor of contentment, there is nothing new under the sun. The West is the land of creation, but the East is a land of meditation."

It is instructive to contrast this utterance with the advice of Mme. Guyon, who says "Possess yourself as much as you possibly can in peace, not by any effort, but by letting all things fall to the ground which trouble or excite you. Accustom yourself to much calmness and indifference to events." Apparently Dr. Hirsch and Mme. Guyon are at the opposite poles of an important thought.

To appreciate this sentiment it is necessary to distinguish between different kinds of discontent. Some people are discontented with the way their physical and lower wants are met, and contented with the total absence of everything elevating and noble. Some are discontented with everything pertaining to their own selfish interests and perfectly contented with the evils of society at large. There are people who are discontented with everything, in the sense of being sour and despondent, and others who are discontented only in a way that arouses ambition and determination.

Both Dr. Hirsch and Mme. Guyon are right in some respects. There are some evils in life which are remediless, and Mme. Guyon is right in advising people not to reason about them, but to drop them, as they would drop a piece of hot iron. On the other hand, there are numberless imperfections in the arts of life, in the attainments of science, in the structure of society, in the conduct of government, in morals, in literature and philosophy and in every other sphere of human existence, concerning which Dr. Hirsch might truthfully say that a complacent and easy-going contentment is treason to humanity.

There cannot be in this world too little of that hopeless contentment which encourages sloth and inactivity. Neither can there be too much of that cheerful and optimistic discontent which looks upon everything with a view of improving it.

A Scandalous Affair

To the Editor of The Times:

Sir,—Who is responsible for the action of the secretary of the West Riding Reform Association in securing the "closing down" upon the C. G. E. Conservative employees who had ventured to use their own time in their own way? Mr. Stratton denies the charge that he inspired it. Do you believe him? He did it once before. It is a serious and a mean business, Mr. Peterson is not to blame. He only is to blame but the author of this miserable attempt to muzzle workingmen. Will it succeed?

Yours, etc.,
RATEPAYER.

Her Sweet Revenge.

Difficult subjects require careful handling, and for this reason a room clerk at a woman's hotel must have special qualifications. One of the many applicants to approach a clerk of this class was a young, prepossessing woman, who, a few days ago, walked to the desk and hesitatingly asked if a room could be had at a moderate price. "Would you like a room at a dollar and a half a day?" With a startled look she replied, "I want one at $3 a week." "We have rooms at that price, but none vacant. You can see that the office is full of guests, and it is not probable that we shall have such a room as you desire until one of our guests dies—or gets married." Sweeping the office with her eyes, the young woman replied sweetly, "Oh, then, it is hopeless!"

The Ticket That Came Back.

A prominent railway man tells of a railway ticket that took a sudden journey on its own account. It appears that as a northbound train on the Colorado and Southern road passed one of the stations a passenger in a forward car raised a window, and in an instant his ticket was blown from his hands. The passenger naturally gave it up for lost and was much surprised when the baggagemaster handed it to him a little while later. It appears that when the ticket flew through the window a southbound train was passing. The suction of that train, which was moving at a rapid rate, drew the ticket along with it, and as it passed the rear end of the northbound train it blew into the door of the smoking car. There it was found by the baggagemaster.

Moscow's Beggars.

Of the beggars so characteristic of Russia's ancient capital a writer says: "The old city of Moscow could not easily be dissociated from the 50,000 beggars who haunt its streets. The city belongs to them. If the city rats own the drains, they own the streets. They are part of the city; they are in perfect harmony with it. Take away the beggars and you destroy something vital. Some are so old and weather battered that they make the Kremlin itself look older, and of these who lie at the monastery doors some are so fearfully pitiable in their decrepitude that they lend power to the churches."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Buy Casey Mountain Shares in the

Chartered by the Ontario Government. Authorized Capital $250,000.00
Par Value of Shares Fully Paid-Up and Non-Assessable $1.00

PRESIDENT, R. G. Williamson, Toronto, (formerly of Peterborough). VICE-PRESIDENT, James Thompson, Havelock, Ont.

HEAD OFFICE—MANNING CHAMBERS—TORONTO—ONTARIO

Why you should buy Casey Mountain shares:—

Casey Mountain shares are fully paid-up and non-assessable.

The Casey Mountain Mining Company has a large area, which has a regular net-work of silver bearing veins, that will go down for thousand of feet.

Casey Mountain has the goods in unlimited quantities sufficient to last for generations.

Casey Mountain estimates that they have a silver bearing vein every 100 feet across the entire property, not counting cross-veins that will be encountered with underground development, and have uncovered 12 to date varying in width from 18 in. to 8 feet.

Casey Mountain is a Mining proposition (not a Stock speculation), and has been developed continuously during the past 10 months, over 300 feet of underground work has been done, and one of the greatest ore bodies encountered that has yet been struck in the District, being 16 feet wide.

Casey Mountain Mines are situated on the adjoining lot to a property that according to good authority was sold last year for one million dollars, and whose shares are being held at $7.00 each.

Casey Mountain is only capitalized at $250,000.00, a very important point to be considered in a Mining Company, and to give a comparison of our capitalization and a Company capitalized at two and one-half million dollars, that is, paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum to its shareholders, which is equal to $300,000.00 on the total capitalization; this amount of cash would mean 120 per cent. to Casey Mountain shareholders. This point is worthy of great consideration for those investing in mining stock.

Dividends Paid by Cobalt Mining Companies

Buffalo Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907... ....$ 81,000 00
Foster Cobalt Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 45,000.00
McKinley Darragh Savage Mining Co., Ltd., have paid... 45,000.00
The Coniagas Mines Limited, Cobalt, paid during 1907 ... 200,000.00
The Cobalt Silver Queen, Cobalt, paid during 1907 ... . 120,000.00
Temiscamings & Hudson Bay Mining Co., Ltd., have paid 746,120.00

(These shares could have been had at 50 cents, and have sold as high as $190.00.)

Cobalt camp has produced $15,000,000 during the past two years.

On the famous Homestead Mine in South Dakota the ore averages about $4.90 per ton, and over $60,000,000 00 has been paid in dividends.

The Tradwell Mine in Alaska is running on ore that averages $2.00 a ton, and is paying big dividends.

Casey Mountain Mining Company, Limited, has in sight thousands of tons of silver ore that will run run $20 00 to a ton, and by treating 100 tons per day would means a daily output of $2000.00, and allowing the sum of $500.00 per day for all expenses of mining, concentrating freight and smelter charges, which is a large margin, would give an annual profit of nearly $500,000 00, or 200 per cent. on the total capitalization of the Company. The above figures are on our low grade ore only.

Casey Mountain is practically close Corporation, only sufficient shares having been sold to enable the Company to carry on development until returns are received from shipments, and only a small block remains unsold at par value $1.00 per share.

Buy Casey Mountain shares at once while they are on the market, as this will be positively the last opportunity of securing shares of this Company at One dollar each. Wire or mail reservation for shares to the Head Office, Manning Chambers, Toronto.

Additional information can be had from the Secretary-Treasurer Dr. H. A. Wood, 408 1-2 George street, Peterborough.

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past session. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavor to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

Provincial Elections 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro:

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—As you are aware, I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good, economical and efficient administration of affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province, generally.

The test of good representation either by a Government or member is good work, and, in this respect both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr. Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure, for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evidently interests of the city in every direction, and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our working men and our manufacturing industries and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying in-if feel that they have done so, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies, inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent., while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per was shown by the Government reviving the contract system of prison labor, abolishing by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labor at 3 cents per hour to compete against free labor.

The introduction of the "spoils system," the failure to remove license administration from the sphere of political influence, the three-fifths handicap to Local Option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and discouragement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, the neglect of law reform, with a view of making our law courts cent.

Disregard of the rights of labor available for securing justice, within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters in which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests, which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen,

G. A. GILLESPIE

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Humor

VISITING YOUR FRIEND.

No Place Like Home, After All, So a Victim Believes.

Visiting has ever been a form of discomfort.

Your friend, who has a new home, a lately replenished library, a unique garden or something which represents money enough to make him vain in its possession, cannot rest until he has dragged you from a happy home to cater to this feeling of vanity.

As for yourself, you put it off as long as possible. Of course you want to go. The thought of not having been able to get to see him has, you assure him, filled you with perpetual gloom. But circumstances over which you have had no control have forbidden. All this you assert until the fatal moment arrives when you realize that no further subterfuge is possible, and, with many protestations of anticipatory delight, you start off.

Your friend meets you at the station with his auto. He explains its workings, its superiority over all others, as you proceed back. If it breaks down on the way, as is more than likely, he smiles brightly. Such a thing has never happened before. He knows, of course, what the cause was. He mentions it carelessly, thereby implying that it was of so little consequence that it was scarcely worth while to avoid it.

You arrive at his house. Filled with enthusiasm and revelling in a new victim, he proceeds forthwith to drag you over its weary length before you have had time to change your shoes.

"Fine room this!" he exclaims, with a burst of honest pride, and so on. By and by, when he is getting tired, his wife, like a relay pony, takes up the lecture where he leaves off.

So plastic are we that at the time by a sort of fictitious warmth you really seem to be enjoying yourself.

You exclaim in wonder over the fact that you have been so long in getting there. And when at last, a week later, you reluctantly leave you tell him, with tears in your eyes, that you had the time of our life.

It is only when once more you find yourself joyfully in your own humble apartments, with its faithful bed, whose very imperfections have endeared themselves to you, that you cry out in deep gladness, "Thank God it's over, for, after all, there's no place like home!"—T. L. Masson in Puck.

They Prayed Running.

Harry and Ethel were crossing a field on their return from Sunday school when they encountered a bull. At the animal's approach they fled in terror. Faster and faster they ran, yet nearer and nearer came the bull.

"We must pray," panted Harry.

"You do it," Ethel pleaded. "We'll kneel down right here."

"No; we'll pray running. You ought to do it. You're a girl."

"O Lord—O Lord—I can't!" sobbed Ethel. "You do it."

The proximity of the bull demanded immediate action, and Harry rose to the occasion. Loudly and fervently he prayed:

"O Lord, for what we are about to receive make us truly thankful!"—Success Magazine.

Trapped.

"I saw the cutest thing today," began Miss Passay coyly. "It was a painting of the—er—what is the name of that little god that represents matrimony?"

"Well, now," said Mr. Timmid, "you've got me."

"Oh, Mr. Timmid, this is so sudden!"—Philadelphia Press.

Ripping Times.

Guyer—And how about the bleachorites?

Gunner—Oh, they were slamming the umpire!—Chicago News.

Co-operating With Reform.

"Do you think racing will ever be stopped?"

"The trouble I have always had," replied the hard luck specialist, "is that the horses I bet on always want to stop."—Washington Star.

[illegible] Reverence.

It is easy in this world to live after the world's opinion. It is easy in solitude to live after our own, but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowds keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude.—Emerson.

Ready For Business.

A tragedian playing Richard III. in a small town was waited on after the show by an honest farmer, who said that "if the gen'l'm who wanted a horse was still of the same mind he would like to do business with him."

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defiance for Pneumonia. To start a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneezing stage—they invariably head off those early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Also for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Preventics may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there is feverishness, nightmare (by) Hawks worst baby has Preventics' greatest champion. Don't go to bed without them. Keep them handy. London, June 4.—Owing to its having become very decayed and dangerous, the old sycamore standing near Dulwich College, known as "Mr. Pickwick's Tree," has had to be cut down, much to the regret of the residents of Dulwich village, amongst whom the tradition prevails that Dickens's immortal hero was in the habit of a fine evening of resting on the seat beneath its branches towards the close of his career.

How to Tell

If the Kidneys and Liver are Not Acting Well.

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could have been saved if they only knew.

Your back may ache, you think it's tiredness or physical weakness.

You grow irritable and nervous—it's put down to loss of sleep.

Joints ache, muscles get sore,—that's all put down to bad weather.

Then digestion gets poor, appetite fades away, color bleaches, spirit droop.

Don't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills" writes C. C Ferrier, a well known merchant in Plainsville. "Dr. Hamilton's Pills touched the spot at once, gave my back ease, lifted depression and weariness, made a new man of me. I can also say for a good spring medicine to clear and enrich the blood Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal."

The housewife whose aching back makes every little duty a burden, the working man who is tired all day and can't rest at night, whose back aches, and whose feet swell—these people have kidney trouble. Women whose kidneys are sick, suffer continually from blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, bearing down pains, sharps twinges when stooping, distressing urinary troubles, aching muscles and joints, lack of appetite and loss of sleep. Reach the cause. Cure the kidneys. Use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, which have cured thousands. 25c. at all dealers.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

$100.00 Stock Bonus Given with Every $100.00 Bond

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 5,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.47 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $50,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $3,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,656 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $502.50.

The Money Derived from the Sale of These Bonds

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 30 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $750,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated —an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is small and promises to be quickly sold.

Feb. 11th, 1908.

To whom it may concern:—

We hereby beg to state that The Ures Consolidated Mining Company has during the past five years made several deliveries of bullion to this bank, and it is the opinion of mining men here that they have the making of a fair mine, and further, that the properties owned and controlled by them bid promise of becoming paying properties.

From our knowledge of the men connected, we believe they are doing all in their power to bring about the results above mentioned.

Prison Labour

"We have in Northern Ontario a stretch of country with lock-ups maintained by the Province at different intervals over a stretch of eight or nine hundred miles. They are many in number, and the Province maintains them. To bring our prisoners from that territory here frequently means a trip of from three to twelve hundred miles each way—the bailiff going for the prisoner, both coming back, the Province buying the prisoner a ticket home on his release, and all this for a sentence anywhere between six months and two years, and averaging, as a fact, less than eight months. Could we not have in that section of the Province a prison that would be carried on as an adjunct to the Central Prison? There is land there at not too great cost. There are roads there to be built. There is work to be done and much of it that surely would not invite protest, and would have a great reformatory value.

These are the questions, without more, that the Government is considering to-day. These are the questions upon which the Government will have taken its position before the House meets again. There is much in the conditions here that makes for this solution.

In this connection, sir, we have already done some work in this Province that has a bearing as indicating how far the prisoners may be trusted under proper conditions. When we took office we found a Mercer Reformatory and a Mercer Refuge for Girls. The population of the Mercer Refuge for Girls averaged about 72, with five women officers of this Government in charge as matrons, instructresses and otherwise. These Girls were from sixteen to nineteen years of age.

Early in 1905 we took up the question of how far we could dispense with that institution entirely. We set Mr. Kelso to work to see what could be done towards placing those girls in homes with relatives, or otherwise, where the environment would be such as to give them a chance. Instead of having them serve their terms and sent back to the old environment only to return again to the senior institution for a worse crime.

He did get to work. One after another of the girls was placed, sometimes with relatives, sometimes in homes far removed from the homes that they first knew, until finally we were left with the Mercer Refuge for Girls with but four prisoners and five officers in charge. We were told that whatever might be said of the others that had gone out, and of whom we had received good reports in nearly every case, that these four could not be trusted out of sight of the authorities in charge. One night they saw their chance and made their escape, and then the situation was terrible indeed. Five officers of the Government in charge of a Refuge for Girls and no inmates. The girls, however, kept together, went to the telegraphs, and called Mr. Kelso up at 11 o'clock at night and asked to be captured. He took them back to the Refuge, and in course of a short time they as well were placed—always against the terrible warnings of the officers in charge. The result has been most satisfactory, and to-day we have in this Province no longer a Refuge for Girls. The work is better done in another way. The Province has been saved thousands of dollars per year, and the work of reform is being better done in the homes to which those girls have been sent without cost to us.

I wish to move in amendment, seconded by Hon. Dr. Whitesghby:

"That all the words after 'that' in the motion be struck out and the following substituted: 'This House approves of the announcement made by the Government that the whole question of prison labor has been for some time under discussion and will be inquired into forthwith with a view to arriving at a solution which will prevent for the future any competition of prison labor with free labor.'"

The motion as amended was carried.

—Speech by Hon. W. J. Hanna.

Failing to find anything but a boomerang in the question of provincial finances and in the agricultural, the educational, the forestry and mining right departments of provincial public affairs, the Examiner has endeavored to stampede the city with a dodger on "Prison Labor". Beyond doubt this is the weakest point in the present administration's armour and it is so for two reasons. One of these is the frightfully undeveloped and inhumane treatment of offenders in for terms, by the late government. Yet it was not altogether their fault. The new humanitarian treatment of first offenders was not then in vogue, at least not so generally as to have attracted the attention of the Ross Government.

Then, again, the Ross Government had no money for improvements or anything else. They were in a slough of bankruptcy and despond. (see Globe March 24, 1904). The second of the reasons to which we refer is that no matter how good intentions may be, three and a half years is too short a time for more than experiment. Yet look what has been done! To say that Mr. Whitney is putting prison-labor up against legitimate labor is false. The advance over the Ross Government prison-labor "scheme", if such it could be called is very great. The Opposition must say something we admit but His is not the subject to be selected for trifling with. That the Examiner, the West Riding Reform Association and Mr. Stratton should try to make prisoners of C. G. E. employees is of a piece with the old government's ideas. Things have changed. It won't go now. A free ballot and fair play for everybody.—Advt.

Toronto, March 20th, 1908.

To the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited:—

Gentlemen,—

I beg to confirm my previous report to you that in my judgment the surface showings on the 14 mining claims which the Company has acquired, being Nos. H.S. 221 to H. S. 234, both inclusive indicate the probability of the existence of large bodies of both high grade and low grade free-milling ore, sufficient to pay dividends for an indefinite period.

I have personally examined a number of veins and roofs on said property (consisting of about 560 acres) and had some assays made and from such examinations and assays I make this report.

The statement on pages nine and ten of the Prospectus giving the ghost history of the Company are correct. I insisted on retaining a large interest in the Company rather than sell for any price that seemed reasonable to the purchasers.

DAVID A. FOSTER,
Haileybury.

IN THE MATTER OF THE GREAT NORTHERN LARDER LAKE MINING CO., LTD.

Statutory Declaration.
DOMINION OF CANADA
County of York
TO WIT:

I, David Foster, of the town of Haileybury, in the district of Nipissing, miner, do solemnly declare that the statements in the annexed certificate are true. I have personally inspected all of the fourteen claims now transferred to the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited. I have taken samples containing gold values from said property, and from my personal examination, and from assays made, I believe the Company's property when developed, will prove very valuable. I have full confidence in the success of the said Company, and on this account, with the exception of $400 already received, I have agreed to accept stock in said Company, and a note which I believe will not be of much value should the actual development work not prove the said claims to contain gold in paying quantities as it is not payable for one year from this date or until after the Company shall have done the necessary development work on said claims. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath, and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act."

DAVID A. FOSTER.

Declared before me at Toronto, in the County of York, this 31st day of March, 1908. J. T. LOFTUS, A. Commissioner in H. C. J.

Visited by Burglars

Cold Springs, Otonabee was visited by burglars on Tuesday night. Early in the evening of that day a tea and concert was held under the auspices of the Union Sunday School and evidently one or more of the number present were so well pleased with the delicacies provided by the Otonabee ladies that they "took in" the runaways of the basement and called later.

Once the pleasantry was over and the sombre shadows of the summer's night had fallen dimly and darkly on everything around, the hall was restored. Next morning the front found open and a search revealed the fact that several pies, cakes—plates and all—as well as two cans of salmon were missing. The light-fingered visitors were evidently "on to their job." They left both doors open so that an easy exit was possible.

Annual Report for Dairymen's Association

The annual report for 1907, of the Dairymen's Association of Ontario, has just been received, and its pages gives some information about cheese factories of this district. It shows that there were 37 factories in the district in 1907 and that 37 day visits and 354 night visits were made. The number of patrons sending milk was 1,796 and the number visited was 267. Eleven factories pay by butter fat tests and 115 samples were tested for adulteration.

Only one was watered, none was dry sent in and no fines were paid. All the factories were improved $6,796 being expended. Three had cool curing rooms in 1907 and 20 were equipped with milk testing apparatus. Twenty-five makers were qualified to test and two factories were making whey butter.

Foresters Protest Against the Raising of Rates

Penthill, June 5.—At a largely attended regular meeting held on Saturday, May 30th, of Court Raymond, No 236, I.O.F., the following resolution was unanimously passed, Moved by James R. Wilson, seconded by Frederick Fisher, "We the members of Court Raymond, No. 236, in meeting assembled desire to most earnestly protest against the proposed raise in rates to the old members of our Order, for the following reasons. We consider the proposed rates are more drastic than any measure ever contemplated by the Dominion Government, and in fact intended to freeze out the older members. We consider that in the event of it becoming law the effect will be to throw out thousands of old members who has contributed largely to the growth and success of the order, thereby leaving their families unprotected. It is a direct violation of the promise repeatedly given that there would be no change in the rate of assessment once you become a Forester. We consider the courts should have a vote of this very important question and not be shut out by such sharp practice as the calling of the Supreme Court a year ahead of the proper date."

Boys are Probably Drowned Sailing in Canoe No 13

Barrie, June 5.—Early Wednesday afternoon a young man and a lady friend rented a canoe at Corley's but on entering it noticed that it was number 13. The former made a jocular remark about the unluckiness of that number, and the couple returned to the wharf within a few minutes. At 10 minutes to 3, Norman McKnight and Percy Graham, aged 17 and 18 respectively, got the same canoe and started across the water. This was the last seen of them.

McKnight's family came from the neighborhood of Colestown some ten years ago, at the death of the father, James McKnight. Since then the widowed mother has resided on Eccles street in Barrie with her two sons, living upon the money saved while farming.

The lost boy was a messenger for some time in the G.N.W. Tel. Co. office here. His companion, Percy Graham, lived with his mother, who supported herself and him by her own exertions.

Mrs. McKnight is certain her boy is drowned, as he had never stayed away over night before without letting her know. She is a well-preserved middle-aged woman, but is showing the result of the terrible anxiety of the last two days.

The shore is being searched in the neighborhood where the canoe was found, in the hope of finding some clue.

The suggestions that the boys had run away and taken a tour as a means of concealing their whereabouts is not entertained, as they had nothing to gain by such a course. Their homes were comfortable, and neither was forced to earn his own living.

The boys left here intending to go for a swim. Later in the evening the canoe was found by Captain Lyon upside down floating in the bay. It was then three miles down the south shore. There was not a vestige of clothing, paddle, or cushions in the canoe.

Launches are still patrolling the bay in an effort to locate the bodies.

POLICE

In the police court yesterday morning, two drunks were in the dock charged with being disorderly. One was fined $2 while the other was given the privilege of one of the men while on his spree had a pail of red paint spilt over him, and his appearance was not of the best when he was forced to pay a visit to the police station. Yesterday afternoon he was feeling rather cheerful as he walked up Water street, carrying a suit case. At the corner of Water and McDonnel streets a painter carrying a pail of red paint was going up a ladder. The "boozy" one walked over to him, and started to shake it with the result that the painter dropped the pail, spilling the contents over the man below. Just then a policeman hove in sight, and took the "jag" with the suit case to the police station where he had an opportunity to sober up.

Child Badly Burned by Flat Iron

Mrs. Thos. Allen of 136 Water St., St. Mary's Ont. says:—"My little daughter Mildred, 4 years old, was severely burned a few months since by sitting on a hot flat iron. She received three burns in all, one on her thigh, another on her heel and a third on her instep. At the time of the accident I used oils and then one preparation after another, yet nothing seemed to take out the inflammation or heal up the open sounds. Finally we heard of Zam-Buk and obtained a box. I began applying the balm and was agreeably surprised when in the course of a few days the wounds were not so inflamed and the child rested easier. I persevered in using and gradually the sores healed and instep healed over, but the wound on thigh took a much longer time. However, new skin formed over this as soon as all inflammation and soreness was drawn out. Now only a small mark remains to show where the burns had been."

Zam-Buk is healing, soothing and antiseptic. It is the home "first aid," and no mother or home should be without it. Of all druggists and stores, sell at 50 cents a box.

Unsuccessful Effort to Adjourn Methodist Conference at Lindsay

Ministers Want to Cast Their Ballot on Monday --A Warm Disoussion Took Place --The Three-Fifths Clause

Lindsay, June 6.—A warm discussion took place regarding not holding a session of the Bay of Quinte Conference on Monday next, election day, the debate adding spice to the morning proceedings owing to the fact that some ministers wanted to return to their places of polling their votes, while others contended that the Conference would hold important meetings on Monday, and the ministers could not be spared. It was generally thought that the noes of the horns and brass bands would outvote not only the hymn to be sung on Monday, but also the ministers, but the question was left undecided.

There was a lively tilt over the union church relief fund, when Mr. Hancock moved that a committee be appointed to look after this. After considerable discussion the journal was referred to to settle the question.

Rev. H. S. McGee, Moral Reform Secretary, said the Church must live and work in the hope of doing away with the three-fifths clause in Ontario, and referred to the 50 per cent. required in Manitoba local option elections.

Rev. W. B. Creighton, editor of the Christian Guardian, gave a short address dealing with the aims and standing of the publication.

The Secretary of Education, Rev. J. W. Graham of Toronto, made a stirring appeal on behalf of students earning their way through college. The speaker said that last year's income to his department had been very inadequate, and added that $44,000 was needed this year.

Rev. Dr. J. J. Hare submitted the annual report of the Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby.

Rev. J. G. Lewis, the newly-elected secretary, named as his assistants Rev. W. B. Tucker, Beaverton, and Mr. J. J. Mason, Bowmanville.

Delightful Program Rendered by 57th Band Last Night

A large gathering of the music lovers of Peterborough, wended their way to Victoria Park last night to hear the famous 57th Regimental Band give its first public concert of the season. The weather was ideal, and blended with the soft strains of the music made the evening a delightful one.

Victoria Park was looking at its best, the short clipped grass, the pretty flower beds and the trees in their summer suit of green made it an excellent place for the band to render the interpretations of the masters.

And humanity was there, both young and old. Lovers by the hundreds, men who went over to smoke and converse, ladies went, mainly for the outing, and the children, for the novelty of it.

The band itself was excellent, being about 60 strong, and under the direction of Prof. Gliddon rendered an excellent program. The first number was a march, "Flying Squadron," composed of a few snatches here and there from national airs, and the musicians certainly did full justice to the writer. p

The overture, Zampa, brought forth much praise from all sides, the harmony being perfectly rendered. "Cherry" was the next number, and it greatly delighted the younger generation. Girls hummed it, and the boys whistled the air, and every one was sorry when the last bar was finished.

"My Old Kentucky Home" that beautiful old paraphrase of the south brought tears to the eyes of many, the band playing it with such feeling. The next was a characteristic melody entitled the "Whistler and His Dog." In this the majority of the audience had an opportunity of showing their ability as whistlers, and they performed very creditably too.

The cornet solo, "The Rosary," by Bandsman Hughes, made a great impression on his audience, the solo at first bring out the fine points of this great composition in fine style.

A negro oddity, entitled "Darkies' Revels, was the next, and was a very pretty air, abounding in many catchy runs. The descriptive solo, "The Mill in the Black Forest," is too well known to need any comment. "Creole Queen," one of the latest cakewalks, was the next number, and proved a most delightful piec. The closing number before "God Save the King," was the ever popular English hunting scene.

Local Bankers on the Look Out

Local bankers have been warned to be on the lookout for a slick stranger, who is charged with having swindled the United Empire and British North American banks out of $1600 at Hamilton. He has several aliases and has on many occasions passed as a wealthy hide dealer. His methods of operation is to deposit a small sum of money in a bank for some time, and then when suspicion is lulled, to deposit a bogus cheque for a large sum and then withdraw it.

Woman Describes Cure for Eczema

Here is a simple treatment for skin diseases, such as salt rheum, eczema, tetter, etc., that is so good that I feel I ought to make it public in your columns. Dissolve a teaspoonful of pure powdered citrox in two tablespoons of hot water and bathe the diseased skin with the warm solution 20 minutes at a time twice a day. The only precaution is to be sure to get the pure drug, just as it comes from the chemical works, in small sealed packages, and make the solution fresh each time it is to be used. It must be applied freshly and warm. Any good drug store has this well-known chemical.

It seems almost too simple, but the best things are always simple. I cured my husband of a very bad case of eczema on the leg, and my little boy's ringworm with it; also a very dear friend, who had tetter on her hand. It drew up the eruption in a few days and stops the itching at once. A friend of mine who got the prescription from a famous skin specialist gave it to me. It is a priceless discovery, and I hope you will publish this.

John W. Bates Drowned at Sunnyside

Toronto, June 5.—John W. Bates, aged 20, was drowned in the lake at Sunnyside beach at four o'clock this afternoon while in swimming with a chum.

Bates was the son of Andrew Bates, undertaker, of the firm of Bates & Dodds, 931 Queen street west.

With his companion he went out in a canoe about 100 feet from the shore. It is said that he could not swim, and he must have gone down because of cramps, for the water was only about five feet deep where his body was found.

The body was rescued by Ben Orr. Dr. R. Orr of Parkdale was hastily called, and worked unavailingly to restore the young man to life.

The dead young man was a junior member of the firm of Bates & Dodds.

Lady Socialist Assists in Lindsay Election Campaign

Berlin, Ont., June 5.—Mrs. Simons, associate editor of the Chicago Daily Socialist, delivered an eloquent address to about 600 people, mostly working men, on Tuesday night. She traced the evolution of industry, showing how industry had developed from the spinning wheel to the mammoth machine used today, how the tools once owned by the individual through the competitive system have passed over into the hands of a few capitalists, and thereby enslaving the once free worker. She explained the workings of the great trusts of this continent, the concentration of wealth into the hands of the few, and went on to show how the trustification of the natural resources and tools of production must ultimately bring us to socialism. She made an eloquent appeal to all workers to use their reason, and vote in their own interests. That their interests are identical and diametrically opposite that of the capitalist class. The Socialist part of Canada was but a prt of a world-wide movement. Mrs. Simons spoke at Galt Wednesday night, in Lindsay last night, returning home to Chicago today.

BOWLING.

Two rinks of Millbrook bowlers, went to the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club last night, and beat the bowlers by three shots. One rink from the town of Millbrook also were in the city, and the locals secured a victory over them by three shots.

The fast West Ends of the City League journeyed to Campbellford yesterday and received a beating. The score was 8—3.

Two good games are down for decision in the City League this afternoon. At 2 o'clock the Wellingtons and Lakeviews will clash, and as both teams are pretty evenly matched, a good contest should result. At four o'clock the opposing nines will be the Y.M.C.A. and Kiwanis, and on past performances Corey Burns' sphere chasers should land the bacon. Both games will be played on Nicholls Oval.

BASEBALL

Manager Johnston's Pets leave at eight o'clock this morning for Cobourg where they will play a championship game this afternoon. The following team will go along;

The team will not return home until some time next Thursday, as a tour will be made of the towns east of Cobourg. On Monday they will have Belleville for their opponents, Tuesday they will hook up with Frankford, and Wednesday they play at Wellington, returning home on Thursday for a short rest before they play a home game with Cobourg.

WALKING.

Jimmy Harrison the local "ped" and Jack Cooper, who holds the record of 7.42 for a mile, are matched to meet in a four-hour race at Belleville on Saturday, June 13th, for $100 a side.

Harrison beat Cooper yesterday morning taking up the latter's defi. He leaves for Belleville next Friday and will be accompanied by his capable trainer. From Belleville he will go to St. Catharines for the big six day walk there on June 15th, for the championship of Canada. He has been training hard of late and has rounded into runaway condition.

Cooper is a crackerjack for the shorter distances and the tilt between him and Harrison should be a hummer from bell to bell. Local followers of the walking game think Harrison's chances against his speedy little opponent are good but the latter is looked upon as a very formidable proposition.

The race should prove a great drawer to the lovers of exciting sport, and as Belleville is a good sporting town there is every reason to believe the rink will be packed for the event.

A Hot Game at Riverside Park This Afternoon

A great game is expected at Riverside Park this afternoon, when the Athletics and Port Hope clash in a Midland League fixture. This is the first time these teams have met, and as both are out for blood, there should be red-hot doings. The locals will have on their strongest line-up, and are taking no chances of getting a trouncing. The Hopers are coming here with a strong aggregation, and Manager O'Brien is confident of victory. The Athletics will line up as follows.

Toronto Star Picks Fred Simpson to Win Today

Fred Simpson, the public choice for the final trial Marathon race at Toronto this afternoon, left for the Queen City on the C.P.R. train at 6 o'clock this morning, accompanied by his trainer Dick Baker. Fred is in the pink of condition, and has been stepping off the miles in lively time while on training jaunts. All the sporting authorities of Toronto pick the local lad to win the race and nothing short of a broken leg will hold him back.

The distance of today's race is 25 miles over a "man killing course."

Want Dreyfus Executed, Offered to Kill Him

Paris, June 6.—Whether yesterday's attempt upon the life of Major Alfred Dreyfus, at the time of the canonization of Emile Zola in the Pantheon was only the individual act of a man believing himself to be an outraged patriot, or had behind it an incipient nationalist plot, the Republican press is unanimous in deploring the incident and believes it injured rather than aided the cause. Even the papers which doubted the wisdom of burying Zola in the Pantheon think that the shooting of Major Dreyfus consolidated the Republican sentiment, and they evidently desire to see the incident die out as quickly as possible. Any attempt to open the old Dreyfus issue at the trial of Louis Gregori, the man who shot the major yesterday they point out, can easily be frustrated as being plainly extraneous.

On the other hand, the fury of the Nationalist papers is unbounded. L'Action Francaise fires a broadside which recalls the most exciting days of Dreyfus and Boulanger. At the head of its columns this newspaper prints a statement by Charles Maurras, it is likely the authorities will investigate. In this article the writer says that on Wednesday night "A resolute patriot" visited M. Dausset and found Beauffeury and himself ready to kill Dreyfus, but his proposal was rejected. A leading editorial in this paper appeals to the country to turn to the Duke of Orleans for redress and concludes with these words:

"Do you desire that Zola's body be ejected from the Pantheon?

Do you desire to march Dreyfus to the execution block?

If so, invoke your King."

The paper also republishes a number of London reviews of the Dreyfus case, insisting that he is a traitor. The decision of the Court of Cassation to cut off the time for an appeal, the paper says, is illegal, and it concludes its article as follows;

"What we ask for Dreyfus is cut six balls from a refrolver, but the twelve bullets from the execution squad."

This morning Gregori was taken to his apartments and was present when the goldies made a thorough search of his rooms for possible incriminating documents. Their efforts developed nothing of importance.

The bullet was extracted from Major Dreyfus' arm without difficulty.

If one feels dull and spiritless in the spring or early summer, they call it "Spring Fever." But there is no fever—usually. It is the after effect of our winter habits. The nerves are mostly at fault. Tired worn-out nerves, leaves us languid, listless, and without spirit or ambition. A few doses of Dr. Shoop's Restorative will absolutely and quickly change all of these depressing symptoms. The Restorative of course won't bring you back to full health in a day or two, but it will be enough in 48 hours to satisfy you that the remedy is reaching that "tired spot." Druggists everywhere are advising its use as a splendid and prompt general tonic. It gives more vim and more spirit to the spoonful than any other known nerve or constitutional tonic. It absorbs a failing appetite, aids digestion, frees sluggish bowels and kidneys, and brings new life, strength and ambition. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

Save Your Coppers to Help the Ladies

Here is a new way to secure money. It is a scheme adopted by the Ladies' Aid Society of the George street Methodist church to raise the money to pay for the redecorating of the interior of the church.

The money is to be raised by the collection of coppers. For this purpose cards have been distributed among the members of the society, and they are now hanging on to every cent piece that comes their way. Each card has space on it for 200 coppers, or in other words, $2. Each card has two hundred small squares on it and every time a copper is added to the collection one of the squares is marked off. The scheme is called, and judging from the way the ladies have been securing the cents it is going to be a great success. The returns, it is understood, will be made in September, and by that time sufficient coppers should have been collected to completely redecorate the interior of the church.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, it purifies and purifies the blood, thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

Many Get Consumption in Spring Months

The System is Generally Run Down and Lacks Power to Destroy the Germ.

Winter takes the vitality and snap out of us all. Instead of being rich and healthful, the blood is sure to be thin and watery in the spring. An overpowering tiredness comes upon us—this is followed by dead weakness, loss of sleep, poor appetite and depression.

Doctors all say the only hope lies in supplying lots of new blood which must be brimming with vitality and building material.

The quickest way to get the necessary supply of vitalized blood is by taking Ferrozone. It establishes a high standard of blood, increases nerve force, restores bodily vigor in a truly marvelous way.

You are amply protected from spring fever and debility diseases by using Ferrozone,—This is proved by Mrs. B. J. Richards, of Manotick, Ont., who tells in the following words how she gained in health and spirit from Ferrozone: "For about two years I was not well. I was thin and anaemic. Towards spring I fell into a condition of nervous exhaustion that made life scarcely worth living. A dead tiredness seemed to hang over me like a load of lead. I simply could not do housework of any kind. A bad cough developed that worried me greatly, for I thought it might be tubercular. When I first read about Ferrozone I was convinced it was good. I took it regularly for about eight weeks and the change in my health was wonderful. My cheeks filled out and became clear and rosy. I gained eight pounds in weight and am now as strong and vigorous as possible."

Ferrozone feeds and nourishes the organs that require assistance. It sends the thrill and vim of robust health from head to foot, makes you feel better at once. Won't you use Ferrozone? Sold everywhere; 50 chocolate-coated tablets in a box for 50 cents, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers.

HOW TO PERFECT HEALTH

The attractive headline "Adds Fifty Years to Allotted Life of Man" was printed in a recent issue of the New York Herald, and under it was the story of Carl Berger, distinguished chef and hotel manager, and his simple rules to insure good health and a long career. As the subject is of universal interest we shall take the liberty of extending the knowwledge of Mr. Berger's system.

But first a word as to what Mr. Berger himself can do. He can devise and serve dishes that arouse the enthusiasm of the most exacting epicure; also he can sit in his chair and lift an eighty-five pound dumbbell. This latter feat, it appears, has stumped all Newport. "Scores of society athletes and husky seamen have been pitted against him", and still he holds the record.

What his training as a chef was we are not told, but the muscular training was very simple. Mr. Berger spends twenty minutes a day on the home exercises, and here is a description of a private exhibition that he gave:

He began by lifting himself on the toes of his right foot, then on the left foot. This was followed by crooking the knees in a stooping movement. Then came the various movements of turning the torso to the right and left at the waist line, followed by a sweeping motion, accompanied by touching the fingers to the toes. Opening and closing the fingers, wrist movements and crooking of the arms at the elbows to develop the biceps ensued, as well as deep breathing exercises.

There are twenty-eight exercises in the twenty minutes, but it is not by exercise alone that Mr. Berger has gained the strength to lift the eighty-five pounds as he sits comfortably in his chair. Part of his success is due to dieting, and if there is one thing that is more interesting to the people in pursuit of health than exercise it is dieting. Furthermore, we can assure them that Mr. Berger's prescription is the best we have ever seen for avoiding the inconvenience and dissatisfaction that a rigorous diet often causes. He makes a light breakfast on lamb and eggs, fruit and coarse bread. He forbids cold dishes at luncheon and advises chicken hash, eggs, a little hot roast beef or some such plain dishes, saying that if one wishes a little Moselle or Rhine wine it will not hurt. Fish is good at all times, and for dinner there are, besides fish, plain soups, prime lamb, fresh chickens or fresh turkeys with plain ice cream and nuts for dessert.

Mr. Berger waxed eloquent as he spoke of this simple, self-denying ordinance, and his enthusiasm was justified. We have no doubt that people who have tried dieting and given it up in disgust will acquire fresh courage from reading a brief description of his plan. But as a thrifty housekeeper remarked not long since when she was told of the purchase of a quarter or something of prime lamb to gratify a lover of the simple life, the indulgence from a strictly pecuniary point of view may compel a resort to shank steak later on.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 PER CENT FIRST MORTGAGE FIVE-YEAR-OLD BONDS

dated January 11, 1908, and maturing January 11, 1913. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico, Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness except this present Bond Issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

$100.00 Stock Bonus Given with Every $100.00 Bond

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 5,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.47 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $40,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $3,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,464 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $502.50.

The Money Derived from the Sale of These Bonds

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 80 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $750,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated—an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is small and promises to be quickly sold.

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro:

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—As you are aware, I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good, economical and efficient administration of affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province, generally.

The test of good representation either by a Government or member is good work, and, in this respect both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure, for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evidently, interests of the city in every direction, and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our working men and our manufacturing industries; and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying industry, by fair play for them, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies, inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent., while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per was shown by the Government reviving the contract system of prison labor, abolishing by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labor at 3 cents per hour to compete against free labor.

The introduction of the "spoils system," the failure to remove license administration from the sphere of political influence, the three-fifths handicap to Local Option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and discouragement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, the neglect of law reform, with a view of making our law courts cent.

Disregard of the rights of labor available for securing justice, within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters in which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests, which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen,

C. A. GILLESPIE

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. These are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney action. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell

News in Brief

Portland, Me., June 4.—Commander Robert E. Peary is of the opinion that this country should take up the subject of the exploration of the South Pole, but he does not feel that he can give any attention to the southern region until he has finished his work in the north.

"If I arrive at the North Pole on this trip," he said, "my next ambition will be to plant the Stars and Stripes at the furthest point south. I feel that it would be about as difficult to reach one as the other. Having started for the Farthest North, I am going to keep on until I succeed or die, but I do wish that some one would come forward who would be able to battle with the elements of the Southland and make that also territory to be invaded by a Yankee."

New York, June 5.—The discovery of appalling destitution among the residents of the lower East side of the city has revealed that thousands of children go daily to school without breakfast, that they have no noon-day meal, and that they go to their wretched beds at night. Many are actually starving.

A meeting is to be held to-day at the Educational Alliance to devise means to put an end to this condition. This will be followed by a mass meeting at which full details of the sad condition will be made public, and an appeal will be made for funds to provide food for suffering children. Many children have fainted in school from lack of nourishment. This is what has led to the discovery of deplorable poverty.

The condition, it is said, by school teachers and others who have been investigating, presents a new problem, as the children are not the offspring of idle and vicious, but of respectable men and women who are willing to work, but who can get no employment.

Berlin, June 4.—Confirmation has been caused in Germany by an announcement that Emperor William intends to ask that his civil list—that is the salary he is paid by the state, be increased. There will be some stormy debates when the subject comes up in Prussia's landtag or parliament.

It is felt that the present civil list, amounting to $4,000,000, should be ample to keep up the imperial state. Besides, it is thought by many classes that the emperor is needlessly extravagant. When he came to the throne his salary was nearly $1,000,000 less than it is now. The old emperor, his grandfather, received only $2,500,000. And before 1890 the annual income of the kings of Prussia was $1,925,000. In addition to his civil list the emperor has a great revenue. He is the largest land owner in the country; he gets big royalties and other privileges from iron, coal and salt mines in Westphalia, Silesia and elsewhere, and he has most extensive property in buildings. His aggregate income is computed at about $10,000,000.

Nevertheless, there is a persistent rumor that the emperor has had to resort to money lenders.

London, June 4.—King Edward's domination in the realm of foreign affairs is exciting extreme uneasiness among the British Liberals, who note that inevitably his efforts tend to isolate Germany. The Liberals favor ententes or undertakings with every power, but not at the risk of creating a situation in which the fierce German hating sentiment nourished by the Tories may easily provoke a conflagration in Europe.

At first every one believed the King sought only universal peace, but now he is suspected of being infected with the prevalent jingo disease—apprehension of a German invasion, which seems to inspire his whole international policy.

Lord Esher, the Governor of Windsor Castle, the King's closest political adviser and confidant, recently showed himself a violent hater of the Germans, notably in his private letter to the British Navy League, the unauthorized revealing of which led to Emperor William's protest to Lord Tweedmouth, in which the Emperor advised that Esher be restricted to the proper function of inspecting the drains of the royal palace at Windsor.

The comments of both the English and French jingoes on the meaning of the French President Fallieres's visit have intensified the concern in Liberal quarters and aroused decided resentment against the King for employing phrases calculated to convey the impression there is a possibility that the Anglo-French entente may develop into an alliance, which, it is well known would be impracticable.

So the King's language can only be interpreted as a deliberate menace to Germany.

London, June 5.—During the year just ended the Nottingham Guardians made a profit of £312 from their workhouse farm.

CURIOUS MINE DISASTER.

A large sheet of rain water which had collected in a depression just above the Barbara coal mine in Sosnowice, Poland, made its way into the pit, carrying with it a mass of earth and demolishing everything in its path. Four injured miles and two mutilated bodies have been recovered, and six more are missing.

The Ticket That Came Back.

A prominent railway man tells of a railway ticket that took a sudden journey on its own account. It appears that as a northbound train on the Colorado and Southern road passed one of the stations a passenger in a forward car raised a window, and in an instant his ticket was blown from his hands. The passenger naturally gave it up for lost and was much surprised when the baggagemaster handed it to him a little while later. It appears that when the ticket flew through the window a southbound train was passing. The suction of that train, which was moving at a rapid rate, drew the ticket along with it, and as it passed the rear end of the northbound train it blew into the door of the smoking car. There it was found by the baggagemaster.

Moscow's Beggars.

Of the beggars so characteristic of Russia's ancient capital a writer says: "The old city of Moscow could not easily be dissociated from the 50,000 beggars who haunt its streets. The city belongs to them. If the city rats own the drains, they own the streets. They are part of the city; they are in perfect harmony with it. Take away the beggars and you destroy something vital. Some are so old and weather battered that they make the Kremlin itself look older, and of those who lie at the monastery doors some are so fearfully pitiable in their decrepitude that they lend power to the churches."

READ COPY OF CERTIFICATE AND STATUTORY DECLARATION CONFIRMING SAME.

Toronto, March 30th, 1908.

To the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited:—

Gentlemen,—

I beg to confirm my previous report to you that in my judgment the surface showings on the 14 mining claims which the Company has acquired, being Nos. H.A. 221 to H. R. 234, both inclusive indicate the probability of the existence of large bodies of both high grade and low grade free-milling ore, sufficient to pay dividends for an indefinite period.

I have personally examined a number of veins and reefs on said property (consisting of about 560 acres) and had some assays made and from such examinations and assays I make this report.

The statement on pages nine and ten of the Prospectus giving the short history of the Company are correct. I insisted on retaining a large interest in the Company rather than sell for any price that seemed reasonable to the purchasers.

DAVID A. FOSTER,
Haileybury.

IN THE MATTER OF THE GREAT NORTHERN LARDER LAKE MINING CO., LTD.

Statutory Declaration.

DOMINION OF CANADA
County of York
TO WIT:

I, David Foster, of the town of Haileybury, in the district of Nipissing, miner, do solemnly declare that the statements in the annexed certificate are true. I have personally inspected all of the fourteen claims now transferred to the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited. I have taken samples containing gold values from said property, and from my personal examination, and from assays made, I believe the Company's property when developed, will prove very valuable. I have full confidence in the success of the said Company, and on this account, with the exception of $400 already received, I have agreed to accept stock in said Company, and a note which I believe will not be of much value should the actual development work not prove the said claims to contain gold in paying quantities as it is not payable for one year from this date or until after the Company shall have done the necessary development work on said claims. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath, and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act."

DAVID A. FOSTER.

Declared before me at Toronto, in the County of York, this 31st day of March, 1908. J. T. LOFTUS, A. Commissioner in H. C. J.

PROPERTIES TRANSFERRED.

Since the prospectus was printed, the sale of the 14 mining claims to the Company has been completed and the transfers to the Company are registered in the Recorder's Office at Larder City. There is no mortgage or other encumbrance against said claims.

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1/2 CENT A SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without letup, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock. If you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,500 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Appetite Gone Nerves Badly Run Down

A Strong Moral Well Exemplified In Mrs. Wilson's Case.

Like thousands of other people at this season of the year Mrs. E. P. Wilson was tired and worn out—winter sorely tried her health and vigor. But now she is robust and well, eats well, sleeps well, feels invigorated and braced. "For some years," writes Mrs. Wilson of Witmarsh, P.O., "I suffered from systematic weakness, biliousness and depressing headaches. I could take little nourishment and grew thin and pale. If I ate a hearty meal the result was dreadful. Pains started at my chest, and spread all through my body going across my stomach, back and right side. I was discouraged till a friend insisted on me taking Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They made a new woman of me, and for the past eight months my health has been perfect. For a good cleansing, rejuvenating medicine I urge every one to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

There is extraordinary and magic power in Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they bring vigor, tone, health, and spirits—are compounded from the most wonderful and healing juices and essences in vegetable life—are safe for young and old, and guaranteed to instil renewed activity and strength in every system that is weak, sickly or run down from kidney, liver, stomach or bladder trouble. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut—today—25c. at all dealers.

Seriously Injured with a Lamp

Mrs. Henry Green's narrowly escaped serious injury as a result of falling on a lighted lamp on Monday. Her chest was badly lacerated and a deep cut was inflicted over the right eye.

The accident occurred at the residence of Mrs. Hugh, Mill street, where Mrs. Green's was engaged in nursing. Miss Parsons. During the night Mrs. Greenis was seized with a toothache and was on her way to a nearby room to secure relief. On reaching the hall she tripped and fell on the lighted lamps which she was carrying. In falling the light was smothered.

Mrs. Wheeler heard the fall and immediately rushed to the scene fearing that it was Miss Parsons. Dr. McKinley was called and Mrs. Green's was removed to her home on Pine street, where she is progressing favorably.—Port Hope Guide.

ON THE FARM.

HOW NATURE PROVIDES FOR US.

The most independent man on earth is the farmer, for he makes the earth yield him almost everything needed for life. He knows that as he sows so will he reap. He usually keeps strong and healthy from constant strife with Nature—in sunshine and in pure air. At night when work is done, he finds most refreshing sleep, such as only a tired man knows. In the same way that the earth yields food for man, so does it provide remedies for human ills. Thousands of households throughout the farming districts of the United States know the value of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is Nature's most valuable and health-giving agent—made without the use of alcohol. It contains native medicinal roots, and is the concentration of Nature's vitality as found in the American forests. This remedy has a history which speaks well for it because it was given to the public by Dr. R. V. Pierce, founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., nearly forty years ago, and has since been sold by druggists in ever increasing quantities.

Dr. Pierce found that the bark of the Black Cherry-tree, the root of the Mandrake, Stone root, Queen's root, Bloodroot and Golden Seal root, made into a scientific, non-alcoholic extract by the use of glycerine, made the best alterative and tonic. The refreshing influence of this extract is at once apparent in the recovered strength of the patient—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which otherwise may poison the system. This alterative and tonic extract has been found to stand alone as a safe, invigorating tonic, as it does not depend on alcohol for a false stimulation, but is Nature's own method of strengthening and cleansing the system. It tones up the stomach and purifies the blood in Nature's own way. It is well known all over the world as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The name was given to this vegetable compound because one of the important ingredients was Golden Seal root. * * * Such an authority as Dr. Roberts Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal root, "very useful as a stomachic tonic. Cures catarrh of the stomach and headaches accompanying the same." Dr. Grover Coe, in his Book Organic Medicines, speaking of Golden Seal root, says that "as a liver invigorator it has few equals." Further he says, "In chronic inflammation of the bladder we deem it one of the most reliable agents of cure. As a tonic in the convalescing stages of fevers, pneumonia, dysentery and other acute diseases Hydrastis (Golden Seal root) is peculiarly appropriate."

Dr. Coe continues: "We would here add that our experience has demonstrated the Hydrastis or Golden Seal root to be a valuable remedy in bronchitis, laryngitis, and other affections of the respiratory organs."

Prof. Robert A. Hare, M. D., University of Pennsylvania, says of Golden Seal: "Of service in chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels following abuse of alcohol, a tonic after malarial fever. Has a distinct, anti-malarial influence. Good in all catarrhal conditions, as uterine catarrh, leucorrhea, etc. Is a curative agent in chronic dyspepsia."

Prof. John M. Scudder in Specific Medication says of Golden Seal: "It stimulates the digestive processes, and increases the assimilation of food. By these means the blood is enriched, and this blood feeds the muscular system. I mention the muscular system because I believe it first feels the increased power imparted by the stimulation of increased nutrition. The consequent improvement on the nerves and glandular systems are natural results.

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription specially put up for woman's ills—for those distressing—dragging down ailments—peculiar to women—is also a temperance remedy that is best known by its cures. With Dr. Pierce's medicines, their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated [illegible] Medical Adviser will be sent [illegible] receipt, for stamps to cover [illegible] mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BODY CLEANING EVERY SPRING MORE URGENT THAN HOUSE CLEANING.

Many Women Have Discovered That a Course of Treatment With Pe-ru-na Cleanses the System of the Accumulations of Winter.

MRS. ALICE BRADLEY.

Mrs. Alice Bradley, Thorold, Ont., Can., writes:

"Two years ago I became weak and rundown and as time passed I gradually failed until a year ago, when I experienced a stroke of paralysis, which affected one side and I was helpless.

"I called in professional medical treatment, but steadily grew worse.

"I had decided I never would rise again from my bed, but, when Peruna was brought to me and after having taken four bottles of it, I was able to be out and a wonder to myself and friends.

"I consider Peruna a great blessing to the afflicted. I may add that my daughter has also used Peruna and has been blessed with renewed health. I believe Peruna saved our lives."

Health and Complexion, Strength and Beauty Depend Upon Clean Blood and Good Digestion.

Mrs. Daniel Passmore, Welland, Ontario, Can., writes: "For three years I was severely afflicted with stomach trouble, and for days at a time I could not eat anything. I grew thin in flesh, had headaches and was the picture of despair.

"I was attended by three doctors, but got no good results.

"Finally I began the use of Peruna. I soon noticed an improvement and after using three bottles, I was able to relish a meal, in fact, could eat anything.

"To-day I feel well and strong. I consider that Peruna has saved my life and I shall always praise it."

MRS. DANIEL PASSMORE.

Clean Up Once a Year.

CLEANING up the body in the spring is a duty everyone owes to himself. Face powders may hide a rough skin, but Peruna helps to produce a skin that need not be hidden.

The source of good blood is good digestion. Peruna aids digestion.

Those people who have regular bodily functions have a clear and delicate skin. Peruna helps to restore these functions.

Most skin deformities depend upon systemic derangements which cannot be corrected by local treatments.

Peruna is a systemic remedy, reorganizing and regulating the whole body.

Mrs. N. P. Lawler, 1214 N. Broadway, Pittsburg, Kas., writes:

"Last spring I caught a severe cold which developed into a serious case of catarrh. I felt weak and sick and could neither eat nor sleep well.

"A member of our club, who had been cured of catarrh through the use of Peruna, advised me to try it and I did so at once.

"I expected help, but nothing like the wonderful change for the better I observed almost as soon as I started taking it.

"In three days I felt much better, and within a week I was well.

"I continued taking the entire bottle and within two weeks I was in fine health."

"Peruna is a wonderful medicine."

Mr. Lee King, R. F. D. No. 4, Farmersville, Tex., writes.

"My health has been better generally this spring and summer than it has been for four years and I have worked nearly every day.

"I suffered with dysentery and bowel trouble.

"Your remedy also cured my wife of constipation.

"I wish you continued success with your great medicine, Peruna."

1908 is Going to be a Wonderful Fruit Year

St. Catharines, June 6.—"This is going to be a wonderful fruit year," remarked a prominent grower tonight.

"I don't think I ever saw the trees look so promising. The blossoms have been exceptionally abundant, and the fruit now nicely formed, fairly tumbles down the peach and other trees.

"The danger of frost is probably past now, and whereas last year saw probably the smallest fruit crop on record, this year will probably see the largest.

"There should be no scarcity of peaches anywhere this year."

Mad Race for Life In the West Against Poverty and Time

Winnipeg, June 6.—The fight against death in its most dreaded form—from rabies—of little Winnie Randall, the ten-year-old daughter of Horace Randall, a Wawota, Sask., farmer, is practically ended, the grim spectre being pronounced the loser. The child's fight for life, which has been hampered by the poverty-stricken condition of the father, attracted a great deal of attention throughout Western Canada, and in three days nearly five hundred dollars was subscribed, when only three hundred dollars was asked for by the Winnipeg Telegram.

On the 11th of May, Winnifred Randall was bitten by a dog which showed symptoms of madness, and a large piece of flesh was taken out of her left leg. The dog's head was sent to the government analyst at Regina, and for a week the father and mother awaited the verdict, hoping, yet fearing to hear it. On the following Thursday it came; "Analysis of head shows symptoms of hydrophobia, advise girl sent to Pasteur Institute, Minneapolis, without delay."

Horace Randall, the girl's father, had recently arrived from England, and was working on his brother's small farm. He had barely a dollar in the house, but during the next day managed to scrape together a few dollars, enough to pay his and the child's fare to Winnipeg, but had no money to go farther. They arrived there Saturday night and appealed to a church society, but were turned away. They went to the immigration authorities and to Dr. J. E. Jones, the American consul and were assured that everything possible would be done for them that could be done, Dr. Jones advanced his personal cheque which was to pay all expenses if money were not received from any other source.

All obstacles having been at last overcome, father and child started for the Pasteur Institute on the night train, Sunday, and reached Minneapolis Monday morning. Winnie was hurried to the Pasteur Institute and given her first treatment that morning. When the doctors announced that the second stage, which usually follows in about two weeks, had not yet set in, and the prospects for his child's recovery were excellent, tears streamed down the father's anxious face and he clasped the little girl in his arms. The next thing he did was to wire a tired weary mother in Wawota who was praying for her little girl's recovery.

Since then her condition has improved each day and the doctors state that all fear of danger is now past.

Last Phase of Race Riot in Vancouver

Vancouver, June 6.—"I think the people will be glad that we have reached the last phase of the riot. I hope some good will come of it; that at least it shall help us to understand each other better."

Commissioner King, kt. today, thus closed two weeks' Chinese claims enquiry, his third investigation within nine months, all growing out of the riot in September.

The commissioner, and counsel for the Chinese, spoke of the valuable assistance rendered by Mr. McEvoy, as also by the presence at the enquiry of Mr. Kenyon representing the Chinese embassy in London, Owyank King, Chinese consul at San Francisco and Mr. Moy of Portland, with whom he had had many private conferences.

"It is impossible in an enquiry like this," concluded the commissioner, "to avoid asking many questions, some of which might seem to be important and appear to relate to the private affairs of the business of the claimants. But I feel sure that all realize these have not been prompted by any spirit of curiosity.

"Perhaps the highest compliment that can be paid to the Chinese is to say that after careful examination of their business methods and their economic and social conditions, they have on the whole increased my appreciation of their character.

The first enquiry growing out of the riot was that into claims of the Japanese, who were awarded nearly $8000. The second was that in the following month, November, into the cause of the oriental influx. Had the Chinese Government had a resident consul in the Dominion, the claims of the Chinese would have been investigated at an much earlier date. Rumor has it that Owyang King will be the first Chinese consul in Canada and he will be stationed at Vancouver.

Claims of the Chinese total nearly $28,000. The amount they will be awarded will likely be in the neighborhood of $25,000. That will make the cost of the riot by injury to business and property of orientals $33,000. The damage to property owned by white citizens has never been estimated, no claim having ever been made against the city for compensation. Making a fair estimate for this and including the amount paid out by the orientals for fire arms, which Commissioner King disallowed, both in the claims of the Japanese and Chinese, together with cost of three investigations and printing of official reports, the five-hour riot probably cost $50,000.

Karnots and Lakeviews win the City League Games

At the Oval on Saturday afternoon, two good games were played. The first game brought together the Lakeviews and Wellingtons, the former winning by 12 to 3, and although the score was big it was no indication of the play. Dicky and Billington were the battery for the winners, and they worked together to the best advantage. The Lakeviews obtained ten hits off Dusty the Wellington slab artist and aided by 12 errors on the part of the Wellington nine, they soon had the game won. It was a loose exhibition all the way through, and became monotonous to the handful of spectators who were present. The teams lined up as follows

The second game was between the Y.M.C.A. nine and the Karnots, the latter winning by a score of 9—8. The Karnots started in from the first, the first four men up getting a bagful off Patterson, and before the innings closed they had all crossed the pan for a tally. The next two innings they were not so fortunate, Patterson striking out four of the six men up. But they scored two more in the fourth, two in the seventh and another in the last which ended their scoring.

The Y.M.C.A. lunch did not seem able to locate Quinlan, and it was not until the fifth that they connected, but when they did, they were there. Four runs were chalked up in this, one more in the sixth and three in the eight. As far as the fielding went the Karnots were superior, but by no not play together well.

The County Court Opens Tomorrow

Several cases will come before Judge Weller in the county court tomorrow afternoon. There is one criminal case and a number of civil actions. One of these is a claim laid by Mrs. G. H. Howson against the Peterborough Saskatchewan Land Corporation for $300 wages as secretary of the company and promoter for six months' work. Messrs Dumble and Johnston for the plaintiffs, and Hall, Madd & Davidson for the defendants.

Abraham Low has entered a writ against Belcher & Company of Toronto, to receive $271.31, the amount due him on a bill of exchange. Rope Broke and Men Fell Into Water

While engaged in painting the locks at the south end of the city, two men had a rather exciting experience one day last week. They were sitting on a swinging scaffold above the water painting a section of the locks when the rope broke and they were precipitated into the canal. Paint cans and brushes accompanied them in their drop and the mix-up was a lively one. One of the men was able to swim ashore but the other one did not fare so well and had to be pulled out with a rope. The painters were not injured escaping with a cold bath.

CONSERVATIVES IN QUEBEC HAVE A FIGHTING CHANCE

To Win Today's Contest--Political Vibrations Sufficient to Place Premier Gouin on the Anxious Seat

Montreal, June 6.—The great political battle which has been so hotly contested during the past four weeks will be practically brought to a close this evening, although a goodly number of skirmishes will take place at the church doors throughout the province tomorrow.

Under ordinary circumstances it would be easy to predict a victory for the government, but there are certain factors which have crept into the campaign during the last week which have modified the very optimistic claims of the most sanguine nationalist.

It must be stated, however, at the outset that if Hon. Mr. Leblanc wins any number of seats on Monday it will be a thorough expression of the people's will for the sum of only two hundred dollars per county has been expended by the Conservative party in the five constituencies composing the district of Montreal. This fact alone shows what a strong Conservative province Quebec is and how little it takes to put up a campaign when the majority of the unpurchasable electors are on that side.

At the last federal election with the Laurier cry in full swing there were 110,000 ballots cast for the Conservative party in Quebec, and 120,000 for the Laurier candidates, which shows that a very slight displacement would upset all the calculations in the world.

It must be admitted that the Gouin ministry has never been a popular one, and as most of their candidates were elected four years ago by acclamation and are now before the people for the second time, without a previous test of their strength their position in any case has become hazardous and uncertain.

Then the ministers are being opposed in the most valiant manner with the prospect that the premier will be defeated in St. James, and Treasurer Weir in Argenteuil with a very narrow margin, if any, at all for Devlin in the County of Nicolet.

As for the situation in St. James, it may be stated without hesitation that a majority of unpolled votes are certainly hostile to the prime minister, but can they be polled by Mr. Bourassa's friends, is the great question. Mr Dupuis, the big drygoods man in East St. Catherine street, who has had a great deal to do with Mr. Bourassa's organization, told a press representative today that all the money in the world cannot prevent an opposition triumph in St. James.

Here is the situation. If Bourassa can get out the vote on Monday that is really in his favor, the doom of the premier is sealed in that division, but if the organization he has down, then Mr. Gouin will pull through. There are two thousand voters in the division, and it looks as if from seven to eight thousand would be polled.

There are fifteen hundred English-speaking voters in St. James, and Bourassa's pro-British speech last evening appeared to produce a splendid effect upon his hearers. It may be also stated that at Conservative headquarters they claim twenty sure seats in the district of Montreal, and they say that if the current is anyway near as strong as it appears, others may win also. In the Quebec district, with its twenty-two elections on Monday, Hon. Mr. Pelletier has claimed ten seats, but this may have been made in the flush of the moment. However, the opposition are pretty sure to win Dorchester, L'Islet, Charlevoix, Rimouski, Levis and one seat in Quebec City.

Simpson Will Sail for England on Thursday to Compete in Olympic Events--Was 4th in Trial Marathon

Fred Simpson, accompanied by his trainer Dick Baker, arrived home from Toronto on the midnight train Saturday night very tired and worn out after their big day in the Queen City. Simpson, after the hardest race he ever ran, reached a good fourth, and will be on the personal of Canada's Olympic team, leaving here Thursday and sails for England on Friday. Simpson was picked by the Toronto sporting fraternity to win the race, and would have done so had it been a better course. He ran the 25 miles in two hours 55 #13-5 second, and he has on several occasions made the same distance in 2.38 or better.

Trainer Dick Baker when interviewed by The Times said; "The cause of Simpson's defeat, was the excessive heat and the dust which literally choked him. When the start was made he was off with the bunch, and before many miles had been run, he made sure of his position on the team, always being well up with the leaders. At the turn he was seventh, being behind, Lawson, Coley, Wood, Patch, Goldsboro and Homer. Coley ran well until about the fourteenth mile when he began to show signs of distress, and just after Simpson passed him at the sixteenth mile mark, he rolled over into the ditch exhausted. The course was the worst one that I have ever been over. In several places the roads were so bad that I had great difficulty in keeping on my wheel. Then again the grunners were forced to climb many mile-long hills which was too much for the most of them. The dust was so bad that every time a motor car would pass a cloud of dust would raise up and envelope the runners, making it difficult for their attendants to see them. Simpson, I feel sure, will do better in the big race across the water. Over there the course they have marked out, is one of the prettiest I was ever over. There is only a couple of hills in the whole 27 miles, and the roads are ideal for long distance running. Yes, I undoubtedly think he will be better than fourth in the Marathon. Why, on Saturday, he finished very strongly after going over that killing journey, and then after a couple hours' rest, he appeared none the worse for his run. He was up bright and early this morning, and walked to Hawatha to visit his wife and children."

About 30 started on the race, and the first seven to finish were;

Harry Lawson of West End, finished first in 2.38

W. H. Wood of Brantford second, 2.40.59.

Goldsboro, Central Y.M.C.A., 3rd, 2.52.58 4-5.

Fred Simpson, Peterborough "Y," 4th, 2.56.11 3-5.

Coley, Central, Y.M.C.A., 5th, 2.58.44.

F. Nosworthy, Montreal, M.A.A.A., 6th, 3.01.18.

Charlie Patch, 7th, 3.03 3-5.

Five New Elders Were Ordained

At the morning service in St. Paul's church yesterday, five new elders were ordained, and the Rev. Mr. Pouge preached a worthy sermon on the "Duties of the Eldership." The congregation turned out in large numbers both morning and evening.

Do You Think For Yourself?

Or, do you open your mouth like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you?

Unless you are an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true known medicine or known compound sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills.

The makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible indorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper.

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts, for it contains no alcohol, narcotics, harmful, or habit-forming drugs, and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famed medicine is advised.

No other medicine for woman's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of the several ingredients by scores of leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration?

A booklet of ingredients, with numerous authoritative professional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Two Daring Men Killed 12 Rattle Snakes at Pt. Arthur

Port Arthur, June 6.—Twelve large rattlesnakes and twelve snakes of other varieties averaging in length about five feet, were put to death here Thursday evening under circumstances somewhat sensational. The snakes had been shipped here to the Canadian Carnival Company, which was to have appeared here, but failed to come. W. Odell Learo, of San Antonio, Texas, who shipped them, refused to take them back, and as the company could not sell them them they decided to kill them.

Drowning, hot water, and chloroform were tried, but were ineffectual. Finally, Percy Hanson and Roy Weir agreed to kill them, and after arming themselves with axes and shovels cleared out the express room and pried open the boxes in which the snakes were shipped and tackled them as they emerged.

The men did not know what kind of snakes were in the boxes, but even though twelve rattlers were found the men did not give up their job or exhibit the slightest fear. They killed them one after another until all were laying about the floor in sections. They carried off the rattlers from the rattlers as souvenirs. Most of the snakes had twelve rattlers.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free.

Athletics Had It Easy Putting it Over Port Hope

The Athletics sprung a great surprise to the local fans on Saturday afternoon at Riverside Park when they forced the Port Hope nine to bite the dust to the tune of 9 to 3 in a Midland League game.

The weather was ideal for baseball but only a small crowd of the baseball enthusiasts took in the game. Probably owing to the fact that Port Hope was picked to win after the drubbing they handed out to Cobourg a few days previous and Cobourg giving the Athletics such a decisive defeat on the 25th of May. But few took into account that the locals in their game with Cobourg had a badly crippled team. However on Saturday they retrieved their defeat and covered themselves with glory by serving up to the fans baseball as it should be played. From the drop of the bat Manager Lynch's tossers played ball and at no stage had the Hopers a look in. The locals showed wonderful improvement in every department of the game.

Quinlan pitched a strenuous game and had the visitors at his mercy and had he not reared up in the ninth the Lake Shores would have had a shut out as they failed to connect for a hit up until the ninth inning. Rattray did splendid work behind the bat, while Graham on 1st sack made his initial appearance this season, and held the bag down well. "Dubby" Shea was in his regular position at short, materially strengthened the team. Dub took in everything that came his way. Heaslip at second is also a new face on the team, and is a likely looking ball player, in fact every man was on the job to win.

It appeared to be one continuous round of pleasure for "Rat" and "Prunes" for as the visitors walked up to bat, they turned around and walked right out again.

Port Hope had a number of changes on their line-up, O'Toole, O'Brien and Andrus were out of the game. Surplis did the twirling and Wilson the receiving but the locals got after Henry right off the reel, scoring three runs in the first innings.

The locals certainly got their batting eye on Saturday when they lined the ball out for nine runs, while Port Hope had a succession of circles until the ninth when Quinlan allowed 4 hits—just for charity) sake.

The Athletics are after the pennant and will make them all go some. Saturday was the first day the team have all been on the diamond together and with a little more practice will certainly take a lot of beating.

The teams;

Port Hope—Surplus, p; Wilson, c; Walters, 1b; Wilson, 2b; Brown, ss; O'Brien, 3b; Howson, lf; Rowden, cf; McMahon, rf; Peterborough—Connors, cf; Graham, 1b; Shea, ss; Rattray, c; Callahan, rf; P. Hing, lf; Heaslip, 2b; Laundry, 3b; Quinlan, p.

The Last Cigar in the Box.

"The last cigar in the box is the hardest to sell," was the remark of a Front street dealer. "Not because it is not as good as any other cigar, but because of the superstition of the average man against taking the last of anything. As a result we often take one cigar, or even two cigars, of the last cigars in a box and put them on top of the cigars in a full or almost full box. On the other hand, I ought to mention that there are men who prefer the last cigars and who ask us to save the last cigars in the boxes for them every day, sometimes to the number of six or seven daily, for which they call every evening. We have thus no trouble in disposing of these last cigars, but the contrast in the conduct of the two styles of customers is curious."—Philadelphia Record.

Cobourg, June 6.—The Peterborough's defeated Cobourg here today in a Midland League game by a score of 7 to 6.

Says This Medicine Has Mystic Powers

Will Assist Anyone in Weak, Pale, Nervous Condition to Robust, Hearty, Health.

It's in the spring that health gives out—that folks begin to feel draggy, weary, restless,—hate to eat, look pale, feel discouraged.

If you've reached this state, read what J. W. Jerrett, well known in Morristown, has to say about the medicine that cured him. "Last winter I caught a heavy cold that settled in my back. My kidneys and liver were affected and my health failed. By spring I was in bad shape—couldn't sleep like I used to—felt tired in the morning—ate very little—was terribly depressed, pale and anxious looking. Twinges of rheumatism, frequent neuralgia attacks over the temples, made matters worse. The doctor prescribed three times, but didn't help. Then I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.—They possess mystic power surely, for I gained and improved day by day and now am in perfect health again. I will praise and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I die."

The ingredients in Dr. Hamilton's Pills are pure and wholesome—come right from the storehouse of Nature in the form of vegetable juices and extracts,—consequently this gentle invigorating laxative tonic and blood purifier is safe for old and young alike. Medicine in the Spring Needed by Everyone

Great epidemics break out in spring, such as fevers, pestilences, and infectious skin diseases.

Winter shuts us in from air and only the most robust get even a little sunshine. As a consequence of this unnatural mode of life, the blood becomes polluted, thin, colorless. Then we grow listless, dull, easily tired, have headaches and find our work a burden.

Reduced to this condition we become an easy prey to disease and fill hospitals and churchyards.

To rapidly form rich blood, to expel the accumulated humors that winter has stored up in the system, to call back the energy, endurance and vim that will make life joyous, just take Ferrozone, a spring cleanser, unequalled in medicine.

Ferrozone purifies by rebuilding nerve tissue and vitalizing the blood. The entire system soon feels the beneficient action of new rich blood; slow organs are stimulated to normal activity, expel poisons and wastes from it fully, harmonious working of the system. Weak folks are restored and health becomes as natural, a consequence as growth from moisture and sunlight.

Men and women fortify your nerves with Ferrozone, renew the blood through its marvelous blood-forming power, regain vigorous and enduring strength by its action upon appetite and digestion. Use Ferrozone if you want to be strong.

"I increased my weight seven pounds in one month and regained health that had been lost for two years—did this by using Ferrozone," writes Mrs. C. B. Maybee, of Centertown. "Ferrozone brought me restful sleep and good digestion, enabled me to relish my meals and work hard all day. I consider it the finest tonic, the most nourishing medicine I ever used."

Try Ferrozone yourself, 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

Cereals are seldom overcooked, but rather undercooked. Thus always allow plenty of time in preparing cereals.

If a bedstead creaks at each movement of the sleeper, remove the slats and wrap the ends of each in old newspapers. This will prove a complete silencer.

In using linen doilies on the highly polished table cut asbestus pieces to place beneath the mats, especially if there is any danger of the hot dishes marking the table top.

The polished appearance of starched clothes will be increased if a piece of wax the size of a small bean and half a teaspoonful of powdered borax be added during the boiling.

The new heavy embroideries of raised gold and silver work should never be brushed in the ordinary way. If rubbed gently with a piece of crimson velvet, a good result will be obtained.

Changed Accompaniment.

One can hardly be expected to have "music in his soul" when there is discord in his stomach.

Husband—What was that you were playing, my dear?

Wife—Did you like it?

"It was lovely—the melody divine, the harmony exquisite!"

"It is the very thing I played last evening, and you said it was horrid."

"Well, the steak was burned last evening."

TOBACCO POISON.

If You Must Smoke, Puff Your Cigar or Pipe Leisurely.

That it is much more injurious to smoke quickly than slowly is the conclusion arrived at by two Austrian scientists after careful study and experiment.

The two professors—Dr. Liebermann and Dr. Davidovics—tested pieces of cotton which had been placed in the mouthpieces of pipes and cigar holders and found them covered with yellowish brown flecks. These were found to be of a tarry nature, produced during the process of combustion, and highly poisonous.

It was found also that two cigars of the same brand and strength often produced differing degrees of discoloration of the cotton. Further investigation showed that these differences were due to the length of time occupied in smoking. The same weight of tobacco smoked in five minutes produced nearly three times as many yellowish brown spots as if it were smoked in fifteen minutes. The professors therefore concluded that a rapid smoker inhales a much larger quantity of poisonous substance, to the consequent injury of his health, than does his more phlegmatic colleague.—Pall Mall Gazette.

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 PER CENT FIRST MORTGAGE FIVE-YEAR-OLD BONDS

dated January 11, 1908, and maturing January 11, 1913. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico, Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness except this present Bond Issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

$100.00 Stock Bonus Given with Every $100.00 Bond

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 5,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.47 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $60,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $3,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,466 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $502.50.

The Money Derived from the Sale of These Bonds

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 80 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $750,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated —an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is small and promises to be quickly sold.

Provincial Elections 1908

the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro:

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—As you are aware, I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good, economical and efficient administration of affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province, generally.

The test of good representation either by a Government or member is good work, and, in this respect both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure, for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evident-interests of the city in every direction, and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our working men and our manufacturing industries; and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying interests. I remain, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

G. A. GILLESPIE

Peterborough, May 19th, 1908.

Provincial Elections, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterboro

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative Candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you, both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. Bradburn

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Reserves may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each on and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of a homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father or mother.

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony joints back to flesh again. That is impossible, but I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. These small-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer with—no help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

TREES ON THE PRAIRIE

KEEN APPRECIATION OF VALUE OF FORESTS.

The Farmers Supplied Free of Cost—Over Nine Million Have Been Distributed — Value of Tree-Planting Demonstrated — Varieties Suitable to Soil and Climate—School Children Became Interested.

Canada has such a keen appreciation of the value of forests that the Government has organized a system by which settlers on the prairies of the great Northwest are supplied with trees for planting free of cost.

This service, which is under the direction of the Dominion Superintendent of Forestry, began operations in 1900, when 58,000 trees from Government experimental farms were sent out to eighteen settlers. Since then a grand total of 9,350,000 trees have been distributed. In the spring of 1907 2,000,000 trees were sent to 1,420 applicants. The average number of trees sent to each applicant is 1,400.

When a farmer makes up his mind that he would like to co-operate with the Government in starting a tree plantation, he must fill out a printed form, giving the land office description of his property, with postoffice and express office, together with other information which the Department requires before it will consider the application. After these preliminaries have been satisfactorily completed, an inspector is sent to make an examination of the soil to determine what varieties of trees will grow best. A diagram of the ground it is proposed to set out in trees is made, and the farmer is required to sign an agreement to the effect that if furnished with trees he will set aside a certain portion of ground as indicated in the diagram for planting; that he will not destroy the trees; that he will keep them fenced and protect them from fire; and that he will cultivate them for five years, and as much longer as may be necessary.

After this agreement is ratified and filed at the Department a requisition is sent to the Government forest nursery at Indian Head for the trees required. In the course of time the farmer gets the trees, which he must set out and care for strictly according to contract. If he doesn't, he hears from the forestry department promptly; for an inspector is likely to drop in at the most unexpected times to see how the trees are getting on. If one is dead or missing the fact is reported to the Department, with an explanation. If the mishap is due to no fault of the farmer, and if he fulfils his agreement, he will be supplied with additional trees to the extent of his requirements; but if he doesn't do as he should he gets no more favors.

As a result of the care in selecting applicants to be supplied with trees and of the rigid supervision exercised, the Department is able to report 85 per cent. of all the trees sent out as being alive and flourishing.

This subsidized forest of nearly 9,000,000 young trees that have survived is scattered all the way from Red River to the Rocky Mountains. It is not the aim of the Department to supply all applicants with trees to an unlimited extent, but to distribute groves about the country in a way that will afford each neighborhood an object lesson on the value of tree-planting. It is expected that the settlers will follow up the work thus begun, and that others will be induced to do likewise.

The principal varieties supplied from the forest nursery station are Manitoba maple (or box elder, as it is called in the west), green ash, cottonwood, Russian poplar, and American, or white, elm. All are hardy and of very rapid growth. They make an excellent windbreak, and also a shelter for more delicate and slower growing trees. After a few years, if properly kept up, the tree plantations afford a permanent supply of fuel and other timber for farm use.

The cottonwoods are all from seedlings imported from the United States. The sandbars along the Missouri river are great natural nurseries for the trees. Each spring rise covers the bars with a deep coating of alluvial detritus. The water subsides about the time the cottonwood seeds are ripe. The light, feathery seeds are blown out on this rich, moist soil, where they sprout in countless millions. By autumn the seedlings are from six to eight inches high. They are then pulled up by tree hunters, who sell them to Government agents.

The seeds of the box elder and elm are planted at the nursery. The box elder is ready for planting in a year, the ash in two years, while the elm takes much longer. The elm requires good cultivation to make it flourish on the prairie. Conifers, being of much slower growth, have not been distributed yet, though there are 500,000 growing at the nursery. Tamarack grows well on the prairie, and makes excellent fenceposts.

One result of this Government co-operation in tree-planting has been to interest school children in forestry. A number of schools have started tree plantations that are cared for by the pupils. The Government always supplies schools with trees when an application is properly made out and signed by the school board.

So popular has this branch of the Forestry Department's work become that the nursery of 160 acres which was started as soon as the limited facilities of the experimental farms at Indian Head would allow, has been doubled in size, and further additions are being made now with a great variety of trees in order to ascertain if any new varieties may be profitably grown under prairie conditions of soil and climate.

Besides getting tree plantations started on the prairies, the Forestry Department takes care of existing timber in Eastern Canada. For this purpose seventy-four rangers are employed to guard against fire and timber thieves. Incidentally, they perform the functions of fish and game wardens also, and are empowered to call out additional help to put out bad fires. This service last year cost $89,000.

"Crocodile Tears."

The phrase "crocodile tears" owes its origin to the imagination of some of the old travelers, who invented the fable that the crocodile weeps over its prey. One of the earliest English globe trotters to mention this fiction was Sir John Mandeville, who in his "Travels" (1499), speaking of "Æthiop," "Ynde" and as "Ylle clept Silla," says:

"That Lond is full of Serpents and of Cokadrilles. These Cokadrilles ben a manner of Long Serpents, yalowe and rayed aboven, and had four Feete and schorte Thyes and grete Nayles as Clees or Talouns, and there ben some that had five Fadme in length and some of six and a halfendal. And in the nyght thei dwellen in the Water, and on the Day wen upon the Lond. These Serpentes slee men, and thei eten hem weyppge, and when thei eten thei moven the over Jowe and noughte the nether Jowe, and thei have no Tonge."—St. Louis Republic.

READ COPY OF CERTIFICATE AND STATUTORY DECLARATION CONFIRMING NAME.

Toronto, March 23th, 1908.

To the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited:—

Gentlemen,—

I beg to confirm my previous report to you that in my judgment the surface showings on the 14 mining claims which the Company has acquired, being Nos. H.R. 221 to H. R. 234, both inclusive indicate the probability of the existence of large bodies of both high grade and low grade free-milling ore, sufficient to pay dividends for an indefinite period.

I have personally examined a number of veins and reefs on said property (consisting of about 560 acres) and had some assays made and from such examinations and assays I make this report.

The statement on pages nine and ten of the Prospectus giving the short history of the Company are correct. I insisted on retaining a large interest in the Company rather than sell for any price that seemed reasonable to the purchasers.

DAVID A. FOSTER,
Haileybury.

IN THE MATTER OF THE GREAT NORTHERN LARDER LAKE MINING CO., LTD.

Statutory Declaration.
DOMINION OF CANADA
County of York.
TO WIT:

I, David Foster, of the town of Haileybury, in the district of Nipissing, miner, do solemnly declare that the statements in the annexed certificate are true. I have personally inspected all of the fourteen claims now transferred to the Great Northern Larder Lake Mining Company, Limited. I have taken samples containing gold values from said property, and from my personal examination, and from assays made, I believe the Company's property when developed, will prove very valuable. I have full confidence in the success of the said Company, and on this account, with the exception of $600 already received, I have agreed to accept stock in said Company, and a note which I believe will not be of much value should the actual development work not prove the said claims to contain gold in paying quantities as it is not payable for one year from this date or until after the Company shall have done the necessary development work on said claims. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath, and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act."

DAVID A. FOSTER.

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without letup, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock. If you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 4 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,483.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,500 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

A woman at the market on Saturday was heard to remark, "There is a queer sort of market they might at least have a few shade trees planted along this board walk."

The annual meeting of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute will be held next Saturday afternoon in the council chamber. The meeting opens at one o'clock, when reports will be presented.

The Olympic Excursion

The Olympics will hold their annual excursion on Thursday to Stony Lake. This is the excursion of the year of the business men who have a special trip to admire the spring beauties of nature; the blue waters of the lake and the fishing prospects of the season. A nice quiet time is always enjoyed.

Pikes are easily and quickly checked with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. To prove it I will mail a small trial box as a convincing test. Simply address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. I surely would not send it free unless I was certain that Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment would stand the test. Remember it is made expressly and alone for swollen, painful, bleeding or itching piles, either external or internal. Large jar 50c. Sold by all dealers.

Poisoning the Dogs

It is said that the man who has been poisoning the canines of the north end, lives up at Auburn. A gentleman who recently lost a valuable hound states that at least nine or ten dogs have been poisoned in that end of the town and the work goes on still. There are many who are incensed over the wholesale canine destruction, and if they can get even with the man, whoever he is, they will do so.

Summer Camp Postponed

Official notice of the postponement of the summer camp was received from headquarters by Major (Dr.) Young, commanding officer of the 24th Field Battery, on Saturday. This means that none of the military organizations of district No. 3 Eastern Ontario command, whether infantry or cavalry, will attend camp as previously stated on June 15. Similar word was also received by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, chaplain of the 3rd Dragoons.

Moonlight Excursions

The Intermediate Boys' Bible Class of the Y.M.C.A. will run a moon light excursion by steamer Otonabee tomorrow night. Good music will be provided, and judging from the advance sale of tickets, there will be a big crowd present. The steamer, with her one hundred electric lights and the powerful new searchlight, will be a blaze of light. There is no finer way to spend an evening than on the beautiful Otonabee on the down, and no place so delightfully cool. The steamer leaves the Wolfe street wharf at 7.45 p.m., and the railway wharf at 8.15.

If one feels dull and spiritless, in the spring or early summer, they call it "Spring Fever." But there is no fever—usually. It is the after effect of our winter habits. The nerves are mostly at fault. Tired worn-out nerves, leaves us languid, lifeless, and without spirit or ambition. A few doses of Dr. Shoop's Restorative will absolutely and quickly change all of these depressing symptoms. The Restorative of course won't bring you back to full health in a day or two, but it will do enough in 48 hours to satisfy you that the remedy is reaching that "tired spot." Druggists everywhere are advising its use as a splendid and prompt general tonic. It gives more vim and more spirit to the spoonful than any other known nerve or constitutional tonic. It sharpens a failing appetite, aids digestion, frees sluggish livers and kidneys and brings new life, strength and ambition. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

A QUESTION OF TIME.

By Clarissa Mackie.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

A night in India—humid, breathless, with great stars hanging in the dark blue sky and the dank odor of rotting vegetation from the nearby jungle.

From his seat in a bamboo reclining chair Welton stared unwinkingly at the blazing constellations. The punka boy had fallen into exhausted slumber on the mat, and the huge fan hung motionless overhead.

Welton could hear the low murmur of voices from the interior of the bungalow, and he knew that by slightly turning his head he could see the pink glow of light from the shaded lamp and the reflection of two faces in the large mirror in the corner.

The two forms leaned over the piano, the white fingers of Marion Lester drawing soft harmonies from the instrument, while Akersile murmured tenderly in her pretty ear.

And it was because of these two at the piano that Welton was very miserable and stared at the stars. He knew that Mrs. Lester was nodding over her embroidery in some obscure corner of the room, and as for himself—well, he seemed not to be in it at all!

Colonel Lester was quartered at Luckflow, and when it was learned that Welton could not obtain the desired leave of absence to visit his sweetheart Mrs. Lester had good naturedly undertaken the journey to Welton's isolated station at Gola Chat.

The unexpected visit of the two women had thrown the little station into a blissful confusion of preparation. The depredations of a man eating tiger had furnished an inexhaustible source of conversation and had been the occasion for many tentative trips into the jungle for several weeks before the advent of the visitors, but now all was forgotten save the fact that there would be new faces to break the dead monotony of the days—the fresh faces and low toned voices of refined Englishwomen.

And then Akersile had stepped in and spoiled it all. He had come up to see Welton and to try pot shots at the man eater, but he had met Marion Lester, and in spite of the fact that he was Welton's guest and that he knew the relations existing between the two he paid assiduous court to the girl.

Thus far she had repelled his advances with a dignified coolness that seemed to inflame him to greater ardor. This evening, however, the gentleness of her manner toward him and her careless treatment of her lover had driven the latter to sulky solitude in the veranda.

When the blue smoke wreaths from his cigar had formed a dense cloud which obliterated the starry heavens from his gaze Welton dropped his eyes and stared at two points of yellow light that oscillated near the ground.

"WERE YOU REALLY ASLEEP, BILLY?"

They were ten inches apart, and they moved in unison. Welton calculated that they must be just without the bamboo stockade which inclosed the compound.

There was a prickly feeling along the spine, and he could feel the hair raising slightly around his forehead as he realised that Chuni had neglected to close the great gate and that there was perhaps only a hundred feet intervening between the man eater and the open window of the little drawing room.

He thought rapidly, with his eyes fixed on the lambent points of flame in the velvet gloom of the gateway. If he made a dash for the window and the safety that lay beyond the beast would spring before he could close the shutters behind his retreating form. If he could make Akersile hear, at least the women would be safe.

"Akersile!" he called in a low, clear whisper.

"Yes!" came the other man's lazy tones.

"Close those shutters instantly! The man eater!"— His words were lost in the quick manipulation of the iron rods from within, and the shutters fell with a clang, blotting out the glow of light and leaving Welton alone to face the tiger.

The momentary confusion roused the beast into action. Welton could see the slow approach of the yellow eyes, could hear the padding of the great paws on the sandy path, and now his long sinuous form was dimly outlined in the starlight.

Welton remembered that he had left his revolver on his dressing stand. It could not be much of a fight with all the odds on the other side. At any rate, when the tiger had borne him away to his lair Akersile, the coward—

Suddenly there was a terrific roar, a stifling odor of fur. Welton's hand instinctively flew to his pocket, and to his surprise the revolver was there. There was a sharp crack at one of the yellow spots of light and a rush of air as the beast sprang toward him. He dropped to the floor, and with a tremendous thud the animal struck the closed shutters and bounded back with a bloodcurdling scream of baffled rage and pain.

Welton had leaped over the railing [illegible] the instant [illegible] of a giant teak. The animal snuffed about the veranda, and presently there was a cry of startled fright, and Welton remembered the sleeping punka boy. He saw the tiger stepping down the path, his jaws gripping a dark, moaning bundle.

He knew that, unmolested, the beast would now retire to the jungle with his victim and that the occupants of the bungalow as well as himself would be free from danger. He ground his teeth and aimed for the other eye. He put it out.

In the light of the stars he saw the beast shiver, drop the dark bundle, which sped affrightedly away, and then come toward him with bleeding, blinded eyes and snarling mouth.

It was only a question of time now. Around the tree he dodged, and then farther away from the house toward the stockade. He would lure the beast from the vicinity of the bungalow and fight it out with him in the open space before the jungle, which rose dark and forbidding in the background. One would win out, and the other—

Again he heard the crack of his revolver, and yet again, and still the beast did not fall. Still he tracked the man blindly, remorselessly. There were two cartridges left in the chamber, and then—again Welton fired, once, twice. With a shudder, he felt something soft on his cheek.

"By Jove! Billy seems a bit sleepy! Wake up and bear the news, old man!"

Welton recognized the facetious tone of Akersile, his faithless friend. He opened his eyes slowly, wonderfully. Overhead the great stars were hanging in the dark blue sky, and there was a rank odor of rotting vegetation from the nearby jungle.

He was reclining in the bamboo chair, and Marion stood behind him with her soft hand upon his rumpled hair. There was a glow of lamplight from the open window of the drawing room, and in the opposite direction he could see that the gate of the compound was closed.

"The—man eater?" he asked dazedly, moving his cramped limbs.

"What made you think of that?" asked Akersile ruefully. "I was just going to spring it on you! Chuni—the brave, the incomparable Chuni—has slain the man eater just without the stockade! Look!"

Welton rose stiffly to his feet and looked sheepishly at the flaming torches and the crowd of brown skinned natives who were triumphantly dragging the huge carcass through the gateway. Chuni, proud and victorious, salaamed before his master. "For the honorable sahib," he said solemnly.

A little later Marion bade her lover good night. "What do you think, Billy?" she murmured softly, with a side glance at the stalwart form of Akersile. "Major Akersile has been telling me about his engagement to Marjorie Booth—a dear schoolmate of mine—and I'm afraid we were so much interested in talking about her that we forgot you! Were you really asleep, Billy?"

"I hope so," said Billy impressively.
